

ALLEGED CUSTOMS BRIBERY

DRESSMAKER SAYS SHE PAID DEPUTY SURVEYOR DOWLING $500.

Dowling says it is a lie and is backed up by Harvey Croft, who says the story has been investigated—Theobald produces the dressmaker's statement in court.

That the government had in its possession a written confession of Elizabeth Shanahan, dressmaker, accusing Deputy Surveyor Daniel E. Dowling of taking bribes to let her smuggle goods into this port, came out yesterday afternoon at the first hearing of Miss Shanahan before United States Commissioner Shields on the charge of smuggling, on which it is proposed to remove her to New Jersey for trial.

The confession was made by Special Customs Inspector William H. Theobald on her direct examination, but on her cross-examination by W. M. K. O'Leary, counsel for Miss Shanahan, in the confession Miss Shanahan stated that she gave Dowling $100 to let her smuggle goods into this port on two previous occasions and paid him $500.

Deputy Surveyor Dowling said: "I shall probably have a good deal to say later on. Just at present, however, there are only two things I want to state very clearly. In the first place, I wish to deny in toto every statement contained in the confession of Miss Shanahan. Furthermore, I want to say that the whole affair is a conspiracy, hatched to injure me because I would not be used in black-mailing passengers on the pier. I hope things will be demanded. I am not afraid of the truth."

Miss C. Croft, the Surveyor of the Port, said: "The newspapers have heard only one side of the story as yet. Weakened by this confession and the charges it made against Mr. Dowling and thoroughly investigated the matter. We are perfectly satisfied with the result. Mr. Dowling has not been suspended or even reprimanded. In fact, he is still in the office. We are not ready to tell what it is."

Miss Shanahan landed in Jersey City from the Augusta Victoria on Sept. 7. She had declared that her baggage consisted of two trunks and a valise and that none of them contained any dutiable articles. The first trunk contained one trunk and the second trunk contained one trunk and the third trunk contained one trunk. The trunks were found by the inspector. That same evening, at 10 o'clock, Theobald, as he testified yesterday, called at Miss Shanahan's home at 11 East Forty-sixth street. When he rang the doorbell the lights were put out one by one. He rang the bell until midnight and at midnight Miss Shanahan herself let him in and he found and seized the missing trunk.

It was understood at the time that a signed confession was obtained from Miss Shanahan implicating some Customs House officials, but in his direct testimony Theobald said nothing of it. He testified, however, brought up the subject early in his cross-examination and with evident reluctance Theobald admitted that he did have such a confession with him, Commissioner Shields, however, ordered Theobald to hand it over to the court and put it among the records of the case. Then Mr. O'Leary put some further questions to Theobald.

"Did you not secure this confession by promising the defendant that she would not be used to incriminate herself?" asked O'Leary. "No, I did not." "Did you not use threats to compel this defendant to make that statement?" "No, I did not." "Did you suggest what she should put into the confession?" "Theobald testified for some little time before he answered this question, but he admitted shortly in the negative. Almost immediately afterward, however, he said that he had suggested to her that she should put into the confession what she had said to him. When Miss Shanahan asked him if he wanted her to put in the confession the amount of money she had paid to Dowling, he told her to put it all down.

GERMAN REICHTAG OPENED.

Emperor William Says the Outrage in China Was Unjustified.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. BERLIN, Nov. 14.—In his speech on opening the Reichstag to-day Emperor William said that the fatalistic and dark superstition, spurred on by unscrupulous advice to the court, had misled the Chinese into the atrocities of the Boxer rising. The Emperor said that the German Minister Baron von Ketteler, the Emperor said, had united all nations, which otherwise would be separated, and the only desire of the Powers now was to restore order in the country, punish the guilty and prevent a repetition of such outrages. He regretted that it was impossible to convict the guilty, but it was impracticable to state the probable cost of the operations. Now, he was confident, the Reichstag would agree to the expenditure necessary to protect Germany's interests and honor.

Referring to the assassination of King Humbert, the Emperor said: "I recall the memory of my ally and dear friend Humbert, who, in the exercise of his royal office, fell a victim to a damnable outrage."

The Emperor said that more abundant funds hereafter be devoted to every branch of life in the Empire, especially for the defense of the workingmen and in defense of the country. A customs tariff, he said, would probably be presented to the Federal Council during the present session.

The Emperor opened the session of the Reichstag in person at noon. The budget of 1901, which was submitted to-day places the balance in hand at 2,240,000,304 marks. The permanent expenditure amounts to 1,612,508,594 marks. The Chancellor is empowered to raise 67,286,000 marks to meet a non-recurring extra expenditure and to issue treasury bills not to exceed 175,000,000 marks for the purpose of strengthening the working capital.

The smallness of the Reichstag Hall where the opening ceremony took place, and the presence of the Emperor's suite and the numerous princes and dignitaries, prevented the diplomats from attending the function. The Emperor, however, was quite conspicuous in the audience. It was a curious sight, and gave none of the information that was awaited with so much interest.

Statement That the Morgans Are Interested in the Proposed Consolidation. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Nov. 14.—It is stated that the Morgans of London and New York are certainly interested in the proposed consolidation of several transatlantic steamship lines. Manager Torrie of the Atlantic Transport Company told a correspondent of THE SUN to-day that the deal was still in a most unsettled state. He said the report that the International Navigation Company was the purchaser of the Atlantic Transport Company was quite incorrect. The deal, he added, would not affect the London Transport Company except indirectly. He refused to indicate what other interests would be affected.

No confirmation of the report from Baltimore of a pending purchase of the Atlantic Transport line by the International Navigation Company could be obtained yesterday. Alexander Brown & Co., of the banking house of Alexander Brown & Co., however, who was reported to be interested in the deal, admitted that some sort of amalgamation was in prospect. He would not give out any details.

President Baker of the Atlantic Transport line is now in this city, but he said yesterday he had nothing to say regarding the report. James A. Wright, Jr., manager of the International Navigation Company, said that he knew nothing of any such deal. The International Navigation Company controls the Red Star and American lines.

A MILLION-GALLON LEAK.

BURST WATER MAIN FLOODS THE OLD RESERVOIR SITE.

Twelve Feet of Water in the Excavation for the New Library Building's Foundation at Forty-second Street and Fifth Avenue.

The foundations for the new building of the New York Public Library on the site of the old reservoir at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue were inundated yesterday morning by the breaking of a 48-inch water main in the excavation through which the water led from the reservoir to the street. It rushed in such great volume that it flowed over the foundation walls into the street, which was soon flooded. It was estimated that more than a million gallons were wasted. Just what caused the break is not known. It was said that a heavy leak had burst about 100 feet from the reservoir, but the flow of water was discovered, but this was denied by the contractor for the work on the library building. Little damage was done by the water, although if the excavation for the library building had not acted as a reservoir the houses along Forty-second street must have suffered severely. The work was delayed for nearly an hour and it will be two days before work can be resumed on the library building. There will be no difficulty in getting the water out of the excavation as just as soon as the broken main had been shut off it began to flow out through the drain it had come in by.

The break occurred about 10 o'clock. Some laborers had been cleaning out a four-foot excavated drain which connects with a sewer running through Forty-second street to Fifth avenue. This drain is 200 feet from Sixth avenue and is on a level with the foundation of the library building. The men had about 10 feet of the drain open when the water burst through it. The water was so hot and so high that it crept up to the top of the foundation walls, which are about 10 feet high. The contractor who is erecting the walls, had, in the meantime, ordered the Water Department of the city to send a gang of men to the site and to stop the water. When they arrived the water had overflowed the walls and there was a roaring torrent in the street.

UPROAR IN A MILITARY INSTITUTE. Students Rebel Against the Principal and Buck Him in the Horse Trough.

KEENEY, Neb., Nov. 14.—An interesting situation has developed at the Keeney Military Institute. For a week the students have been in an uproar, with half of the students stopping at the hotels of the city and the officials on the point of fighting. To-day Bishop Groves interfered, deposed the head of the Institute, the Rev. Dr. Clendenen, and placed Prof. Harry Russell in charge. The uproar is said to be the culmination of a series of rows between the students and the head of the Institute. The Keeney Military Institute is an aristocratic place for the training of Western youths under the care of the Episcopal Church. There are 100 young men here, and the spacious grounds include three fine buildings.

The rebellious boys became exasperated at Dr. Clendenen, so the students say, and ducked him in the horse trough. The ducking, however, is disputed by the doctor, although it is vouched for by several students, who assert that they saw the place on Monday night, and that they saw the doctor being ducked. The doctor, who was accompanied by Prof. Russell, who, while ducking the doctor, was crossing the parade ground. On Monday the four instructors were expelled from the school, and the students were allowed to go home. M. E. MISSIONARY PLANS.

Annual Meeting of the General Missionary Committee Opened Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held for the purpose of appropriating money for missionary work for the ensuing year and for the purpose of electing a new committee, opened yesterday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal Church at Eighty-sixth street and West End avenue. The committee is composed of all the Bishops of the Church, representatives from the fourteen dioceses and delegates from the fourteen boards of managers, together with the corresponding Secretaries of all the missionary societies.

Bishop Charles H. Fowler of Buffalo presided yesterday and a part of the business at the morning session was the election of the following officers for the ensuing year. Dr. L. C. Casidy of New York was elected Moderator, and Dr. H. J. Jennings Assistant Secretary. The treasurer's report showed that the total receipts for the year were $1,223,000 and the expenditures $1,202,000. The deficit added to that of last year made a total deficit of $21,000. The committee is now considering a report on the appropriation for the ensuing year, which was finally fixed at $1,200,000.

The appointment of this amount between home and foreign missions was made yesterday afternoon, at which time Mr. Fowler made a long and interesting address. He said that the church was in a position to do more than ever before for the world. He said that the church was in a position to do more than ever before for the world. CHICAGO TREASURY BARE. Nearly $1,000,000 in Salaries 'Soon Due and Little Money to Pay Them.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Unless Comptroller Keenan can find $470,000 somewhere within the next six days, the city employees will have to wait for their Christmas gifts with city "scrip." For the prospect is that no such sum will be received either from taxes or from fees. And that money lenders will have a chance early in December to buy city vouchers for salaries at a bargain. The shortage is attributed to the fact that the city is unable to pay its bills. The city is unable to pay its bills. The city is unable to pay its bills.

General Committee Wants Reorganizing for Loss of County Ticket. Tammany Boss Says Cassidy Did Well and Should Not Be Blamed—Advises Them to Get New Leader.

Since the defeat of the county ticket in Queens the Democratic Central Committee has been looking around for some one to turn down. They finally selected County Joseph Cassidy, who stands at the head of the incoming county committee and has pledged enough to make him the chairman and borough leader. The campaign was managed by the present county committee, whose term of office ends on Jan. 1, and they believe that some one should suffer because the Republicans captured the two county offices, sheriff and coroner, while Bryan carried the county by nearly 2,000 plurality.

The committee met in Long Island City yesterday afternoon and canvassed the situation behind closed doors. After a session of two hours the members declined to state what had been done. A number of Democrats from Queens saw Richard Croker at the Democratic Club on Tuesday night and laid the situation before him. Cassidy said that Mr. Croker attributed the defeat of the county ticket to the unpopularity of the two candidates and had managed the campaign. He said he could not mix up the local situation with the result of the election.

REPUBLICAN SHAKEN UP IN KING'S. Dad and Attorney May Be Unhoused—Jesse D. Frost Turned Down.

There may be a contest over the organization of the new Republican County Committee in Brooklyn on the night of Dec. 4 and also of the new Executive Committee a week later. A movement, it is said, has been started to elect Jesse D. Frost and Col. Michael J. Dady, the chairman of the respective committees, and to have a new deal all around for the other offices. As Mr. Attorney is a candidate for reelection and has the solid support of the Union Republicans and will vote third, which is the Republican Gibraltar in Kings county, it will be difficult to form a committee which will elect him.

DELAWARE LEGISLATURE SAFE. Twenty-nine Republicans to Twenty-three Democrats—How Adicks Hopes to Win.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 14.—Now that the canvass of the votes cast at the general election in this State has been completed it is known that on a joint ballot there are twenty-nine Republicans to twenty-three Democrats. That means the election of two Republican United States Senators. National Committeeman John Edward Adicks promised the National Committee that Delaware would be found in the Republican column provided the annual delegates were elected by the Union Republican Convention. Adicks feels confident of being elected for the short term and bases his claim on the ground that the Union Republicans cannot vote for their own party.

COL. MORTON TO GO TO PORTO RICO. Much Assailed Maine Politician Gets an Appointment Under Gov. Allen.

PORTO RICO, Nov. 14.—Col. C. B. Morton of this city has received an appointment at Porto Rico under Gov. Allen. Col. Morton, until very recently, has been a Democrat. Under Cleveland's first administration he was Commissioner of Navigation and under Cleveland's second administration was Fourth Auditor of the Treasury, until he was removed for writing letters in which he referred disparagingly to the President. Col. Morton was a candidate for the Presidency in the past no man in Maine has been more bitterly assailed than Col. Morton. His appointment to a place under a Republican administration has caused considerable comment.
