

OUTRAGES BY CLOAKMAKERS

SIX OF THE RICKERS INDICTED IN QUEENS COUNTY FOR BURGLARY.

No Profit Gained Against Baronesse and Her Mob Discharged—He is Out of Jail Again—A Short Story of Outrages Prepared for the Use of the New York Grand Jury.

Joseph Baronesse, the autocrat of the Cloakmakers' Union, waived examination at Jefferson Market yesterday on the charge of extortion made against him by Abram Popkin and William Fischel, manufacturers, and was sent back to his cell for a few hours. In the afternoon District Attorney Rice, after examination of their affidavits, decided to accept the charges against the rickets and on Wednesday, Hannah Gluck of 136 Stanton street and Leopold Brand of 240 East Houston street. The bail was $6,000.

A score or more of cloakmakers and other friends of Baronesse waited around the District Attorney's office until the appearance of the rickets. He made their leader a man, they surrounded him as he left the District Attorney's office, rather expecting to be arrested on a fresh charge.

Israel Tanenbaum, Frank Ringold, Joseph Bekov, Wolf Turchin, and Heris Goldstein, charged with being in the mob of striking cloakmakers which closed the establishment at Jamaica on March 9 and three other men, were indicted yesterday afternoon by the Queens county Grand Jury, and their trials were set down for April.

Turchin, Goldstein, and Julius Letz were also indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

Baronesse, the leader of the striking cloakmakers, was indicted. His bonds of $10,000 were released. The witness Weinstein, arrested by Inspector Byrnes, and supposed to know all about the plans of the riot at 131 Allen street, New York, on March 8, when before the Grand Jury proved to know nothing but what he had read in the newspapers. He was discharged.

HELPING THE GRAND JURY.

THAT IS WHY THE HENNESSY JURORS ARE DOUBLY CROSS-EXAMINED.

The Citizens' Committee Says It is Aiding the Grand Jury to Form Proper Conclusions as to the Killing Tragedy, and Therefore Will Submit What it Gets to that Body—It is Not Thought that Any of the Lynchers Will be Indicted.

New Orleans, March 19.—Just now the public mind here is intensely interested in the inquiry into the action of the Hennessy jury and the rumor that money was used to bring about the verdict.

This inquiry is being carried on by two bodies, the Committee of Safety and the Grand Jury. The former is meeting at the Morris hotel, corner of Canal and Canal streets, and Mr. Parkerson is Chairman and Mr. Wickliff is Secretary.

The committee declares that it is not surprising the power of the Grand Jury, but claims to act merely as an assistant in collecting evidence bearing upon the alleged bribery of the jury. It is not, however, to be understood that it is not their evidence, and it is believed that most of them have done so.

Whatever evidence is collected by it will be laid before the Grand Jury to-morrow or Saturday. The committee is also collecting evidence to show the secret meeting of the murderers of Hennessey and the other men who were in the mob which will also be submitted to the Grand Jury, will be of a sensational character.

The Grand Jury is also pursuing the investigation of the matter and has heard a number of witnesses. A very important witness who appeared before it was the late Captain James M. O'Malley, who was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

It now turns out that Collins was a detective in the employ of the city, whose duty it was to get into O'Malley's confidence and report evidence in his method of dealing with justice. It is understood that the Grand Jury will devote itself to the present to investigating the charge of bribery, and that not until this is disposed of will it take up the inquiry proposed by Judge Marr into the attack on the parish prison, and the lynching of the prisoners there.

The District Attorney has called upon the Attorney-General to take charge of this investigation. Very little is expected to come from it. The fact is, Judge Marr has been in a similar position to Mr. Parkerson and the others mentioned in the above article. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

Mr. Marr volunteered to lead the White League, and did so. He arrested the agent of the Government in the White League, and was ordered to make the White League a legal organization. He was in the employ of O'Malley in the private detective agency, and was one of the most trusted of O'Malley's men and deep in his secrets.

IS THE MURDERER ALIVE?

DISTRICT ATTORNEY FITZGERALD THINKS HE'S ON THE TRACK OF HIM.

A Young Englishman's Story Convincing the State Island Authorities that Wright Had an Accomplice and that Hutteringer Was Killed for the $15,000 He Had Received for His Last Factory.

District Attorney Fitzgerald of Richmond county said last night that the mystery of the murder of Carl E. Hutteringer, whose body was found in the water off Tottenville, Staten Island, on Wednesday last week, was in a fair way of being solved, and that one of the murderers would probably be captured. He came to this conclusion yesterday from evidence that was given at the Staten Island authorities by a young Englishman who was a fellow passenger of Wright and Hutteringer on the steamship City of Chicago, which arrived on Jan. 10.

The name of this young Englishman is withheld by the authorities. He is now, the authorities say, living with his brother-in-law in a small tenement on the New York City. He has not come forward and told his story before, it was said, because he was afraid of getting into trouble himself. His brother-in-law convinced him yesterday that it was his duty to tell all he knew, and he went before the proper authority and made a statement. The official report of his story is as follows:

This young Englishman said he had lived near Wright in England and knew him well. Wright, he said, had been a sport in England. He was a man of bad moral character. He had associated with toughs in London and with persons of the very worst character. On the voyage over on the City of Chicago, the young Englishman saw a good deal of Wright and Hutteringer. Hutteringer had a big roll of money, and when he got anything from the steward he would invariably pay him for it with a $1 note. Wright apparently had no money, but Hutteringer paid for everything. Wright and the young Englishman were each other's companions throughout the voyage. Wright told the young Englishman that Hutteringer had $15,000 in cash in his possession, that he was a lace manufacturer, and that most of the product of his factory had been sold in America. The young Englishman said that he had seen Hutteringer's roll of money, and that he had seen Wright take it out of Hutteringer's pocket. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so. Wright told him to take it out of Hutteringer's pocket, and he did so.

TRAPPED ON THE TOP FLOOR.

TWO MORE LIVES LOST IN A TENEMENT HOUSE FIRE.

Neglected Stove in the Basement, Wooden Air Shaft, Twenty-three Families Unwary, and a Heavy Smoke, were the causes of the fire.

Two more victims were caught last night in a typical tenement house fire, and at 115 East Twenty-ninth street, a six-story house, which, with its twin building at 117, occupied two full-sized lots and ran clear back, so as to make room for two sets of apartments on each side of each floor.

On the ground floor of 115 are two little stores with living rooms behind them. On the east side Jacob Danenhauer has a bakery and live back of it. The store on the west is occupied by William McEann, a butcher, and a second-hand shoe dealer, who has a shop in Second street.

Hollerer and his wife and children all go to this shop every morning and stay all day. They went away at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, leaving a fire in their range. Next to the kitchen, of course, is a light and air shaft that runs to the roof, running up between the front and the rear of the second floor. There is a similar shaft on the other side of the stairway.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

The fire began in Hollerer's kitchen. It was discovered at 7:45 last night. Before the firemen could get it had spread up the stairs and air shaft, and broken out to clear flames from the roof. The fire was in the building, where the walls tower above the adjoining building.

WARDEN BRUSH MUST GO.

Price-Fatigue has Been Made Too Great for Him at Pottersville.

ALBANY, March 19.—Warden A. A. Brush of Sing Sing prison has been spending a restless couple of days in Albany.

His restlessness results from the knowledge that his removal has been decided upon, and that a new Warden will be put in charge of the big gray prison by the 1st of May.

It is believed, however, that the change will be made at this time, which will keep the institution out of politics in the next campaign.

The result of the Governor's determination that the will should not be allowed to exist any longer.

The Warden has no fixed term of office, and is removable by Superintendent of Prisons Lathrop, who would be likely to listen to a recommendation from the Governor.

The fact that Brush has had a great deal of trouble on labor questions has not a little to do with his removal also.

His successor, according to the present outlook, will be Postmaster William R. Brown of Newburgh. He is a brother of Judge Charles F. Brown of the Court of Appeals of the Second Division.

ALL HIS CHILDREN DIE SO.

James Mercer identifies the Woman Who Fell Dead in Twenty-third Street.

The woman who was found dead in a hallway at 14 West Twenty-third street on Monday was identified at the Morgue, yesterday, by her father, James Mercer of 143 West Twenty-seventh street.

She is Mrs. Mary Schwab, 28 years old, and she lived with a sister at 672 East 187th street. She went out to make some visits on the day she died, and was probably on her way to her father's home when the fatal shock came. She died of heart disease.

All my children die the same way," was the woman's words at that time were: "We will all be partners, and there will not be a poor man in the family, and I am glad to become a president of this concern."

Mrs. Brown Forgiven.

A reconciliation has been effected between Henry B. Brown of Huntington, L. I., and his wife, who was arrested in the Colonnade Hotel, this city, four days ago, and returned to a few months ago. Brown eloped with Mrs. Dell Robinson of Greenlawn. The eloping couple returned to their homes without funds some time ago and have kept very quiet. During his absence Mrs. Robinson was in New York, and she is now in Huntington, where she is engaged in the hotel business. She is now in Huntington, where she is engaged in the hotel business.

The Weather.

The trough of low pressure that overrode the center of the country on Wednesday was drawn together and shifted to the westward, and the depression was over the Ohio valley. The depression was prevented from moving northeast an area of high pressure over the lower lake region forcing it toward the north. The depression was over the Ohio valley and the lower lake region forcing it toward the north. The depression was over the Ohio valley and the lower lake region forcing it toward the north.

Before the vote was taken a number of changes were made by Aiton, and finally it became a stamped ballot, when one began. The vote was taken, and the ballot was announced as follows: Estes, 15; Felton, 73; Johnston, 4; Heacock, 4; White (Dem.), 24.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

Mrs. Trice to Shoot Him.

MARTINVILLE, O., March 19.—Mrs. Ida Thornhill, wife of A. E. Thornhill, charged Dr. and Mrs. Vance with having slandered her.

Charles Green of Cincinnati testified to having been introduced by Aiton, and finally it became a stamped ballot, when one began. The vote was taken, and the ballot was announced as follows: Estes, 15; Felton, 73; Johnston, 4; Heacock, 4; White (Dem.), 24.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

James Mercer identifies the Woman Who Fell Dead in Twenty-third Street.

The woman who was found dead in a hallway at 14 West Twenty-third street on Monday was identified at the Morgue, yesterday, by her father, James Mercer of 143 West Twenty-seventh street.

She is Mrs. Mary Schwab, 28 years old, and she lived with a sister at 672 East 187th street. She went out to make some visits on the day she died, and was probably on her way to her father's home when the fatal shock came. She died of heart disease.

All my children die the same way," was the woman's words at that time were: "We will all be partners, and there will not be a poor man in the family, and I am glad to become a president of this concern."

Mrs. Brown Forgiven.

A reconciliation has been effected between Henry B. Brown of Huntington, L. I., and his wife, who was arrested in the Colonnade Hotel, this city, four days ago, and returned to a few months ago. Brown eloped with Mrs. Dell Robinson of Greenlawn. The eloping couple returned to their homes without funds some time ago and have kept very quiet. During his absence Mrs. Robinson was in New York, and she is now in Huntington, where she is engaged in the hotel business. She is now in Huntington, where she is engaged in the hotel business.

The Weather.

The trough of low pressure that overrode the center of the country on Wednesday was drawn together and shifted to the westward, and the depression was over the Ohio valley. The depression was prevented from moving northeast an area of high pressure over the lower lake region forcing it toward the north. The depression was over the Ohio valley and the lower lake region forcing it toward the north.

Before the vote was taken a number of changes were made by Aiton, and finally it became a stamped ballot, when one began. The vote was taken, and the ballot was announced as follows: Estes, 15; Felton, 73; Johnston, 4; Heacock, 4; White (Dem.), 24.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

Mrs. Trice to Shoot Him.

MARTINVILLE, O., March 19.—Mrs. Ida Thornhill, wife of A. E. Thornhill, charged Dr. and Mrs. Vance with having slandered her.

Charles Green of Cincinnati testified to having been introduced by Aiton, and finally it became a stamped ballot, when one began. The vote was taken, and the ballot was announced as follows: Estes, 15; Felton, 73; Johnston, 4; Heacock, 4; White (Dem.), 24.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

Mrs. Trice to Shoot Him.

MARTINVILLE, O., March 19.—Mrs. Ida Thornhill, wife of A. E. Thornhill, charged Dr. and Mrs. Vance with having slandered her.

Charles Green of Cincinnati testified to having been introduced by Aiton, and finally it became a stamped ballot, when one began. The vote was taken, and the ballot was announced as follows: Estes, 15; Felton, 73; Johnston, 4; Heacock, 4; White (Dem.), 24.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

Mrs. Trice to Shoot Him.

MARTINVILLE, O., March 19.—Mrs. Ida Thornhill, wife of A. E. Thornhill, charged Dr. and Mrs. Vance with having slandered her.

Charles Green of Cincinnati testified to having been introduced by Aiton, and finally it became a stamped ballot, when one began. The vote was taken, and the ballot was announced as follows: Estes, 15; Felton, 73; Johnston, 4; Heacock, 4; White (Dem.), 24.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.