

JEROME NOT GOING TO SULK.

HE'S FOR THE PLATFORM OF DE-CENCY AGAINST INDECENCY.

"Hounds," Clerical or Other, Who Have Been Abusing Him Can Have His Services for the Cause This Time. No More Such Alliances for Him, Though.

District Attorney Jerome, who returned to the city yesterday at the end of his six weeks' vacation, was apprised of the action of the Republican and Citizens' Union conventions at his Rutgers street home. He said he did not think the news called for any comment by him.

"Mr. Jerome" asked a reporter, "will you support the platform of the fusion movement?" "I assume that the platform of the fusion movement," he said, "in its general tendency and trend will be what it will be in the last campaign—that is, that it will be a drawing of the line between decency and indecency."

"That platform did not in all its details express my views nor did I then give entire assent to all its propositions as framed, nor do I now. To that extent I shall most certainly and in every way in my power aid the movement."

"A man who tells you that he is indifferent to the disapprobation of his fellows is either a fool or a knave. He is a knave for lying and a fool for thinking that you believe him."

"It is no pleasant task, nor is it grateful to me, to have words used in connection with my honor as a man which not one of the hounds who has used them dare to have used to me in person, unless protected by his cloth or by my power."

Men of long enduring hopes and careers who the hour may bring can patronize the cause of the fusion movement. And Brumhals when they try to sting.

"It is hardly conceivable that persons who in the past few days have been going with each other to the assembly of the English language for epithets which ought to be offensive to a gentleman would look for aid from a man at whom they have addressed the epithets their resources have discovered."

"But if, when the business of the October term of the courts is reasonably well in hand, I should be that as an intruder and abusive person, one whose words were so rapid and inane as to destroy themselves, can ever be of service to a cause for which he has worked, and known when it was said by the persons saying it, to be untrue, will prove no barrier to me from supporting the cause, and will not be a great and valuable to allow it to be prejudiced, so far as I can prevent it, by the words of the weaklings who are simply trying to advance it."

"I should be discouraged more than I have words to express did I believe that we had heard the sincere and untrammelled expression of the delegates in those conventions."

"I have not based my judgment upon the expressions of weaklings like Fulton, whose feeble defence, if I am correctly informed, there was not even the courtesy to hear on the part of those who crushed him unheard, but upon the information of men good and true and loyal."

"I've made my fight, and as it was, I've not one word to retract, amend or soften. Everything I have said is absolutely true, and is known to be so. I will fight the fight, if such a man as I can be of service, to the bitter end."

"And when it is over I will shake the dust of it from my feet, and until I can find leaders to lead me, I will not go to the aid of any man who is more than a hypocrite, and to whom faith means more than even victory. I will stand as I have stood to-day—alone."

Those who are not even the courtesy to hear on the part of those who crushed him unheard, but upon the information of men good and true and loyal."

"Some such announcement as the District Attorney's closing statement has been expected for some time from those who have followed his course of thought in the fight against the fusion movement."

"I have been unable to find any rational discussion. I see from the editorials of this evening's newspapers that the same policy is to be pursued, and the statements contained in Fulton's letters."

"There is to be no examination into the question as to whether Mr. Fulton to facts in these personal statements are to be met simply by unlimited abuse of Fulton."

Mr. Jerome observed that even Mr. Cutting, in his letter to Mr. Jerome, did not specifically deny the truth of Fulton's statements as to disaffection in several districts. Interviews with Mr. Cutting tended to deny Fulton's statements were offered to him, but he brushed them aside, saying:

"All I know is what has come to me from Mr. Cutting himself. I stand on his letter."

More than once Mr. Jerome on the telephone during the afternoon and asked him to go to last night's convention and "lead them."

"I suppose this is a McCallan club," said Mr. Westermacher. "Well, we've got 20,000 Democrats over in Brooklyn that want Lewis Nixon, and no one else will do," according to the Nixon boomers, ten Nixon clubs were organized last night."

MAJOR GAUS RENOMINATED IN ALBANY.
ALBANY, Sept. 23.—Mayor Charles H. Gaus was renominated for another term by the Albany organization Republican city convention to-day. The other nominees for city officers are: Comptroller, Howard N. Fuller; Treasurer, Emil C. Hoelzer; President of Common Council, William P. Heyland; Recorder, John H. Bea and John Kurtz, Jr.; Recorder, Howard Hendrickson; City Court Judge, Robert W. Scott.

EMPLOYED BOYS UNDER 14 YEARS OLD.
In the Court of Special Sessions in Brooklyn yesterday, George Andrews, who has a factory at 646 Dean street, was convicted of violating the State factory law by employing children under 14 years old without a certificate of the Health Department. Seven boys under 14 years were found in the place by Deputy State Factory Inspector Willard G. Lowmbery. Andrews was fined $20.

AMENDMENTS PROBABLY DEFEATED.
TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 23.—Returns from yesterday's special session still incomplete, say officials of the State, indicate the certain defeat of the proposed constitutional amendments. The latest Agnew, all of which are unofficial, indicate that the majority against the amendments is at least 2,000, and it is probable that the official count will make it from 2,500 to 3,000.

WON'T WIGWAM LET HEP TALK?

Why Not Set Him Specifying About His Great Dock Board Secrets?

"I had a thought, a deep red thought. That I would mind some time away. That I should be of men most sought: I had the thought—but it got away!"

The Hon. William Hep has hopped into Tammany Hall, but at the Wigwam last night a momentous statement was made. The Hon. William Hep may not be invited to make a speech in the campaign. That would be the severest blow to the Hon. William Hep, it was said, that could be administered to him, worse even than getting out of an office under Mayor Low.

When the Hon. William Hep became one of Mayor Low's Commissioners of Accounts he announced in the newspapers day after day that he would probe all the scandals of the Van Wyck administration in the various departments and make things lively. Day after day he peered around, and only those who understand the character of the city are conversant with the powers of a Commissioner of Accounts. He can go into any department and get any information he desires.

The Hon. William Hep, it is known of all men, started to investigate the Dock Board findings at the time when Leader Charles F. Murphy of Tammany was one of the Dock Commissioners, and the Hon. William Hep peered and peered around, and interviewed himself as to what he was doing, and then was interviewed in turn, until the folks expected that the wharves would sink into the East and North rivers because of the scandals.

Nothing of any great importance, however, came from the Hon. William Hep until just a year ago, when he issued a short statement, and since then there has been silence, silence, silence!

"What did Mr. Russell investigate? What were the results of his investigation? Did he find out in the Dock Board? Did he find out too much? Did he find out too little? Why did he cease his investigation of the Dock Board? Why has he been silent about the Dock Board and other departments which were ruled by Tammany for four years up to Russell's advent? What made him stop the investigation of the Dock Board immediately after Tammany won in the county last fall and Cole's vote for Governor indicated that the Republicans and their fusion friends would have a stiff battle to keep Tammany out of power this fall?"

The foregoing was a bunch of questions which were asked last night, and no man could give an explanation. But the opinion was freely expressed that the Hon. William Hep, now that he has hopped into Tammany, will not give any explanation.

Leader Murphy, his friends said yesterday, doesn't regard the Hon. William Hep as a great questioner and must not let him take the stump for the Tammany ticket. If the Hon. Hep hops into the limelight he'll have to hire his own column.

WEALTHY'S ROMANCE RUINED.
She Wanted to Be Rescued From Fire and Run Away From Wayside Home.

Ten days ago there was a slight fire in the Wayside Home at 352 Bridge street, Brooklyn, and the matron, Miss Knowles, and the Fire Marshal made an investigation, the result of which was that Wealthy Kennedy, one of the inmates, was arraigned before Magistrate Nismer, charged with arson, and the matron, Wealthy is one of the unfortunates picked up at Coney Island during the summer and committed to the Wayside Home. She did not like the restraint of the home and, with others, discussed the advisability of escaping. One of the young women attracted the attention of the matron, and she fell and broke her ankle. The girls got together and talked over a scheme by which they might escape in a "perfectly romantic manner."

Wealthy suggested that a fire be made in the bathroom. Then it would spread, she said, and she would be rescued and make romantic rescues, after which the rescued girls could run away.

Wealthy started the fire about midnight last night, and the matron, Wealthy, charged with arson, was arraigned before Magistrate Nismer. Wealthy is one of the unfortunates picked up at Coney Island during the summer and committed to the Wayside Home. She did not like the restraint of the home and, with others, discussed the advisability of escaping. One of the young women attracted the attention of the matron, and she fell and broke her ankle. The girls got together and talked over a scheme by which they might escape in a "perfectly romantic manner."

BOUNCES SCHOOL SUPPLIES MAN.
Board of Education Unanimously Against Kirkland—Stimmons Accused.

A letter from Nathan S. Jonas of the committee on supplies preferring charges against Parker T. Stimmons, superintendent of supplies, was read before the Board of Education yesterday. The board refused to divulge the nature of the charges and referred them to a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Harrison, McDonald and Adams, which will try Supt. Stimmons. Chairman Dix of the committee on supplies dismissed the charges on behalf of every member of the committee, except Mr. Jonas. He explained to the board that he brought the charges independently of the committee.

William G. Kirkland, deputy superintendent of school supplies, was dismissed by unanimous vote. He has been tried for appropriating school supplies for his personal use and for employing clerks in his personal business, when they were supposed to be working for the city.

SAYS ROOSEVELT MUST ACT.
Senator Morgan Declares That the Nicaragua Canal Must Be Dug.

MONTEBERRY, Ala., Sept. 23.—Senator John T. Morgan, who addressed the Alabama Legislature yesterday, referred to the Panama Canal treaty and said that now the treaty is dead it is mandatory on the President to build the Nicaragua Canal.

"I do not credit Roosevelt with the folly of disobeying the statute in regard to the money appropriated to build a canal," he said, "and he dare not do it, as there is no provision for it. He could not under that treaty have lived in peace with the Colombian Government a single day. We would have been here in peace and amity, but with our guns in hand. War would have followed."

YALE SOPHOMORES BEAT FRESHMEN IN WRESTLING.
New Haven, Conn., Sept. 23.—The college year at Yale was inaugurated to-night with the annual wrestling matches between the sophomores and freshmen. The sophomores won the lightweight and middleweight events, while the freshmen captured the heavyweight bout. Capt. Rafferty of the football team, although a "Shoff" man, was one of the officials on the invitation of Capt. Rafferty to referee the match. A sophomore, won the lightweight event after fighting out two draws. The middleweight event was won by W. Morrison, a sophomore, who took the second and third rounds. A freshman named Sommers took the heavyweight event with two straight falls.

THINK KILPATRICK A SUICIDE.

HIS FAMILY AND THE POLICE GIVE UP MURDER THEORY.

Turn Letter in His Room Shows That He Had Sent Money to Pay an Actress's Debt—Gathering of His Family and Friends Held Here Last Night.

Police Inspector McClusky will report to Coroner Brown to-day that John David Kilpatrick, who was found dead in his apartments at the Hotel Martiniere on Monday, committed suicide. Coroner Brown still believes that Kilpatrick was murdered and will ask the District Attorney to put some of his men on the case.

Charles D. Lindley, who shared apartments with Kilpatrick, returned to town yesterday at the request of the dead man's sister, Mrs. John P. Cook, who arrived on Tuesday from Michigan City, Ind.

Lindley reached the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where Mr. and Mrs. Cook were staying, about 7 o'clock last night. With him was his uncle, a downtown lawyer, J. Edward Lambie, the step-father of Kilpatrick, and Homer Holt, Kilpatrick's chum, were waiting for them.

At Mrs. Cook's request, Lindley told a detailed story of the case. While he was telling it, several detective sergeants from Police Headquarters remained within earshot.

Lindley said that Kilpatrick and he had spent Sunday visiting a sick friend and in the evening Kilpatrick went to call on Miss Aline Redmond, an actress. So far as he could learn Kilpatrick stayed at her boarding house, 215 West Forty-fourth street, until 11 o'clock last night. He did not return to his apartments until 9 o'clock on Monday morning. Lindley's story of the finding of the body of Kilpatrick's body agreed with the account he gave on Monday.

Lambie then explained to Mrs. Cook that the Coroner had picked up two torn letters in Kilpatrick's room. In one, addressed to Miss Redmond, Kilpatrick spoke of a check for $300 to pay a doctor's bill, and suggested that she get a receipt.

Mr. Lambie also said that Detective Carey and Brown hunted up Miss Redmond, who admitted having received the check on Sunday night last. Kilpatrick had intended to send the check by letter, but evidently changed his mind and took the check himself.

Mr. Lambie added that he was now fully satisfied that Kilpatrick had committed suicide. Mr. Lambie said that there was nothing in any of the letters that would suggest a murder.

Mrs. Cook said that she was convinced that her brother had become mentally deranged and while in this state had taken his own life.

A letter addressed to Kilpatrick and posted on Tuesday night was received at the Martiniere last night. It read as follows:

DEAR JACK: I have just returned to town and will be pleased to see you and see me as soon as you find the time. I hope you will forget the naughty, disagreeable note which I sent you last night. I remain, your lovingly, SYLVIA.

"I still believe that young Kilpatrick was either murdered or killed accidentally by one of his friends," said Coroner Brown last night. In the first place the pistol with which the shooting was done was found a foot away from the dead man's feet, and it was not a revolver, as it was a .38 Smith & Wesson, which would seem to indicate that it had been placed there carefully after the bullet had been fired.

"I have some letters in my possession which I do not intend to make public and which I know the police will not make public. The police have started the theory that the young man committed suicide, and no matter what evidence turns up they seem bound to stick to it. There may be some developments of interest at the inquest, which will be held some time next week."

Kilpatrick's body was shipped to Washington last night for burial.

PAT CROVE SUSPECTED.

Four Men Held Up a Burlington Flyer and One of Them Is Hurt.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 23.—The Burlington Flyer on the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad, bound to this city from Denver, was held up last night by four masked men. They forced an entrance to the express car after exchanging shots with the express men and blew open the safe, but the officers secured a haul of only a small amount of money.

In the explosion which burst the safe one of the robbers was badly hurt, it is believed.

The train was in charge of Conductor S. E. Harvey of St. Joseph. As soon as he saw the robbers he ran down the train and secured a haul of only a small amount of money. The robbers fled to the hills, but without success.

The Burlington road and the Adams Express Company have offered $4,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the robbers.

Pat Crowe, the kidnapper of Pecker Cudly's son, is suspected of complicity in the robbery and the messenger recognized last Sunday at the home of John Christian, an old friend, in the French Woods, north of the city.

WEDS THE MAN OF HER CHOICE.

Daughter of David J. Crouse of Amsterdam Marries Against Her Father's Wishes.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Sept. 23.—There was a general surprise in society circles in this city this afternoon when it was announced that Miss Daisy Leary Crouse, daughter of David J. Crouse, the wealthy rug manufacturer of the firm of McCleary, Wallin & Crouse, had been married to Andrew Smith of Allentown, Pa., against her parents' wishes.

Miss Crouse and Smith, who is a representative of the Hunt Holbrook Company of New York, trading stamp promoters, came here on Monday, and were married last night. Last night they went on another trolley ride to Grovesville and were married by the Rev. Dr. W. E. Thompson. They made the announcement to the girl's parents to-day, but did not receive the expected blessing and are not staying at the magnificent Crouse home. They will not reside in Amsterdam.

ANOTHER GREAT OIL FIRE AT SOUR LAKE.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 23.—Fire started early this afternoon in the Wirt Davis tract of the Shoostring district of the Sour Lake oil field and from reports that it has been possible to gather through the telephone messages that it seems to have been the most destructive that has yet visited the field. Upward of twenty derricks and connected properties are reported to be destroyed.

Harold W. Raymond, once well known as a newspaper man, was found dead last night in his room at 53 Pineapple street, Brooklyn. He had been ailing for three days and under a doctor's care. An ambulance surgeon said he had died of heart disease. Raymond was 46 years old. He had been connected with many New York newspapers.

CHINATOWN'S "FEAST OF THE MOON."

The Feast of the Moon comes along in Chinatown ten days from to-day. The occasion is the changing of the moon, and the Chinese believe that the moon will be in its full phase on the night of the 23rd. In Peil street, six doors from the Bowery, hundreds of "moon cakes" are being made. These are distributed free on the Feast of the Moon.

GIRL HIGHWAY ROBBERS.

Brigetta Colonna, Police Say, Is One of Many on the East Side.

Brigetta Colonna, 88 James street, 15 years old and naughtily, appeared yesterday in the Children's Court before Justice Kelly, wearing for the occasion a demure expression. Her mother appeared as the complainant and called her a disorderly child. At least that was what Clerk Coulter recorded her as saying. Interpreter Dienstag said that she added other phrases to disorderly.

The girl said nothing, except that the saints would bear witness that she was the best of children and kept none but the best of company.

The police say she is the leader of the Five Points gang of girls who carry "guns." She had none when arrested, and she and her mother told Justice (blamed that she never carried one. Justice Dienstag told the police to look up her car and be ready for an examination to-morrow. Until then he committed her to the care of the Gerry agency.

"I've seen her and her pals in the East Side," said County Detective Reardon, who dropped into court to look at her. "She's a typical child of the East Side. You wish I'll take you over there and get you stood up by two or three young girls, who'll hold guns to your head and go through your pockets and take your money."

"I've heard a lot about these girls carrying revolvers," said Detective Maher of the Krigler. It was very hard to get a hold on, though, and it's almost impossible to land one of 'em with the goods."

"They're like the small boy admirers of the outlaws and Indian killers, only their ambitions run to the men they see around them every day, members of the Monk Eastmans, the Yaky-Yaks, the Paul Kellys and other outlaws-at-large."

KILLED HIMSELF IN CEMETERY.

One Prosperous Manufacturer Failed to Find Work in New York.

Simon Ackroyd, 63 years old, formerly a prosperous cloth manufacturer at Lawrence, Mass., was found dead yesterday morning in Greenwood Cemetery near the Matthews monument. He had committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Within a few days he failed in business and became estranged from his wife and children. About a month ago he left Lawrence and came to New York, stopping at the house of a friend on West Twenty-seventh street, his intention being to seek employment. He seemed to have failed in his purpose.

"I'll leave the hall and leave our case in the hands of the fair-minded delegates," said Park and his twelve men then walked out. The doors were then locked till the vote had been taken.

BUILDING WAR WAITS ON PARKS.

The Board of Building Trades held a meeting yesterday at which it did nothing. One of the delegates said: "We won't undertake anything big until we have seen the result of the fight at Kansas for me. When Sam Parks is recognized we'll go ahead."

J. Chalmers, secretary of the International Bookbinders Union, accompanied by a committee from that organization, appeared before the Executive Council in the case of Foreman Miller of the Government Printing Office, who was dismissed from his position on complaint of the bookbinders' union and later reinstated by order of the President.

The case was thoroughly gone over, documents read and copies of evidence submitted. The matter was finally postponed for further consideration later in the week.

ALLIS-CHALMERS CO. TO MOVE.

Labor Troubles of Chicago Drive Out Two of the Concern's Departments.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The purchasing and traffic departments of the Allis-Chalmers Company of Chicago will be moved to West Allis, Wis., near Milwaukee. Labor troubles are assigned as the cause of the removal, which will affect several hundred persons. The move will be made in the near future, and the company said:

"Sixty-six per cent of that part of our business is done at West Allis now and we think it reasonable to do all of it there. During the last year we have spent $3,000,000 in buildings, machinery and tools at West Allis and are locating everything there as fast as possible. We own 180 acres of land there and it is a convenient place for our business."

POLICEMAN'S BRAVE RESCUE.

His left hind leg was broken, but he ran to the fire on three legs. He was taken to a veterinary hospital, where the fractured bone was set.

PARKS WINS IN CONVENTION.

HIS DELEGATION SEATED BY A BIG MAJORITY.

But Three Votes Cast Against Their Admission on the Final Ballot—Credentials Committee Was Divided, Submitting Two Reports in Convention.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 23.—Sam Parks and his delegation from Local No. 2 were admitted to the convention here by a big majority on a final vote late to-night. But three votes were cast against Parks.

The controversy over selecting delegates from the New York Union No. 2 had been waged all day upon the floor of the convention behind closed doors, but no decision had resulted. Most of the time was taken up with long, vehement speeches by the delegates, some in favor of and others against Parks. These were supplemented by long parliamentary wrangles.

"A lot of these folks think Sam Parks is best, don't they?" Parks said to-night. "Well, they're away off. We will win easy to-morrow, and there is a lot of wise guys that will go back to New York to tamé down."

When the credentials committee reported this morning that it could not agree upon the seating of the Sam Parks delegation, the storm began on the floor of the convention. The report was signed by five of the seven delegates.

The other two delegates, J. P. Carey of Buffalo and Charles W. Winslow of Washington, D. C., signed a minority report, which upheld President Buchanan.

Frank Buchanan, president of the international union, declared that all of those in the hall who were not seated by the credentials committee should retire and that then the accredited delegates would discuss and decide the eligibility of No. 2 of New York to sit in the convention.

Immediately there was a storm of protest from the hall and leave our case in the hands of the fair-minded delegates," said Park and his twelve men then walked out. The doors were then locked till the vote had been taken.

LUCK FOR JOHN M'GINNESS.

Sympathizers Send Him $12 and Now He Only Wants $20.

THE STUN received $10 from a generous Baltimorean and $2 from "ET" yesterday for the family of John M'Ginness of 636 West 152d street, an account of whose ill luck was printed recently. A week ago M'Ginness had a baby, then her husband lost his job. The family was threatened with eviction from the three stuffy little rooms they occupy, and was about to be turned out into the street when the four-year-old daughter died of lock jaw in the J. H. Hod Wright Hospital.

When the money was turned over to M'Ginness last night he could not restrain his tears. "The $25 certainly shined for me," he said. "This $12 will go a long way toward helping us out of our trouble. If I can only get work now, my family will never want again."

"I had luck we've had," said M'Ginness's wife, "but I wouldn't change my lot now for any other, because my husband has always been kind to me, and has done all he could to provide for us."

WHAT'S THE USE

To Keep a "Coffee Complexion."

A lady says: "Postum has helped my complexion so much that my friends say I am growing young again. My complexion used to be coffee colored, muddy and yellow but it is now clear and rosy as when I was a girl. I was induced to try Postum by a friend who had suffered just as I had suffered from terrible indigestion, palpitation of the heart and sinking spells."

"After I had used Postum a week I was so much better that I was afraid it would not last. But now two years have passed and I am a well woman. I owe it all to Postum for coffee and drinking Postum in its place."

"I had drunk coffee all my life. I supposed that it was the cause of my troubles, but it was not until I actually cup-sweetened and started to try Postum that I became certain, then all my troubles ceased and I am now well and strong again. Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

Exchanged AEOLIANS and ORCHESTRETTES At Reduced Prices

THE SPECIAL SALE of slightly used Aeolians and Orchestrelles will terminate Saturday, September 26th. Prices on Aeolians are so rigidly maintained that this is indeed a rare opportunity for those who have thought that they should like to have an Aeolian, but who did not feel warranted in purchasing a new instrument.

There is, perhaps, no other one fact which in itself speaks so favorably for the Aeolian and the Orchestrelle, as the frequent instances in which the purchaser desires to exchange his instrument for one of higher price.

In other words, he no sooner realizes, through practical experience in the Home, what the instruments really are, than he is ready and eager to increase his investment.

The disposition to possess the improvements as they appear in later styles has become emphasized since the development and introduction of the Orchestrelle, which embodies distinctive features in quality of tone as well as its mechanism.

The Aeolian Company desires naturally to encourage this tendency, and the result is an accumulation of instruments which, without being worn, are not strictly new. These are placed in perfect condition for all practical purposes, in many instances are as good as if they had never been used and are subject to the same guarantee.

Included are a number of Pianolas which have been taken in exchange for the Metrostyle Pianolas. These exchanged Pianolas are practically new and are guaranteed. They are offered during this special sale $200 only at..... $180 Less 10 PER CENT, for cash, or..... $162
