

NO THE NEW YORK BANKERS WHOM HE CONSULTED THINK.

They Are Not Tempting at the Price to Finance Institutions—No Commission for Placing Them—Talk of an Underwriting Syndicate, but Nothing Definite.

The Hon. John Griffin Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, remained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday morning. On the visit of Assistant Treasurer Jordan the night before it was announced that the Secretary should meet a congregation of the financial men of New York at the Sub-Treasury at noon.

Concerning the Secretary's present visit, it was reported that on Saturday evening Assistant Treasurer Jordan requested the cooperation of J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, and other Democratic bank presidents in an effort to make the proposed issue of $50,000,000 5 per cent. bonds a success.

It was further ascertained that Mr. Jordan had attempted to prevent a visit of Mr. Carlisle to New York at this time, and that he might come prepared to submit a proposition calculated to induce the banks to take hold of the proposed Government loan and make it a success.

About this the Secretary differed with Mr. Jordan. He was disturbed over an impression created that by the Secretary's reported visit to a committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives the validity of the proposed bond issue had been questioned.

After discussing his statement Mr. Carlisle directed Mr. Jordan to invite the financial men to meet him at the Sub-Treasury at noon on Monday morning.

From a noon Secretary Carlisle arrived at the Sub-Treasury at 12:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan as he made his way to the meeting.

Those who had assembled to meet him were J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, William J. Strong of the Central National Bank, Drayton Ives of the Western National, J. Edgar McLaughlin of the National City Bank, W. Cannon of the Chase National, A. H. Hebard of the Third National, J. T. Woodward of the National City Bank, George W. Williams of the National City Bank, James Stillman of the National City Bank, and others.

Mr. Carlisle, after a brief conversation with the bankers, returned to the Sub-Treasury at 1:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan.

It is believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

NO THE NEW YORK BANKERS WHOM HE CONSULTED THINK.

They Are Not Tempting at the Price to Finance Institutions—No Commission for Placing Them—Talk of an Underwriting Syndicate, but Nothing Definite.

The Hon. John Griffin Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, remained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday morning. On the visit of Assistant Treasurer Jordan the night before it was announced that the Secretary should meet a congregation of the financial men of New York at the Sub-Treasury at noon.

Concerning the Secretary's present visit, it was reported that on Saturday evening Assistant Treasurer Jordan requested the cooperation of J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, and other Democratic bank presidents in an effort to make the proposed issue of $50,000,000 5 per cent. bonds a success.

It was further ascertained that Mr. Jordan had attempted to prevent a visit of Mr. Carlisle to New York at this time, and that he might come prepared to submit a proposition calculated to induce the banks to take hold of the proposed Government loan and make it a success.

About this the Secretary differed with Mr. Jordan. He was disturbed over an impression created that by the Secretary's reported visit to a committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives the validity of the proposed bond issue had been questioned.

After discussing his statement Mr. Carlisle directed Mr. Jordan to invite the financial men to meet him at the Sub-Treasury at noon on Monday morning.

From a noon Secretary Carlisle arrived at the Sub-Treasury at 12:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan as he made his way to the meeting.

Those who had assembled to meet him were J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, William J. Strong of the Central National Bank, Drayton Ives of the Western National, J. Edgar McLaughlin of the National City Bank, W. Cannon of the Chase National, A. H. Hebard of the Third National, J. T. Woodward of the National City Bank, George W. Williams of the National City Bank, James Stillman of the National City Bank, and others.

Mr. Carlisle, after a brief conversation with the bankers, returned to the Sub-Treasury at 1:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan.

It is believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

NO THE NEW YORK BANKERS WHOM HE CONSULTED THINK.

They Are Not Tempting at the Price to Finance Institutions—No Commission for Placing Them—Talk of an Underwriting Syndicate, but Nothing Definite.

The Hon. John Griffin Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, remained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday morning. On the visit of Assistant Treasurer Jordan the night before it was announced that the Secretary should meet a congregation of the financial men of New York at the Sub-Treasury at noon.

Concerning the Secretary's present visit, it was reported that on Saturday evening Assistant Treasurer Jordan requested the cooperation of J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, and other Democratic bank presidents in an effort to make the proposed issue of $50,000,000 5 per cent. bonds a success.

It was further ascertained that Mr. Jordan had attempted to prevent a visit of Mr. Carlisle to New York at this time, and that he might come prepared to submit a proposition calculated to induce the banks to take hold of the proposed Government loan and make it a success.

About this the Secretary differed with Mr. Jordan. He was disturbed over an impression created that by the Secretary's reported visit to a committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives the validity of the proposed bond issue had been questioned.

After discussing his statement Mr. Carlisle directed Mr. Jordan to invite the financial men to meet him at the Sub-Treasury at noon on Monday morning.

From a noon Secretary Carlisle arrived at the Sub-Treasury at 12:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan as he made his way to the meeting.

Those who had assembled to meet him were J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, William J. Strong of the Central National Bank, Drayton Ives of the Western National, J. Edgar McLaughlin of the National City Bank, W. Cannon of the Chase National, A. H. Hebard of the Third National, J. T. Woodward of the National City Bank, George W. Williams of the National City Bank, James Stillman of the National City Bank, and others.

Mr. Carlisle, after a brief conversation with the bankers, returned to the Sub-Treasury at 1:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan.

It is believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

NO THE NEW YORK BANKERS WHOM HE CONSULTED THINK.

They Are Not Tempting at the Price to Finance Institutions—No Commission for Placing Them—Talk of an Underwriting Syndicate, but Nothing Definite.

The Hon. John Griffin Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, remained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday morning. On the visit of Assistant Treasurer Jordan the night before it was announced that the Secretary should meet a congregation of the financial men of New York at the Sub-Treasury at noon.

Concerning the Secretary's present visit, it was reported that on Saturday evening Assistant Treasurer Jordan requested the cooperation of J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, and other Democratic bank presidents in an effort to make the proposed issue of $50,000,000 5 per cent. bonds a success.

It was further ascertained that Mr. Jordan had attempted to prevent a visit of Mr. Carlisle to New York at this time, and that he might come prepared to submit a proposition calculated to induce the banks to take hold of the proposed Government loan and make it a success.

About this the Secretary differed with Mr. Jordan. He was disturbed over an impression created that by the Secretary's reported visit to a committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives the validity of the proposed bond issue had been questioned.

After discussing his statement Mr. Carlisle directed Mr. Jordan to invite the financial men to meet him at the Sub-Treasury at noon on Monday morning.

From a noon Secretary Carlisle arrived at the Sub-Treasury at 12:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan as he made his way to the meeting.

Those who had assembled to meet him were J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, William J. Strong of the Central National Bank, Drayton Ives of the Western National, J. Edgar McLaughlin of the National City Bank, W. Cannon of the Chase National, A. H. Hebard of the Third National, J. T. Woodward of the National City Bank, George W. Williams of the National City Bank, James Stillman of the National City Bank, and others.

Mr. Carlisle, after a brief conversation with the bankers, returned to the Sub-Treasury at 1:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan.

It is believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

NO THE NEW YORK BANKERS WHOM HE CONSULTED THINK.

They Are Not Tempting at the Price to Finance Institutions—No Commission for Placing Them—Talk of an Underwriting Syndicate, but Nothing Definite.

The Hon. John Griffin Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, remained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday morning. On the visit of Assistant Treasurer Jordan the night before it was announced that the Secretary should meet a congregation of the financial men of New York at the Sub-Treasury at noon.

Concerning the Secretary's present visit, it was reported that on Saturday evening Assistant Treasurer Jordan requested the cooperation of J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, and other Democratic bank presidents in an effort to make the proposed issue of $50,000,000 5 per cent. bonds a success.

It was further ascertained that Mr. Jordan had attempted to prevent a visit of Mr. Carlisle to New York at this time, and that he might come prepared to submit a proposition calculated to induce the banks to take hold of the proposed Government loan and make it a success.

About this the Secretary differed with Mr. Jordan. He was disturbed over an impression created that by the Secretary's reported visit to a committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives the validity of the proposed bond issue had been questioned.

After discussing his statement Mr. Carlisle directed Mr. Jordan to invite the financial men to meet him at the Sub-Treasury at noon on Monday morning.

From a noon Secretary Carlisle arrived at the Sub-Treasury at 12:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan as he made his way to the meeting.

Those who had assembled to meet him were J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, William J. Strong of the Central National Bank, Drayton Ives of the Western National, J. Edgar McLaughlin of the National City Bank, W. Cannon of the Chase National, A. H. Hebard of the Third National, J. T. Woodward of the National City Bank, George W. Williams of the National City Bank, James Stillman of the National City Bank, and others.

Mr. Carlisle, after a brief conversation with the bankers, returned to the Sub-Treasury at 1:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan.

It is believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

NO THE NEW YORK BANKERS WHOM HE CONSULTED THINK.

They Are Not Tempting at the Price to Finance Institutions—No Commission for Placing Them—Talk of an Underwriting Syndicate, but Nothing Definite.

The Hon. John Griffin Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, remained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday morning. On the visit of Assistant Treasurer Jordan the night before it was announced that the Secretary should meet a congregation of the financial men of New York at the Sub-Treasury at noon.

Concerning the Secretary's present visit, it was reported that on Saturday evening Assistant Treasurer Jordan requested the cooperation of J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, and other Democratic bank presidents in an effort to make the proposed issue of $50,000,000 5 per cent. bonds a success.

It was further ascertained that Mr. Jordan had attempted to prevent a visit of Mr. Carlisle to New York at this time, and that he might come prepared to submit a proposition calculated to induce the banks to take hold of the proposed Government loan and make it a success.

About this the Secretary differed with Mr. Jordan. He was disturbed over an impression created that by the Secretary's reported visit to a committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives the validity of the proposed bond issue had been questioned.

After discussing his statement Mr. Carlisle directed Mr. Jordan to invite the financial men to meet him at the Sub-Treasury at noon on Monday morning.

From a noon Secretary Carlisle arrived at the Sub-Treasury at 12:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan as he made his way to the meeting.

Those who had assembled to meet him were J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, William J. Strong of the Central National Bank, Drayton Ives of the Western National, J. Edgar McLaughlin of the National City Bank, W. Cannon of the Chase National, A. H. Hebard of the Third National, J. T. Woodward of the National City Bank, George W. Williams of the National City Bank, James Stillman of the National City Bank, and others.

Mr. Carlisle, after a brief conversation with the bankers, returned to the Sub-Treasury at 1:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan.

It is believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

NO THE NEW YORK BANKERS WHOM HE CONSULTED THINK.

They Are Not Tempting at the Price to Finance Institutions—No Commission for Placing Them—Talk of an Underwriting Syndicate, but Nothing Definite.

The Hon. John Griffin Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, remained at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday morning. On the visit of Assistant Treasurer Jordan the night before it was announced that the Secretary should meet a congregation of the financial men of New York at the Sub-Treasury at noon.

Concerning the Secretary's present visit, it was reported that on Saturday evening Assistant Treasurer Jordan requested the cooperation of J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, and other Democratic bank presidents in an effort to make the proposed issue of $50,000,000 5 per cent. bonds a success.

It was further ascertained that Mr. Jordan had attempted to prevent a visit of Mr. Carlisle to New York at this time, and that he might come prepared to submit a proposition calculated to induce the banks to take hold of the proposed Government loan and make it a success.

About this the Secretary differed with Mr. Jordan. He was disturbed over an impression created that by the Secretary's reported visit to a committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives the validity of the proposed bond issue had been questioned.

After discussing his statement Mr. Carlisle directed Mr. Jordan to invite the financial men to meet him at the Sub-Treasury at noon on Monday morning.

From a noon Secretary Carlisle arrived at the Sub-Treasury at 12:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan as he made his way to the meeting.

Those who had assembled to meet him were J. Edward Simmons, James Stillman, William J. Strong of the Central National Bank, Drayton Ives of the Western National, J. Edgar McLaughlin of the National City Bank, W. Cannon of the Chase National, A. H. Hebard of the Third National, J. T. Woodward of the National City Bank, George W. Williams of the National City Bank, James Stillman of the National City Bank, and others.

Mr. Carlisle, after a brief conversation with the bankers, returned to the Sub-Treasury at 1:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Assistant Secretary Curtis and Assistant Treasurer Jordan.

It is believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

It is also believed that the Secretary's visit to the Sub-Treasury was a success, and that the banks have agreed to take hold of the proposed Government loan.

THE WILSON TENNEL PLAN.

The Commission Propose to Submit the Rapid Transit Problem. It is Contemplated offering to them two plans, by one of which the city will lend its credit to R. T. Wilson & Co. to the extent of $30,000,000, but two-thirds of the estimated cost of the underground road planned by the Commission, and by the other the city itself will undertake the work of building the underground road. The Commission will meet to-day and they will vote on a report on the Wilson plan, which they will send to the Board of Aldermen, and through that Board to the Mayor.

As was printed in THE SUN a few days ago, the Rapid Transit Commission, while apparently enthusiastic for the Wilson plan in open meeting, was in private very much divided on the feasibility of that plan. At least one Commissioner argued that if it would be good policy for the city to lend its credit for almost the total cost of the road, it would be a better plan for the city to undertake the work of building the underground road. It might not lose anything directly; but neither would it gain anything for the road in the end would be owned by the private capitalists, who would pocket all the profits.

It was also asserted that the real reason the Manhattan Company rejected the Wilson plan of the Commission last summer was that it could not see its way clear to pay the property damage that would be incurred. The building of a new line for the upper Manhattan, from the city hall to the city hall, and the Commission picked out, would have involved property damage to the extent of $20,000,000. The road itself, therefore, some of the Commissioners said, the building of any road would be a loss to the city. The Wilson plan, however, would not involve any property damage. The Wilson plan, therefore, would not involve any property damage. The Wilson plan, therefore, would not involve any property damage.

There is no basis whatever for the reports that Rear Admiral Benham, commanding the American squadron here, is acting in an official capacity as a member of the Rapid Transit Commission. The admiral is a member of the Rapid Transit Commission, but he is acting in an official capacity as a member of the Rapid Transit Commission. The admiral is a member of the Rapid Transit Commission, but he is acting in an official capacity as a member of the Rapid Transit Commission.

There are renewals of the reports that the insurgents have made further gains in the state of Parana. It is said that there is no excitement in the State of Sao Paulo. The reports of the insurgents are that they have made further gains in the state of Parana. It is said that there is no excitement in the State of Sao Paulo.

There is an average of seventeen cases of yellow fever daily in Rio de Janeiro. The rate of exchange is the lowest ever known. The Minister of Justice, representing Peixoto, engaged to meet Admiral Benham officially at noon yesterday at the American Consulate. The admiral, attired in full uniform, was met by the Minister of Justice, who accompanied him to the Consulate.

There was a fire at 10:30 o'clock last night in the tenement house 613 Eighth avenue. The fire started in a room on the second floor, and spread rapidly to the other rooms. The fire was extinguished by the fire department, and no one was injured.

There was a fire at 10:30 o'clock last night in the tenement house 613 Eighth avenue. The fire started in a room on the second floor, and spread rapidly to the other rooms. The fire was extinguished by the fire department, and no one was injured.

There was a fire at 10:30 o'clock last night in the tenement house 613 Eighth avenue. The fire started in a room on the second floor, and spread rapidly to the other rooms. The fire was extinguished by the fire department, and no one was injured.

THE BROOKLYN SENATORS RETURN WITH FLATT'S LABEL ON THEM.

They Will Vote to Unseat McCarty, and He May Be Unseated Today—The Resolution to Investigate the New York Police Retained in the Senate—Its Last Clause Seeks to Protect Witnesses from Prosecution, Even in Cases of Perjury—The Investigation to Begin on Saturday Next.

ALBANY, Jan. 29.—All the Brooklyn Republican Senators came back to Albany very doleful this evening, after a Sunday spent within reach of the influence of the Fifth Avenue Hotel. They were thoroughly cowed and ready to do anything to get out of the city. The results of this became apparent speedily. The Brooklyn Senators announced that, after carefully reading the evidence in the case against Senator McCarty, they had concluded that he should be unseated. These are the same men who announced last week that they would vote to unseat McCarty. No new testimony has been taken in the mean time. This gives the Republicans enough votes to unseat Senator McCarty. The contestant, Henry Wolfert, is so sure that he will get the seat that he came to Albany this evening in order to be around to-morrow to be sworn in.

No new testimony has been taken in the mean time. This gives the Republicans enough votes to unseat Senator McCarty. The contestant, Henry Wolfert, is so sure that he will get the seat that he came to Albany this evening in order to be around to-morrow to be sworn in.

The resolution to investigate the New York Police was retained in the Senate. Its last clause seeks to protect witnesses from prosecution, even in cases of perjury. The investigation is to begin on Saturday next.

The resolution to investigate the New York Police was retained in the Senate. Its last clause seeks to protect witnesses from prosecution, even in cases of perjury. The investigation is to begin on Saturday next.

The resolution to investigate the New York Police was retained in the Senate. Its last clause seeks to protect witnesses from prosecution, even in cases of perjury. The investigation is to begin on Saturday next.

The resolution to investigate the New York Police was retained in the Senate. Its last clause seeks to protect witnesses from prosecution, even in cases of perjury. The investigation is to begin on Saturday next.

The resolution to investigate the New York Police was retained in the Senate. Its last clause seeks to protect witnesses from prosecution, even in cases of perjury. The investigation is to begin on Saturday next.

The resolution to investigate the New York Police was retained in the Senate. Its last clause seeks to protect witnesses from prosecution, even in cases of perjury. The investigation is to begin on Saturday next.

THE BOND INJECTION SCHEM.

Judge Jere Wilson and Senator Allen Argue for the Petitioners.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—General Master Workman Sovereign and Thomas B. McGuire of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor, at 10 o'clock this morning, by their attorneys, J. C. F. Johnson, J. C. F. Johnson, J. C. F. Johnson, and J. C. F. Johnson, appeared before Judge Cox of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia and made application to file a bill in equity praying that an injunction issue restraining John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, from issuing and selling $50,000,000 of Government bonds, as he has announced his purpose of doing. An examination of the bill as filed shows that certain material changes and additions have been made to it by counsel here.

These changes are: "First, that Mr. McGuire of the Executive Board is made a party to the suit with Mr. Sovereign, both being citizens and taxpayers of the United States; second, the following additional allegation is made: 'And the said John Griffin Carlisle, as Secretary of the Treasury, is now engaged in and directing the expenditure of public moneys of the United States in the preparation of a bill to issue $50,0