

ON THEATRICAL SUBJECTS.

A SHERRIDAN COMEDY FOR A FINISH BY A CELEBRATE COMPANY.

Henry V. Donnelly and His Players in "The Rivals"—A Climax of Impudence Reached in the Sidewalk Traffic in Tickets.

This week ends the third season of the Donnelly stock company at the Murray Hill Theatre, and as heretofore in the closing days, a class is revived. Last year's farewell play, Robertson's "Caste," employed the principal members advantageously, and so now does "The Rivals," selected for the final review.

The desirable old-comedy manner is caught by most of the players, though Sheridan would have greater difficulty in recognizing his best than even in the late August Daly's version of "The School for Scandal." Particularly distressing is the makeshift Marry language spoken by Mrs. Thomas Barry.

Two negatives have the effect of a positive, and Mrs. Barry's own mistakes in the "Maltby" characters sometimes make her look and sound better than when she is correct. However, despite her bad memory, Mrs. Barry gives a traditional performance.

Henry V. Donnelly, who has been in the Broadway cast for a long time, is a fine actor. He is well known to the audience, and his performance in "The Rivals" is a fine example of his talent.

The management of people at the entrance to the New York Theatre by peddlers of tickets is a good thing if only it existed in indignation. The peddlers are a nuisance, and their trade is usually a nuisance and often a fraud.

The managers of the New York Theatre are to be commended for their efforts to clean up the sidewalk. They have taken steps to prevent the ticket peddlers from doing their trade.

The Kallenborn Concerts are to begin on Saturday evening at the St. Nicholas Garden where they have prospered for the past two years. Franz Kallenborn will again be the conductor of the concerts, which will be given by an orchestra of forty-five musicians.

William G. Stewart, director of the American School of Opera, has arranged for the performance of the opera "The Barber of Seville" at the Metropolitan Opera House.

MOTHER KEEPS 15-YEAR-OLD BRIDE.

She Won't Give Her Into Her Husband's Hands—She'll See for Amusement.

Emma Bradshaw, 15 years old and a bride since last Thursday, with braided hair down her back and in short skirts, was before Justice O'Gorman of the Supreme Court yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by her husband, Charles E. Bradshaw.

This is a mere child, a little girl, who is too young to be married. She is a child, and she has the legal right to be kept by her mother. She is a child, and she is a bride.

In opposition to it was said the girl is 17 years old, but the mother produced a family prayer book which gave the date of the girl's birth as April 10, 1886, and Justice O'Gorman said he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

AUNT'S FIGHT FOR VIOLA.

She's Only 16 and Has Expectations of a Legacy.

Aunt Mary Ann Thompson arrested for Disrespectful Conduct and Accused of Trying to Kidnap Her Niece—Magistrate Allows Viola to Choose Her Own Guardian.

Viola Oliver, a pretty sixteen-year-old girl, rather big for her age, appeared before Magistrate Zeller in the West Side police court yesterday morning to tell how her aunt, Mrs. Mary Ann Thompson, of 204 South Eighth street, Brooklyn, who had been arrested on the technical charge of disorderly conduct, had attempted to kidnap her.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

Justice O'Gorman said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age. He said that he would accept that as proof of her age.

MINISTERS DISCUSS HELL.

An Interesting Session Yesterday of the Swedenborgian Convention.

The council of ministers of the Church of the New Jerusalem, which is now in general convention in the city of New York, met yesterday afternoon at 7 o'clock in the hall of the Rev. J. C. Ager of Brooklyn.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

The subject came before the council in the shape of a paper by the Rev. William L. Worcester, of Philadelphia, on the subject of "Hell." The subject was discussed for several hours.

BIG YELLOW DIAMOND HERE.

BANTAM'S EGG IN SIZE GOING TO BE SHOWN AT BUFFALO.

Weight, 207 3/4 Carats—Cut as a Brilliant—Nearly Twice the Size of the Kohinoor—Found About a Year Ago in the Kimberley District—Value Depends on a Customer.

What is said by jewellers to be the largest diamond ever seen in this country is now in this city on its way to the Pan-American Exposition. It is a canary color, is the property of Stern Brothers & Co., the diamond importers, and was purchased by them abroad to form part of their exhibit at the Exposition.

The stone, now here, to which no name has as yet been given, but being reserved until it reaches Buffalo, was found about a year ago in the Kimberley district in South Africa. Its weight in the rough was 900 carats, it was recognized as a stone which it would be a pretty hard job to sell, so a syndicate was formed to purchase it.

The stone, now here, to which no name has as yet been given, but being reserved until it reaches Buffalo, was found about a year ago in the Kimberley district in South Africa. Its weight in the rough was 900 carats, it was recognized as a stone which it would be a pretty hard job to sell, so a syndicate was formed to purchase it.

The stone, now here, to which no name has as yet been given, but being reserved until it reaches Buffalo, was found about a year ago in the Kimberley district in South Africa. Its weight in the rough was 900 carats, it was recognized as a stone which it would be a pretty hard job to sell, so a syndicate was formed to purchase it.

The stone, now here, to which no name has as yet been given, but being reserved until it reaches Buffalo, was found about a year ago in the Kimberley district in South Africa. Its weight in the rough was 900 carats, it was recognized as a stone which it would be a pretty hard job to sell, so a syndicate was formed to purchase it.

The stone, now here, to which no name has as yet been given, but being reserved until it reaches Buffalo, was found about a year ago in the Kimberley district in South Africa. Its weight in the rough was 900 carats, it was recognized as a stone which it would be a pretty hard job to sell, so a syndicate was formed to purchase it.

The stone, now here, to which no name has as yet been given, but being reserved until it reaches Buffalo, was found about a year ago in the Kimberley district in South Africa. Its weight in the rough was 900 carats, it was recognized as a stone which it would be a pretty hard job to sell, so a syndicate was formed to purchase it.

The stone, now here, to which no name has as yet been given, but being reserved until it reaches Buffalo, was found about a year ago in the Kimberley district in South Africa. Its weight in the rough was 900 carats, it was recognized as a stone which it would be a pretty hard job to sell, so a syndicate was formed to purchase it.

Strangers In The City. should not remain Strangers to our Stores if they have any desire to put themselves at once, in what are distinctively Metropolitan Clothes, Hats and Furnishings. Best Quality—Fair Prices, the characteristics of our goods, are turning Strangers into customers every day. Come to-morrow and make yourselves acquainted with us. Stores Closed To-day. Hackett Carhart & Co. 3 BROADWAY Stores: Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers S.

FOUND AT CONEY ISLAND. HARVEY FLYNN'S PULL FAILS. Marble is Accused of Obtaining $200 by Fraud at Willamantic, Conn. Capt. Walsh's Steerage Arrests Barney's Bar-tender for Excess Violation.

President Lewis Wants Sophomore Triumph. President Seth Low of Columbia University has requested the sophomore class to establish the traditional "Sophomore Triumph" at the custom of the college is as old as present graduates can remember and consists of burning torches in the streets of the city.

MINIATURE ALMANAC—THIS DAY. Sun rises... 4:53. Sun sets... 7:22. Moon sets... 2:44. High water... 3:54. Sandy Hook... 5:57. High tide... 7:50.

PARTY FOR HONDURAS FOR BUFFALO. Well-Known Residents of the Republic on the Way to the Exposition. NEW ORLEANS, May 29.—A large party from Honduras arrived here to-day on the way to the Pan-American Exposition.

DEUCE AT THE EXPOSITION. Almost Everything Planning on the Expiration of the Forty Days of Rain. BUFFALO, May 29.—This was Ark Day at the Pan-American Exposition.

Foreign Hotels. BERLIN PENSION. Highly commended German officers family at Berlin pension, well known and being in the heart of the city.

The Continental Hotel. remodeled and refurbished on a most sumptuous scale by Messrs. Kitchin & Co., known in America. THE GREAT CENTRAL STATION, Friedrich Strasse, with a sweeping front on three streets, and front rooms only. Entirely fireproof, magnificent large rooms, airy, cheerful, and absolutely quiet, with bathrooms attached. The restaurant is admitted superior to all competition, frequented by European nobility and aristocracy. The orchestra during dinner. A MODERATE TARIFF AND NO EXTRAS.