

FOOTING IT ON THE BRIDGE

QUEER SCENES CONSEQUENT ON THE SHUT-DOWN.

A Glimpse at the Stream of Humanity that Flowed Between the Two Cities After the Running of the Bridge Cars Was Stopped—The Race for the Last Train.

New York people won't go to a great deal of trouble to go to Brooklyn. Neither will Brooklyn people put themselves at much pains to get to New York. When the transit involves merely embarking on a train at one end of the bridge and disembarking at the other nobody minds it. But yesterday, when it had been announced that no trains would be run and the bridge promenade was closed for repairs, leaving only the roadways for the travellers, comparatively few people went across. Nor were the ferries much affected. The Union Ferry Company ran its boats on shorter headway than is customary on Sundays, but there was no crowd.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT.

The roadway was open set out on foot over the rough pavement. The north roadway was reserved for pedestrians and the south for bicyclists and horses. A few absent-minded bowlers, a crowd of sports of the Coney Island variety, who are sports every Sunday by virtue of red hats, cigars, and two back pieces, and on week days rather than mild and inoffensive youths as one would wish to see behind a counter; three Chinamen, and a pair of sailors who leaned together so as to form a restful and mutually supporting angle, and went for a walk. Just before the first train started a sturdy little woman of middle age, who hadn't read the papers, tried to get to the usual starting place of the cars. She had come down on the Third Avenue elevated road and her first attempt was through the passage leading to the side track. She was not to be deterred by the crowd across the passage. A side passage attracted stair and breathlessly announced her inability to go another step. This also put her escort out of the race, but their places were filled by two other regular walkers who had come down from a burst of speed. The clock marked 11:36:38. From without came enthusiastic cries of: "Go East! Go East! You can't miss it!"

OUT OF BREATH.

A REGULAR WALKER.

A GLIMPSE OF HIGH LIFE.

the walk beneficial after a Saturday evening at the club, gentlemen who would have walked any distance to get to the cars were running or tottering on their feet, and begged to fill in with the travellers. They were not to be deterred by the fact that the travellers would feel inclined to bestow on them the fare paid by walking.

NEW YORK'S TWO GHETTOS.

REPORTS OF JEWISH IMMIGRANTS TO RISE IN THE WORK.

Obstacles Against Which They Have to Struggle—Why They Take to Tailoring—Their Ambitions to Learn English and Follow the Customs of Their Adopted Country—The Boarder an Institution.

New York's great sweat-shop district, which is both the ghetto of the American metropolis and the metropolis of the world's ghettos, consists, in fact, of two distinct quarters, the Russian or Lithuanian and the Austrian, and has two rival centers, both known as Pig Markets, and so-called, perhaps, for the reason suggested by William DeWitt Browne, that only a few of these markets almost anything except pork. The Russians, who include nearly all the coat tailors now on strike, by far outnumber the Galleians, Hungarians, and Bohemians, and their central market, which is in Hester street, is really the larger, the busier, and the noisier of the two. The Austrians, on the other hand, in Pitt street holds its own, and is as bold in its self-assertiveness as Chicago is in its claims to a place beside or in front of New York as a leading city of the New World.

In the main the Hester street Jew and the Pitt street Jew resemble each other. They have the same language, characteristic customs of life, customs, views, tastes, merits, and follies. Yet there are in all these respects many minor points of difference between the two, which make the elders, at least, draw the line pretty sharply, and even harbor a degree of intolerance toward the other. The most striking of these differences is the fact that the Austrians are distinguished by the difference of dialect, or, rather, of pronunciation. For, while in its written form the jargon of the two ghetto districts is absolutely the same, they enunciate the most essential vowels in materially different ways. The Lithuanian, for, and up, for example, are pronounced as ou, t, and e, respectively. And as the vowels happen to be the most used in Yiddish, the result is far-reaching and the separation even wider than between the English of a backwoods Yankee and that of a hard-baked Cockney.

Among the economical disabilities there are two sub-branches that are most important to be found in the coat-making branch of the tailoring industry. The Russians are, in this branch, far superior in numbers, while the Austrians make up for their numerical inferiority by being engaged on higher grades of work. Again, the former have thus far been more successful in their efforts to acquire the English language, and are, therefore, more numerous in the present strike in making, while the latter are all piece workers and proud of it.

The Austrians, on the other hand, are more numerous in the present strike in making, while the latter are all piece workers and proud of it. The Austrians, on the other hand, are more numerous in the present strike in making, while the latter are all piece workers and proud of it.

There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30.

There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30.

There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30.

There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30.

There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30. There were ten persons waiting for the train at 11:36:30.

THE WAR AGAINST THE 500 WILD CATS IN THE UNITED STATES TREATY.

From the Washington Post.

Agent John Kellinger of the Humane Society is reported to have been in the Treasury building and the alleged cruel methods being employed to exterminate them. Kellinger is anxious that the society shall take some action in the matter of the Treasury people who are killing cats, and to-day he will submit a report of his investigation.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

THE WAR AGAINST THE 500 WILD CATS IN THE UNITED STATES TREATY.

From the Washington Post.

Agent John Kellinger of the Humane Society is reported to have been in the Treasury building and the alleged cruel methods being employed to exterminate them. Kellinger is anxious that the society shall take some action in the matter of the Treasury people who are killing cats, and to-day he will submit a report of his investigation.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

THE WAR AGAINST THE 500 WILD CATS IN THE UNITED STATES TREATY.

From the Washington Post.

Agent John Kellinger of the Humane Society is reported to have been in the Treasury building and the alleged cruel methods being employed to exterminate them. Kellinger is anxious that the society shall take some action in the matter of the Treasury people who are killing cats, and to-day he will submit a report of his investigation.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

THE WAR AGAINST THE 500 WILD CATS IN THE UNITED STATES TREATY.

From the Washington Post.

Agent John Kellinger of the Humane Society is reported to have been in the Treasury building and the alleged cruel methods being employed to exterminate them. Kellinger is anxious that the society shall take some action in the matter of the Treasury people who are killing cats, and to-day he will submit a report of his investigation.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

The report reads: "To the Officers and Members of the Washington Humane Society: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the cats in the Treasury building. I have been very much interested in the matter, and have been endeavoring to get hold of the cats in the Treasury building.

STRIKERS ARE JUBILANT.

THEY SAY WITKOWSKI HAS AID MITTED DEFEAT.

Predictions that in a Day or Two All the 18,000 Strikers Will Be at Work—The Strike Said to Be a Financial Success.

The striking members of the Brotherhood of Tailors were jubilant yesterday. About 5,000 of them were back at work in various shops, and it was announced that late on Saturday night Secretary Witkowski of the Contractors' Association had declared the strike off so far as his association was concerned.

The Executive Committee of the Brotherhood of Tailors will not declare the strike off until every contractor has signed the agreement, which has been signed by the union and given bonds for its fulfillment. Witkowski's declaration that the strike is off and that the contractors are beaten will be submitted for ratification to a meeting of the Contractors' Association at 200 East Broadway to-day. A number of the contractors are angry at Witkowski for making many contradictory statements, some of which will be called upon to explain.

It is alleged by Meyer Schoenfeld and others that Witkowski said on Saturday night that he would declare the strike off if it were shown that 400 contractors had signed the agreement. It was announced that late on Saturday night Secretary Witkowski of the Contractors' Association had declared the strike off so far as his association was concerned.

Witkowski was at the headquarters of the Contractors' Association at 200 East Broadway all day yesterday, but those who were on guard there that he was on the premises. Secretary Witkowski had had a consultation with him yesterday, and he had a talk with Capt. Frank Healy yesterday. He was apparently very much agitated and refused to talk when seen by a reporter.

"I have nothing to say," he said. "I won't talk to reporters." He would neither admit nor deny that he had "declared the strike off." No formal meeting of the strikers was held yesterday, but a number of them gathered in and around Waltham Hall. Some of the strikers are angry at the situation. Meyer Schoenfeld when seen at Waltham Hall said:

The strike has not been declared off by us, and will not be until every contractor has signed. I expect to-morrow a statement of the contractors to sign the agreement. I think all the contractors will sign. I think all the contractors will sign. I think all the contractors will sign.

Robinson said that out of 15,000 who struck more than one day, and he predicted that in a day or two days, at the outside, the entire trouble would be over. He then announced that a mass meeting of the united garment workers would be held in Cooper Union to-night. Reports from all the districts involved in the strike will be read.

At the meeting of the Central Labor Union yesterday a letter was read from the Building Trades section protesting against the action of the Organization Committee in organizing a body of men known as the "Gas Companies' Employees." The letter declared that "these people worked for low wages, and were antagonistic to the Amalgamated Society of Plumbers and Gas and Steam Fitters."

Justice Slocum and His Companions Were Nick a Day Before They Were Discovered. N.Y. Aug. 4.—Frank Briggs, the man who, with Judge Wm. B. Slocum, at least took thinking their misdeeds, is yet alive, but suffering intensely. The judge died from the effects of these two men, who were taken to a bachelor's hall, on the old Slocum farm, and that both were taken sick at about the same time, and thus unable to secure medical aid, makes the case a particularly sad one. Mr. Jake Van Schober of Passaic was passing the house the second day after the men were taken sick, and he was taken to a bachelor's hall, on the old Slocum farm, and that both were taken sick at about the same time, and thus unable to secure medical aid, makes the case a particularly sad one.

CHILDREN CRY FOR PITCHER'S CASTORIA.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

CHILDREN CRY FOR PITCHER'S CASTORIA.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

CHILDREN CRY FOR PITCHER'S CASTORIA.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.