

RAYNER'S DAILY "LESSONS."

PROCEEDINGS AS THEY ARE RECORDED AT SCHLEY INQUIRY.

Nobody Could Tell From the Headline Indications of the Schley Newspapers What is Going On at the Inquiry—Mr. Rayner's Solitude for Newspaper Men, and His Efforts to Make Them Really Understand What Happens.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—One of the most interesting features of the Schley Court of Inquiry to an impartial observer is Mr. Isidor Rayner's daily "lesson" to the correspondents of the newspapers which are favorable to the Schley side of the case.

Mr. Rayner is a very pleasant gentleman with a large heart, and he declares that it is simply his native generosity that impels him to see that the newspaper men properly understand the case—from his point of view of course.

The Washington Post usually maintains the position of the head of the class, although it was sent down three numbers once for printing too much unimportant testimony.

Mr. Rayner's generosity is sometimes severely taxed in his effort to help out the newspaper men by finding points when things are dull.

SAMPSON MUST COME. Dramatic Episode in the Schley Court Yesterday.

DISPOSAL OF LETTERS TO SCHLEY. What Was an Apparent Error Would Not Be Corrected by Judge Advocate Lemley.

It is to be noticed that the headline artist did not have to fill space by sticking in anything about the unimportant testimony of Hodgson.

It might be curious to conjecture what he would have done for a heading if Mr. Rayner, with a benign nod along Newspaper row, had not made the remark "Then we'll have to call Admiral Sampson."

SAMPSON WILL BE A WITNESS. MR. BATHEN ASKES TO HAVE HIM SUMMONED.

The American, having to make a longer heading, and appearing to the bottom a few lines about Lieut. Hodgson having been on the stand, thereby jeopardizing its position in Mr. Rayner's "lesson."

It sometimes occurs that a member of the press meeting the class and the official report delusive, while speculators group around admiringly and Capt. Parker hovers about on the outskirts with his jangling cap on his head.

WAINWRIGHT ACCUSED. Commander Hellier's Serious Charge Against Him.

STATED SPECIFICALLY IN COURT. He Is Charged With Having Compelled Hellier to Sign a Report, With a Compensating Chart, When That Chart Was a Blank.

Those who heard Commander Hellier testify had apparently been under the mistaken impression that he had said that the Texas had to reverse her engines to avoid a collision with the Brooklyn, and the official stenographer had evidently failed to note the "serious accusation" against Wainwright.

But in case they were not seen in the Washington Post the Baltimore American told all about it.

HIGH SWEDISH PRELATE HERE

BISHOP VON SCHEELE BEARS MESSAGE FROM THE KING.

He Will Present Oscar's Congratulations to President Roosevelt and Visit the Chief Swedish Lutheran Churches and Colleges in the United States.

The Rt. Rev. Knut Henning Gosselius von Scheele (pronounced Sha-la), Bishop of Gotland and member of the lower house of the Riksdag of Sweden, arrived yesterday morning on the City of Rome.

He is to strengthen the ties that unite the Swedish Lutheran Church of America to the Swedish mother Church. The Swedes, however, are not the only ones interested in the Bishop's coming, which means a good deal also to the other Lutheran churches in this country.

Important Despatch is Given Out in Change Form.

The official record subsequently showed that this "doctoring" occurred on board the Brooklyn, but to the class the matter became a "closed incident." On Oct. 2 the report of the official stenographer says that testimony was given that the Brooklyn's log regarding the loop had been changed two days after the battle, and that there was much other testimony about the loop, including some by a Brooklyn officer that the helm was not always kept to port.

SAMPSON'S BLOCKADE IS BARRED. Important and Interesting Developments in the Schley Inquiry Yesterday.

GLOOMY ENDING OF BRIGHT HOPES. NAVAL CLIQUE'S SUSPICIONS ARE SUBDUED.

It is related that a well-known stenographer, with an eye to business, unwittingly approached the class early in the inquiry and asked Admiral Sampson to furnish him with copies of the testimony.

CASE OF A MANHER FOOLED. And an Obliging Restaurant Keeper Out on a Fine Pair of Opera Glasses.

A Grand street restaurant keeper who was mentioned several days ago as a candidate for Alderman is mourning the loss of a valuable pair of opera glasses which he lost by trying to help a friend in a flirtation.

NO FAIR TRIAL IN KENTUCKY. Gov. Durbin Investigating the Report That Jurors Are Packed Easily.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—Among the letters the Gov. Durbin has received from persons protesting against the extradition of former Governor Taylor and former Secretary of State Finley of Kentucky, are several which charge that the refugees could not get a fair trial because the system under which juries are impaneled in Kentucky enables the authorities to select a jury prejudicial in favor of or against the defendant, as desired.

LONG ISLAND NEGRO, COLONY.

Plans for Its Establishment Said to Be on Foot.

Rufus L. Perry, a colored lawyer of Brooklyn, says that plans are being made to assemble all the negroes of the United States under a sub-government of their own on Long Island.

"Negotiations are now under way for the purchase of 800,000 to 1,000,000 acres of land in the south central section of Long Island. We have an option on this land at the rate of $5 an acre. Of course, as the colony grows, more land will be required. But the acquisition of additional land will be easy. The whites now occupying much of the middle part of Long Island will gradually move to some other locality just as fast as they clear out we will clear in. In this way the colony will expand its territory."

TAMMANY THREATENED HIS JOB. And Worry Over It Killed Mr. Chandler. His Friends Say—Buried Yesterday.

The funeral of Charles W. Chandler, a foreman in the Bronx Street Cleaning Department and the father-in-law of Rudolph Aronson, the colored manager of the look place yesterday from his home, 267 Marion avenue, Fordham. He died suddenly last Friday in the Fordham railroad station of apoplexy and heart trouble.

STAGE MEN FROM ABROAD. Myrtle Belle's Arrival Yesterday—Leslie Stuart and Charles Hawtreys.

A third distinguished member of the English dramatic profession arrived in this country yesterday. Charles Hawtreys left a week between his landing from a steamer and his professional embarkment at the Garrick to-night in going to New York theatres. Leslie Stuart, the composer of Floroda, had arrived on Thursday and watched his play from a Casino box that evening.

BRIDE'S BROTHER VISITERS. Didn't Like the Idea of His Sister Marrying a Man Much Older Than Himself.

Sixteen-year-old William Messler, of 1 Waterloo place in the Bronx, has been missing from his home since Sept. 16, when his sister, who is a year older, was married to Harris Pierce, a vestryman of Grace Episcopal Church in Ypswauville near 17th street. Mr. Pierce was a widower. He is five years older than his bride, and the marriage created a stir among his acquaintances in The Bronx.

NEW-MADE WIDOW FOUND DEAD. Gas Turned On, the Police Say—Relative Assert That She Died of Disease.

Mrs. Catherine Rohlen, 62 years old, of 200 West Fourteenth street, whose husband, a retired merchant, died about a month ago, was found dead in bed at her home yesterday morning. According to the police the room was full of gas, and the woman either committed suicide or was the victim of accidentally turning the gas on. Mr. Pierce was a widower. He is five years older than his bride, and the marriage created a stir among his acquaintances in The Bronx.

TIME TO GET OVERCOATS OUT. Loan and Storage Unles Are Doing a Rushing Business These Days.

The beginning of the cold weather has caused a rush to pawnbrokers of men who have had their overcoats "in" over summer. On Saturday about one well-known "paw" was visited by 165 of his "nephews," who wished to redeem their coats. These had been pawned for, from 25 cents to $10 each, and stored in vaults. Many pawnbrokers are working overtime these days to keep their books in order.

MARRIED. BUSHNELL—APPEARED AT Newburgh on Hudson, N. Y., at St. George's Church, on Saturday, Oct. 1, 1901, by the Rev. Gustavus Adolphus Church, New York, is being considered for Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of western Massachusetts.
