

FRANCHISE TAX BILL A LAW

THE GOVERNOR SIGNS ALL BILLS PASSED AT THE EXTRA SESSION.

He Believes the Tax Bill Will Do All That It Was Intended to Do—A Batch of Thirty-Day Bills Signed—Barren Island Nuisance Bill Will Be Allowed to Die.

ALBANY, May 26.—Gov. Roosevelt this afternoon signed all the bills passed at the extraordinary session of the Legislature, beginning with the Ford Franchise Tax bill and including the bill appropriating $10,000 to carry the Ford bill into effect, the $75,000 appropriation for the National Guard display at the reception to Admiral Dewey at the city hall, the bill to finance law to exempt the State prisons from the provision requiring heads of State departments to turn into the State Treasury at stated periods all moneys earned or received from any source, and the bill carrying the $12,000 appropriation for the expenses of the extra legislative session.

The Franchise Tax bill becomes chapter 71 of the laws of 1899. Gov. Roosevelt affixed his signature to the bill at 12:02 to-day, using the pen of the secretary of the Governor, Col. William F. Young, with which to sign the bill.

Before signing the bill Gov. Roosevelt said to the newspaper correspondents that nobody need be alarmed at wild rumors flying about as to flaws in the bill or alleged unconstitutional provisions which somebody had unexpectedly discovered.

He is likely to tax everything in sight. There was no more said, of course, but people bringing this sort of thing to his attention. He was familiar with the bill and had faith that it would do just what it was intended to do. The Governor declared that he hoped to consult with the State Commissioners shortly and have them report to him on the bill.

Senator Duffell's anti-union bill, which requires the Employer to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

Senator Clegg's bill, which requires the State Commissioner to furnish a copy of the contract to the State Commissioner, and the bill to amend the law relating to the duties of the State Commissioner, were also signed.

WARSAWIAK'S NEW TRIAL

GENERAL ASSEMBLY SAYS IT SHALL BE ON THE FIRST CHARGE.

The Expulsion of Congressman Roberts of Utah Called For—Employers Urged to Work for Better Sabbath Observance.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 26.—The Presbyterian General Assembly met to-day all the work of importance coming before it for consideration and will adjourn to-morrow. The commission in the Warsawiak case, which was appointed by the General Assembly, reported to-day. It decided that the action of the Synod of New York should be reversed only so far as it remanded the case back to the Presbytery to send it to the session for a new trial on amended charges, including the charge of misusing money contributed for missionary purposes.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures put the Assembly on record as to the moral status of Brigham H. Roberts, Congressman from Utah, this morning. The action was in response to a great number of overtures on the subject, and so associated with the name of the Assembly that the delegates unanimously rose to their feet in approbation. The resolutions, which were introduced by a lone preacher, were in substance as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly, representing 223 Presbyteries, over 7,000 ministers and 80,000 churches, with one million communicants, and about five million members, do hereby most respectfully and earnestly call upon every member of the Synod of New York to use his utmost endeavor and to exhaust all honorable means to secure the prompt expulsion from the House of Representatives, in accordance with the provision of the National Constitution, of the said Congressman Roberts, who reads as follows:

CENTRAL OPERA HOUSE CLOSED.

And Its Owner, Mr. Ruppert, to Start a Pleasure Resort on South Brother Island.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

The Central Opera House, at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue, which has been kept open as an assembly hall for the last six years by Jacob Ruppert, the brewer, will be closed permanently on June 1. Mr. Ruppert says that the building is too large and that he has given up all hope of ever becoming a paying investment as an assembly hall.

TO SUE BROOKLYN RAILROAD.

Comptroller Coker Wants the Brooklyn Heights Company to Pay the City.

Comptroller Coker made a demand several weeks ago for a statement of the gross earnings and the payment of the percentages due the city thereon of the following railroad lines:

The Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, from the commencement of operations of said road to and including the year ending Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, on extensions, from Sept. 30, 1892, to and including Sept. 30, 1898.

MAY REDUCE THE 69TH.

RUMOR THAT THE REGIMENT WILL BE CUT DOWN TO A BATTALION.

A State Officer Says Reasonable Time Will Be Given Before Radical Measures Are Taken—Lieut. Scanton Has Been Rejected.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

Rumors were rife yesterday that the Sixty-ninth Regiment was to be reduced to a battalion of five companies, half of the companies being disbanded and consolidated with the other half. It was further said that Col. Dennis Charles McCarthy, who recruited the Sixty-ninth, said he in a short time will be ordered to the front.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

is a guarantee of superior worth.

In baking powder, in these days of unscrupulous adulteration, a great name gives the best security.

There are many brands of baking powders, but "Royal Baking Powder" is recognized at once as the brand of great name, the powder of highest favor and reputation. Everyone has absolute confidence in the food where Royal is used.

Pure and healthful food is a matter of vital importance to every individual.

Royal Baking Powder assures the finest and most wholesome food.

They make the food unwholesome.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

LAWYER STILLMAN ROBBED.

NEARLY $10,000 WORTH OF JEWELRY STOLEN FROM HIS HOUSE.

Safe Within a Safe Plundered During His Absence in Europe—Tampered With a Key and Found the Safe Opened—Two Servants Arrested.

Shortly after their return from Europe, about three weeks ago, Mr. Thomas E. Stillman, a member of the law firm of Stillman & Hubbard, and his wife discovered that jewelry, valued at between $8,000 and $10,000, had been stolen from a small steel safe located within a large iron safe in their home, 95 Jorham street, Brooklyn. Some of the jewels belonged to their daughter, Miss Mary Stillman, who was left behind in England by her parents and who was one of the young women recently presented at Court by Ambassador Choate.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird, 32 years old, an Englishman. Both had been employed as butlers in the family a few months ago. When the jewels were missed Mr. Stillman placed the case in the hands of the police. Following the investigation, he was arrested and taken to the police station. He was held for a few days, but was released on bail.

While Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were abroad, the younger members of the family remained in the Jorham street house with eight servants, including Robert Wright, 29 years old, a Scotchman, and George Hird