

FAVORITES WIN AT MATCH PLAY

GOOD GOLF IN ATLANTIC CITY TOURNAMENT.

Travis and Douglas each takes his match in second round with a pair margin. The Fox brothers play a close game—defeat of Lynch surprise.

NORTHFIELD, N. J., Nov. 7.—While favorite Douglas today in the match play golf tournament of the Atlantic City Country Club, each winner had to play all he knew to gain success. Douglas, who has been absent on sick leave from the links for some months, showed that he was conversant by beating Baldwin, by 5 up and 4 to play.

There was a surprise at the finish of the McCreedy and Lynch match, for the former won out by 2 up. The Lakewood crack was off on his short game, and this cancelled the benefits he derived from his long game which was excellent. Their card was:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Includes Douglas, Baldwin, McCreedy, Lynch, and Fox brothers.

There was a cold north wind blowing, but otherwise the golfing conditions were superb and the clubhouse was crowded all day long.

In the morning there was one match that attracted twenty spectators. It was between two Foxes, who are brothers, and the family rivalry carried that match to that extreme degree. All entries at the clubhouse were halved in the morning, but in the afternoon, through being short on balls, the match was a 3 to 2 in favor of the second hole.

An incident of the morning was that Lynch held out for a hole, but Douglas, who had a 20 yard shot, and obtained a half in 3 with a 20 yard shot, and obtained a half in 3 with a 20 yard shot.

The first pack put down was the Rock Ridge kennels No. 2, Monte, Post, Fatless and Bitch. The pack was made up of four dogs and the hunt was fairly well.

Rock Ridge kennels No. 1 pack, Lucy, L. Pumper, Fatless and Songster were the top lot. They were not under control on the Hunt. The pack was made up of four dogs and the hunt was fairly well.

Charles F. Brooke's pack, Bessie B, Bonnie B, Bertie B, and Haas B, did fairly well, but the pack was not under control on the Hunt. The pack was made up of four dogs and the hunt was fairly well.

CHINAMAN WITH BAD CHECKS.

An Up-to-date Oriental Arraigned in the Tombs Police Court.

The Tombs police court had an unusual prisoner yesterday—a Chinaman who was accused of passing bad checks. The Tombs court is familiar with Chinamen, especially with Chinamen who run opium joints, who refuse to give up today's money, and who complain of broken windows and stone-throwing small boys, but not with Chinamen who open an account in one bank with a bogus check on another and then pay hotel bills and clothing bills with new checks against the old one.

The Chinaman who is charged with doing all this is Ing Gink, a neat that's the court record of his name. Ing Gink, who has been in this country for fourteen years, came to New York from Martinsville, Va., on Tuesday and went to the Astor House. After he had been there a few days, A. H. Thompson, the manager, asked him to pay his bill, and when he refused to do so, he was arrested.
