

FIVE STATE CONVENTIONS.

PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICANS IN UP-ROAR OVER A QUAY RESOLUTION.

The Quay Candidate for Judge Reates, and Magee Forces the Withdrawal of an Endorsement of the Senator's Candidacy for the Senate—Massachusetts and South Carolina Republicans in Session, and the Kansas and Oregon Democrats Meet.

HARRISBURG, April 20.—Everything went along smoothly, and the spirit of peace ruled in the Pennsylvania Republican State Convention to-day. The speaker, however, showed the Schuykill delegation introduced a resolution praising Senator Quay as a political saint and endorsing his candidacy for reelection. It was offered as an addition to the report of the Committee on Resolutions, which had just been read. Chris Magee, who sat with the Allegheny delegation near the stage, was on his feet in an instant, and in a voice that could be heard above the cheers and hisses which greeted the Quay resolution, declared he could not see what such a resolution had to do with the Republican platform in a Presidential year. The Quay shouters tried to shout the Quay shouters down, but the latter was angry clean through. He said no man in the State had a higher regard for Mr. Quay than himself, but this was an attempt to put the Convention in the attitude of taking sides in a contest that is now going on in the legislative districts of the State.

He said no man in the State had a higher regard for Mr. Quay than himself, but this was an attempt to put the Convention in the attitude of taking sides in a contest that is now going on in the legislative districts of the State.

It was an easy matter to wind up the business of the convention after the recess. The delegates to the National Convention were named, and the roll called. Five names were presented: Major A. W. McLeod, Major George W. M. Bressler, Major A. L. Taggart, Montgomery, and one name was necessary to carry the roll. Chris Magee partially apologized for his reflections on the Quay resolution during the balloting on Sunday. He said he was not in a position to do so at that time, but he would do so at the next meeting. The convention adjourned at 10 o'clock.

EX-GOV. AMES REJECTED.

The Massachusetts Republicans Decline to Elect Ex-Gov. Oliver Ames Delegate to Minneapolis.

Boston, April 20.—Ex-Gov. Oliver Ames was today rejected as a delegate to the Republican State Convention, which was held at Fremont Temple. It was a harmonious convention and the political burial of Mr. Ames, who was a candidate for the nomination of everything that pertains to free trade in Massachusetts.

THE INDIANA DEMOCRATS.

Voorhees to be Gray, but He Wants No Wrangling—Candidates for Governor.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 20.—The Democratic State Convention will meet to-morrow. The delegates will number over 1,300, and the candidates, with their friends, seem to be legion. The hotels are filled with busy politicians to-night, while sharp contests prevail largely on foot. It shall be done to satisfy the Gray and Cleveland factions. There is a general spirit of good humor and a disposition toward harmony, and it looks as though the Convention, when it reaches the Presidential question, will adopt a peace and harmony resolution. The leaders in the party from the various Congressional districts have been in conference nearly all day with the State Central Committee, canvassing the situation with the view of recommending to their respective district meetings what course is best to pursue.

There are two extremes in the Convention—the Gray and the Cleveland. The Gray men are for Chicago for Cleveland and no one else, and the men who want the State to stand by Gray without regard to the Cleveland sentiment. Then there are the peace and harmony men, made up of both Cleveland and Gray Democrats. Voorhees to-day took command of the Convention, and he came to the Convention in a spirit of peace and harmony, and he has been busy all day advising that peace and harmony prevail, and asserting that it can only prevail by the State doing the right thing by Gray.

As delegates from the country came in they were piloted to Voorhees's room by the friends of Gray, and the Cleveland men were in the same hall, and the peace and harmony men prevailed.

The light for the Governorship is at its brightest. Shanklin and a second lieutenant will settle the matter. The Shanklin men are for the Cleveland sentiment, and the Matthews men are for the Gray sentiment. The light for the Governorship is at its brightest. ONE POLICE CAPTAIN OUT.

BROGAN, KILLILEA, AND THE McCULLAGHS MAY FOLLOW CLINCHY.

Twenty-year Men and Each Entitled to a Pension—A Prospect of Eight Vacant Police Captaincies in All—Perhaps a General Transfer of Sergeants Next—Special Duty Men and Detectives Transferred.

The protest of some of the police Captains removed on Tuesday from familiar and pleasant to strange and undesirable berths, was manifested yesterday in an unexpected way. Three veterans in the service announced that they would resign, and another, Capt. William H. Clinchy, formerly of the East Twenty-second street station, and now of Prince street, sent in his resignation to Major William H. Kipp, Chief Clerk of the Police Department.

The record of Capt. Clinchy is an honorable one. He was on the force for twenty years, and he was promoted to the rank of Captain in May, 1872. He was promoted to the rank of Captain in May, 1872. He was promoted to the rank of Captain in May, 1872.

More Changes Expected.

There was an air of expectancy in and around Police Headquarters yesterday, and the general impression that the whole force of police Captains and special duty men would be changed in a few days.

Transfers of Special Duty Men.

Superintendent Hyman assigned to their new posts yesterday the forty-four special duty men and ten detectives who were transferred from their present posts to new ones.

Change in the Tenements.

Capt. Tom Kelly surrendered his quarters in the Thirtieth street station at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon to Capt. McLaughlin, the new commandant of the station.

Biggest Breach of Promise Yet—Dict Since the Arbuttle Case.

Manufacturer Schultz's Story of an Engagement to Be Friends Until They Found Out Whether They Wanted to Marry—Falls to Impress the Jury—Katie Dorr's Account of Her Relations with Schultz.

Miss Georgina Wolters's suit against Louis Schultz for $50,000 damages for breach of promise marriage, which has been occupying Judge Fitzsimmons's attention in the City Court for three days, was finished yesterday. The jury went out at 5:30 P. M., and after deliberating four hours brought in a verdict awarding the young woman $25,000. Judge Fitzsimmons added $1,000 as an allowance for counsel fees. The sum named in the verdict, Judge Fitzsimmons says, is the largest ever awarded by a City Court jury. It is also the largest amount allowed heretofore in a suit for breach of promise since the famous Arbuttle or "Baby Bunting" case in 1888, when Clara Campbell got a verdict for $15,000.

Mrs. Woolsey Stopped the Sale.

Replevied Goods Her Husband Had Offered at Auction—A Suit for Divorce.

E. J. Woolsey, the executor of the Woolsey estate and a member of the Union Club, is the plaintiff in a replevin suit which he brought yesterday. The fact became public yesterday indirectly through a replevin suit begun by Mrs. Frances Smyth Woolsey, his wife, to prevent the sale of a part of a collection of furniture and other household goods at the Fifth avenue auction room. The collection included all of the furniture and other household goods at the Fifth avenue auction room.
