

BROKER CHAPMAN'S CASE.

SENATOR ALLEN PROPOSES A CONVICTION PRECEDENT TO PARDON.

He would have him purge himself of contempt by appearing before the bar of the Senate and answering the questions he declines to answer—No Apportionment for Pardons.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—In the Senate today Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.) offered a resolution with a long preamble in reference to the case of Elvinton K. Chapman of New York, tried and convicted of a misdemeanor in refusing to answer questions put to him by a committee of the Senate in the Sugar Trust investigation of 1894, and now seeking executive clemency.

Mr. Gallinger (Rep., N. H.) objected to immediate consideration of the resolution. He said it would be put off until the Senate adjourns, and that Mr. Allen would let the resolution be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. He agreed with Mr. Allen's proposition to assert the dignity and authority of the Senate in such matters.

NO MORE CHINESE TO BE ADMITTED.

Secretary Gage Admitted 501 Yesterday and Then Closed the Door.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Secretary Gage put his foot down hard today on the importation of Chinese laborers for the Nashville Exhibition. Under the very broad Chinese Immigration Act, recently passed by Congress concerning the employment of aliens there, Mr. Gage admitted two parties of Chinese who arrived with written concessions from the Exhibition Company.

Yesterday the Collector of Customs at San Francisco reported that 257 more had arrived with another concession from the Secretary. He refused to admit them because he would admit no more than 250 Chinese, and he directed the Collector to let in twenty-one of the new arrivals, thus filling the quota. But this morning the collector of Customs at San Francisco telegraphed an urgent request that the San Francisco party be admitted, as it had come under proper authority from the Exhibition Company. Treasury officials, however, refused to admit them, and to the conclusion that Secretary Gage had no right to keep out any contingent with a formal concession, even if it were for Chinese.

The Secretary could do nothing except grant the permission to land, and he also granted it to the Collector of Customs to admit 64 more Chinese who want to go to Nashville, a total of 321 allowed to enter the United States. THE HONDURAS REVOLT.

INSURGENTS GAVE UP WHEN KNOWN TO BE ON ALL SIDES.

Their Country Friends Deserted Them, and a Nicaraguan Warship Attacked the Town They Had Captured—Gen. Drummond, One of their Leaders, a Prisoner—All Quiet Now.

NEW ORLEANS, May 12.—Passengers on the steamer Clearwater, from Honduras, report that the revolution which began there some weeks ago against him met with a speedy defeat. The Government then retired and called for aid from Nicaragua, which came in the shape of a vessel of war, armed with two guns and a force under the command of Gen. Reyes.

The vessel, the Lucy B., reached Puerto Cortes on last Thursday and gave notice, under a flag of truce, for the women and children to leave, as it intended to bombard the city. On Friday, during an engagement, when the revolutionists intended to use a Krupp gun, they found that some traitor had removed a part of the breech and it was useless, and when it was attempted to use an old cannon captured from the Honduras troops there was a premature explosion and Gen. Drummond was slightly injured.

The reports coming in from the interior that their friends had deserted them caused the revolutionists to retreat to the mountains. They had arms and sea safety by going to Guatemala, so that when the Honduras troops arrived they found no resistance. Gen. Drummond was made a prisoner and was taken on board the Clearwater in an assault upon Puerto Cortes they found no one to resist them. Gen. COUDERT-WILMERDING.

Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy's Granddaughter Married to Frederic R. Coudert, Jr.

Miss Alice Tracy Wilmerding and Frederic R. Coudert, Jr., had a very smart wedding as to all appointments yesterday afternoon. The bride is a granddaughter of Benjamin F. Tracy, former Secretary of the Navy. It was at his home and that of her mother, Mrs. Ferdinand Wilmerding, 14 West Twentieth street.

The floral embellishment of the rooms and hall was gorgeous and effective. Such a quantity of the big dogwood blossoms were massed in the hall that it was like a white tower. The balustrade of the stairway was a mass of white blossoms. On the small paneled mirrors in the front drawing room there were some delicate traceries of vines, not enough to interfere with the reflection in them time and again of the profusion of spring blossoms about. With the exception of the space thus occupied every inch of the walls was decorated with the blossoms that the underlying green foliage was hardly perceptible. On every hand, and above as well, were lilies, white and purple; dogwood, and apple.

Archibald Corriean performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock. The bride entered the drawing room in a gown of white satin, trimmed with a drapery and frillings of Venetian point lace caught here and there with the brilliant blue of the few diamond ornaments scattered on the waist, and a large white veil. Her bouquet was composed of white orchids and orange blossoms. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo suit of black and white with a white waistcoat and a white tie.

Dr. Robert H. Wylie assisted Mr. Coudert as best man, and Miss Emily Foster, of the line Sutherland, Miss Madeleine Headman of Boston, and Miss Mary Raymond of Germantown, Pa., were bridesmaids. The bridesmaids wore white mousseline de sole costumes over white lace, with green sashes, and carried bunches of white lilies and with a ribbon. LOW PRICES FOR HACKNEYS. A Mare from Burdett-Coutts sent held for $145 to go back to England. Lower prices ruled yesterday at W. D. Grand's sale of harness and saddle horses in the American Horse Exchange. The offerings were chiefly hackneys from the Runnymede Stock Farm, Windsor, Vt.; hunters from the stable of J. W. Colt, Jr., Geneseo, N. Y., and trotting-bred high-steppers, the property of Cherry Brook, South Norwalk, O.

Few of the hackneys in the Runnymede consignment were in good marketable condition, and this materially affected their selling prices. Better figures were realized for the Geneseo Valley hunters. W.
