

LATEST NEWS FROM EUROPE.

THE GREAT HUNGER MAKES ITS APPEARANCE IN ENGLAND.

Thousands of Skilled Workmen in All Trades Laid Through on Fault of Their Own—Existing Relief Machinery Will Not be Adequate Next Winter—A Marked Decline in Popular Support of the Government—Gladstone Will Lecture on Medical Unemployment—Marian's Body to Rest Under the Cross—Paris Will Show the Biggest of All Telescopes—The Battle of the Wilderness—Buffalo Bill Settles His Wild West Horse and is Coming Home—Fresh Interest Shows in Yacht Racing.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The great drought has been devastating the English soil more than any summer since 1861. England must prepare for the coming of a spectre only less terrible. A great coming of a spectre only less terrible. A great coming of a spectre only less terrible. A great coming of a spectre only less terrible.

The strike at Carmaux continues to be the foremost subject in the public affairs of France. There have been some interesting changes in the situation this week. The Government has at last gone through the form at least of forbidding the unlawful patrols of the strikers and their intimidation of workmen.

The London Board of Trade makes a gloomy report of the situation. The distasteful agencies have for some time been wounding the alarm. Of the twenty-two chief trades unions in London only two, in answer to inquiries, report trade as good.

The Corners have investigated several cases of actual death by starvation in the last month. Distress is sure to be acute and widespread, and there will be many pitiful tales to be told in the coming winter.

The appetite for public amusement was shown by the different styles of drama, was not pursued as far as usual. The new opera, the new comedy and new Sadler's Wells theatres look to be successful.

The readers of THE SUN will have been prepared for the news of the Tory victory in Clarendon and the consequent reduction of Mr. Gladstone's Parliamentary majority to thirty-eight. The Liberal cause was entirely due to a variety of local causes, which have been sufficiently explained in this correspondence.

Mr. Gladstone has found time to prepare a letter to several universities, and will deliver it at Oxford on the 23d and will read his historical address at the University of London on the 25th, and then to London to take part in a series of Cabinet sessions at which the legislative programme for the Government in the coming session will be settled.

STATEMENT MADE THIS WEEK BY ROBERT THOMPSON, PRESIDENT OF THE NORTHEAST COAST ENGINEERS AND SHIPBUILDERS.

The Grand Old Man continues to enjoy excellent health, but he will spend at least one month of the winter in southern Europe. It is estimated that since his return to power Mr. Gladstone's correspondence, which has always been large, has increased fourfold, and his secretaries can scarcely cope with it.

The advocates of disestablishment are calling attention to a summary made up by a newspaper reader of the number of clergymen who have appeared in court as defendants in the past year in the Kingdom. These are the figures: Breach of promise, 14; cruelty to animals, 18; bankruptcies, 254; elopements, 17; drunkenness, 121; assaults, 109; various other charges, 84, and twelve more committed suicide.

The anxiety of Liverpool "to do something" before the people there have actually lost the Atlantic passenger trade has been appreciably quickened this week by the arrival of the first German liner, the Prinzess Alice, which will arrive at Southampton during the first week in March, although the new dock will not be completed much under a year.

The Board of Trade returns show that the amount of the United States authorities completely stopped the immigration of alien laborers into this country from Hamburg on route to America during the month of September, while the cholera regulations of the local Government had reduced the number of arrivals intending to settle in England to 50, compared with 2,235 during the corresponding month last year.

The unclaimed English estate fraud has taken a new phase and the American Legation, the Post Office authorities, and the officials of the Chancery Court are overwhelmed with inquiries on the subject from America. The late Mrs. W. H. B. is the clearest case.

The spirit of religious intolerance manifested over the election of Alderman Knill as the next Mayor will not down. A surprising large number of persons are signing the petition circulated by the Anti-Slavery Association praying the Queen to refuse to confirm the selection.

The wedding of Miss Katharine Drexel, youngest daughter of Mrs. Lucy Wharton Drexel, to Dr. Charles B. Penrose of Philadelphia, whose engagement was announced about a week ago, will be celebrated in St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church in Stuyvesant square on Thursday, Nov. 17.

The Government in the coming session will be settled. The Ministers are already agreed, however, that the session shall commence in the middle of January, several weeks earlier than the usual date.

IRISHMEN REPLY TO BLAINE.

MR. COCKRAN SUGGESTS THAT IT'S AMERICANS WHO DO OUR VOYAGING.

A Great Year at Both Headquarters for the Tribes Who Pretend to Control the "Foreign" Vote—Mr. Cleveland in the G. A. R. Parade—W. H. C. French the Main Man.

The wretched Republicans of the Hon. Tom C. C. and the still more wretched ones of Broer Hackett's New York State office, by questioning Mr. Cleveland's courtesy toward the Grand Army veterans on Wednesday, continued yesterday to nettle the Democratic managers.

Mr. Blaine's speech at Ophir Farm on Friday evening, in which he called upon Irishmen to support the Democratic party, has been widely discussed and has excited much interest.

The anxiety of Liverpool "to do something" before the people there have actually lost the Atlantic passenger trade has been appreciably quickened this week by the arrival of the first German liner, the Prinzess Alice, which will arrive at Southampton during the first week in March.

The Board of Trade returns show that the amount of the United States authorities completely stopped the immigration of alien laborers into this country from Hamburg on route to America during the month of September.

The unclaimed English estate fraud has taken a new phase and the American Legation, the Post Office authorities, and the officials of the Chancery Court are overwhelmed with inquiries on the subject from America.

The spirit of religious intolerance manifested over the election of Alderman Knill as the next Mayor will not down. A surprising large number of persons are signing the petition circulated by the Anti-Slavery Association.

The wedding of Miss Katharine Drexel, youngest daughter of Mrs. Lucy Wharton Drexel, to Dr. Charles B. Penrose of Philadelphia, whose engagement was announced about a week ago, will be celebrated in St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church in Stuyvesant square on Thursday, Nov. 17.

ADAMS SHOT IN A BALL ROOM.

Rumor Says It Was Due to Jealousy, but He Explains It Otherwise.

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—The regular Friday night ball was held at Uhrig's Cave last night, and Prof. B. Adams, the dancing master, was in his glory. The dancers enjoyed themselves immensely until just before midnight when a pistol shot interrupted the music of the quadrille.

The wounded man was William J. McKenzia, 22 years of age, and an employee of a wholesale dry goods store.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.

LOST FROM THE PILGRIM.

MR. GREY'S DISAPPEARANCE ON THE WAY TO FALL RIVER.

Walked in His Sleep and Fell Overboard. His Friends Think—Had a Habit of Writing Verses While He Slept—A Successful Poet-master of Southern Enterprises.

At the Fall River line office the people who were seen yesterday by a SUN reporter were very reticent. This story was learned, however, Mr. Greys engaged stateroom No. 35 for the trip of the Pilgrim on the 8th.

When between Fulton and Townsend streets, where there is a grade of 300 feet to the mile, the car No. 94 of the Central Traction Company, carrying Mr. Greys, was derailed.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

DASHED INTO A PARADE.

Pittsburgh Cable Car Got Beyond the Control of Gripmen with a Fatal Result.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 15.—At 7:45 o'clock this morning the cable car No. 10 of the Pittsburgh Cable Car Company, carrying Mr. Greys, was derailed.

When between Fulton and Townsend streets, where there is a grade of 300 feet to the mile, the car No. 94 of the Central Traction Company, carrying Mr. Greys, was derailed.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.

When the ball was over, McKenzia was accompanied by a young girl, with whom Adams is said to be violently in love. However, she had favored Adams, McKenzia, and Adams was with jealousy.

When I saw him with his arm around that girl, I stepped up and addressing the crowd I drew my pistol and fired. This is not the place for anything of that kind.