

ANTI-SNAPPERS GET OFFICERS UNDER COMMISSIONER'S EYE.

He Tells the Senate Committee on Immigration that He is Not One—Formerly a Jew, but Now a Christian, He Denies Being an Immigrant and Immigrant-Improver.

When the Senate Committee on Immigration, headed by Senator David R. Hill, met at the Hotel Normandie yesterday, Senator Chandler, referring to the Geary act excluding the Chinese, said the law should be enforced or stricken from the statute books. He added that he did not know what it would be to amend this law, and it made no difference. There was a good precedent for such legislation.

Senator Hill thought the matter properly came under the province of the committee. He suggested that a sub-committee should be appointed to investigate the workings of the Geary law. Senator Du Bois thought the six companies were the Chinese to defr the law. Senator Squire moved that a sub-committee be appointed to take testimony upon immigration matters upon the Pacific coast. The resolution was carried, and Senator Hill said he would appoint the committee.

Senator Squire, Commissioner of Immigration, was sworn. Senator Hill asked him a great many questions as to how he came to be appointed. He said that he had not applied for the position; it came unsolicited.

Senator Faulkner said he did not see the object of this investigation. He thought it was a Senator Chandler thought it had been appointed at the instance of the steamship companies, notoriously hostile toward the restriction of immigration, and was consequently in sympathy with those companies instead of the Government.

Dr. Sennar said Secretary Carlisle had told him he saw him in Washington, that he was appointed because he was free from any political entanglements and not connected with any organization.

"What do you mean by entanglements and organization?" asked Senator Chandler. "What is the greatest political organization in New York?"

"Tammany," was the response. "Did he tell you he appointed you because you did not belong to Tammany?" continued the Senator.

"No, sir," replied the Doctor, getting very red in the face. "Am I belong neither to the Tammany nor anti-Tammany?"

Senator Hill asked Dr. Sennar about his recent appointments, and particularly that of Mr. Quinlan, a hardware merchant, at $3 per day.

"Did you know he was active in politics?" asked Senator Hill.

"Yes, I know he was a Democrat," was the answer.

"Did you know," said Senator Hill, with sternness, "that he was the Chairman of the Twenty-third district anti-snappers' committee?"

"Not until yesterday," replied the Doctor. "Not until I saw the papers sent him by his political friends in the Twenty-third district at Ellis Island. Yes, he was recommended by ex-Mayor Hewitt."

Dr. Sennar advised that the matter of politics made little, if any, difference with him; he wanted competent men.

In answer to Senator Chandler's question, Dr. Sennar declared that immigration was not great as last year. He said that the number of Italians, however, had greatly increased since last year. The Polish Jews were greatly decreased. Dr. Sennar said that the number of immigrants was improving, all but the Italians.

The Polish Jews were undesirable immigrants, they had advanced to becoming citizens, German and Austria furnish the most desirable immigrants.

Dr. Sennar said that the number of Jews who had come to Ellis Island, he did not know, but he knew that the past Administration failed to reserve the appointive power.

In regard to the matter of the inspectors who were witnesses thought Dr. Jenkins would render efficient service.

Dr. Sennar said in answer to Senator Chandler, that he did not know how much the Baron Hirsch fund was, but he thought it was about $1,000,000. He said that the Baron Hirsch fund was a good thing, and he thought it was a good thing to let the countrymen land. Now he learned, he added, that Weber was employed by the Baron Hirsch fund, as likely to become pauper.

Senator Chandler read from an anonymous letter that a large number of the inspectors were Jews and not Poles, German or Russian. He said that he had written to the letting their countrymen land. Now he learned, he added, that Weber was employed by the Baron Hirsch fund, as likely to become pauper.

Dr. Sennar thought only one inspector was a Jew.

"Is that a matter of fact, are you of Christian or Jewish faith?" suddenly asked Senator Chandler.

"I am a Christian," replied the Doctor after a moment's hesitation.

"You are a Jew?" asked Senator Chandler.

"Yes, long ago, before I came to America," was the answer.

"May I ask you why that question was proposed?" inquired Dr. Sennar.

"Because I saw that Louis Shary of the Washington Post was Jewish, and he was a witness at the hearing of the New York case," said Dr. Sennar.

Edward Stephenson, Commissioner of Immigration, said that he had 2,000 Russian Jews whom the Government had to care for. He was asked by the Jewish committee how he was getting on, and he said that he was getting on as well as he could. He said that he was getting on as well as he could.

Benjamin Farr, a member of the firm of Weeks & Farr, four merchants in New York, testified that he had supplied four to the hospital at various times during the past four years, and that when his bids for the contract were made he had invariably figured as low as was consistent with the contract. He said that he was getting on as well as he could.

Charles E. Fowler, superintendent of the hospital, testified that he had supplied four to the hospital at various times during the past four years, and that when his bids for the contract were made he had invariably figured as low as was consistent with the contract. He said that he was getting on as well as he could.

Commissioner Goodwin Brown stated that the Lunacy Commission desired to place on the hospital a large number of pauper lunatics. He said that he was getting on as well as he could.

John C. Schoenberger was appointed yesterday by Commissioner Sennar treasurer and disbursing clerk of the hospital. Mr. Schoenberger has been a deputy collector of city revenue in the Finance Department for several years. He is a son of the County Democrat.

MR. SATOLLI'S VISIT HERE.

HE LIVES WITH HIS FATHER AND OTHER CHURCH VISITING.

Mr. Satolli spent Monday night at the guest of Father Corrigan in the rectory of the Church of Our Lady of Grace in Hoboken. He was up early yesterday morning, notwithstanding the fatigue of the previous day, and celebrated mass at 7:30. He was assisted, as on previous occasions, by Fathers Callahan and Fitzgerald. There was a great crowd in the church. Men and women crowded up to the altar railing to get the Ablegate's blessing, and he remained half an hour after mass bestowing his blessing upon all who sought it. Many of the women had brought babies with them and held them up in their arms to be blessed.

After breakfast Mr. Satolli, accompanied by Father Corrigan, Dr. O'Gorman, Father Hennessy of St. Patrick's Church, Father Killen of St. Mary's, Bergen Point, and Dr. Niland of Poughkeepsie, visited the parochial school which adjoins the church. Father Corrigan, who is in charge of the school, which is one of the largest and finest in New Jersey. After the Ablegate had finished his inspection he declared himself highly gratified.

While the party was in the building a large crowd had gathered outside. As Mr. Satolli and his escort came out of the school to take the carriage which was waiting for them, the people crowded around, anxious to see the Ablegate and get his blessing. After Father Corrigan had opened a passageway through the throng to the carriages the party drove in the direction of Grand street and Dr. Niland and Bramhall avenue, Jersey City. The church, which is named in honor of St. Patrick, is an imposing edifice, occupying an commanding site on the top of a hill, and is acknowledged to be the finest church edifice in the State.

ALDERMEN IN A DEADLOCK.

THEY WHEELS INCLINED TO CREAK OVER GENERAL ORDERS.

After finally knocking out the Third Avenue Cable Extension the Board is now faced with the question of the extension of the Third Avenue Railroad Company to extend its tracks in St. Nicholas avenue, Manhattan avenue, 110th street, Kingsbridge road, and Broadway, and to hold a public hearing on Monday on the application of the Sixth and Ninth Avenue Railway companies to extend their tracks through 110th street.

The vote on refusing to permit the Third Avenue Railroad Company's track extensions was 19 to 0, the Aldermen voting in favor of the extension being Danahert, Donovan, Owens, Prange, Rian, and Saul.

It was expected that the Aldermen would deny the Third Avenue road's application last week when the Railroad Committee reported adversely on it, 4 to 3; but they didn't seem to feel like it just then. When they had done it they were asked to vote on the extension of the Third Avenue Railroad Company's track extensions.

There were just twenty-four Aldermen present at the meeting, the exact number required to pass general orders which call for the expenditure of public money. It looked as if the general order would be passed, but the physicians are unable to assign any particular reason for the outbreak at this time.

Epidemics of the disease are of regular occurrence, they said, and no more regular cause of the outbreak now can be assigned than the epidemic has been expected, and is already several years overdue, according to the theory that fifteen years is the approximate interval between recurrences of such diseases.

There was an increase in the number of cases reported last winter sufficient to lead to the theory that the outbreak of the disease would this year assume the form of an epidemic. At Roosevelt Hospital the number of cases last year in the three months from January to March was seven, a number largely in excess of the cases reported there in any other year.

Cerebro spinal meningitis is not a contagious disease in the sense that measles or smallpox is, but it is contagious in the sense that it is transmitted by coming into contact with the person or clothing of any one who has it, although the disease is not transmitted and take refuge in qualifying expressions. But the books call the disease infectious and contagious, and the fact is that it has been reported among persons in close communication with each other in barracks, in the case of an epidemic of the disease.

The fact that the disease is infectious and contagious is not a reason for its being so communicated by germs which exist and are in the air, and not on the bodies of the infected persons. It is just this sense that malaria and influenza are infectious and become epidemic at periods. The fact that the disease is infectious and contagious is not a reason for its being so communicated by germs which exist and are in the air, and not on the bodies of the infected persons.

It appears a relentless sort of a sickness. It is a disease which is not contagious, but it is transmitted by coming into contact with the person or clothing of any one who has it, although the disease is not transmitted and take refuge in qualifying expressions. But the books call the disease infectious and contagious, and the fact is that it has been reported among persons in close communication with each other in barracks, in the case of an epidemic of the disease.

CEREBRO SPINAL MENINGITIS HERE. It is Epidemic, the Doctors Say, and They Have Been Expecting It in That Form.

The Brooklyn Chess Club had a festive appearance on Monday night, when Walbrodt gave a complimentary farewell performance. President Gilberg introduced the player, whereupon Walbrodt began operations on fourteen boards, opposite to which were some of the strongest players of the club. Every one present admitted never having seen such rapid chess play as was shown by Teuton. After exactly 110 minutes the performance was over, and hearty applause greeted the expert when it was announced that he had won ten games and lost four.

Walbrodt made upward of 470 moves. Appended are the details of the contest:
