

STREAMS OF BLAZING OIL.

A RAILROAD CRASH THAT THREATENED TO DESTROY A CITY.

Two Large Factories in New Brunswick Burned Down. Together with Half a Dozen Dwelling—Two Men Killed—A Timely Northwest Wind—The Loss Nearly a Million.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has a line from Bridge over the Harlem River, built in 1876 to replace a wooden one destroyed by fire. At the west end of the bridge is the ancient little city of New Brunswick. One of the two big brown-stone arches of the bridge spans Water street, and the other terminates where the Harlem Canal, which follows the serpentine course of the river, begins.

A freight train of fourteen cars called the regular freight train drawn by locomotive 802, was then puffing along several miles behind the oil train. This train passed the signal station at New street, where a white signal was displayed, and rattled along at a thirty-miles-an-hour gait.

On account of the white flag, thought every signal on the bridge station and the red lights on the engine, the train stopped. The engineer, Mr. Hunt, a very vivacious, elderly gentleman, with side whiskers like great oysters, and a red nose like a pig, was in the cab of the engine. He was looking at the signal, and was saying to himself, "What a fine fellow, that engineer, that he should stop the train on account of a white flag."

THE LOUISIANA MEMBERS ANGRY.

The House Votes Against their Whiskers on the River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The River and Harbor bill fared very badly to-day. All the unfavorable symptoms of yesterday were aggravated, and unless a speedy reaction sets in the bill will make a die of it. Poor Mr. Willis got one blow after another. The bill was denounced, amended, and mutilated. He could not get the time he wanted; the House divided against him repeatedly. Finally the very backbone of the bill was broken by the adoption of Mr. Holman's motion to take up the Mississippi River improvements out of the control of the Commission and put them under the Secretary of War. It was voted also to forbid any of the $120,000 given New Orleans to be used in the construction or repair of levees, which practically nullified the benefits of the appropriation to the Crescent City.

PRIVATE HENRY'S JOURNAL.

It Tells of the Sufferings of Lieut. Greely's Party in the Arctic Regions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The Journal of Private Henry, who was shot while exploring the Arctic regions, covering the period between October, 1883, and June, 1884, has been made public. He writes under date of May 3: "He [Whistler] who was lonesome in his denunciation of the unfortunate who was tempted to pursue a scrap of meat, was today caught in a conspiracy, having broken open the door, and was found with about a pound of bacon in his pocket."

AMUSEMENTS.

An Old Comedy at Daly's Theatre—"The Recruiting Officer."

The only notable reminder of George Farquhar's comedy, which was about a century ago, was that of conviviality 175 years ago. "The Beauz' Stratagem," which is once in a long while used on the stage. His other plays, like his poems and essays, have been discarded. "The Recruiting Officer" had not been acted for half a century in this country before its revival last evening at Daly's Theatre. A good share of the amusement provided by such a venture must necessarily lie in the gratification of curiosity; and yet in the present instance the entertainment had charms which arose from neither the novelty of the subject, nor the novelty of the language employed by epigrams, and the distinctness of characterization was only rendered more apparent by the fact that the costumes were worn justly, notably when the sergeant, who stands in the foreground for purposes of love in masquerade, the doing of "The Recruiting Officer" relate to the enlistment of soldiers into the army of the king in the reign of Charles II. The play is a comedy, and in both respects there is a certain amount of merit. The plot is simple and direct, and in the affair Mr. Drew as Mr. Skinner gradually became mated with the lady, Miss Susan, who was played by Miss Susan and Miss Treble. While Mr. Lewis had a crackling, suitable role in that of a recruiting officer, Mr. Barker was infinitely amusing as a braggart Captain, Mr. Phibbs, in the part of the recruiting officer, and Mr. Gilbert did the cleverest acting of them all as a York.

ANXIOUS ABOUT THE LANGUAGE.

Fourteen New Yorkers Going to Work to Cleanse the English Language.

Fourteen New Yorkers met last evening at Columbia College library, to organize a language club. The objects of the club, as set forth in the prospectus, are "to simplify spelling, to make education easier for the people, to perfect the English language, to take a useless tax from writing and spelling, and to quicken the universal diffusion of knowledge."

THE FRANKS CONCERT AT STETSON HALL.

An Element of Uncertainty Added to the Interest of the Concert Given at Stetson Hall Last Night by Sam and Naban Franks.

It is a fact that the concert given at Stetson Hall last night by Sam and Naban Franks, Fräulein Brandt and Miss Bloomfield had been announced to appear, but substitutes had to be found for both, as Fräulein Brandt had sung Fides Friday night and Fricks and Gerhilds yesterday afternoon, while Miss Bloomfield was not to be indisposed by Fräulein Gunder's departure, respectively by Fräulein Gunder of Dr. Damrosch's company and Alexander Lambert. Uncertainty also prevailed in regard to the time when the concert was to begin. On the tickets it was announced for 8 o'clock, on the program for 8:15, and in point of fact it began at 8:30.

THEIR CHURCH ON FIRE.

Great Conflagration Among the Abyssinians Begun in the City of Addis Ababa.

James Gomez, the janitor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church, 166 Waverley place, lived with his family in rooms at the rear of the basement Sunday school room. Yesterday noon it took fire. When the firemen arrived, the 100 four-story tenements that were sandwiched between the walls and the old building were greatly excited. The flames had crept up between the plastering on the inside of the walls and the old building, and were breaking out through the shingle roof and licking the tuff and paint off of the roof. The firemen tried to get into the tenement-house people ran down their stairways and the firemen tried to get into the tenement-house people ran down their stairways and the firemen tried to get into the tenement-house people ran down their stairways.

MAMIE DODSON'S FLIGHT.

Various Reasons that May Have Induced Her to Leave Home.

Miss Mamie Dodson, the young girl who disappeared from her home at Huguenot S. L. on Friday morning, has not been seen since. She was 16 years old, pretty, and intelligent. Her father, Anderson Dodson, who died a short time ago, had a newspaper route in Huguenot. Since his death the family have had a hard time of it, and Mamie had more than her share of the work. She was a very bright girl, and was kept secluded by her mother. She was anxious to obtain a position, and expressed a desire to go to New York.

THE END OF SCULPTOR RUSSELL.

He is Found Dead in his Lonely Shop and Dwelling with his Throat Cut.

There is a weather-beaten farm house on the right side of Meeker avenue, near the entrance to Calvary cemetery, beyond the Penny bridge. Charles Russ, a carver of marble figures for monuments, occupied the second story of the old building as a workshop and a sleeping apartment. Here he was found yesterday dead, with his throat cut. The main building is occupied by an old couple, who held no interest in the property. The cause of the murder is a mystery. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of "murder by a person or persons."

POLICE PREVENT A FIGHT.

They Surrounded a Williamson's Hotel and Arrested Two Men in Ring Costume.

About 100 men, at $5 a ticket, went to Ward's hall on Friday night to see a prize fight between a man named Smith and a man named Jones. The fight was a draw. The police were called in to prevent a riot. They surrounded the Williamson's Hotel and arrested two men in ring costume. The men were charged with carrying a dangerous weapon.

THE CHINESE ORDERED TO LEAVE EUREKA, CAL.

EUREKA, Cal., Feb. 7.—In a riot last night between Chinese a stray bullet killed David Kendall, a member of the City Council, and another man, a boy. A mass meeting was called, and over 1,000 citizens responded. Resolutions of indignation at the lawless acts of the Chinese were adopted, and a committee was appointed to notify the Chinese to leave the city. The committee visited each Chinese house and compelled the occupants to pack up their effects, and to leave the city by the next steamer. The Chinese were ordered to leave Eureka, Cal.

HE WAS HIRED TO ASSASSINATE HIS PRIEST.

FALL RIVER, Feb. 7.—The rebellion of the members of the Notre Dame French Catholic Church in Fall River, Mass., was prevented by the action of the police. The priest, Father Meehan, was surrounded by a mob of men who were hired to assassinate him. The police arrived in time to prevent the murder. The men were arrested and charged with conspiracy to commit murder.

BARGAIN TITLES

Are misleading, and too often prove to be but sheep's clothing to cover the rapacity of the wolf; at all events, the incidents of the past week have, no doubt, convinced many that the advertisements of "Bargains" and "Wonderful Values" promised at the various "Great Clearing Sales" were but verbiage and grandiloquence, from which little was learned and less depression in business, which has enabled us to buy and sell New Goods at much lower prices than have prevailed at Clearing Sales of last season's purchasing.
