

ROOSEVELT AND TEKELSKY

TALK EXCISE LAW AT THE ALDERMEN'S HEARING. Roosevelt made a suggestion to make looking toward personal liberty—defeating the spy system, but would like to have the blinds open in closed hours—Tekelsky suggests that buyers should be punished when sellers are.

The weekly excise hearing of the Board of Aldermen was yesterday by the presence of Commissioner Roosevelt, who was there to answer questions and incidentally defend the spy system. Morris Tekelsky of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association was there to urge the repeal of the law.

As you are well aware, the Police Board has apparently refrained from taking public stand as to the particular form of any bill. We are desirous of not being misconstrued, and want to have our position clearly defined.

Mr. Roosevelt strongly advised the adoption of the Massachusetts law requiring saloons to open their blinds during closed hours and giving policemen the right of entry whenever they desire to inspect the premises.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the decision of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the ticket of the New York State Democracy and the official ballot.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the decision of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the ticket of the New York State Democracy and the official ballot.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the decision of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the ticket of the New York State Democracy and the official ballot.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the decision of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the ticket of the New York State Democracy and the official ballot.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the decision of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the ticket of the New York State Democracy and the official ballot.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the decision of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the ticket of the New York State Democracy and the official ballot.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the decision of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the ticket of the New York State Democracy and the official ballot.

DERBY BOX COATS

made in London $35. The Derby Box Coat is this Winter's London Overcoat. We have imported a few of them in order to satisfy those men who desire a style that is not common.

The material is the very best heavy English Melton, stiff and hard surfaced. Colors; two shades of tan, seal brown, black and dark blue. Extra large buttons, collar and lapels.

Price $35. No cheaper grades. Other Overcoats for less. Lama Tibets $10, $12, 50 and $15. Never fade or change color.

E O THOMPSON 245 Broadway Opposite City Hall Park—Corner Murray St. E. J. We all suffer by the alleged reformer's mismanagement. They can fool the people no longer, and they will suffer after the returns come in on election day.

SHEPARD ANSWERS GAYNOR. Says the Justice's Own Words Condemn Him. There was great bustling yesterday in the rival political camps in Brooklyn, with most of the excitement centered in the triangular majority caucus.

The steady inroads which the regular Democratic forces have been making on the Shepley club have been making on the Shepley club have been making on the Shepley club.

The head of every city department will bear me out in this statement. The principle was carried out, too, and as a consequence, the most practical men in the city have kept in his place.

Mr. Croker, I am from the World. We've been reading about your article. In other words, we're ready to let you go.

Mr. Croker then went on to talk about the election and the various candidates.

Mr. Croker then went on to talk about the election and the various candidates.

Mr. Croker then went on to talk about the election and the various candidates.

PARLOR MEETINGS FOR VOTERS.

Miss Boswell and Mrs. Hall both stated that they were at the parlor meetings.

Another branch of the Woman's National Republican Association was organized at the Lenox Club, 120th street and Lenox avenue, yesterday afternoon.

The State Committee has instructed Miss Boswell to speak in the annexed districts every night until election day.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

Mrs. Alexander Bremer, the wife of the I. C. O. candidate for Register, has mastered her forces.

FIFTY GRUDGES ITS CASH.

ED LAUTERBACH LOSES HIS VOICE ASKING FOR MORE. Gloom settled on the two Republican Thirtieths—G. G. Clark X thanks in vain at Mr. Wakeman's Placated—Leg-John Murray Mitchell Couldn't Fall a Cent—Amman Thornton Said to Have Ordered Jimmie and Sealing Ladders.

"Boys, all is lost save honor," cried Amman Thornton, bursting into the meeting of the Hon. Edward Lauterbach's Reform Thirtieth Campaign Committee at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

"Gentlemen," said Amman, "this is no time for jesting. Our honored leader, the only man who has a right to say 'Just, but lost his voice and helpless to aid us further.'"

Immediately there was great excitement. The twenty-six gentlemen in the room demanded, "How?" "Why?" "When?" "Where?"

Amman had sunk down in a chair, and the crowd gathered around him, pitying him with questions. A few moments later the door opened and the Hon. Edward himself came in.

His face was pale. A silk handkerchief was tied about his neck, and there was a lack of elasticity in his step. The crowd turned to him, anxiously depicted on every face.

He struggled to speak, but he could not raise his voice above a whisper. He, too, sank in a chair. The scene was sad. The Thirtieths tore their hair. "Lost—lost," they murmured, "and at the critical moment."

To explain all this and how and what was lost it is necessary to go back at least a day. The last night of the Thirtieths, Mr. Lauterbach and Mr. Van Cott were the central figures in a group.

A statement had been made that the Fifty had determined positively not to give up another cent. In spite of the fact that J. Kennedy Tod, the treasurer, reported that not only had all the money been spent, but that the last cent had been given away.

Mr. Van Cott made any reply except the encouraging one that "Where there's a will there's a way" and "Didn't we get it before?"

Mr. Van Cott made any reply except the encouraging one that "Where there's a will there's a way" and "Didn't we get it before?"

REGISTERED UNDER A CLUB HOUSE.

President of a Republican Association Charged with Illegal Registration. Salvatore Di Matteo, an Italian musician, who is President of the U. S. Grant Republican Association, was arraigned in Essex Market Court yesterday on a charge of illegal registration.

THE MERRY WAR IN KANSAS.

Mr. Ingalls Thinks the Populists Will Not Be Defeated. WESTPORT, Kan., Oct. 31.—Ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas, who is in the city yesterday, was asked about the Senatorial contest in Kansas.

COLD BROOKLYN REPUBLICANS.

Wet Weather and Gloomy Prospects Spoil Their Last Rally. Republican managers in Brooklyn had arranged to hold their final big meeting last night at the Clermont Avenue Rink, and careful and elaborate plans had been laid for a most impressive demonstration.

THE GAZOON WERE LONELY.

About 600 and a Heaps Band Composed the Demonstration for which the Gazoons leaders have for some time been preparing was held last night, and attracted five or six hundred persons to the Grand Central Palace, Lexington avenue and Forty-third street.

REGISTERED IN THE WRONG DISTRICT.

Charles A. Harris, alias Taylor, 33 Essex Market 270 Bowery, was held for trial in Essex Market Court yesterday on a charge of illegal registration.

THE MERRY WAR IN KANSAS.

Mr. Ingalls Thinks the Populists Will Not Be Defeated. WESTPORT, Kan., Oct. 31.—Ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas, who is in the city yesterday, was asked about the Senatorial contest in Kansas.

COLD BROOKLYN REPUBLICANS.

Wet Weather and Gloomy Prospects Spoil Their Last Rally. Republican managers in Brooklyn had arranged to hold their final big meeting last night at the Clermont Avenue Rink, and careful and elaborate plans had been laid for a most impressive demonstration.

THE GAZOON WERE LONELY.

About 600 and a Heaps Band Composed the Demonstration for which the Gazoons leaders have for some time been preparing was held last night, and attracted five or six hundred persons to the Grand Central Palace, Lexington avenue and Forty-third street.

REGISTERED IN THE WRONG DISTRICT.

Charles A. Harris, alias Taylor, 33 Essex Market 270 Bowery, was held for trial in Essex Market Court yesterday on a charge of illegal registration.

THE MERRY WAR IN KANSAS.

Mr. Ingalls Thinks the Populists Will Not Be Defeated. WESTPORT, Kan., Oct. 31.—Ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas, who is in the city yesterday, was asked about the Senatorial contest in Kansas.

COLD BROOKLYN REPUBLICANS.

Wet Weather and Gloomy Prospects Spoil Their Last Rally. Republican managers in Brooklyn had arranged to hold their final big meeting last night at the Clermont Avenue Rink, and careful and elaborate plans had been laid for a most impressive demonstration.