

LITTLE GIRLS AS ACTRESSES. A DRAMA BY MARK TWAIN AT THE CHILDREN'S THEATRE.

Two short but heavy war plays and a passionate passage from Shakespeare make up a peculiar matinee programme for a juvenile audience.

The Children's Theatre began its season at Carnegie Lyceum yesterday afternoon with a bill singularly made up of two war dramas and a passionate passage from Shakespeare.

It had been described recently in THE SUN, upon its introduction at a vaudeville theatre, as having a boy for its principal character. He and his sister are the two stars in a Southern house, around which a battle is raging.

The second war play was by Mark Twain, or at least had been made up by Harper's Magazine story, "The Little Lady and the Lord General," by Alexander Hume Ford, author of the preceding piece. The little lady who, without knowing the life-or-death nature of her errand, McCUNE GOT THE GIRL. Lost on the Flip of the Coin, but the Bride Fooled the Other Man.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 8.—Dr. Henry E. McCune, a young dentist of Bradford, has gone to Philadelphia to visit his bride of a week. Her maiden name was Celeste McLean and she is a granddaughter of J. C. Kinsey, a Philadelphia corset manufacturer.

Although Mr. McCune lost, he decided to accompany his rival with his prospective bride and her mother to the East. The party journeyed to Cincinnati, where they arrived on Sunday. That afternoon Dr. McCune secured Miss McGinn's consent to their marriage, the mother urging the girl to the match, it being stipulated that as a "joke" on Kulp, who was pressing an ardent suit, he should not be told of the marriage and she is to remain ignorant of the telephone arrangements were made with the Probate Court clerk to secure a marriage license and Magistrate Dempsey there to officiate at the ceremony.

Kulp took the "joke" in good part. The entire party arrived in Pittsburgh on Monday, where the husband and Kulp parted. Kinsey, too, was convinced that McCune's character and station were unimpeachable and on Thursday he went home.

On Friday the girl got homesick and returned to Philadelphia and to-night McCune went on to visit her. The bride will go to school for two or three years and that period will be spent by Dr. McCune in Germany in practice with another American dentist, who wants him for an assistant.

VACCINATION SCOFFER DOWN.

Dr. Pfeiffer, Who Exposed Himself to Smallpox, Is Stricken.

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—The Boston Board of Health believes that there will be no more opposition to vaccination hereabouts when it becomes known that Dr. Immanuel Pfeiffer, the leader of the fight against virus inoculation, who visited the post house at Galphus's Island recently, is suffering from smallpox in its worst stages at his home in Bedford.

Dr. Pfeiffer got the privilege of visiting the post house because he was a physician. On his return, two weeks ago, he announced that he had exposed himself as much as possible to the disease and although he had not been vaccinated for six-five years he announced that he had no fears of being stricken.

The Board of Health put a watch on Dr. Pfeiffer and kept track of him until several days ago when he dropped out of sight. This afternoon representatives of the Health Board discovered him in bed at his home in Bedford suffering from the disease.

Dr. Pfeiffer had not been vaccinated by a physician and because he exposed himself to the weather when the first signs of the disease made their appearance, it was said by the Board members that it was hardly possible for him to live forty-eight hours. The house was quarantined and two other persons in the household, one in the West End where he is said to have visited, were fumigated.

Dr. Pfeiffer believes in individualism in medicine. He is a member of the medical faculty at State House hearings on medical precautionary matters. He was against vaccination. In fact, his visit to Galphus Island was in Bedford, where he had a theory of contagion in smallpox, if that were possible. Another of his pet theories was fasting. Not long ago he completed a series of thirty-one-day fasts.

CANADIAN LINES MERGE TOO.

SECOND AGREEMENT ESPECIALLY INVOLVING THEM.

It Has to Do With Steamship Companies Doing Business Between United States and Dominion Ports and Glasgow, and Applies to Certain Kinds of Freight.

Word comes from Montreal that in addition to the general agreement entered into recently by the Atlantic steamship lines regarding minimum rates on certain kinds of freight, there is a second agreement that takes in the lines running between United States and Canadian ports and Glasgow. This second agreement affects more especially the lines that handle the Canadian business and it was effected through Canadian despatches, say, mainly through the endeavors of A. A. Allan of H. & A. Allan and W. T. Gear of the Robert Reford Company, both of Montreal. Early in December they came to New York with the idea of making some arrangements for the lines running between Glasgow, United States and Canadian ports and Glasgow. This second agreement affects more especially the lines that handle the Canadian business and it was effected through Canadian despatches, say, mainly through the endeavors of A. A. Allan of H. & A. Allan and W. T. Gear of the Robert Reford Company, both of Montreal.

While not meeting with much success at the outset an agreement was finally drawn up and signed by the following: H. & A. Allan for the ports of Montreal, Portland and Boston; the Robert Reford Company (the Donaldson Line) for Montreal, Portland and St. John; Henderson Bros. of the Anchor Line, Baldwin & Co. for the Allan-State Line, New York; Patterson, Ramsey & Co. for the Donaldson Line, Baltimore; United States Shipping Company for the Donaldson Line from Newport News, and H. & A. Allan for the Philadelphia service.

According to the agreement, which was signed on Jan. 29, the minimum rate between any of the above-mentioned ports and Glasgow shall be as follows: Cheese, 10 shillings; butter, in cases, 12 shillings; other goods, 10 shillings; 5 shillings over cheese rate; leather, dressed in cases and rolls, 20 shillings; eggs, in cases or barrels, 15 shillings; apples and other fruit, 10 shillings; coal, 10 shillings; 25 shillings per barrel. It is also further agreed that Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News and Montreal shall be treated as one port exclusively in Canada for all classes of goods, but alone excepted, and, further, that the Montreal tariff shall be applied to each line regularly. This means, in a word, that there will be no cutting below the Montreal rates on Canadian produce.

The companies have also agreed upon a minimum passenger rate. The minimum saloon rate between a Canadian port and Europe will be $50 during the winter season, which is an advance of $5 to $10, according to steaming conditions, over the minimum rate which has been in force for some time. The Canadian lines affected by this agreement will be the Allan, Elder, Dempster and Dominion, with any of which there will be no first-class winter accommodation for less than $50 per trip.

JUDGE CLANCY IN CONTEMPT?

Legal Battle Over Montana Copper Mines Takes a New Turn.

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 8.—Contempt proceedings are threatened against Judge William Clancy of the District Court by the attorneys for the Boston and Montana companies because of an ambiguous wording in the treatment of an order made by the Supreme Court in one of the numerous injunction suits between F. A. Heinze and the company.

Last Monday the Supreme Court modified the injunction so as to exclude from its operation the big mineral veins of the Leonard and Piccolo mines and continuing it as to the Gambaite. Heinze's attorney took advantage of an ambiguous wording in the order of modification and got Judge Clancy to extend the injunction to take in a lot of territory not included in the suit. The Supreme Court, when its attention was called to the matter, set aside Judge Clancy's injunction and amended its order so as to make the court's meaning clear.

To-day, upon the representation of Heinze's attorney that the amended order still covered the same territory and admitted of a dispute as to what the Supreme Court meant, Judge Clancy renewed the injunction which had been set aside by the Supreme Court.

Attorney O. L. Evans for the mining company this evening called the attention of Judge Clancy to the fact that the new injunction was in contempt of the Supreme Court, in violation of its order. He says the Judge retorted: "You can go to the Supreme Court or get out of my court." Evans informed the Judge that contempt proceedings would be instituted.

PRINCE TUAN MAY LEAD REVOLT.

He and Tung Fu Hsiang Gathering Forces at Shingchiu.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 8.—Prince Tuan, says the North China Daily News on the authority of native papers, is still reported to be residing in a fortified town called Shingchiu, a place which he made his refuge upon the flight of the court from Peking. Prince Tuan and Gen. Tung Fu Hsiang have made their headquarters at a rallying point for their followers and all who hate the foreigners, hate the Government or hate their fellow men.

Chingchiu is a historical town and is famous for the heroic stand of ten years it made while held by the Mohammedan rebels against the emperor, the late Marquis Tao Tsung-tian from 1852 to 1872. The place had been turned into a collection of towns, each with thick mud walls around it and with one high wall with ramparts, bastions, etc., around the whole cluster of towns. Here from 300,000 to 400,000 people can easily find shelter, and from this place Tuan and Tung Fu Hsiang are sending their agents to obtain grain and recruits, perhaps with the intention of starting a rebellion.

In the Post Office fraud trial to-day one witness gave expert testimony and then the court adjourned until Feb. 17 to allow the lawyers for the defence to examine the documentary evidence.

To the Average Player: Opportunity to immeasurably increase the power of expression and to extend indefinitely the simplest repertoire. To the Multitude who "Used to Play": A revival of all the old-time musical habit and enthusiasm, with enjoyment increased by the increase of capability and scope. To the Skilled Pianist: The artistic rendition of masterpieces by the hundred instead of by the score. To the Student: The most liberal education—the most practical and helpful of all tuition. To the Entire Household: Extension of piano enjoyment to every member of the family. The Pianola means a widespread revival of interest in piano playing; the resurrection of "dead" pianos; the substitution of better instruments for those that, seldom used, had been thought "good enough." Everywhere it acts as a stimulant to musical thought—a refiner of musical taste—an educational force. The Pianola is an instrument whose great artistic and popular success of the past three years is likely to be immeasurably increased as more and more the advantages of it are realized by the thousands whose taste for piano playing can thus be gratified to a degree possible by no other means and in no other way. ANOTHER SEVERE SNOWSTORM. Railroad Traffic in Central New York Seriously Impeded. SYRACUSE, Feb. 8.—The second severe snowstorm of the season is raging and the city is badly tied up as it was the first part of the week. An unusually hard snowstorm, accompanied by high wind, has caused trouble on all of the railroads. A party of dancers, numbering over 100, had to stay in the cars all night at Long Branch, on Onondaga Lake, it being impossible for cars on the Baldwinsville electric road to reach the city. On the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway all efforts to move freight were abandoned. No trains are running north, and to the south only one track between Apulia and Cortland is open. Trains on the New York Central are from one to two hours late. The local rapid transit lines are being kept open. LYONS, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Another blizzard, coming from the Northwest, struck here last night. The downfall of snow is light, but it is accompanied by a fierce wind which has blocked country roads, impeded traffic on the steam railroads and blocked the electric system in northern Wayne county. 22 Degrees Below Zero Out West. YONKERS, N. Y., Feb. 8.—A little man entered the City Clerk's office at noon to-day and presented papers to City Clerk O'Brien showing that he had served in the Spanish-American War. Mr. O'Brien glanced at them and handed them back, whereupon the man announced that he was Christ and that he wanted the world. "Well go over to Cooper, the Commissioner of Public Works, and he will give it to you," responded the clerk. The man shouted that he wanted to kill all the Spaniards and then hurried a big bottle of red ink that lay on the desk at the City Clerk's heels. Mr. O'Brien dodged it and the bottle was smashed against the wall. Bystanders threw the man down and held him until the police came. The prisoner gave his name as John Schilling, but nothing further could be learned about him. He is in a padded cell at police headquarters. New Dry Dock for the Navy Yard. It was said last night that Dr. Egbert Guernsey, who has been very ill for several weeks at his residence, 183 Central Park South, was so much improved that he was able to sit up for a time. His family were very much elated at the favorable turn. Thief Caught in Pawnshop. He Had Robbed Two Houses Within Twelve Hours, He Said. Capt. Gannon and Detective Higgins saw a man trying to pawn furs in a Third Avenue pawnshop yesterday afternoon and on general principles they arrested him. The prisoner, who was well dressed and muscular, said he was Edward Kellogg, homeless. When the handcuffs were put on him he tried to strike the captain and detective with a jimmy. They took him to the station, where he made a confession, according to Capt. Gannon, and said that he had committed two burglaries since Friday night. One was in Mrs. Mary McArthur's flat at 169 East Eighty-eighth street, where he stole two diamond pins, valued at $300; a muff, a pair of curtains and a sealskin cape. This was done, according to Capt. Gannon, on Friday night. The prisoner said he broke into John Hamill's flat at 5 East Eighty-seventh street yesterday afternoon while Mrs. Hamill and the servants were out. The door was pried open with a jimmy. Here he got about $400 worth of stuff, some of which he was trying to pawn when arrested. Mrs. Hamill didn't know that she had been robbed until Capt. Gannon brought the prisoner to the house. Most of the stolen property, all of which was valued at $300, Capt. Gannon recovered. Knocked Down by a Car. While crossing Park row just west of the Bridge last night, Thomas Sullivan, a longshoreman of 146 High street, Brooklyn, was struck by a northbound Third Avenue car. He got a scalp wound and bruises on his arms. He was removed to the emergency hospital at the Bridge where Dr. Beckwith of the Hudson street hospital attended him.

Better than a Gold Mine. A Safe, Sound, Permanent and Extremely Profitable Enterprise. The Colonial Marble Company, of Spokane, Washington. Capital Stock, 1,500,000 Shares, Par Value $1.00, Full Paid, Non-Assessable, 500,000 Shares Treasury Stock. In Stevens County, Washington, about 45 miles north of Spokane, there has recently been discovered one of the finest and most extensive deposits of marble and granite in the United States. A number of good business men associated themselves together in the purchase of this immense deposit of marble and have created the Colonial Marble Company. The holdings of the company comprise nearly 300 acres of land, practically every foot of which contains nothing but pure marble, of all valuable building stone. The deposit is a vast mountain, attaining a height of over 500 feet above the normal level of the surroundings. Marble is a staple article. It enters more extensively into the architecture of the country than any other material. It is necessary to the accomplishment of lasting beautiful designs in ornamentation. A fine quality of marble is coveted because it is rare, and it is desirable because it is beautiful. This great quarry marble has grown scarce in the United States have long since passed under control of large corporations and few persons have had the opportunity to present the marble industry as an investment. BEAUTY OF FINISH AND WIDE RANGE OF COLOR, WILL EQUAL IF NOT SURPASS, THE PRODUCT OF ANY OTHER QUARRIES IN THE UNITED STATES. As a test of reliability of this statement we invite comparison. The depth of the deposit is at least 300 feet at its base. It is estimated that there are ten continuous properties embraced in the holdings of the Colonial Marble Company. Each property contains an area of 500 feet in width by 1,500 feet in length. To determine the real value of the deposit, it is necessary only to call your attention to the fact that one of these claims alone, 500 by 1,500 feet on the surface by 300 feet deep, contains four hundred and fifty million cubic feet of pure marble. To say that this marble can be put into commercial form and marketed at a net profit of two dollars per cubic foot to the company is to estimate below its real value. The truth is that twice this gain will not fall below the profit. We give you these facts and figures and ask you to figure out the possibilities of this enterprise. There are about 13 cubic feet of marble in a ton. An average profit of $2 per foot makes this marble yield better returns than the most remarkable gold mine on earth. There are no tunnels to sink, no shafts to sink, no assays, no tests, no smelter charges. There is an abundance of the marble to be mined for quarrying. There is a world-wide market for it at good prices. Better assurance of profitable business could not be desired. There is no uncertainty about either the quality or quantity of the marble, and we know at least what we have in store. We maintain that our deposit of marble contains the largest and best deposit of pure white, white and fancy colored marble anywhere located in the entire country. There is no other deposit of marble of this size and quality. It is perfect in crystallization and adapted to all forms of architectural and monumental work, with a large variety of shape as well as fancy and decorative colors. The marble is found in position to be most economically handled, and right at the surface, with no masses of debris to be removed. Ample water power, timber and sand in abundance and good transportation facilities left nothing to be desired in nature. We are just now in the process of developing the successful business fact and the equipment assures the stock of the Colonial Marble Co. becomes at once a most inviting form of investment. The company is now offering for sale a limited number of shares for sale on a strictly cash basis. The proceeds to be used to purchase the necessary modern and complete electric plant for sawing, polishing and finishing the marble, which is more than justified by the demand already existing for the marble. The company has several large contracts for rough marble in hand, and many orders are now being taken for finished product for delivery during the season of 1902. SPECIAL INAUGURAL SALE 100,000 Shares Treasury Stock at the Charter-Member Price of 5 Cents Per Share. After this first offering of shares is sold the price will be advanced to 10c, 15c, and 20c per share with each stock sold or the stock may be withdrawn from the market entirely at any time, therefore those interested and desiring to subscribe will not be accepted for less than 30c shares, costing 45c. Think the ordinary mining, oil or other investments, there will be no long wait for dividends. No uncertainty of profitable results from the investment. The quarries are open to the inspection of any interested party. The company invites the fullest investigation on the part of those who wish to invest in stock, and will demonstrate the truth of the remarkable assertions here made regarding the extent for all time to come, and it is safe to predict that the shares will have an actual case selling value of not less than 10c per share within a few months. Address correspondence and make all remittances direct to the company and prompt attention of all will be assured. COLONIAL MARBLE COMPANY Spokane, Washington.
