

THEATRICAL AMUSEMENTS.

PLAYS AND VAUDEVILLE INDOORS AND OUT IN THE OPEN AIR.

The Midsummer Delusion Is Believed by Bright Spectators Here and There—Three Musical and Funny Pieces Current and Another Coming—Notes Among the Authors and Actors.

This is the final week of "The Girl from Paris" at the Herald Square, but to balance its departure we shall have at the Madison Square Garden next Monday "The Girl from Paris" again, but not yet seen in this city.

The new feature of theatrical amusements whose volume is unchallenged by hot weather is the continuous and the established resorts of this character are in full blast, the enclosed auditoriums astir with artificial drafts, and the stage in use for ten hours a day.

In one specialty at Proctor's Theatre the small accomplishments. At Huber's Masquins a mind reader discovers reasonable wonder in the thoughts of all observers, and a freakish bicycle is exhibited. The Pleasure Palace is the only male hall in use, and John C. Fox and the De Filippo are among its entertainers.

The two of the summer experiments in theatrical amusements have failed miserably and deservedly at the St. Nicholas Rink and Terrace Casino. The manager of the latter was in the use of akaters of artificial ice. It was fashionable resort all last winter. The owners led it to a vaudeville manager for the warm season, and he stocked it with beer and variety performers.

The Emperor of Japan has just conferred upon Prof. David P. Todd of Amherst College one of the highest honors within his power to confer. The honor is the Imperial Saki Cup.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

APPAINS IN VENEZUELA.

A Talk with Our Former Minister Plenipotentiary, Mr. Allen Thomas.

Mr. Allen Thomas, late Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Venezuela, who arrived in New York on Tuesday, in talking of Venezuela yesterday said: "The general condition of Venezuela to-day, in all its commercial matters, is suffering comparatively quiet. Commerce is suffering from a depression which, to all appearances, is increasing. The principal causes of this depression are the short crops in the last two seasons and the decline in the price of coffee.

The prevailing opinion in this country in regard to the people of Venezuela seems to be that they are a race of slaves. This is wrong, completely wrong, and is due chiefly to some reckless writers, who have given the impression of an ignorant and uneducated people. The majority of the people in Venezuela are intelligent and well-to-do.

The Emperor of Japan has just conferred upon Prof. David P. Todd of Amherst College one of the highest honors within his power to confer. The honor is the Imperial Saki Cup.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

On the day following the eclipse the new school building was opened with appropriate exercises. The speaker was Prof. Todd, who said that Japan's greatest need in its educational equipment was more libraries.

ALL HAWAII REJOICES.

HER NEWSPAPERS VOICE THE FEELING OF ANNEXATION.

But the Japanese Minister is perplexed over the situation—Some Willing Remarks by the Japan Herald, Which Frankly Trust Japan Will Seize the Island and Defeat America.

HONOLULU, June 30, via San Francisco, July 7.—All the papers are full of rejoicing over the signing of the annexation treaty and the prospect of speedy union with the United States. The news from the United States was the greatest joy to the Japanese people here. The Japan Herald has been the loudest in its praise of the treaty.

The Japanese Minister is perplexed over the situation—Some Willing Remarks by the Japan Herald, Which Frankly Trust Japan Will Seize the Island and Defeat America.

HONOLULU, June 30, via San Francisco, July 7.—All the papers are full of rejoicing over the signing of the annexation treaty and the prospect of speedy union with the United States.

The Japanese Minister is perplexed over the situation—Some Willing Remarks by the Japan Herald, Which Frankly Trust Japan Will Seize the Island and Defeat America.

HONOLULU, June 30, via San Francisco, July 7.—All the papers are full of rejoicing over the signing of the annexation treaty and the prospect of speedy union with the United States.

The Japanese Minister is perplexed over the situation—Some Willing Remarks by the Japan Herald, Which Frankly Trust Japan Will Seize the Island and Defeat America.

HONOLULU, June 30, via San Francisco, July 7.—All the papers are full of rejoicing over the signing of the annexation treaty and the prospect of speedy union with the United States.

The Japanese Minister is perplexed over the situation—Some Willing Remarks by the Japan Herald, Which Frankly Trust Japan Will Seize the Island and Defeat America.

HONOLULU, June 30, via San Francisco, July 7.—All the papers are full of rejoicing over the signing of the annexation treaty and the prospect of speedy union with the United States.

The Japanese Minister is perplexed over the situation—Some Willing Remarks by the Japan Herald, Which Frankly Trust Japan Will Seize the Island and Defeat America.

THE WEDDING FROM THE OUTSIDE.

Some Neighboring Comments on the Bride, Her Family, and Her Fate.

Two men drove up to the house, took the framework and canvas of a canopy over the sidewalk, and began erecting it across the sidewalk. The bride and groom were standing on the porch, looking on. The bride was wearing a white dress and a veil. The groom was wearing a dark suit.

"What can it be?" asked one across the street. "It can't be that they are going to give a reception," replied her companion. "Well, I should say not," rejoined the first. "They are entirely too mean to do anything of the kind."

"I've watched and watched and watched," continued the neighbor, "and I've never seen more than ten cents' worth of food carried into that house at one time before."

"I never could find it," replied the neighbor, "but what can it be that they are going to have?"

"I don't know," replied one of a party of neighbors. "No," cried the neighbors in chorus. "No," continued the first, "and that's one of the things that I think they are doing."

"What a horrible, cheap-looking thing to send!" cried one of the party. "It shows what their friends think of them if they get presents like that," said another.

"I should say so," replied her companion. "I don't know what they will get for the bride."

"They are a great deal of people looking that way," said another. "They are a great deal of people looking that way," said another.

"I don't know what they will get for the bride," said another. "I don't know what they will get for the bride," said another.

"I don't know what they will get for the bride," said another. "I don't know what they will get for the bride," said another.

"I don't know what they will get for the bride," said another. "I don't know what they will get for the bride," said another.

TRITONIC AS A CRUISER.

BACK IN PORT AFTER SERVING AS A WARSHIP.

How the Big Ocean Greyhound Was Converted Into an Armed Cruiser in Thirty Hours—The Tritonic, Which Served for the Regular Cruise Carried in the Naval Review.

Capt. J. C. Cameron of the White Star liner Tritonic, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool, told us that he had just returned from a cruise in the Tritonic, which he had converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours. The Tritonic was converted into an armed cruiser in thirty hours.

MR. NUOM AND VALET.

A 14-Year-Old Boy Stole Money, Bury a Yacht, and Came to Grief.

A week ago Leon Nuom of Port Gibson, Miss., reached New Orleans with $305 in his inner pocket, a valise tagging on behind, and a yearning for a wild life on the river. When Leon Nuom reached New Orleans, he was met by a man who told him to go to the river and buy a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht. Leon Nuom went to the river and bought a yacht.

DID KEEBLE JUMP THE BRIDGE?

HE SAID TO HAVE BEEN SEEN ON THE BRIDGE WITH HIM ON THE BRIDGE CONVICT.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.

THEATRICAL AMUSEMENTS.

PLAYS AND VAUDEVILLE INDOORS AND OUT IN THE OPEN AIR.

The Midsummer Delusion Is Believed by Bright Spectators Here and There—Three Musical and Funny Pieces Current and Another Coming—Notes Among the Authors and Actors.

APPAINS IN VENEZUELA.

A Talk with Our Former Minister Plenipotentiary, Mr. Allen Thomas.

Mr. Allen Thomas, late Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Venezuela, who arrived in New York on Tuesday, in talking of Venezuela yesterday said: "The general condition of Venezuela to-day, in all its commercial matters, is suffering comparatively quiet. Commerce is suffering from a depression which, to all appearances, is increasing. The principal causes of this depression are the short crops in the last two seasons and the decline in the price of coffee.

ALL HAWAII REJOICES.

HER NEWSPAPERS VOICE THE FEELING OF ANNEXATION.

But the Japanese Minister is perplexed over the situation—Some Willing Remarks by the Japan Herald, Which Frankly Trust Japan Will Seize the Island and Defeat America.

THE WEDDING FROM THE OUTSIDE.

Some Neighboring Comments on the Bride, Her Family, and Her Fate.

Two men drove up to the house, took the framework and canvas of a canopy over the sidewalk, and began erecting it across the sidewalk. The bride and groom were standing on the porch, looking on. The bride was wearing a white dress and a veil. The groom was wearing a dark suit.

TRITONIC AS A CRUISER.

BACK IN PORT AFTER SERVING AS A WARSHIP.

How the Big Ocean Greyhound Was Converted Into an Armed Cruiser in Thirty Hours—The Tritonic, Which Served for the Regular Cruise Carried in the Naval Review.

MR. NUOM AND VALET.

A 14-Year-Old Boy Stole Money, Bury a Yacht, and Came to Grief.

A week ago Leon Nuom of Port Gibson, Miss., reached New Orleans with $305 in his inner pocket, a valise tagging on behind, and a yearning for a wild life on the river. When Leon Nuom reached New Orleans, he was met by a man who told him to go to the river and buy a yacht.

DID KEEBLE JUMP THE BRIDGE?

HE SAID TO HAVE BEEN SEEN ON THE BRIDGE WITH HIM ON THE BRIDGE CONVICT.

Police Justice Brenner of the Adams Street Court in Brooklyn gave a hearing yesterday to Dunbar McDonald, Michael Curran, Walter Weed, and Antonio Monteverde, who were arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Keeble in a fatal bridge jumping adventure on Sunday morning.