

RIFTS IN THE WAR CLOUD.

THE POWERS RESTRAINED BY DOMINANT PUBLIC OPINION.

France Tells Russia She Cannot Join in Severe Measures Against Greece While Her People are in Her Power. But Division Among the Powers Means New Danger to Europe—Working Overtime in England to Prepare Warships for Sea—Queen Victoria Detested That War Shall Not Mar Her Jubilee Year in the Can Help It—The Peace Resounded.

LONDON, March 10.—The danger of war in the East has decidedly diminished for the time being. The reason is not to be found in the reply Greece to the ultimatum of the powers, Russia, Germany, and Austria interpret this as a refusal to comply with the terms of the ultimatum, and they are in favor of an immediate resort to the coercion which was threatened. The situation has become completely chaotic. In these despatches a fortnight ago, I pointed out in my estimate of the situation, which would specify determine all others, namely, public opinion in western Europe.

The French Government has been compelled to give notice, reluctantly, to its Russian allies that it cannot join in any vindictive or severe measures against Greece while public opinion in France remains as it now is. Lord Salisbury would gladly give a similar notice in behalf of Great Britain, but it would be received only with suspicion and resentment. It is quite different as regards Russia. Russia has ample assurance that Russia, Germany, and colleagues would be glad to join in the Russian policy if it was in their power to do so, but they dare not in face of the opposition of Parliament and of the masses of the French people. The most they can do is to request delay until an opportunity is given to change or amend the proposals. In this direction, however, made in this direction between now and Saturday, when the question will be debated in the French Chamber. It is doubtful if a safe majority in favor of severe measures against Greece can be secured.

In fact, every day's delay is now of the greatest importance. Greece is now clearly determined to answer to the demands of the powers in a manner possible to secure a unanimous vote of the powers in favor of her coercion. This, of course, means more delay, more uncertainty, and consequently more of the dissolution of the concert of Europe. It means also new dangers and great ones, which already have alarmed the Government, but not the people of this country.

Orders were received at the Portsmouth Navy Yard today that the entire force be employed for four hours overtime daily, and solely upon vessels which are nearly ready for sea. Several more warships have been ordered from the coasts of Africa and other points in the Mediterranean and to the channel fleet that has been kept at Gibraltar. The First Army Corps also received secret orders to get itself in readiness for foreign service. So, although the outlook has improved from the standpoint of Greece and Crete, it has become somewhat dangerous in other directions, and Great Britain is preparing for all eventualities.

There is reason to believe that the new turn in affairs causes a disappointment at St. Petersburg. Russia has received the first check to her plans from her republican ally, and she is impatient, for the first time, in the face of the greatest of all powers—public opinion. The lesson is, in many respects, the most striking in our political history, and the one which has the greatest bearing upon the future of the world.

The Queen took her departure for the Riviera today, much reassured with regard to the Eastern situation. Her interest in the critical events of the past two or three weeks has been most anxious, and it is a welcome somewhat embarrassing to Lord Salisbury. Her Majesty was firmly determined not to allow the peace of the kingdom to be broken during her jubilee year if it was possible to avoid it. Her injunctions to this effect have been frequent and emphatic. Not only has she frequently summoned the Prime Minister to her side, but she has herself made constant use of the private telephone line which was established a few months ago between Windsor Castle and the Foreign Office in Downing street.

Working Overtime at the Devonport Yards. LONDON, March 10.—The entire staff of employees at the Devonport dockyard, numbering 5,000 men, have been ordered to work overtime for the purpose of hastening the completion of the new battleship, the Invincible, which is now engaged. The order is believed to have been issued in view of the crisis which has arisen over the Cretan question.

Are the Greeks Short of Supplies? LONDON, March 10.—The Standard has a despatch from Crete saying that it is rumored by personal sympathies or religious prejudices. They were the trustees of a great national and religious cause, which they were bound to maintain above everything else. If they manfully did their duty under the circumstances it would promote, as no other course of conduct could do, freedom and justice, and, above all, European peace, upon which all commerce, industry, and well-being must depend.

The Premier's remarks were received with loud cheers. The speech throughout was devoid of any expression of party feeling.

KANDAMOS RELIEVED. The Nations Take Refuge on an Italian Warship and Go to Crete. ATHENS, March 10.—Advices received here from Crete this morning say that the siege of Candanos has been raised and the foreign warships have landed detachments of marines to insure the safety of the Moslems who were besieged.

Crete. ATHENS, March 10.—The Mussulmans who were besieged by the insurgents at Kandamos have arrived here on board an Italian warship. British and Italian transports with troops on board are being sent back to Crete.

LONDON, March 10.—The Daily News prints a despatch from Candanos saying that the Mussulmans besieged at Kandamos and who arrived at Candanos were conveyed there on the Italian transport Trinacria, and that another vessel is expected to arrive with more refugees.

One of the ways says it is impossible to stress the gratitude felt by the Moslems toward England.

The Daily News's correspondent relates the story of the rescue of the beleaguered residents at Candanos. Sir A. Balfour, the British Consul at Candanos, had been gathered there, and the Moslems, who were besieged by the insurgents, were rescued by the British and Italian troops.

The place was surrounded by 7,000 Cretans, and a continuous fusillade, which commenced at Candanos, was maintained until the arrival of the British and Italian troops. The place was surrounded by 7,000 Cretans, and a continuous fusillade, which commenced at Candanos, was maintained until the arrival of the British and Italian troops.

Five thousand British and Italian troops were sent to Candanos, and the place was relieved. The Moslems were rescued, and the British and Italian troops were victorious.

The Cretan insurgents surrounded the relief force, but they were repulsed. The British and Italian troops were victorious, and the place was relieved.

KUDLICH RAPS THE POLICE

DISHONESTY AND CORRUPTION RAMPANT IN THE FORCE.

He Holds the Commissioner Responsible. His Letter to the Board Embodying His Charges Based on the Failure or Neglect to Execute His Warrants.

The reform Police Board received a letter yesterday, such a letter, to use the words of Commissioner Andrews, as it has never before since it came into existence. The writer was Magistrate Kudlich, and he devoted four closely written pages to the telling of what he considered some unvarnished truths about the municipal Police Department of the city of New York, its men, its officers, and its Commissioner. The letter was sent to the board, because, Commissioner Andrews called it "a pipe dream" was unwilling that it should be made public by any one but the writer; at least, that is what he said. President Roosevelt and Commissioner Andrews were quite willing to give it to the press, but Commissioner Andrews, as it has never before since it came into existence. The writer was Magistrate Kudlich, and he devoted four closely written pages to the telling of what he considered some unvarnished truths about the municipal Police Department of the city of New York, its men, its officers, and its Commissioner.

Some weeks ago Magistrate Kudlich, when sitting in the Yorkville Court, issued warrants for the arrest of two alleged street walkers who were in the precinct of Capt. Sheehan of the West Fourth-street station, and placed them in the hands of Capt. Sheehan's two precinct detectives, with orders to have the women in court the next morning. When Magistrate Kudlich opened court the next day the detectives were not there, nor did they appear during the morning. About 1 o'clock that day the Magistrate called up Capt. Sheehan and asked why the arrests had not been made. He was told that the men had been unable to find the women the night before and were then out looking for them.

This explanation far from satisfied the Magistrate, and he ordered two of the court detectives to go out and look into the matter. Capt. Sheehan's men had made no attempt to arrest the women the night before, although they had visited them at their flat. Magistrate Kudlich reported the case to the Chief of Police, and he ordered two of the court detectives to go out and look into the matter. Capt. Magistrate Kudlich reported the case to the Chief of Police, and he ordered two of the court detectives to go out and look into the matter.

NEW POLICE BILL DRAWN

Under It the Force Will Be "The Greater New York Police."

The bill for the creation of a Metropolitan Police Department, with four Commissioners to be appointed by the Governor, has been drawn and is now in the hands of the printer. It will make a pamphlet of nearly seventy pages, which is ready for publication to-day. Edward Lawrence, who is the author of the bill, has been appointed by the Governor to be the first Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police. The bill is a comprehensive one, and it covers all the details of the new force. It provides for the appointment of four Commissioners, and it provides for the appointment of a large number of officers and men. It also provides for the appointment of a large number of officers and men.

SECRETARY ALGER CANNOT CHOOSE HIS PRIVATE

SECRETARY AND HAS TO PLEASURE TO APPOINT AN ASSISTANT SECRETARY—THE CASE OF DOUGLASS OF CLEVELAND'S RADICAL CIVIL SERVICE OFFICE.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The new Cabinet officers find themselves very seriously handicapped in their plans for organizing the departments by the Civil Service law. The law is enlarged and widened recently by President Cleveland to such an extent that it is now almost an impossibility for a Cabinet officer to find a place for a political friend with a salary large enough to warrant him in accepting it. Perhaps the most serious case is that of the Secretary of War. The Secretary of War is a political friend of the President, and he is a political friend of the President.
