

SARATOGA'S HACK REFORM

THE WOMEN BROUGHT IT ABOUT AFTER THE MEN HAD FAILED.

Extraordinary Equipages that Once Haunted Broadway—Those Who Opposed the Cabbies Boycotted and Blacklisted—Then the Women's Association Stepped In, and Now Public Hackers Are Banished.

In the wake of reform at Saratoga have come many changes of importance. The village charter has been revised, gambling houses have been closed, and the village has become as good as New York on a Sunday when Roosevelt is in town.

But the most important and most important of the changes in Saratoga is the clearing of Broadway from the hackmen, Saratogians of the better class have for years been striving to bring this to pass, but in vain, until their wives and daughters took it up.

WATER UNDER PRESSURE

THE CITY IS NOT LIKELY TO SETTLE THE TALL POWER BUILDINGS.

Gen. Callis Points Out How They May Help Themselves—There is Plenty of Water in the City, but it is Not Being Used Properly.

There is nothing in the water supply question to excite the least alarm. Strip the city of its water supply and the water supply of the city would be a serious matter.

The present average daily consumption is a little less than 900 millions of gallons; yet the supply on hand in the reservoirs is 1,000 millions of gallons.

The increase in daily consumption during the past five years has been 25 million, so that in 1900 we will be using 925 millions a day, which is not a serious matter.

Five years later at the farthest, the great dam at Cornell will be finished, increasing the supply by 25,000 millions, making a grand total of 950 millions of gallons.

Very well, you say, you then, retorted the fellow, "I don't know you, but I know your name, and I shall have your license revoked."

Just tell the other hackmen that this will be done, and they will be glad to see you. You are a good man, and you are a good man.

WOULD WED ONLY APELO

THE TAILOR WINS AMELIA FROM LAWYER FERRARI.

When the Lovens Went to the City Hall to Get Married, the Active Mayor Wasn't There—Before a Substitute Was Found, Ferrari Had Them Arrested by Detaching the Girl Not Old Enough to Wed.

An Italian love story was told in Harlem Court yesterday. Amelia Maria Morino, the heroine, lived with her parents at 102 Mott Street, where she came to America, a year ago.

Amelia is a young tailor who works at 173 Elm Street. Her salary is $12 per week, and six months ago he got work for Amelia. In the same shop at 173 Elm Street, where she came to America, a year ago.

CANADA'S EAST END

It Was Fought Between Students and a Graduate Record's Tragedy.

OTTAWA, July 13.—Travelers on the frequent boats that pass up and down the Rideau Canal see a lovely bit of pasture land near the town of Perth, Ontario, where the last duel fought in Canada took place. A time-worn stone in an old graveyard in Perth bears record of the affair in the following inscription:

In memory of Robert Lyon student at law, who fell in mortal combat, June 13, 1858, in the 20th year of his age.

The surviving combatant, John Wilson, and his second, James Macdonald, were both imprisoned, and afterward released. They were both released, and afterward released.
