

GREAT TRIBUTE TO SHERMAN.

HALF THE CITY SEES HIS GRANDSON UNVEIL HIS STATUE.

Veterans, Regular Troops and a National Guard Brigade in the Parade That Preceded—Gen. Chaffee the Hero of That—Major Receives the Statue for the City and Secretary Root Makes the Oration—Miss Roosevelt There.

William Tecumseh Sherman was New York's Memorial Day hero yesterday. St. Gaudens's equestrian statue of him, given to the city by the Chamber of Commerce, was unveiled in the Plaza yesterday morning and the veterans of Sherman's legions, their sons and their grandsons, the white-haired warriors of the Rebellion, the gallant young bucks of the Spanish-American War, the citizen soldiery of this island, the brave battalions of the schoolboys and the all-around band of the Loyal Legion marched up Fifth avenue in honor of themselves, in honor of the great army of their comrades for whom they have already sounded, and in honor of the great dead commander, second in the splendid triumvirate of American Generals.

Military sharps with long memories said that the parade was the most imposing seen in the old city in many a Memorial Day. It was certainly one of the largest. The line took an hour and a half to pass a given point.

There was only one jarring feature of the parade. For some reason not officially explained, an organization excellent enough in its way and in its place took part in the parade. It was the comment of those on the reviewing stand that it had no more business in a Memorial Day parade than had a lodge of the Knights Templars or of the Order of Elks in a turnout sacred to the memory of the saddle as of the sword. The parade formed in Washington Square and moved promptly at 9 o'clock, under command of Major-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, U. S. A., commander of the Department of the East and grand marshal of the day. The line of march was up Fifth avenue to Sixtieth street, where the Sherman statue was to be unveiled, and thence to descend through the side streets eastward to Park.

CHAFFEE THE CROWD'S HERO. It seemed evident from the remarks made by the crowds along the line that the people had come out quite as much to see what manner of man was Chaffee, veteran of three wars, but still as active as a young recruit, as to see the parade.

And however great may be Gen. Chaffee's reputation for courage and daring, he looked up to it. Mounted on a superb bay and riding in the full dress of a Major-General, sitting in the saddle as if he were a rider of one place, his face thoroughly bronzed, the square chin firmly set and the grizzled mustache bristling on the upper lip, Gen. Chaffee was the incarnation of the force and the discipline of the Regular army. It was not the perfunctory cheers of a good-natured crowd that he received, but a full-throated ovation from Washington Arch to the reviewing stand. The cheer was of one piece, his face thoroughly bronzed, the square chin firmly set and the grizzled mustache bristling on the upper lip, Gen. Chaffee was the incarnation of the force and the discipline of the Regular army.

Secretary Root, when introduced as the orator of the day, had under his arm a large bundle that he usually carries with him. He was introduced as the orator of the day, had under his arm a large bundle that he usually carries with him. He was introduced as the orator of the day, had under his arm a large bundle that he usually carries with him.

SECRETARY ROOT'S ORATION. Secretary Root, when introduced as the orator of the day, had under his arm a large bundle that he usually carries with him. He was introduced as the orator of the day, had under his arm a large bundle that he usually carries with him.

THREE MONUMENTS UNVEILED. Morristown Remembers Heroes of the Revolutionary War. MORRISTOWN, N. J., May 30.—Although to-day was observed chiefly as Memorial Day, interesting ceremonies were held in the First Presbyterian Church by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution in memory of soldiers of the Revolution who are buried here.

WANTS TABLET TO YALE HEROES. Dr. Newman Smyth's Suggestion at the University's Memorial Exercises. NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 30.—About forty persons, half of whom were students, were present at the Memorial Day services of Yale University in Battell Chapel yesterday.

QUEENS BOROUGH CELEBRATES. All the soldiers' graves in St. Michael's, Calvary and Mount Olive cemeteries, in Queens borough, were decorated yesterday by Grand Army men. A big funeral parade was a feature of the day.

VETERANS MARCH IN BROOKLYN. Grand Army Posts Present a Gold Watch to Gen. McLeer. Memorial Day was generally observed in Brooklyn yesterday. The principal feature of the day was the parade in the morning.

MEMBERS OF THE JOHN DIXIE POST. Members of the John Dixie Post, No. 13, G. R., in command of George Dewey, went to Trinity Cemetery at 15th street and Amsterdam avenue, and decorated the graves of the post members.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

MISS ROOSEVELT AT THE REVIEW. Gov. Odell and his staff, in their gorgeous uniforms, were escorted to the reviewing stand by the Old Guard, Capt. Robert L. Wood, commanding the 1st Regiment of the Old Guard band.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

THE STATUE. Critics have said that the statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece. The statue is St. Gaudens's masterpiece.

FLAT FIRE NOT INCENDIARY.

Everard's Friends Indignant Over His Treatment by Detective Lyons.

The father and friends of young James Everard, the nephew of the brewer, professed to be very indignant yesterday over the conduct of Detective Lyons of the detective who on Friday afternoon got Everard to accompany him to a place where he had a new dealer look him over to see if he recognized him as the man the newsdealer says he saw running away from the fire at 308 West 13th street, where four persons lost their lives.

Joseph Everard, father of the young man, declared that the whole thing was an outrage and an attempt at blackmail, and declared his intention of asking his lawyer, David Neuberger, to bring a suit for damages against the detective voluntarily, the case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

BUTLER IN ALL ITS GLORY.

ITS TOWN HALL, NATIONAL BANK AND FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Grew From a Village to a Prosperous Borough in Two Years and Celebrated, With the Assistance of Neighbors, Its Rapid Rise to Wealth and Fame.

BUTLER, N. J., May 30.—Amid the music of the Butler Silver Cornet Band, assisted by the Pompton Lake Trombone Quintet and the Campgaw Oracles, the popping of firecrackers, the tooting of the horns of the members of all the fire departments for general merriment and the hoarse shout of the proud and haughty natives of the place, the borough of Butler took a mighty forward leap in its history to-day.

For months Butler has been getting ready for the occasion, and now that it has celebrated its recently acquired mightiness it is pleasant to be able to report that it is resting easy to-night, the silence of the streets being only occasionally broken by the firemen from the neighboring village endeavoring to induce some of their comrades to return home, and the aforementioned comrades declining on the ground that the celebration is still on.

When a village that consisted of a rubber factory, a barroom, a few houses and one or two stores grew in two years to a borough of 4,000 persons, four rubber factories, a national bank, a town hall, a fire department and a silver cornet band it is due to celebrate, and Butler celebrated to-day.

For the first time the new national bank was displayed to the proud citizens, and for the first time the taxpayers saw the inside of the new town hall for which $50,000 of their money had been raised.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

Two weeks ago Mayor William Kiel decreed that to-day should be a day of general celebration over the progress of the borough of Butler. His proclamation was printed in flaming red letters and copies of it were posted up at every conspicuous place in the place.

The first time too, the Silver Cornet Band and the local fire department were on view, and for the first time in its history Butler had a public Memorial Day service, with orators from the city to address the people, and real veterans of the civil war to nod their heads sadly at the calling up of old memories.

FLAT FIRE NOT INCENDIARY.

Everard's Friends Indignant Over His Treatment by Detective Lyons.

The father and friends of young James Everard, the nephew of the brewer, professed to be very indignant yesterday over the conduct of Detective Lyons of the detective who on Friday afternoon got Everard to accompany him to a place where he had a new dealer look him over to see if he recognized him as the man the newsdealer says he saw running away from the fire at 308 West 13th street, where four persons lost their lives.

Joseph Everard, father of the young man, declared that the whole thing was an outrage and an attempt at blackmail, and declared his intention of asking his lawyer, David Neuberger, to bring a suit for damages against the detective voluntarily, the case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

FLAT FIRE NOT INCENDIARY.

Everard's Friends Indignant Over His Treatment by Detective Lyons.

The father and friends of young James Everard, the nephew of the brewer, professed to be very indignant yesterday over the conduct of Detective Lyons of the detective who on Friday afternoon got Everard to accompany him to a place where he had a new dealer look him over to see if he recognized him as the man the newsdealer says he saw running away from the fire at 308 West 13th street, where four persons lost their lives.

Joseph Everard, father of the young man, declared that the whole thing was an outrage and an attempt at blackmail, and declared his intention of asking his lawyer, David Neuberger, to bring a suit for damages against the detective voluntarily, the case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Fire Marshal Freeel, who yesterday afternoon was charged with a series of letter-box fires in his neighborhood. His lawyer, Mr. Neuberger, subsequently got permission to inspect the premises after his motion. Recorder God dismissed the indictment.

The case in which the young man became involved before appearing to have been the only reason that he was visited by Detective Lyons on Friday.

Saks & Company

Will Offer Special for Monday: Wash Fabrics.

English Batiste, Lace Lawns and Broches, 32 inches wide, dotted, striped, figured or floral effects, in all the newest colors. Values 12c. and 15c. per yard. At 9c. Madras, 32 inches wide, plain colors or stripes, in every conceivable color and shade. Values 15c. and 19c. At 10c. Glasgow Zephyrs, 32 inches wide, in designs which are adapted for shirt waists, shirt-waist suits, men's shirts and pajamas; over one hundred patterns from which to select. Values 29c. per yard. At 15c. Mercerized Silk Broche, Mousseline, Grenadine, Mercerized Striped Linen and French Organdies, in this season's newest colors and designs. Values 35c. to 50c. At 19c. French Batiste, 40 inches wide, champagne color, open woven effects, with embroidered designs in self color, tan, blue, green or pink. Value $1.25 per yard. At 48c.

Saks & Company

Will Offer Special for Monday: Dress Fabrics.

One thousand yards of all Wool Voiles, Etamines, Basket Weave Fabrics, Mohairs and Cheviots in desirable Spring colors. Formerly 59c., 75c. and $1.00 per yard. At 38c.

Saks & Company

Will Offer Special for Monday: Summer Dress Silks.

Foulard Dress Silks, 23 and 27 inches wide, satin or twill finish, in variety of patterns and colors. Value 75c. per yard. At 39c.

Saks & Company

Will Offer Special for Monday: Sheets, Cases and Bolster Slips.

The Herald Square brand of superior bleached Cotton, hand torn and graded.

Table with columns for Hemmed, Stretched, Hemmed, and Stretched, listing various fabric sizes and prices.

They will also present summer Blankets, Silkolene Comfortables and light-weight Dimity Spreads, for Summer service.

Broadway, 33d to 34th Street

MISS STONE SPEAKS.

She Hasn't Asked for Any Indemnity From Turkey—Hopes the United States Will. BOSTON, May 30.—Miss Ellen Stone, the American missionary in Turkey, who was captured by brigands and held for ransom, has broken her silence and to-day there was published the first newspaper interview with her since her release. Miss Stone, at her home in Chelsea, emphatically denied the story that she had demanded any indemnity of the Turkish Government through the United States Government.

PROFITS FOR TAMMANY MEN.

DELANEY STREET WIDENING—WHAT THEY WORKED FOR.

Away Back Under Van Wyck They Were Buying Options on Delaney Street Real Estate, but They Didn't See the Light Ahead Under That Administration. The decision of the Board of Estimate on Friday to widen Delaney street on the south side in order to make it the main thoroughfare to the new East River Bridge has gladdened the hearts of many Tammany spec