violence, would delay, if not forever bar, the advent of Irish legislative independence. Our readers, whose responses were so timely and so generous to our appeals for the relief of the west coast fishermen, and for the strenuous upholding of the Irish Parliamentary party, will see that THE SUN'S... Mr. GEORGE'S TWO GREAT PRINCIPLES.

The whole of Mr. GEORGE'S policy, in case he is elected Mayor, as given by him in THE SUN on Sunday, may be narrowed down to one word—honesty. He promises to be honest, and by his own statement that denotes the whole of the revolution he can accomplish in his office.

Mr. GEORGE ON APPOINTMENTS. On one point Mr. GEORGE is sound beyond all question. In his interview with THE SUN on Sunday he said:

"If I am elected I shall appoint to office the most competent men I can find, and, other things being equal, I will appoint to office the men who have supported me and who may be presumed to have the success of my Administration."

At the HENRY GEORGE ratification meeting to-night will be presented containing the names of candidates for the Mayor's office, who have pledged themselves to vote for Mr. GEORGE for Mayor.

Nothing being more certain than that the GEORGE movement has a solid strength of its own, it becomes the duty of the Republican to break the force of the GEORGE movement.

With two Democratic candidates in the field, and Mr. GEORGE'S campaign vigorously conducted, the Republican candidate would have a good chance of election.

The New York Times is printing a series of letters from Lieut. SCHWATKA describing the hardships of the region near Mount St. Helens.

Prof. E. L. Tommas, who has been living very ill all summer at his home in Mount Vernon, is now slightly improving.

Mr. Charles Miller, who died suddenly of heart disease at his home in New York, was a native of France.

John K. Freely, Clerk of the Tombs Police Court, is still in a somewhat precarious state of health.

It is now generally known that the late Mayor George's policy was to be honest.

for the express purpose of wronging Lieut. SCHWATKA and annoying Mr. JONES. Whatever may be said about the reports of the earlier navigators, like LA PEROUSE and VANCOUVER, many of whose statements have been proved to be inaccurate, while others are so vague as to leave room for difference of opinion.

After our angry contemporary has had the mainline to recognize the presence of the river at the head of Icy Bay in a chart printed last January by the United States Government, we shall be glad to gratify to a reasonable extent its desire for further discussion of the ancient history of the stream.

Of course, the reduction of fares on the Third Avenue road is likely to have the effect of taking away from the horse cars the chief part of the long-distance travel which they have retained to them.

WESTERN UNION TAKES A GREAT JUMP. Jay Gould Says He Did Not, Though the Street Was Sure He Did.

Nearly 155,000 shares of Western Union Telegraph stock were traded in on the Stock Exchange yesterday at an advance of 4 per cent. to 78 at the close.

Another story was that the Hon. John Pender, M. P., the head of the ocean cable enterprise, had bought Mr. Robert Garrett's interest in the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company.

Mr. Gould inquired the price of the stock as if he had not heard of a quotation for some time, and he was told that it was 78 and a half.

Three packages, each containing 5,000 stamps, and each labeled two-cent stamps, were opened in the Brooklyn Post Office about a week ago, and to the surprise of Postmaster Hendrix, they each contained only 50,000 one-cent stamps.

There were rumors that he had committed suicide in the office at Westchester, where he was Dr. A. W. Mearns, who had been a member of the Board of Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

He will be responsible for what he has done, and he will be held responsible for what he has done, and he will be held responsible for what he has done.

NO LICENSE BEATEN IN GREENWICH. Ladies at the Pools all Day, Serving Coffee and Sandwiches in Evening.

GREENWICH, Oct. 4.—Opposite the building in which the town election was held today a great booth was erected. It was decorated with flags, and a bright banner, on which was printed in silver letters "For God, our Country, and our Honor."

The booth was a success. The ladies who were serving coffee and sandwiches were very popular, and the booth was a success.

DEAD IN A DENTIST'S CHAIR. Who is the Woman to Whom Dr. Eckerhauser Administered Laughing Gas?

A woman about 30 years old entered Dentist Charles H. Mosley's office, 109 Grand Street, Williamsburgh, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

The woman was a stranger to the dentist, and she was a stranger to the dentist, and she was a stranger to the dentist.

CRITICIZING A HISTORY. Grand Army Men in Newark Taking Part Against a School Book.

The controversy over the possible adoption of Barnes's "Brief History of the United States" as a text book in the public schools of Newark is attracting considerable attention.
