

HEINE FOUNTAIN HEARING.

ALDERMEN URGED TO UPHOLD THE PARK BOARD.

Prof. Sturgis, Paul Dana, and F. W. Ruckstuhl give content reasons why the fountain should be kept as it is.

Chairman Olcott said that the committee did not recognize the proceeding as an appeal and regarded the burden of proof as resting on the objectors.

Prof. Russell Sturgis, Vice-President of the Sculpture Society, said that the Park Board asked for the society's opinion, and it is an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

Mr. Olcott said that the National Sculpture Society had been invited to be represented at the hearing, and the committee had hoped to have an official statement of the case from the opinion of the society, must speak for it.

Mr. Dana said that the committee would be pleased to consider the same evidence which was presented at the hearing.

MME. YANG YU AT HOME.

THE CHINESE LEGATION DRAINED BY A MOB OF NIGHTS.

An invitation to the friends of the Minister's wife brought a great crowd of men and women clamoring for admission to the Chinese Legation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Mme. Yang Yu, the wife of the Chinese Minister, was "at home" to her friends yesterday from 3 to 6 o'clock, and she had known beforehand that she had so many friends in Washington she would probably have been "out." Notice of her intentions was unfortunately published in the morning papers, and the mob that besieged the doors of the knowledge section of the legation street hall, where all the members of the legation have their homes, exceeded in point of numbers and for eighteenth century anything known to Washington society for several years.

It Gets the Senate in a Tangle What Is Straightened Out by Senator Hill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—An incident that took place in the Senate on Thursday when the Senator from Idaho, Mr. Dubois, was called to the floor at the same time, and when each claimed the right to do so, was the subject of much gossip in the cloak rooms to-day.

The Presiding Officer.—The motion of the Senator from Colorado is withdrawn. The Chair has recognized the Senator from Idaho (Mr. Dubois).

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

CANDIDATES IN THE SENATE.

Fifteen Senators Who Consider Themselves Prospects for Next Year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—There are more Presidential possibilities in the Senate to-day than ever before in the history of the party campaign. While there may not be a "probability" in the entire group, nevertheless, there are no less than fifteen members of the Senate who have raised their "lightning rods" in anticipation of a political career in the Republican side of the Chamber.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

MUST SUPT. JACKSON GO!

CONTEMPLATED CHANGE IN THE RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE HERE.

He Writes to the Department that, Although He is 65 Years Old, He Does Not Believe Lack of Efficiency or Energy Will Prevent Him from Doing His Duty.

Although Mr. H. C. Jackson is morally certain that he has been removed from the office of Superintendent of Railway Mail Service at New York, he has not as yet received anything official on the subject from the department at Washington.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

NOTES OF MUSIC EVENTS.

Musical opera "Manon" will be given for the first time at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Musical opera "Manon" will be given for the first time at the Metropolitan Opera House to-morrow night. In Manon will make her first appearance as Manon Lescaut, and Marcel will make his first appearance as Lescaut.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

COULDN'T SURVIVE HIS MOTHER.

Young Rosenberg Tried to Kill Himself as a Boy.

Nathan Rosenberg, the 17-year-old son of Gustav Rosenberg, a dealer in leaf tobacco at 64 Floyd street, Williamsburg, shot himself in the left temple yesterday. He was the oldest of three children, the others being a girl, Lena, 10 years, and an 8-months-old boy.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Business Notices.

Deaths.

ADAM.—On Friday, Jan. 24, at midnight, at his residence, 120 East 57th St., Mrs. Sarah Adams, second daughter of the late Joseph H. and Cornelia Walker Adams of Stratton, Pa., and wife of John Foster Adams.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Hill.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.

Mr. Dana.—It is of record, sir. I would advise the Senate to-day, and it is accordingly the custom of the Senate.