

HARRY AYRES'S JEALOUSY.

THREATS TO KILL WHICH LANDED A YOUNG BOOKKEEPER IN JAIL.

His Free Use of Senator Platt's Name to Compel a Woman to Discontinue the Attention of Policeman Thomas Fay Wrote That It Was He That Had Her Transferred.

In the Adams street police court, Brooklyn, yesterday, Harry N. Ayres, a member of the Young Men's Christian Association, was committed to Rensselaer street jail by Magistrate Bristol in default of $500 bail, on complaint of Mrs. Mary Curry, an attractive widow, 33 years old, of 15 Delaware place.

Ever since Fay has been going to Mrs. Curry's house Harry Ayres has been disgruntled. As appended extracts from some of Ayres's letters will show, he threatened if Fay's visits did not cease that he would have influence with Senator Thomas C. Platt to have him transferred.

First he wanted to see Fay, then he wanted to see the woman who had been transferred to Station Island. Ayres says he has a letter from Senator Platt promising that his request would be accorded to.

At the end of each trip he would come to this city to deposit his money, for he had none of the miser's distressing habits.

In all these years no man has ever been able to outwit Harry Ayres. He is a shrewd, shrewdly honest, and there was never a shadow on his integrity. He would wrong no man and would follow none to wrong him, and above all things he despised a man who would not keep a promise.

Victor Williams was born at Point Peninsula, this county, about 25 years ago. He had some educational advantages and was naturally bright. At one time he taught school in the town of Lyme, and it was thought that he contemplated a professional career.

He was brought in conversation and well dressed. Mrs. Curry says she almost at a glance, that she was disappointed in love, and from that time his only interest in life was the accumulation of money.

"SNIPSEY" STARK'S LEAP.

Death of a Man Whose Only Interest in Life Was to Have Money—Left $50,000 or More.

WATERBURY, N. Y., Dec. 2.—By the death of Victor Stark, which took place at the home of his mother in Danville, in this county, northern New York, has lost one of its most eccentric characters. He never received more than the wages of a laborer, and yet by hoarding that which he earned and investing it, he accumulated a fortune variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

The only interest this man found in life was saving money, and this he enjoyed so much he never enjoyed spending money. He worked on a farm as a laborer for his board and what money he could get, and he saved every cent.

In the latter years of his life this strange man worked less as he was obliged to devote more of his time to the collection of rent and interest. At least twice a year he would start on his long trip collecting, always walking, despite the fact that he had long outlived the allotted three-score years and ten.

At the end of each trip he would come to this city to deposit his money, for he had none of the miser's distressing habits.

In all these years no man has ever been able to outwit Harry Ayres. He is a shrewd, shrewdly honest, and there was never a shadow on his integrity.

THE MAKING OF AN IDEAL CITY.

Bermon of the Rev. Dr. Schulman at Temple Methodist Vestibule.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Schulman, associate pastor of Temple Methodist, Fifth avenue and Seventy-sixth street, delivered an address on "The Making of an Ideal City" at the morning service yesterday. The ideal city, Dr. Schulman said, could only come through good government and good government in this city needed four important factors for its attainment.

ATTACKED CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

The Rev. Dr. Hartley Expresses His Views Frankly at a Union Service.

The members of the Christian Science congregation in the upper West Side of the city, who met for a union service at the church on the corner of 127th street and the third on West 127th street, were very much disturbed by remarks made by the Rev. Dr. Richard Hartley, pastor of Hope Baptist Church, Amsterdam avenue and West 107th street.

The Rev. Dr. Hartley said that the Christian Science religion was a superstition and that it was a disgrace to the name of Christianity.
