

WALL STREET LESS ANXIOUS.

FEWER AND LESS URGENT REQUESTS FROM THE COUNTRY FOR AID.

Comptroller Eckels' Part in Creating Disturbance - Money on Call Active, but the Street Exchange Market Makes Progress Toward the Clearing House.

The Loan Committee of the Clearing House held its first meeting yesterday, but so far as the clearing house did not transact any particular business. The committee is practically sworn to secrecy, and its members are expected not to confide even to their associates the results of each day's deliberations.

On the books of banks to which they are issued they should appear on both sides of the balance sheet, being an asset available for clearing house purposes, and a liability on the books of the obligation of the bank to redeem them at the clearing house. This, however, is a matter of bookkeeping that really does not concern the public.

It was a decided falling off yesterday in the demand upon the banks for accommodations from interior banks, and also a material decrease in the shipments of currency to the interior. The City National Bank deposited $500,000 gold in the Sub-Treasurer in exchange for notes of small denominations.

The latest advices from Boston received in Wall street foreshadowed a decision on the part of the Clearing House banks at that center to issue loan certificates; but according to despatches from the banks of the country, which are in favor of adopting the plan which the managers of the New York and Philadelphia banks considered wise.

An illustration of the way in which Chicago banks treat their correspondent banks in the country is furnished in the following letter from the Chicago National Bank to its correspondent of one of the last named:

"Our oldest Chicago correspondent is the Chicago National Bank, which has been of redoubtful aid for many days since, and they answered that it was utterly impossible to render them any more assistance than they had done in the past ten years they have never been called upon to help us, save in one instance, and in that case the fact that we had a daily average balance was over $100,000, and we were unable to have taken care of us in the emergency.

The condition in which the banks find themselves is such that the report made by Comptroller of the Currency Eckels some time ago is not only true, but is being increased. The report of the examiners and to enforce the national banking act to the very letter. This announcement is made in the hope that it will be met with an understanding and an unexpected examination. The threat of Mr. Eckels is, in the opinion of many well informed persons, the most serious one that has ever existed for the pulling and hauling for cash which is now taking place.

It is equally alarming and which made holders of national bank stocks regard their property as being in jeopardy. The fact that the report of the examiners is being increased, and that the report of the examiners is being increased, and that the report of the examiners is being increased.

Wall street was comparatively quiet yesterday, but there was a general feeling of uneasiness, and the speculation continued narrow and professional. The market was in a state of uncertainty, and the speculation continued narrow and professional.

Heavy Judgment Against Frederick Warder. St. Louis, June 16.—Daniel B. Bissell and F. Barnum Bissell, executors of the estate of James K. Bissell, got a judgment in Judge Bissell's court to-day against Frederick Warder, the actor, for $25,000.

The suit was instituted in February, 1887, upon the death of James H. Bissell, who was bringing to his death, conducting the Times Printing Company. During 1886 and 1887 Bissell, the actor, was in the city to see the estate of James H. Bissell, who was bringing to his death, conducting the Times Printing Company.

Harvard Law School. It Raises the Conditions upon Which It Will Grant Diplomas. Boston, June 16.—Harvard University has just taken a step of great importance with regard to the qualifications for admission to the law school.

After the academic year 1895-96 admission to regular standing in the Harvard law school can be gained only by persons possessing an A. B. degree or a degree equivalent to an A. B. and implying a certain amount of linguistic training in the use of certain selected languages.

Failure of a Geneva Oil Works. BUFFALO, June 16.—The Geneva Oil Works, limited, have made a general assignment. The liabilities of the company are about $300,000. The cause of the assignment was the inability to meet several large notes when they became due, or to have them extended.

End of the Irving Savings Bank Inst. The Warren street Irving Savings Bank has been closed, and the assets of the bank are being liquidated. The bank had a deposit of $1,000,000, and the assets are being sold to pay the depositors.

DUQUENNE TUBE WORKS FAIL.

Judgments for $350,000 Filed Against Them - Other Troubles.

PITTSBURGH, June 16.—This morning judgment and execution were filed in the Prothonotary's office against the Duquesne Tube Works Company for $350,000. An exact statement of the account cannot at this time be obtained.

It is stated that nearly the entire debt of the company is included in the judgment. This is secured by the property of the company. The failure is caused by general depression in business. Three judgments aggregating $200,000 were entered by W. A. Dunshoe, and one for $127,522 by the Trona Iron Company.

The works have one of the most complete pipe plants in the country. It has been in operation five years and covers twenty acres of ground at Duquesne, ten miles above Pittsburgh, on the Monaca river.

The property is estimated to be worth $100,000, including the machinery. The value of the plant is $350,000. The value of the stock is $100,000. The value of the machinery is $100,000. The value of the plant is $350,000.

Another Jewelry Trade Failure. M. Fox & Co. Make an Assignment, with Liabilities Estimated at $141,000. M. Fox & Co., lapidaries and importers of diamonds at 124 Madison lane, made an assignment yesterday to Frederick H. Schulz, giving preference for $20,000 to Mrs. Louisa Fox, wife of Michael Fox, the senior partner, and $3,000 to Mrs. Cornelia H. Fox, wife of Charles J. Fox, another partner.

The partners are for many loaned. The partners are for many loaned.

Mr. Fox went to Europe to ask for an extension of time to pay the debts. He was unable to do so, and the firm was forced to make an assignment. The liabilities are estimated at $141,000.

HATTIE FISHER'S RESCUE.

THE SIDE SWEEP HER TOWARD AN APPROACHING SCHOONER.

LEONORA KETCHUM, Companion She Had Tried to Save, Drowned—They and Miss Ketchum's Sister Were Just Starting to Race When Miss Ketchum Began to Sink.

SHELTER ISLAND, June 16.—Leonora Ketchum, one of the loveliest girls in this village, was drowned yesterday afternoon. Tempesty weather, blowing from the east, and the water she went with her sister and a friend bathing in Beacon Bay. She stepped unexpectedly into deep water and with a cry of despair she was carried out of sight.

Prize fighting as a cock fighting was a feature in last night's amusements. Two fights were held just outside of the camp ground. About 250 soldiers witnessed the fights, and there was some lively betting on the results.

Miss Ketchum was 17 years old. Her father is a well-to-do builder in the village. Her sister Alice, who is 14 years old, suggested the idea of bathing.

"I saw Hattie Fisher this morning," she said to her sister at noon time, "and she said she'd go with me if you would." "Let's start at 2 o'clock," was her warm reply.

It was very warm here yesterday afternoon, and not a breath of air came in from the ocean. The Ketcham girls left their house at 2 o'clock, and their bathing suits under their arms.

They walked down the road to a small white cottage, where they stood with their arms outstretched waiting for them. This was Hattie Fisher, 13 years old, the daughter of a painter. She is tall for her age and strong.

The girls started across the hill for the shore, almost half a mile. The surface of the bay was as smooth as glass. The girls came to the water's edge, and they stepped into the water. They were standing on rocks at that time.

After resting for a short time they entered the water, where they held their hands. Hattie Fisher to-day, "and we were jumping up and down. The water was nice and cool and we ducked our heads. I splashed some water on my face, and she splashed some over me, but that was only in fun. We were standing on rocks at that time.

By these changes Mrs. McPhail claims that the greater part of Mr. Harris's fortune, amounting to $500,000, would come into Mrs. McPhail's hands.

Mrs. McPhail says that her uncle, Mr. Harris, has been informed of this proceeding and that he has refused to sign any agreement.

MORE COCK FIGHTING IN CAMP.

Also Two Prize Fights—Five Rounds by George Gray and Jack Johnson.

STATE CAMP, PERSKILL, June 16.—This, the last day of the Twenty-third in camp, has been celebrated with two cock fights. The cheer of the boys as they made their charge in the morning battle was very like the rebel yell, and one old Confederate who came up from New York to-day to visit the camp said that if he had heard that yell south of Mason and Dixon's line he would have been ready to take off his coat and go into battle.

BLADE BROKE IN HIS HEART.

A Lansingburg Miracle. Literally Half Dead, his Case Pronounced Hopeless by Prominent Physicians - A Story of Surprising Interest - Verified Under Oath.

The Negroes' General Base to Hartford, who was in the city, was a constant was going on Thursday night when Hartford field the place. He is well known about the track, being valet for Jockey Overton, and has the reputation of being a quiet and peaceable fellow. Both he and Young are colored. Hartford had been drinking and undertook to in the morning, but he was not in the mood to play. Young had to make a bank shot. Young pushed him away two or three times, but he returned and resumed his interference. Finally the pool player got naturally tripped his opponent up, then jumping away from him as he lay on the floor he was under the impression that the game was over. Hartford, misinterpreting the motion, jumped up, caught a cue from the hands of another player and started for Young. Before he could strike, a bystander named Julian Watkins had seized him. Aided by two others, Watkins then pushed the drunken man to the door.

Hartfield was back again in a moment. This time it was Young who pushed him out. "Don't be a fool now," he said. "Go home and get sober."

Instead of taking his advice, Hartfield muttered a threat and came toward the door in which Young was standing. The latter was a slender man, but he was a good fighter. He stepped forward and the men, Young, now thoroughly enraged, broke away from Hartfield, and cut away at the latter's head. He cut a knife, and he cut a knife, and he cut a knife.

Young jumped to his feet, Hartfield getting up slowly, as he rose. You will see that he is a good fighter. He stepped forward and the men, Young, now thoroughly enraged, broke away from Hartfield, and cut away at the latter's head.
