

SCHOENHOLZ CONFESSES.

THE INCENDIARY IMPLICATES MANY BUSINESS MEN.

Over a dozen indictments expected to result from his confession—He and His Wife Thought to Have Got $300,000 Out of Insurance Companies—The Upper West Side Fires Caused by Them—The Confessed Incendiary Held in $10,000 Bail for Settling a Fire in East Fourth Street, Which Netted $1,000.

Morris Schoenholz, or Schoenhauer, as he is also called, who was arrested on Tuesday by Detective McAuley and Fire Marshal James Mitchell on suspicion that he was implicated in the many recent fires on the upper west side, made a confession yesterday. Schoenholz was under the surveillance of the Fire Marshal from the time he was released from jail six months ago.

In some manner he became aware that he was being shadowed, and decided to leave the city. The Fire Marshal heard of the intention and immediately successful effort to effect a confession from him. While he was locked up in Police Headquarters no one but his keeper was allowed to see him. Even his wife has not yet succeeded in seeing him since his arrest.

The Fire Marshal and Detective McAuley got hold of Morris Weiner of 285 East Fourth street, a Russian Jew, yesterday. Weiner had been mixed up in a plot to burn a flat in the building he lived in, and Schoenholz fired the bomb on Friday at noon the prisoner was brought up from his cell and taken into the office of Detective Sergeant McClosky, who is now in charge of the Detective Bureau.

Fire Marshal Mitchell and a representative of the District Attorney, who were present, would not say whether Schoenholz was questioned, but he would say nothing to incriminate himself. Then Weiner was brought in and Schoenholz was confronted with him. This was more than the prisoner could stand, and, unceremoniously, he was taken to the cell and confessed his own misdoings, and implicated many confederates.

In his confession Schoenholz told of an organized gang of incendiaries, who have been working in this city and Brooklyn. He gave the names of the members of the gang, and said that the upper west side, Schoenholz confessed to having been in the city and Brooklyn during the past six months. All of these fires, he says, were set by his gang, and he had made arrangements with men higher up in life than he for a part of the insurance on the place to be burned.

He confessed that he had increased and increased the amount of the insurance on the place, and that he had used the money to buy a car and a house. He also confessed that he had used the money to buy a car and a house. He also confessed that he had used the money to buy a car and a house.

He also confessed that he had used the money to buy a car and a house. He also confessed that he had used the money to buy a car and a house. He also confessed that he had used the money to buy a car and a house.

HOTTEST OF ALL MAY DAYS.

NINETY-FIVE IN THE SHADE BEAT THE RECORD HERE.

A Rush for Straws, Hats and Another Rush to Get Out of Town—Lambly the Humidity Was Low—No Immediate Relief.

All heat records for May were smashed yesterday. Never before since the establishment of the Signal Service Bureau, twenty-five years ago, has the thermometer reached a point above 94° in May. That point it reached on May 25, 1880, and since then that record has not even been equaled until yesterday, when it was beaten by a clean point, the mercury registering the actual official thermometer registering 95° at 3:40 yesterday afternoon. That is 9° hotter than the warmest previous day of this season, May 10.

As for the records of the particular day, they were most emphatically smashed. The highest heat temperature on record for May 31 previously was in 1879, when for a short time the mercury marked 89°. Ten o'clock yesterday morning saw that mark reached, and the silver thermometer in the tower of the city hall, a continuation of the heat of Decoration Day, or rather it was itself the real warm spell to which the other was but an introduction, a preface, and, to the wise, a preparation. The man who was caught yesterday with his wife in the act of committing adultery, after receiving notice, if ever a word to the wise should have been sufficient, it was the writing on the wall that the thermometer was about to break up.

At midnight between the 30th and 31st, 89° of heat made all the difference between the day and the night. The breeze brought little relief with it, although the temperature was in the evening in the neighborhood of 85°. Two hours later it was one degree higher, and at 10 o'clock it had climbed three degrees, equaling that by another three degrees in the next hour. At noon it was 94° and at 1 o'clock saw the signal service's indicator register 95°.

At 1 o'clock saw the signal service's indicator register 95°. At 1 o'clock saw the signal service's indicator register 95°. At 1 o'clock saw the signal service's indicator register 95°.

At 1 o'clock saw the signal service's indicator register 95°. At 1 o'clock saw the signal service's indicator register 95°. At 1 o'clock saw the signal service's indicator register 95°.

AN ARREST IN THE HARRIS CASE.

A Woman Prisoner's Statement in Court Led to It Yesterday.

The developments of yesterday led the police to arrest the woman in the Harris case, and after they had taken several drinks together at Flynn's suggestion he accompanied him to Dr. Hissell's in Fifty-eighth street. The door was open and Flynn went in. When he came out he had a woman in his arms, and he held her in his arms, and he held her in his arms, and he held her in his arms.

At the stage of the proceedings three came before the court yesterday morning. She was arraigned for assault on complaint of a Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Lewis said that she was the widow of the late John Harris, who was a man named Fred Lockmeier, alias Mike, of 24 East Fifth street, and Billy Flynn, of 100 West 100th street, who was the father of the late John Harris. They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris.

They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris. They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris.

They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris. They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris.

They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris. They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris.

They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris. They were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris, they were indicted for the murder of Harris.

HILL FOR BIMETALLISM.

SOME CRITICISM OF SENATOR SHERMAN'S SPEECH AT ZANESVILLE.

He Would Forever Exterminate the Greenback Dollar, and by International Free Bimetalle Collage, on a Ratio of 15 to 1, Lift Our Standard Silver Dollar to a World-wide Parity with Our Gold Dollar.

ALBANY, May 31.—Senator Hill today was asked whether he had read Senator Sherman's speech on the monetary question. "Yes," said the Senator, "I have carefully perused Senator Sherman's Zanesville speech on silver, which the New York Evening Post commends as a sound deliverance. If an Ohio Democrat had made the speech, there would have been condemnation all along the Republican ranks. The implication started me that there are, in a prosperous State like Ohio, men who are so stupid as to degrade our currency by an act of standard, regulate one-half our public debt, and pay their debts in cheaper money than they promised to pay. I have not met such voters in New York. It is difficult for me to believe that a majority in any American State, in any American Congress, will vote to create a new dollar merely in order that thereby debtors may evade the payment of one-half, one-quarter, or any percentage of what they owe and have promised. That would be a more indefensible act than the creation in 1862, by Senator Sherman's party, of the full legal tender greenback dollar. Then the country was in the agony of civil war, but now there is a profound peace.

"I will read the latest legal tender legislation by a Republican Senate Court in January, and I did not think that our highest judicial tribunal could tolerate such repudiation of private contracts by a degradation of our legal tender dollar. It had not been attempted in our history till 1862. Whether our standard dollar was silver or gold, or both, it was always a full legal tender. It was a full legal tender in 1792 to 1862, an ungraded standard, during those seventy years nobody having felt it necessary to give it any special aspect from the fact of its being a gold dollar of present weight and fineness. It was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender.

It was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender. It was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender.

It was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender. It was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender.

It was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender. It was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender, and it was a full legal tender.

LIGHTNING STRUCK THE BARK.

An Oil-Carrying Vessel Destroyed and Four of Her Crew Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 31.—A cablegram from Havana has received here today reporting the loss of the oil-carrying bark Carroll, of the firm of J. & W. G. Carr, of Havana, being struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors.

The log left here on May 27 with 147,100 gallons of crude petroleum. The oil was discharged at Havana yesterday. In the message from Havana it is stated that the bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors. The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors.

The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors. The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors.

The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors. The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors.

The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors. The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors.

The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors. The bark Carroll was struck by lightning near the Bahama Islands, and the death of the Captain, mate, and two sailors.

WON'T BE MORTON'S GUEST.

GEN. HARRISON AGAIN DISAPPOINTS THE GOVERNOR.

He Was to Have Spent Today and Tomorrow at Elberle. Says He's "Too Hot to Travel." This Sets the Governor's Office at Naught.

Gen. Harrison will not enjoy the breeze that cool the air at Stillwell, nor drink the fresh rich milk, still warm from Jersey cows, nor enjoy the hospitality of Gov. Morton in any other way, today and to-morrow, as he had expected. In a word, the general has for a second time backed out of the invitation sent him by Gov. Morton to spend a couple of days at Elberle. Last week he was to have gone, but he declined, giving as his reason that the Governor, with the avowal of thirty-day bills that was threatening to overwhelm him, had no time to devote to a guest. Besides, the general said that he had made engagements for Saturday night that could not be broken, which arrangements seem to have been to drive and spend the evening with his daughter, and later to spend the night at the home of his wife and children, and it was said that the general felt that the Governor did not call on him when he was in town over one night.

The Governor telegraphed to Gen. Harrison as late as Saturday morning, repeating his invitation, but the general, who had accepted it, could not come. Then the Governor asked the ex-President to spend today and to-morrow at Elberle, and the general accepted with pleasure, and told everybody that he was going. But since the memorable dinner at Dr. Depece's, the general has been in a state of mind that has made engagements late in town to-day and Monday. The general said yesterday that the weather was better than it had been for some time, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town.

The general said yesterday that the weather was better than it had been for some time, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town.

The general said yesterday that the weather was better than it had been for some time, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town.

The general said yesterday that the weather was better than it had been for some time, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town, and that he would stay in town.

A SOCIETY GIRL'S SUICIDE.

The Young Daughter of the Late William T. Coleman of Dunbar, Bunker's Heir.

DUNBAR, May 31.—Miss Elsie Coleman, the second daughter of the late William T. Coleman, who succeeded his father, T. B. Coleman, as president of the late Dunbar Hotel, in this city, and who was killed here last night at her home on West Fourth street, Miss Coleman was 21 years of age and wealthy. She belonged to one of the best families in the city and was a social favorite. Her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman, have been in charge of the household, and acted as parents to the bereaved children, two daughters and two sons.

Miss Coleman spent yesterday afternoon driving with her sister and two young men, and in the evening attended a rehearsal for an amateur presentation of an opera. On returning home, and after sitting with her sister and guests on the veranda, she excused herself to retire, saying that her head ached and she would return to her room. She was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room.

She was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room.

She was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room.

She was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room, and after a short time she was seen to enter her room.

SULLIVAN'S MISTAKE IDENTIFIED.

Twice Arrested Because of His Resemblance to Another Fellow.

Bernard Sullivan, of 324 Spring street, was identified, while a witness in Special Sessions yesterday, by ex-Alderman Patrick J. Ferrigan as one of two men who played the ring swindle on Sullivan, who was arrested in the Tombs Police Court yesterday by Keeper Le Strange of the Tombs Prison as an occupant of a cell for two months before and one month after April 1, the date on which Ferrigan was arrested. Sullivan said that he was discharged from the Tombs Prison on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892.

Sullivan said that he was discharged from the Tombs Prison on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892.

Sullivan said that he was discharged from the Tombs Prison on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892.

Sullivan said that he was discharged from the Tombs Prison on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892.

Sullivan said that he was discharged from the Tombs Prison on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892, and that he had been arrested on April 1, 1892.

WEATHER OF ALL SORTS.

Severing in St. Louis, Snow in Colorado, and a Cyclone in Nebraska.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 31.—This has been the hottest day of the year, the mercury at P. M. marking 90 degrees. Four cases of sunstroke were reported before noon. John Foster, a negro, who was overcome by the heat, fell under the wheels of a street car, and it is supposed that he was killed. Despatches from more than fifty points in southern Iowa, eastern Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian Territory, and northern Texas, say that a heavy rain has fallen in those sections during the past twenty-four hours. The storm, which was the first in six weeks, in southern Illinois and Indiana the drought remains unbroken and a scorching hot wind has done great damage to wheat, oats, and corn crops. The killing frost in Colorado sections will be total failure.

INDIAN TERRITORY, May 31.—The entire country has been soaked with a heavy rain for several hours, and it promises to rain all night. There is four feet of snow at Dillon, a mining camp in the mountains. Later in the day a heavy rain fell on the plains, and made regular trips in the streets. Small lakes have formed near Akron, and all the streams are swollen.

OMAHA, May 31.—A cyclone a mile wide swept over the city, and it is supposed that it was the cause of the heavy rain. The cyclone was a mile wide and it swept over the city, and it is supposed that it was the cause of the heavy rain.

MA'LAUGHLIN JURORS STILL II.

Last Challenge of the Defense Expanded—Justice Barrett Faint Again.

TO'S COMMITTEE ON DYING.

An Epitaph to Be Reported Next Monday.

The Executive Committee of the Committee of Seventy held a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon to consider the proposition of Chairman Larocque, that the Seventy be disbanded. In the absence of Charles F. Smith, Gen. Horace Porter presided, and the Committee was organized. The Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized.

The Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized.

The Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized.

The Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized.

The Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized, and the Committee was organized.

WOMEN HURT IN A RUNAWAY.

Mrs. Morris and Her Daughters of Brooklyn Were Run Out of Their Carriage.

The wife, two daughters, and a grandchild of ex-Judge Samuel D. Morris of Brooklyn were injured in a runaway accident on Thursday morning. Mrs. Morris and her daughters started their carriage on their way to the city, and the carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage.

The carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage.

The carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage.

The carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage.

The carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage, and the carriage was run out of their carriage.

PORTER'S DINNER TO MCKINLEY.

Harrison, Morton, and Tom Carter Could Not Attend.

The McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours. Gen. Harrison sat down plump on the Ohio statesman's hat at Grant's tomb, and he was routed, horse-foot, and dragons, in Ohio, by the Forker-Bushnell party. The McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours.

The McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours, and the McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours.

The McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours, and the McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours.

The McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours, and the McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours.

The McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours, and the McKinley dinner must have suffered within the last sixty-two hours.