

BISMARCK'S RESIGNATION.

HER LEFT OFF BECAUSE HE COULD NOT HAVE HIS WAY.

Shooting Bismarck to Give Up Power than to Give Up His Honor—The Emperor's Decision with the Emperor—Bismarck's Position with William II.—The Emperor's Attitude of the Socialists' Leaders.

LONDON, April 27.—A German nobleman who is the author of a book on the relations of Bismarck to the Emperor and the Emperor's attitude towards the Emperor, writes in his memoirs that the Emperor's attitude towards the Emperor was not as favorable as it is generally supposed to be.

When the Emperor's attitude towards the Emperor was not as favorable as it is generally supposed to be, the Emperor's attitude towards the Emperor was not as favorable as it is generally supposed to be.

SERIOUS CRISIS IN BRAZIL.

THE NEW REPUBLIC SUBVERTED BY INTERNAL DISSENSIONS.

A Decree by the Government Granting the Press-Arresting Act—The Ministry Alarmed by Its Vicious Enemies.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 31.—The Provisional Government has issued the following decree: "Whereas, To the detriment of the public order and tranquillity, false reports and rumors have been circulated with the manifest and unambiguous object of favoring censurable speculations; and

"Whereas, Such reports and rumors are highly injurious to the foreign credit of Brazil, and tend to the detriment of the stability of the institutions and in the security of the obligations contracted by the nation; and

"Whereas, These reports and rumors are moreover intended to cause alarm and panic among our fellow citizens who, with thorough confidence and perfect tranquillity, have, throughout the length and breadth of the land, obeyed the new order of things; and

"Whereas, It is the duty of those clothed with authority to prevent and remove all causes of social disturbance, assuring and guaranteeing the exercise of every species of activity and to the development of national progress; and

"Whereas, The prevalence of personal and slanderous reports is intended rather to bring the Government into disrepute, and by weakening the confidence of the people in their rulers to favor subversive plots, than to inform and guide public opinion in regard to the acts of the Government; and

"Whereas, The Government, while not desiring to prevent or hinder the exercise of the acknowledged right to discuss its acts, cannot view with indifference the pertinacious and criminal conduct of those who seek in every way to create anarchy and promote disorder; and

"Whereas, Such conduct, in its very conception, in an abnormal state of affairs, such as still exists in Brazil, demands measures of an exceptional character for its efficient and thorough repression, and for the maintenance of order;

"Therefore Marshal Manoel Deodoro da Fonseca, in the name of the Provisional Government, instituted by the army and in my name of the nation, hereby decrees:

"Article 1.—To the provisions of the decree of Dec. 23, 1889, are subject all persons who originate or aid in circulating, by means of the press or telegraph or in any other way, in Brazil or in foreign countries, false reports and rumors, and in so doing, in any way, in the discipline of the troops, to the stability of the institutions of the country, and to public order.

"Article II.—From this provision is excluded verbal or written criticism, however severe it may be, of the acts of the Government, or the exposure of errors, provided it be free from personal attacks, and provided it be free from imputations of crime.

"Article III.—When the offense shall be committed in the name of the Provisional Government, the offender shall be arrested and conveyed to the said capital for the purpose of being tried by the tribunal instituted by the said decree.

"Article IV.—All provisions to the contrary are hereby null and void.

"The Minister and Secretary of State for the Department of Justice will cause this decree to be executed.

"Hall of the Provisional Government of the United States of Brazil, on the 29th day of March, 1890, at Rio de Janeiro.

"Manoel Deodoro da Fonseca, Marshal of Brazil, Provisional President of the Republic.

"The decree of Dec. 23, to which the present decree refers, was issued shortly after the adoption of the new constitution, and it is to be noted that the present decree is a modification of the former one.

"The damage to property, especially glassware, was immense. Scarcely a house in the city with a western exposure escaped having windows broken, and in many of the cheaper buildings the roofs were split wide open, and the contents of the rooms were scattered about.

BALTIMORE BOMBARDED.

A Dewspaper of Baltimore Plays Havoc With the Windows.

BALTIMORE, April 27.—A hail storm struck this city about 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, which, though lasting only fifteen minutes, did more damage in that time than any similar storm in the history of the city.

The hail was of a size that did not only break the windows of the houses, but also did considerable damage to the property of the business houses.
