

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE GAMES BY THE BIG ELEVEN THIS AFTERNOON.

Harvard will meet a Yale team at West Point to-night and go to West Point to meet the Princeton team to-morrow.

Four intercollegiate football games of considerable importance will be played to-day, the results of which will afford even better lines on the strength of the big eleven than what has been gleaned from the contests already played.

Harvard will play Cornell at Cambridge, Pennsylvania, will meet Brown at Providence, Yale will tackle the Cadets at West Point and Dartmouth's eleven will line up against the Tigers at Princeton.

The Harvard-Cornell game is attracting more attention among the enthusiasts all over the country than the other events of the season.

The great body of Harvard men, including the coaches of the team, and Boston enthusiasts are strong in the belief that Harvard will win, but they are careful not to predict any score and refrain from declaring whether Cornell can kick the ball over Harvard's goal line or not.

The fact that no team has scored against Harvard this season and the inability of Brown's eleven to score last week, although the Providence men had previously rolled up fourteen points against Yale, have been taken as evidence that Harvard's strong point lies in defensive work, so that from an impartial standpoint some critics look upon the game as a close one with luck cutting more than the usual figure.

The argument is set forth, taking the Princeton team as a criterion, that Harvard will not surpass the Tigers' record of ten points, but that Cornell will find the Cambridge team nearly as strong as the Princeton eleven.

Cambridge, Oct. 29.—No anxiety is felt in Cambridge over the result of tomorrow's game with Cornell. Indeed, some of the local enthusiasts do not expect to see Cornell score, despite the rather listless playing of the Harvard team.

Cambridge, Oct. 29.—The Tigers took an encouraging brace in their work this afternoon, which of the line upon several occasions, the lightest afternoon, after which the varsity players were put through a sharp ten-minute game against the Cadets.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The Pennsylvania eleven left this city this morning for Providence, where they will play Brown to-morrow.

New Haven, Oct. 29.—Yale expects one of the hardest games of the season to-night against West Point.

ON ESSEX COUNTY LINKS.

RESULTS IN THE GOLF TOURNAMENT AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Travis, the Oakland champion, beaten by Tyne of the Morris County Club—Dallett Wins from Hamilton—Grimes and Emmerve Defeated in the Semi-Finals for the Cup.

Golf was continued in the open tournament of the Essex County Country Club at Orange yesterday. The most feature was the defeat of Walter J. Travis by James A. Tyne.

Travis made the first two holes in par strokes, day for the sport, while Tyne, who both not at all his best in the short game, required two 5s. Tyne also won the third, by 6 to 7, scoring even golfing by both.

Another match in this round that was well played was between Dallett and Hamilton. The latter seldom plays well in the morning, for he is an old rick player, he requires plenty of practice to warm his hand.

In the other matches for the Governor's Cup, Graham beat Watson, who had defeated Bell and Keene on Thursday, and Emmerve beat Hamilton in a close contest.

In the morning round of the Consolation Cup both Thurston and Dr. Schwartz won their matches by the narrow margin of one hole.

A great number of competitors are on for to-day at the Queens County Golf Club the first and second rounds for the club championship between the sixteen who qualified at match play in the club.

Princeton, Oct. 29.—The semi-finals in the Princeton University Golf tournament were played on the varsity links, Bayard avenue, this morning.

Wind-up of the Harness Racing at Louisville. Louisville, Oct. 29.—The weather was good and the track in excellent condition to-day.

End of the Preakness Trials. The annual field trials of the National Heavily Club of America were brought to a close at Hempstead yesterday.

LAVIGNE WHIPS WALCOTT.

FIGHT ENDS DRAMATICALLY AT THE END OF THE TWELFTH ROUND.

O'Rourke Claims That His Man Is Attacked With Criminal Intent by the Spongers—Hard Fighting by Both Principals—Eight Thousand Persons See the Contest.

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—The greatest crowd at a prize fight in this city since the Fitzsimmons-Sharkey will see the Walcott-Lavigne battle to-night at the Occidental A. C.

The betting opened a week ago at 10 to 8, with Walcott as the favorite. Gradually the odds lengthened, and last Wednesday it was even money.

At 9:45 o'clock the men entered the ring, Walcott being on the left and Lavigne on the right. Behind Walcott were O'Rourke, Joe Cullen and George Dixon.

First Round.—Both men were careful, but Lavigne was the more aggressive, though a bit wild. He followed Walcott closely, and the latter looked for the latter's face.

Second Round.—Both were strong and aggressive and the fight was a hard one. Walcott was the more aggressive, though a bit wild.

Third Round.—The round opened with both men fighting bravely. Lavigne was wild, but Walcott did not let him get the better of him.

Fourth Round.—The round opened with both men fighting bravely. Lavigne was wild, but Walcott did not let him get the better of him.

Fifth Round.—The round opened with both men fighting bravely. Lavigne was wild, but Walcott did not let him get the better of him.

Sixth Round.—The round opened with both men fighting bravely. Lavigne was wild, but Walcott did not let him get the better of him.

Better than ever—and still the best.

Shoe men, experts in the business, wonder how "Regal Shoes" can be made to sell for $3.50 per pair. Think it over.

"141" Button Calf

A natty style for which there is a great demand. Made in lace, in Calf, Russia Calf, and Enamel (double sole), Patent Calf (single sole), button and lace.

L. C. BLISS & CO., 115-117 Nassau St., New York, 134 Broadway, New York, 291 Broadway, New York, 357 East 1st, Brooklyn.

THE DISSOLUTION SALE OF THE HAMMERSLOUGH BROS. great stock of fine, reliable clothing begins at 8 A. M. to-day.

The assets of the business must be turned into cash, and all goods—Suits, Overcoats, Trousers, Full Dress Suits, etc.—will be sold at a great sacrifice.

An extraordinary chance to secure the best clothing made—at phenomenally low prices. COMPLETE GYMNASIUM SUITS Consisting of Full Tights, Quarter-Sleeve Shirt, Saten Trousers, Canvas Rubber Sole shoes, $2.50.

MORRIS PARK RACING ASSOCIATION 8th Day, Saturday, Oct. 30th. The Evening Highweight Handicap, the Three-Mile Steeplechase Handicap and the Four-Mile Handicap.

Programme Full of Interesting Features for Morris Park To-day. The programme for Morris Park to-day includes a number of interesting races.

OUR RULE is to never permit a customer to go away dissatisfied if we can help it. We endeavor to see that he is perfectly fitted and guarantee every garment we make.

BROWNING KING & CO. Fulton St. cor. DeKalb Ave. BROOKLYN. CALEB V. SMITH, Manager.

OUR RULE is to never permit a customer to go away dissatisfied if we can help it. We endeavor to see that he is perfectly fitted and guarantee every garment we make.

OUR RULE is to never permit a customer to go away dissatisfied if we can help it. We endeavor to see that he is perfectly fitted and guarantee every garment we make.

OUR RULE is to never permit a customer to go away dissatisfied if we can help it. We endeavor to see that he is perfectly fitted and guarantee every garment we make.

OUR RULE is to never permit a customer to go away dissatisfied if we can help it. We endeavor to see that he is perfectly fitted and guarantee every garment we make.