

The Sun

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1892.

The New Labor Party.

We published yesterday the official platform of the United Labor Party of this city. Though it is only to remain in force until a county convention assembles on the 5th of January next, there is no doubt that it sets forth the promising ideas of the new party, and probably the convention will adopt it without any essential change.

This platform contains some good things, such as the people of this town should have full control of their own local affairs, along with others that are impracticable and wrong, as that the city should own and run all the elevated railroads, horse railroads, and omnibus lines.

The Coast Defences.

Mr. H. W. BEECHER informed the Brooklyn Revenue Reform Club, of which he is a member, that he was in New York on Thursday evening, that the country needs no coast defenses.

This is the opinion of Mr. BEECHER, who presides at the meetings of the Treasury reform club, and the opinion of SAMUEL J. TILDEN, in his memorable letter to Mr. CARLISLE, is that "the notoriety of the fact that we have neglected the ordinary precautions of defence invites invasion, arrogance, and insult at the hands of foreign nations."

The present is no time to decry the importance of defending our harbors. The task is difficult at best, and of such magnitude that Congress has hitherto shrunk from entering upon it.

What is Mr. CLEVELAND taking for his rheumatism? Acetate of potash with Vichy water, shall we say? It is a very good remedy. We hope that whatever he takes will agree with him, and that he may be twined no more.

It is an undisciplined Democratic policy, with all the Mugwumpism strained out. Purge the Administration of Republican officeholders, to begin with, and the Democratic rheumatism will be cured, and the glorious old party will soon be as healthy as a catamount and as hearty as a moose.

Out of a letter which we have just received from an esteemed correspondent in this city we quote the following proposition:

I think your treatment of the present Administration by the press is not calculated to strengthen the Democratic party.

There is only one point in our treatment of the present Administration which your admirer of Mr. CLEVELAND would be likely to dislike, and this is our opposition to the theory of a non-partisan civil service.

Which weakens a party more—the attempt to force upon it a doctrine which it is hostile, and which was not in its platform, or the frank condemnation of that attempt?

A very interesting comparison is suggested by Mr. FERRIS LORILLARD's article in the last North American Review.

The labor party is getting itself into shape for 1893. It is contended that the party can never be organized as a national party.

It appears that, in order to help the Administration of the Pan-Electric, or to retain Mr. GARLAND in the Cabinet, or to help that statement, the party is being organized.

Some of the best legal talent in Ireland is enlisted on the side of the National League, and we may be sure that the plan for averting extortion and eviction, suggested in United Ireland and publicly advocated by Mr. DILLON, had been previously examined and approved by eminent members of the Irish bar.

owners, but a rank transgression of the criminal law. Instead of inquiring whether they might not contrive to frustrate the tactics of their tenants by civil process, they called upon the Government to arrest every person who should act as a custodian of the rents withheld.

It appears, then, that the Tory Cabinet has been filled in its first attempt to satisfy the Irish landlords by departing from its former conciliatory policy.

It is unfortunate that Mr. CLEVELAND should have a spell of rheumatism while hammering away at his message.

It is pretty stiff, cold weather, but the elevated railroad people haven't found it out and plenty of the cars are not heated.

It is a very good remedy. We hope that whatever he takes will agree with him, and that he may be twined no more.

It is an undisciplined Democratic policy, with all the Mugwumpism strained out. Purge the Administration of Republican officeholders, to begin with, and the Democratic rheumatism will be cured.

Out of a letter which we have just received from an esteemed correspondent in this city we quote the following proposition:

I think your treatment of the present Administration by the press is not calculated to strengthen the Democratic party.

There is only one point in our treatment of the present Administration which your admirer of Mr. CLEVELAND would be likely to dislike, and this is our opposition to the theory of a non-partisan civil service.

Which weakens a party more—the attempt to force upon it a doctrine which it is hostile, and which was not in its platform, or the frank condemnation of that attempt?

A very interesting comparison is suggested by Mr. FERRIS LORILLARD's article in the last North American Review.

The labor party is getting itself into shape for 1893. It is contended that the party can never be organized as a national party.

It appears that, in order to help the Administration of the Pan-Electric, or to retain Mr. GARLAND in the Cabinet, or to help that statement, the party is being organized.

Some of the best legal talent in Ireland is enlisted on the side of the National League, and we may be sure that the plan for averting extortion and eviction, suggested in United Ireland and publicly advocated by Mr. DILLON, had been previously examined and approved by eminent members of the Irish bar.

power happened to be in his neighborhood. The French announced with a slight flourish of trumpets a while ago that they had annexed the Comore Islands.

A dog who has paid his tax, has his muzzle with him, and is properly chartered by his owner ought to be safe from being kidnapped by the dog catchers who profit about this town.

An order of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad dismissing its unmarried employees is said "to arouse a great deal of indignation" among the proscribed bachelors.

The progress of prohibition in Georgia: Twenty new licensed distilleries in two years, increased production in the old stills, and a fresh crop of moonshine whiskey.

Mr. JIM CUMMINGS, the letter writer and supposed Adams express robber, offers to return some of the swag if he is allowed to get out of the country.

We hope that the Hon. B. FRANKLIN JONES will not be deterred by any considerations of harmony from letting out the facts upon which he bases his opinion of the Hon. WILLIAM E. CHANDLER.

It is a very good remedy. We hope that whatever he takes will agree with him, and that he may be twined no more.

It is an undisciplined Democratic policy, with all the Mugwumpism strained out. Purge the Administration of Republican officeholders, to begin with, and the Democratic rheumatism will be cured.

Out of a letter which we have just received from an esteemed correspondent in this city we quote the following proposition:

I think your treatment of the present Administration by the press is not calculated to strengthen the Democratic party.

There is only one point in our treatment of the present Administration which your admirer of Mr. CLEVELAND would be likely to dislike, and this is our opposition to the theory of a non-partisan civil service.

Which weakens a party more—the attempt to force upon it a doctrine which it is hostile, and which was not in its platform, or the frank condemnation of that attempt?

A very interesting comparison is suggested by Mr. FERRIS LORILLARD's article in the last North American Review.

The labor party is getting itself into shape for 1893. It is contended that the party can never be organized as a national party.

It appears that, in order to help the Administration of the Pan-Electric, or to retain Mr. GARLAND in the Cabinet, or to help that statement, the party is being organized.

Some of the best legal talent in Ireland is enlisted on the side of the National League, and we may be sure that the plan for averting extortion and eviction, suggested in United Ireland and publicly advocated by Mr. DILLON, had been previously examined and approved by eminent members of the Irish bar.

power happened to be in his neighborhood. The French announced with a slight flourish of trumpets a while ago that they had annexed the Comore Islands.

A dog who has paid his tax, has his muzzle with him, and is properly chartered by his owner ought to be safe from being kidnapped by the dog catchers who profit about this town.

That City Explains the Supreme Conduct of the Next Governor of Connecticut.

New Haven, Dec. 3.—Mr. Phineas C. Lounsbury's rather unexpected course in the selection of the staff that is to serve him when he becomes Governor of Connecticut may seem strange to some politicians who looked for great gifts at his hands.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

WILD SCENES IN SAN FRANCISCO. The Boats Fighting Hard on the Bay on Monday Evening.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Yesterday's great excitement in the Mining Stock Exchange reminded everybody of the flash days of the Comstock lode.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

FRENCH HOTEL CLOSURE TO-DAY. The American with Tenants the Chance on Monday Evening.

The Coleman Company decided yesterday to close French's Hotel to-night and sell at auction the furniture, linen, fixtures, and other contents.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

MR. HEWITT ON A SCALP HUNT. The Tract Lends to Collector Wagner's Office and Runs To a Truce.

Everything was going about with a rush in the entry division of the collector's office early in the morning.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.

The man who is behind Mr. Lounsbury with his south to the coming Governor's staff, is Mr. James M. Lounsbury, Secretary of the National Republican Committee.