The regiment commanders are expected to send companies of their men to the collieries and the mining patches and over the mountains into squads to guard the workers and their homes, if necessary.

There are under particular instructions to guard the time in making arrests, if needed, and the prisoners instead of being released on bail by the civil authorities will be held in the guardhouses until they are considered a menace to public safety.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 9.—Brig-Gen. special staff and the 11th Cavalry are expected to arrive this afternoon on a special train. A conference was held with Capt. Luther of the Reading, Coal and Iron Company and other officials of the Reading and other collieries.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 9.—With the arrival of additional troops to-day the Sheridan Troop of Tyrone went away. They are escorted by the Governor's Troop of Harrisburg. The latter reached the city this afternoon. Two battalions of the 11th Cavalry reached the city to-day and went into camp in the north end of the city.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 9.—The Reading Railway will do an enormous business after the strike is over is the belief of its president, George F. Baer. Accordingly, the latter placed orders to-day for 1,000 new cars. They are to be built and run on to the coal regions.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 9.—Frank Leach, the Philadelphia member of the Manufacturers' Committee, which came to this city to settle the strike, would say nothing more to-day of its plans for the future. He would not even divulge the place of meeting on Oct. 14, but hinted vaguely at possibilities.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 9.—It was stated at the office of President George F. Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway this morning that President Baer had not resigned and that he had no intention of doing so.

AMEND, DAVIS AND McCALL.

Devery sits With Executive Committee. "Wipe Out Reform Institutions" Says Chairman—Platt Form Deals With Beer and Cattle Law's Rule Failure.

For Justice of the Supreme Court Tammany last night nominated Edward B. Amend, Vernon M. Davis and Edward E. McCall. In point of numbers it was the largest convention held in Tammany Hall in recent years.

Devery was at the hall at 6:30 o'clock when the Executive Committee met in the council room on the first floor. He was there to attend if there was no objection. Goodwin did not appear.

Devery's all right, Chief. Come in. Devery sat in the meeting, but said nothing. When the ticket as agreed on was read to the members Isaac A. Hopper of the Thirty-first district moved to substitute the name of Charles W. Dayton for that of Mr. Davis.

Asa Bird Gardner, who is a member of the Executive Committee, ex-officio, by virtue of his membership, seconded the motion. The chair ruled that Col. Gardner was not entitled to a vote. No one else offered to second the motion and it fell.

Devery's delegates to the convention arrived at 9 o'clock this evening from St. Johnsbury, where he had been with the representatives of the Vermont Legislature to attend the funeral of Gen. Groat. A reporter called his attention to the story published to-day to the effect that an antielection day was made by which Fletcher D. Proctor withdrew from the gubernatorial race.

George M. Van Hoesen opened the meeting and nominated John Harburger for chairman. Secretary Smith called the roll. When he was in the middle of it Devery came in, strolled down the aisle to the front row and across the hall to the most prominent place in the room.

TIM SULLIVAN FREES HIS MIND.

Has Got Only $45,000 a Year and $50,000 Laid Up and Got It Honorably. Big Tim Sullivan is going down to Battery Park in his clubhouse in the First Assembly district next Wednesday night to make the speech of his campaign for Congress in the Eighth.

"I'm going to tell the public who I am and what I am," said Senator Sullivan yesterday at Tammany Hall. "All sorts of things have been said about me in the past ten years because I've never denied these stories or slanted back. I know that I have made $100,000 on a salary of $1,500 a year. I have an income of $45,000 a year from legitimate business and yet I can't hold on to money and I'm not worth a cent over $50,000 if all my debts were paid. If any man will show me that I'm worth more I'll give him 75 per cent of what he finds. I never could save money. The Dewey Theatre has made $100,000 in four years and I can prove my part of the interest there. I can show by books that my income is $45,000 a year from honorable business. I never owned a Bowery hotel. I have not owned a saloon or an interest in one since 1900. I did not own one when they were run in an orderly way and within the law. I've never made any money out of politics, but I've spent a lot."

Big Tim referred to the common report that he stood in with Devery when Big Bill was Chief and poolrooms and gambling houses were open. "I had been in with him then and I'd be with him now," said Tim. "No man can say I ever went back on a friend or failed to keep a promise."

Then Big Tim went back to help pick out some Justices for the Supreme Court.

PROCTOR NOT TO RESIGN. The Senator Denies That He Made a Deal to Have His Son Appointed. MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 9.—When Senator Redfield Proctor arrived in Montpelier by train at 9 o'clock this evening from St. Johnsbury, where he had been with the representatives of the Vermont Legislature to attend the funeral of Gen. Groat.

Senator Proctor was asked if he had any reply to make to the statement. He replied: "It isn't worth anything." "When he read in the last paragraph, 'The theory of the Clement men is that Senator Proctor is resigning on account of his poor health,' he smiled and said: 'Hold on, there may be something to this. This despatch says I am in poor health. My friends now say I am in good health. I have just returned from a canoe trip this summer and have just come down from New Brunswick where I killed my all. Perhaps I am in poor health, but small, but this is the first I had heard of it.'

Senator Proctor stamped the story as a fabrication not worth answering seriously. His ready complex gave indication of anything but poor health.

GRUBER APPEALS TO ODELL. To Have a Deputy Attorney-General Present District Attorney's Detective. Col. Abe Gruber has sent a letter to Gov. Odell, asking for the appointment of a special Deputy Attorney-General and a special Grand Jury. Mr. Gruber called James S. McCoy last May in a poolroom raid at the Sherman House in East Forty-second street, and shot at Mr. McCoy, who was present, had shot at McCallan.

Mr. Gruber sent a copy of the letter to the District Attorney, at whose office the letter was read. The letter said that the delay on the District Attorney's part in the case of McCallan was incomprehensible to the public. Gruber called the delay "an indictment for assault in the first degree." He says that he has tried time and again to get the case before the Grand Jury, but has been frustrated by the District Attorney's office.

McCallan is out on bail and McCoy is also walking around town, with McCallan's bullet in his head. Mr. Gruber called the delay "an indictment for assault in the first degree." He says that he has tried time and again to get the case before the Grand Jury, but has been frustrated by the District Attorney's office.

A DAY OFF IN THE CAMPAIGN.

BOTH SIDES HEARKENING FOR NEWS OF COAL STRIKE. Democratic Manager Carlisle Opens Headquarters at the Hoffman—Doesn't Know if Coler Will Stump the State—Odell May Make Roosevelt '98 Tour.

The political managers at the Republican and Democratic camps at the Fifth Avenue Hotel and the Hoffman House didn't do very much yesterday. Practically all work was suspended pending the coal strike conference. Chairman George W. Dunn of the Republican camp was on hand all day, and he discussed with a number of up-State Republicans the situation in the cities of the first and second class. But the conversations were desultory, and ended always in prophecies as to the settlement of the coal strike.

Chairman John N. Carlisle, who is to manage Mr. Coler's campaign from the Hoffman House, opened his headquarters in the rooms from which the Mayorality fight was conducted last year by Edward M. Shepard. Some of the Democrats said that these headquarters were hoodooed. This is Mr. Carlisle's first attempt to manage a campaign. He didn't know yet whether the Calamity candidate is to be sent out through the State to tell in his inimitable way the reasons of his campaign. Some of the Democrats were present and who had heard the Calamity candidate speak suggested that Mr. Coler might be sent through the State with a typewritten statement in his hand, and after being in effect a leaflet, they would like some members of Congress do in the House, tell the audience that he would "leg leave to print."

That Mr. Coler is not an orator. Big Tim Sullivan and Big Bill Devery say that Coler is a famous speaker, and Big Bill admit that Mr. Coler might equal himself. Big Tim Sullivan said that Mr. Coler should be sent into every hamlet and crossroad town in the State. Big Tim and Big Bill believe that when the people see Mr. Coler and hear him speak, they will keep awake all night to vote for him on election morning.

Mr. Hill does not quite agree with Big Tim and Big Bill. He doesn't believe that large audiences could see vote getters. He told a political friend a short time ago about his own campaign in 1894, when he was beaten for governor by 160,000 plurality. Mr. Hill in telling the story said: "No candidate for office in the State of New York ever had larger audiences than I did in that campaign. Everywhere I spoke thousands upon thousands turned out to hear me. I thought surely I was to be elected. I believed it firmly. I was just as confident in the eve of election day that I was to go back to Albany as Governor of the State as that I breathed. On election night I said to myself, when I heard the result, 'I have been elected.' The people only turned out from mere curiosity to see me and hear me just as they would go to see the elephant in a circus."

Mr. Hill is a strong supporter of Mr. Coler on a stump tour through the State. Mr. Hill believes that he should do all the talking. Years ago Mr. Hill was an effective speaker. His friends now say Odell is a stump tour through the State. Mr. Hill believes that he should do all the talking. Years ago Mr. Hill was an effective speaker. His friends now say Odell is a stump tour through the State.

Gov. Odell may decide to follow the lead of the Republican candidate for Governor, Mr. Roosevelt, who swung around the circle of the State and made most effective speeches. Gov. Odell is a plain, straightforward speaker and deals only in facts and figures. He has none of the flourishes of the orator. It is his intention in his speech to instruct the voters on the coal strike, and to emphasize by his administration at Albany.

After a final decision has been reached concerning the coal strike situation, the Governor will be in charge of the Republican and Democratic camps will get to work with a vim and the fur will fly in all directions. Practically, there will be only a three weeks' campaign.

GOV. KIMBALL RENOMINATED. Rhode Island Republicans Also Indorse Roosevelt for 1904. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 9.—The Rhode Island State convention to-day renominated Gov. Kimball and the rest of the State officers. Congressman Bull and Capron were also renominated.

The platform calls for the renomination of President Roosevelt in 1904. It also commends the President's Cuban policy, praises the work of the soldiers in the Philippines and says a change in conditions requires the tariff should be so amended that it may be made by a Republican Congress.

In regard to the trusts it declares that any evils which may arise from combination of capital should be summarily suppressed by proper legislation.

Plummer of Maine is Coming. Major Gleason, in command of the oratorical artillery at Republican State Headquarters, called a telegram yesterday from Plummer of Maine, who said: "Am holding out until Tuesday. Shall I come?" Major Gleason sent for him. "I haven't a cent to-day," replied Plummer, "but if you can hold out until next Tuesday I'll have some money."

Plunkitt Gathers in G. N. Y. D. Senator Plunkitt has captured the Greater New York Democracy organization of the Seventeenth Assembly district. John Brannigan, the Cantor-Sheehan leader of the district, has sent out a circular signed by him and Dennis J. Harrington and Philip Markey, two of his lieutenants, calling on their friends to support Plunkitt.

The real humor of this situation lies in the circumstance that Leader Brannigan recently got a $3,000 job for his brother from President Cantor.

Sullivan County Democratic Nominations. MONTICELLO, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Sullivan County Democrats met in the court house here to-day and placed in nomination Charles Barnum, editor of the Republican Watchman of Monticello, for Assemblyman, William C. Brand for County Clerk, Jesse L. Perry for School Commissioner, First district, and George Knoll for School Commissioner, Second district. The convention adopted resolutions complimentary to the Saratoga convention for its excellent choice of a candidate for Governor, Bird S. Coler.

Republican Nominations. Congress—Tenth District—William Blau, lawyer and secretary of the Hungarian Republican Club. FOR SENATE. Tenth District—William A. Cookley, General President of the International Protective Association of Lithographers' Apprentices and Press Feeders. Seventeenth District—Mayer Schoenfeld, local representative of the Baron De Hirsch Fund. Twelfth District—Emerich Kohn, a lawyer. Sixteenth District—Thomas M. Belknap, a lawyer. Twentieth District—M. Frederick Werner, a lawyer. Eighteenth District—John Goode, a lawyer.

FOR ASSEMBLY. Dist. 1—Joseph Casey. Dist. 12—Jacob Cebulsky. 2—M. J. Greer. 13—Ed. J. Kelly. 3—M. J. Jacobs. 14—Edward Schiller. 4—Frank Pittilli. 15—J. H. Cohan. 5—Van Vorst. 16—J. H. Cohan.

THE BIRD MAKING MISCHIEF. TROUBLE OVER COLER AMONG BROOKLYN LEADERS. Wishes of Shevlin and McCarren Disregarded by McLaughlin—Coler's Choice, Not Thine, Followed in the Making of Kings Democratic Nominations.

The candidacy of Bird S. Coler threatens to disturb the harmony which has long prevailed between the Hon. Hugh McLaughlin and the Assembly District leaders of the Democratic organization in Brooklyn. Close observers of recent occurrences at the Willoughby street auction room believe that while no actual hostilities will break out during the campaign, a clash between the managers is sure to follow the defeat of Coler.

Mr. McLaughlin's remarkable interest in the political fortunes of Coler has continued to be manifested since his return from Saratoga. In the make-up of all the local tickets, he has ignored the wishes of his two former most trusted lieutenants, James Shevlin and Senator P. H. McCarren, and followed the advice of the candidate for Governor.

This tendency was significantly manifested by the nomination of Robert H. Baker, a rampant Bryanite, Single Taxer and extreme radical Democrat, for Congress in the Sixth district. This was done at Mr. Coler's request and against the protest of most of the district leaders, as well as the followers of Edward M. Shepard. Baker endeavored himself to Coler by clamorously advocating his nomination for Mayor last year in the Brooklyn campaign of the Citizens' Union, of which he was the secretary.

Coincident with the relegation of Messrs. Shevlin and McCarren to back seats at Mr. Coler's council board, was the advancement of ex-Bridge Commissioner John L. Shea and ex-Police Commissioner Bernard J. York. It is said that, in spite of the fact that Shea and York are members of the twenty-one Executive Committee members sided with Shevlin and McCarren in their opposition to his nomination.

Mr. Coler's council board, which was held last night at whether Coler will lose the old man will retire for good from active political management and let the others fight it out for control. Mr. Coler, according to the bulletin boards put out yesterday at Democratic headquarters, Mr. Coler has received permission to do some talking at the Hill power at the Academy of Music to-morrow night. These were the speakers announced: David B. Hill, Comptroller; Grout, Charles N. Bulger, Edward M. Shepard and Bird S. Coler.

The Democrats in Kings county completed their Assembly ticket last night by nominating Francis Byrns in the Tenth district.

Comrade of Roosevelt in Assembly. The Republicans of Richmond county held their convention last night at the German Club rooms in Stapleton. Clinton G. Daniels of West Brighton was nominated for County Clerk, and Walter H. Price of Gradyville was named for Assembly. Mr. Price was a member of President Roosevelt's regiment and served with him in Cuba.

Albany County Democratic Nominations. ALBANY, Oct. 9.—The Democrats of Albany county to-day nominated John A. McCarthy, proprietor of the Albany Press and Knickerbocker, for Senator, Peter J. Yeeder of Guilderland for County Treasurer, Leopold Scarpa of Albany and John M. Ryan of Watervliet for Coroners.

Nominations for Congress Declined. ALBANY, Oct. 9.—Edwin K. Burnham has declined the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Wayne district and Philip H. Weaver the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Oneida district.

Would Contemn Hall of Records. The Department of Buildings applied yesterday to Justice Leventritt in the Supreme Court for an order condemning the old Hall of Records as unsafe and dangerous. The Justice put the matter over until to-day.

Of course you know that the secret of really good bread-making is in the THOROUGH KNEADING OF THE DOUGH. That is the crucial test.

Old Homestead Bread is more thoroughly kneaded than any other bread made. Our patent KNEADING MACHINE manipulates the dough with the deftness of the fingers and with the strength of machinery.

We use only the very highest grade of flour. The water is sterilized and kept at an even temperature. The absolute Cleanliness of all the conditions in which the bread is made is satisfying to all who have investigated. We wrap each loaf in paraffin paper, which keeps out moisture and dust.

If your grocer does not keep Old Homestead Bread for sale, send us your name and address and your grocer's also, and we will see that you are supplied.

It has cured coughs and colds for fifty years. It's a harmless and effective remedy and will cure you in a day.
