

DEVERY FEEDS HIS HOSTS.

HIS BIG PICNIC LEADS HIM CERTAIN OF VICTORY.

Entertains 2,500 Men at College Point... The Hon. William S. Devery, anxious aspirant for the political boss of Tammany...

Devery's picnic was the first real chance that any of the candidates for the leadership has had to stand his following up to be counted.

Devery's outing was a success from every point of view. The crowd really made a record for College Point for an orderly behavior.

Devery went from place to place, followed by his district political advisers. He had his usual party of detective sergeants with him.

Devery distributed favors to the winners of the athletic games with a lavish hand. One man got $25 for winning two races and a number received $10 and $15 prizes.

At 6 o'clock the call for dinner was sounded. Devery led the march into the dining hall, and when everybody had been seated, made a speech.

It was almost 11 o'clock last night when the Devery crowd got back to town, and their parade through the district was the signal for a burst of fireworks.

He is endorsed by Patriots Who Remember His Father and Mother. The Kings County Patriotic and Benevolent Association voted last night to endorse Devery's candidacy for leader in the Ninth district.

BACK TALK FROM A DETECTIVE.

It Gets Him Into Trouble With Magistrate Crane in Harlem.

Central Office Detective Charlton arraigned in Harlem police court yesterday Oscar Allen, a negro waiter, for stealing a diamond ring from Mrs. Hugo Hoefler of 412 West 142d street while she was a guest this summer at the Hotel Kensington.

Magistrate Crane asked the negro if he had made a confession and he declared he had not. "I believe you," said the Magistrate. "What evidence have you that this man stole the ring?" asked Magistrate Crane of the detective.

He admitted to us that he pvened the ring," said Boyle. The Magistrate said that he would have to have more specific evidence against the prisoner, adding: "I believe this man, and you," indicating Boyle, "know very well why I say that I believe him as against your statement."

Soft hats here, a plenty; Stetson's with three decades of reputation to live up to, and only the best of Stetson's, $5, $6 and $7. Others less famous, $3 and $3.50.

Derbies—all the good stuff blocks in the good old stuff that makes as good a Derby for $4 as any $5 hat we know, and at $3 a better hat than we know elsewhere at the price.

Police to Help McCullagh

IN SUPPRESSING "WHOLESALE FRAUD" AT THE PRIMARIES.

The State Election Superintendent Supplement His Request for Aid With a Letter and a List of Illegal Enrollments in Had Tom Dunn's District.

State Superintendent of Elections John McCullagh saw Commissioner Partridge on Tuesday and asked him for police aid in suppressing fraud on primary day, Sept. 16.

Yesterday Supt. McCullagh sent to the Commissioner a letter in which he gives his reasons for asking assistance and declares that the charges of wholesale fraud have been fully confirmed.

With this letter Supt. McCullagh sent a list of names which had been placed on the rolls of the Twenty-sixth Assembly district, and which ex-Sheriff Dunn declared to be fraudulent.

Justice Stokes, who presided, Court began yesterday to hear the application for mandamus made by Bud Tom Dunn against the primary.

Justice Stokes said that every case was entitled to a hearing, and that in all cases in which the men whose names were signed on the transfer blanks made affidavit that they wanted to vote in the primaries, and were entitled to do so, the names would be left on the roll.

One story yesterday was to the effect that Mr. Dunn had included the names of a lot of his friends in the applications, and he had no idea that they would be stricken off.

HODGE STEEL SUIT ARGUED.

PLAINTIFF NOT PERMITTED TO APPEAR AS OWN LAWYER.

His Counsel Had Asked That Hodge, as a Member of the Bar, Be Allowed to Argue His Own Case, but the Judge Said He Couldn't Because Complainant.

Alan H. Strong, counsel for complainants in the suit to prevent the United States Steel Corporation from converting $200,000,000 of preferred stock into bonds, continued his argument before Vice-Chancellor Emery in Newark yesterday.

The counsel present at the trial were R. V. Lindabury, Charles L. Corbin and William D. Guthrie, representing the corporation, and Robert H. McCarter, Frank Bergen and Alan H. Strong, in behalf of the complainants.

Mr. Strong said that the stockholders were interested in the conversion of the corporation's stock into bonds, and that the conversion had been conducted secretly through those most deeply interested.

He said that the great importance of the conversion was that it would give the stockholders no voice in the matter, and that the conversion would be a complete and final one.

Mr. Strong said that the conversion would be a complete and final one, and that the stockholders would have no voice in the matter.
