

LIMERICK MEN IN A SHINDY.

REVELATORY STORIES COME OUT OF THE HALL OF HIS HEAD.

He is in Hospital—Old Officers Said to Have Rejected the Installation of the New Set-Down Water Notice Heavy.

The Limerick Men's Association met in Clarendon Hall, where the Central Labor Union, yesterday afternoon, and various other organizations had not been announced in call for the meeting. As nearly as could be ascertained, the facts that led to the trouble were as follows:

Two weeks ago the association elected new officers. The men who happened to hold office at the time were not very many, and they thought that they ought to be. This caused a split feeling among the members. One of them, whose sympathies are with the newly elected officers, told this story to a reporter yesterday:

"Those that stuck to the old fellows were thick-head. Well, we met yesterday to install the new officers with the Central Labor Union. One of the other fellows, who wasn't wanted, was brought into the chair and called the names of the old fellows. When the proper time came he refused to leave the chair and said he was going to present to the old fellows got up, and some of them took their coats off and swore they would fight with anybody who got up to do it."

It must have been a terrific row, for the police had to be called in. Several men were taken to the Central Labor Union, where they were in session under the name of a meeting. The room didn't have what to make of it. Several men got up and went out to see what was the matter. Just as they reached the first landing, a door opened and a man came out with a pistol and began shooting from wounds in his head, his arms and his legs. The bullets were flying all out and about the delegates saw a second of the wildest excitement.

The men were all shouting and punching. The man who had fallen through the doorway was lying on the floor. The other men were gathered together, drew a handkerchief from his pocket, and coolly bound it around his head. He was then carried to the street, where he was taken to a hospital.

The police arrested a man and started to register him. A police officer came running up the stairs. The wounded man pointed out the man who had been shot. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The policeman started the prisoners in a car. The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

The man who had been shot was taken to the hospital. The police officer then marched them down stairs and to the police house. A crowd gathered in the street, and the police were not accompanying him.

ELPHANTINE ANN O'DELLA.

Painting in Fifth Street Titled Her Engagement.

On O'Della's Elphantine Titled the name of the Harlan Theatre yesterday afternoon for nearly three hours. It was a dress rehearsal of "Out of Sight." With a few exceptions, the rehearsal went along smoothly, and she bowed it. Two members of the company were discharged at the end of the first act, one of them being her stage Pa. He sat rattled when she came out on the stage in a short red and white tulle dress, and he forgot his lines. Then an accident happened to the lights of one of the young women and she fell in her dance. The manager promptly discharged her. About a hundred people, including a number of women, had accepted invitations to witness the rehearsal.

The theatre was dimly lighted. Half a dozen musicians, led by a young man who played the piano and was a silk hat, worked away for half an hour on the overture. Then the leader said: "We've been too long since enough; let's have the show."

The curtain was rung up and disclosed a farm house. The obese ex-priest of a spookdom plays Little Boon, sometimes called Auld, who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

When Ann O'Della made her appearance from the dressing room, she was in a white dress. "Good good," and started a laugh that went round the house. The 300-pound woman who had been brought to the stage by young men in queer make-ups who want to marry her. The scene was discovered in the first act and then disappeared.

COURTNEY.

On Sunday, March 15, Florence May, youngest daughter of Robert W. and Sarah K. Courtney, aged 7 years 9 months and 23 days.

Funeral services at the residence of her parents, 75 Park street, on Tuesday, March 17, at 3 o'clock P. M.

CROWNEBERGER.—On March 13, Franziska Crowneberger, beloved wife of Aloys Crowneberger, aged 52 years 7 months and 14 days.

Funeral services at the residence of her late husband, 257 9th av., on Monday morning, March 16, 1891, at 9 o'clock; between 7th and 8th streets, at 10 o'clock; thence to the church at 10 o'clock.

CUNNINGHAM.—On Saturday, March 14, in Newburgh, Conn., Patrick Cunningham.

Funeral services at the residence of his late wife, 121 East 12th st., to-day at 11 A. M.

DOLAN.—Elizabeth E. J., on March 15, William M., the beloved son of John and the late William M. Dolan, aged 10 years.

Funeral services at the residence of her parents, 121 East 12th st., to-day at 11 A. M.

DOOLEY.—In Hartford, Conn., Friday, March 13, Michael Dooley, son of Michael and Mary Dooley, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

EDWARDS.—On Friday, March 13, Carrie M. Edwards, wife of David M. Edwards, aged 44 years 3 months and 14 days.

Funeral services at the residence of her late husband, 110 West 10th st., on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his late mother, at South Park at this morning at 10 o'clock.

HEAL.—On Friday, March 13, Edward Healy, son of Edward Healy, aged 10 years 10 months and 10 days.

SUBSIDING AMERICAN SHIPPING.

One of the latest acts of Congress, just previous to its recent adjournment, was to pass a law authorizing the Postmaster-General to pay to the owners of American-built vessels, when they are employed on the coastwise trade, subsidies for carrying mail matter varying from 64 per mile down to 67 cents per mile. Exactly how many vessels will be entitled to the benefits of this law, and how much money will draw from the public Treasury, I have not been able to compute. It is a great question upon the question which the Postmaster-General exercises in the matter, and also upon the view taken of it by shipowners and shipbuilders. As near as I can estimate it, the total amount will fall considerably short of the $1,300,000 which Congress has appropriated for the purpose.

It is very likely that we have discovered from what I said last Monday on the subject of legislative interference in business matters that I am no friend of the artificial support of industries that cannot support themselves. Still, I have to acknowledge that a large number of my fellow-citizens are of a different way of thinking. They are of the opinion that it is a great advocacy it get from those into whose pockets it tends directly to put money, was favored by an immense number who take only what may be called a sentimental interest in fostering American shipping. They see vessels owned by the people of their own maritime countries from the realization of a great carrying trade of the world, and it annoys them that their countrymen should have no share of it. Any measure, therefore, which promises to redress this seeming injustice they welcome.

The ocean and all that belongs to it has a peculiar fascination, not only for those who are engaged in the maritime trade, but for those who have never seen it and know it merely by description. Nothing interests boys everywhere like accounts of sea voyages and tales of shipwreck. How many thousands of them annually run away from home to become sailors has never been exactly told, but the fact is that it is a very common thing for summer visitors to New York from the interior make for Long Island, Long Beach, Newport, and other seaside resorts is attributable not to their cool climate alone, but to the fascination I speak of which the sea possesses.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the sea-going vessels, and hence, I believe, proceeds much of the partiality which is shown to measures for their benefit. Aside from mere sentiment, I cannot see why people should particularly care whose ships and steamers carry goods and passengers for their own country. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor. It is not a matter of pride, but of consideration, the only question which ought to be considered is how the work can be done best and cheapest. That our citizens have relinquished it to those of other nations proves nothing more than that they find other and more profitable employments for their capital and their labor.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

New York Stock Exchange—Sales and Range of Prices of All Securities Dealt in During the Week Ending March 14, 1891.

UNITED STATES AND STATE BONDS (in $100,000).

RAILROAD AND OTHER BONDS (in $100,000).

STOCKS (in $100,000).

FINANCIAL.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST CO.

60 LIBERTY ST. 12 COURT ST. NEW YORK. BROOKLYN. CAPITAL & SURPLUS, $2,441,293.

Has made the necessary deposit with the Banking Department and is now qualified under its charter and the Laws of the State to receive deposits.

Is ready to receive deposits—not subject to drafts—except for stated periods, from those who prefer real estate as security.

Will also receive on deposit money which the owners desire to invest in first mortgages, and will as quickly as practicable provide such mortgages to be approved by and assigned to the depositor. Funding such investment, a liberal rate of interest will be allowed.

The company will extend its business in the best New York and Brooklyn mortgages. These mortgages it will transfer absolutely, or hold to secure deposits received.

The large capital of the company, its intimate connection with the real estate interests, and the entire absence of every element of speculation, on the part of the company, will commend it to conservative investors.

The company will give its depositors the preference in disposing of its mortgages.

STEPHEN F. NASH, President. RICHARD LAGRANDE, Vice-President. GEORGE F. DEMAREST, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES: GEORGE W. POTTER, GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, WILLIAM M. LAGRANDE, EDWARD F. FINE, CHARLES L. LYONS, JOHN Y. MARTIN, JOHN OBERMAN, ALEXANDER H. ORR, MARTIN COLEMAN, JOHN J. COOPER, JOHN D. HICKS, JAMES T. HAYES, JOHN D. HICKS, JAMES T. HAYES, JOHN D. HICKS, JAMES T. HAYES.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President. C. H. KELLEY, Vice-President. LOUIS WINDMULLER, Treasurer.

FRANK BAILEY, 212 Vice-President. LOUIS WINDMULLER, Treasurer.

CITIZENS AND SAVINGS BANK. The Board of Directors has declared a quarterly dividend of 100 cents per share on the common stock of this company from the net profits of the business for the quarter ending March 15, 1903, payable at the office of the Treasurer on and after the 15th day of March, 1903, at the close of the transfer books on the 15th day of March 1903.

The transfer books will be closed at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of March 20th inst., and reopened on the morning of April 1st, 1903.

FRANK BAILEY, 212 Vice-President. LOUIS WINDMULLER, Treasurer.

CITIZENS AND SAVINGS BANK. The Board of Directors has declared a quarterly dividend of 100 cents per share on the common stock of this company from the net profits of the business for the quarter ending March 15, 1903, payable at the office of the Treasurer on and after the 15th day of March, 1903, at the close of the transfer books on the 15th day of March 1903.

The transfer books will be closed at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of March 20th inst., and reopened