

ONE MONTH OF POPE PIUS X.

THE NEW POPE IS GOODNESS ITSELF, ROME SAYS NOW.

Slow to Act, but Tenacious of Purpose—His Action Toward Cologne Congress and Italian Associations Follows Leo XIII's

ROME, Sept. 12.—The first month of Pius X.'s pontificate is ended. It may be said that it has not been fruitless for the Church, although in his humility the Pope keeps declaring every moment "that he is doing nothing." I shall not speak of the thousand daily incidents which have confirmed the reputation of goodness which at once illumined the majestic and attractive figure of the sovereign Pontiff. It is not merely on account of what is known about his past, it is because of the proofs he gives every day that every one in the Vatican repeats: "The Pope is goodness itself."

On this subject of "the goodness of Pius X." the reckless fancy of the news mongers now runs wild. There is a touching story told of Pius X. meeting a little workman at the Vatican printing office. The only fault the story has is that it is not true; but at least stories of this sort are harmless and perhaps even edifying.

Yet we should not allow ourselves to be carried away by this single aspect of the Pope's character. After hearing the repetition of "The Pope is good" more than one reader may perhaps ask: "Is he not too good?"

A Pope, a "father," is never too good. But there is no reason to fear. It is not only through the incidents of the recent Conclave, now known generally, that Providence has manifested its interest in its chosen one. The manifestation becomes clearer daily, thanks to the detailed information and the investigations made on the spot at Padua, at Treviso, at Venice, at Mantua, which reveal to the world what Giuseppe Sarto was "before the pontificate." A Venetian summed it all up in two phrases: "He was the first, whoever he was," and "he does slowly all that he wishes." Pius X. has not merely a heart, he has a clear and keen intelligence; he has above all a will equipped with perfect self-possession and with indomitable tenacity whenever his decision has been made after prudent consideration.

From the point of view of Church government it is his readiness, his wise delay, which so far has especially impressed those about him. Notwithstanding countless audiences the Pope has everything reported to him, he observes, watches persons and things and examines the records of the candidates proposed to him, even for the humblest offices. In short, he takes his time and is earning the serious duties of the Papacy.

Nevertheless Providence has put him in a position to express himself publicly on certain matters of some importance. From this point of view the most important matters he has had to deal with have been the Catholic movements in Germany and in Italy. Two acts of Pius X. are worth considering. His letter to the Cologne Congress and his confirmation of Count Grosoli as president of the "Opera dei Congressi."

The whole Catholic press has published the Pope's reply to the committee of preparations of the Cologne Congress. The letter, in history, will begin the collection of documents by the new Pope. The Catholics of Germany have the right to be proud of this honor and above all for having deserved it by fifty years of energy, of union, of intelligent effort finally crowned by the most visible success.

Any comment on the letter would be superfluous. At Rome they noted the stress put by Pius X., in speaking of his predecessor of "immortal memory," and in recalling the esteem that Leo XIII. showed for German Catholics, in reminding these not to forget his memory and that of Windthorst. The new Pontiff possesses that ornament of great souls, gratitude. The delicacy and promptness with which he tries to give credit to the services of Leo XIII. have been appreciated at Rome.

It is no flattery to say that the Italian Catholics come closest to the effort, and there is every reason to believe, to the success of the German Catholics. Like the latter, they have a general organization that is strong and elastic, the Opera dei Congressi. It will be remembered that in the last months of Leo XIII.'s reign this organization passed through a crisis. A faction of influential members, disturbed by the programme and by the name of Christian Democracy, and irritated by the effervescence of a portion of the "young men," wished to repress everything.

We will not go back to those incidents; the result was the resignation of the president, Signor Paganuzzi, and the appointment of Signor Grosoli. The latter's programme became immediately the union of all men of good will, leaving to each group as much autonomy as was compatible with the objects of the national association of congresses. Personally, he expressed everywhere the liveliest sympathy for Christian Democracy and for the "young party."

Now, the new Pope comes from Venice, the town of Signor Paganuzzi. Last year, when Signor Paganuzzi was attacked in a violent article by the Abiate Murri, the patriarch of Venice came at once to his defence in a public letter. Moreover, he asked of Leo XIII. and obtained from him a high pontifical decoration for Signor Paganuzzi.

Therefore, as Signor Grosoli thought it his duty in his resignation to the new Pope, Signor Paganuzzi's partisans declared that Pius X. would go back to him, or, at any rate, to some friend of his, for the presidency. It was easy to see, however, that it was out of generosity that the Patriarch of Venice had acknowledged and had caused to be acknowledged the undeniable services of Signor Paganuzzi. It was known also that Cardinal Sarto had always encouraged Signor Grosoli and the current of ideas represented by him.

So nobody was surprised to learn that Pius X. had simply restored Signor Grosoli as the head of the Italian Catholic movement. Signor Grosoli explains the circumstances of his confirmation in a circular to the Italian committees. It runs as follows:

"I had announced that I should hasten to leave in my resignation to the new Pope, in order to leave him perfectly free to give to the 'Opera' at this solemn moment the direction that should seem fitting to him. I carried out my promise to the very day that Pius X. was raised to the Apostolic chair.

"But His Holiness insisted on confirming me as the General President; in the presence of his expressed wish I could only obey.

"In the audience I explained to him with perfect frankness the present situation of the 'Opera,' its internal and external difficulties ever present, the methods and programmes that I had intended, the new and, finally, the line of conduct which I had deemed good to follow, in agreement with many members of the directing committee.

"His Holiness fully approved of my course."

Signor Grosoli ends his circular with the

Le Boutillier Brothers

FINE LACES.

Comprising the latest novelties in Crapone, Argentine, Malta, Hindoo, Macrame, Repousse and Dentelle Soie Zibeline. Very handsome collection of Soie Vegetale Medallion (matched sides), Round, Square and Diamond shapes, in Paris and White combined. Black and Ivory colored tints, all well adapted for application purposes.

WOMEN'S NECKWEAR.

Novelties in Stoles, Pelerines, Berthas and Round Collar effects—Black, Champagne, Ecu and White—in all the newest Laces.

Stocks of Lace, Chiffon, Taffeta and Persian combinations; Collar and Cuff Sets, in Hemstitch, fancy embroidery and Lace effects.

Le Boutillier Brothers West Twenty-third Street.

announcement of the next national congress at Bologna on Nov. 10, 11 and 12, and with an invitation to the committee to prepare for the proceedings and discussions. The congress will be marked by great modifications in methods. Only delegates of the associations that have complied with the requirements of the statutes of the "Opera" will take an active part in the congress; there will be no gala sessions or long speeches. All the sessions will be meetings of sessions where the discussion will be limited as much as possible to practical matters. The new regulations have the full approval of the Pope.

The past month, therefore, has not been without fruit. Pius X. has blessed the German Catholics and their Fifteenth Congress at Cologne; the Italian Catholics and their Congress at Bologna, the first of a new series. The Pope, face to face with the most serious organizations of the Catholic movement, sanctions and blesses the methods of action sanctioned and blessed by Leo XIII.

GAUITY AT TUXEDO PARK.

Cottages All Occupied and Clubhouses Filled With Guests.

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Tuxedo is just in the beginning of the autumn gaiety. The cottages are now all occupied and the clubhouses are filled with well known guests. The week, which was a lively one, was passed in house parties, luncheons, dinners and preparing for the coming horse show.

The tennis courts were visited by a large gathering, especially on Friday and Saturday, and several interesting matches were witnessed. A new feature was the presence of a string band on the courts while the games were in progress.

The golf links were also well patronized. Charles B. Macdonald and James Stillman, two well known golfers, were on the links today and a series of matches was played.

Mr. and Mrs. John Greenough, who passed the summer at Gloucester, opened their Tuxedo cottage to-day, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Lanfer Norrie are in the Barbey cottage.

Other arrivals include Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Condon, Mrs. John W. Minturn, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Layne, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Shaughnessy, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Greenough, who passed the summer at Gloucester, opened their Tuxedo cottage to-day, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Lanfer Norrie are in the Barbey cottage.

Other arrivals include Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Condon, Mrs. John W. Minturn, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Layne, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Shaughnessy, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Greenough, who passed the summer at Gloucester, opened their Tuxedo cottage to-day, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Lanfer Norrie are in the Barbey cottage.

DETROIT OFFICIALS INDICTED.

Former Commissioner of Public Works Among Those Accused of Wrong.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 26.—Six indictments were returned late yesterday afternoon by the Grand Jury, which has been investigating municipal affairs, and particularly the Department of Public Works, for the last two months. Five of them were made public in court late yesterday, and they name the following persons:

Dr. H. Alexander, former Commissioner of Public Works, recently removed from office by the Council; Herman Wartell and T. J. White, former employees of the Public Works Department under Moreland; John Hock, a former Department of Works employee and contractor; Henry Meridian, a contractor, and his associate, Robert Conway.

Moreland is named in each of the five indictments. Two of the indictments charge him with conspiracy to defraud, and the other three with misappropriation and converting property of the city to the use of others. Meridian, Conway, Wartell and White are charged with conspiring with Moreland to defraud the city of various sums at different times. The judge fixed Moreland's bail on all five indictments at $5,000, which was furnished.

Orange Club's Tandem Parade.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 26.—The first of the big fall social events will occur on Saturday afternoon next when the Riding and Driving Club of Orange will hold a big tandem parade. The tandems will assemble at the clubhouse in East Orange and the start will be made at 2:30 o'clock. The parade will pass through Orange Park, Montclair, Llewellyn Park, to the Essex County Country Club. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Charles F. Rand, Ira A. Kip, Jr., and F. L. Van Ness.

Chicago Celebrates Her Centennial.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Chicago to-day began a six days' celebration of her 100th birthday. It began as the city itself was begun, first by the coming of Indians and then of the whites. Early this morning the six Indian tribes which first lived on the site of Chicago came in by train, and all day long followed after trainloads of white visitors arrived. To-morrow the city will give over the day to religious ceremonies.

IN SOCIETY.

Almost every one is in town and busy shopping, such a lot of wedding presents have to be procured for October brides. Special efforts are being made in Miss Goetz's behalf. Naturally, silver vases and platters as likely to embellish sideboards in Floors Castle for generations to come, must be selected with care. So must the necklaces and pendants that will decorate a future American Duchess.

Many matrons have adopted the custom of Queen Victoria and give to all brides the same sort of article, but not always of the same value. Mrs. Astor, who is at her home here seeing her friends and driving out, runs to clocks. The Rhinelanders usually give antique jewel boxes picked up abroad. Jeweled studs and gold chain bags are popular at the moment. Mrs. Eugene Van R. Thayer, nee Brooks, received several.

The reconciliation of Mrs. Vanderbilt and her son Cornelius Vanderbilt and his family, often prognosticated but long delayed, is likely to take place in the immediate future. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kountze, always friends of Mrs. Vanderbilt, have been her guests of late at the Breakers. N. De Lancey Kountze, the only living son of Mr. and Mrs. Kountze, is to marry Miss Martha Johnson in the spring. His fiancée is the first cousin of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and her intimate friend, and the Kountze influence has been used to hasten the family reunion. William K. Vanderbilt, his nephews Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Reginald C. Vanderbilt, as well as other friends and advisers, including Chauncey M. Depew, now with his wife the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Slicane at Lenox, counsel this step.

There is little doubt that the entire Vanderbilt family will be well in evidence at the Roxburgh-Goelet wedding in November. Mrs. Goelet is in town giving orders for the occasion. A number of festivities will be given for the Duke and his fiancée in October. Though it is not the custom for Britons to have ushers or give bachelor dinners, the Duke of Roxburgh will have attendants and dine with them in American fashion. Probably one of the chits at which he has been put up by Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is at her Long Island home and is to have her sister, Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, for her guest. A stork visit is anticipated, one of three looked for in Vanderbilt mansions. Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt have a new hotel in Paris, which will be one of their several residences.

Miss Marion Jones, daughter of Senator John P. Jones of Nevada, is to be married to Robert D. Farquhar, at noon next Tuesday in Grace Church. The bride will walk up the aisle with her father, who will give her away. She will wear a white satin gown, simply made in princess fashion, with the waist and sleeves trimmed with old lace and a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet will be composed of orchards and lilies of the valley. Georgia Jones, her maid of honor, will be attired in pale yellow chiffon with picture hat to match and will carry orchids. There will be no bridesmaids.

Charles H. Aldrich, Charles M. Gay, Edward Parsons, Russell Hewlett and Joseph Hoffman Hunt, all of New York; Dwyer Duffield of Detroit, John Harwood of Boston, H. Holbrook Curtis and Cecily and Philip Tripp of Fall River, will assist as best man and ushers. There will be a bridal breakfast after dinner at the home of Senator and Mrs. Jones, 237 East Seventeenth street.

Col. and Mrs. Frederick Wolcott Armstrong will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Thursday. Mrs. Armstrong was Miss Harriet C. Bedlow, daughter of the late Henry Bedlow and a granddaughter of William Bedlow, the first postmaster of New York, under President Washington. Col. Armstrong is a veteran of the civil war, in which he served on the staff of Gen. Judson Kilpatrick. Col. and Mrs. Armstrong are still at the seashore.

The marriage of their youngest daughter, Miss Hortense Pauline Armstrong, to Frank Milfin Hartman, will take place next Thursday at St. Andrew's Church, Astor Turnpike. Mr. Hartman is a nephew of the bridegroom as best man, and Miss Cornelia White will act as maid of honor.

Mrs. Frederick Neilson and her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Kemp, have been in town for some days, busy, it is whispered, ordering trousseau finery. The marriage of Mrs. Kemp to Mr. H. H. Townsend will take place about six weeks hence. Mrs. Neilson and Mrs. Kemp will return to Lenox for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bird of 202 Madison avenue, who passed the summer at Dark Harbor, Me., will now visit Mrs. W. Seward Webb at Shelburne Farms, Vt., before returning to town. Mrs. Bird's daughter, Miss Betty Moreau, whose wedding with Robert Dunkley Fry of Albany will be an event of the winter, is with her mother and stepfather, Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb will be one of her bridesmaids.

Several of the Newport cottagers have arranged to winter at Cannes, France, including Mrs. Francis Ormond French, who will be with her son-in-law and daughter, Lord and Lady Cheslesmere.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker Harden will return to their wedding journey this week and will live at 256 West Ninety-seventh street.

The meetings of the bad dancing class, chiefly to be held at the homes of Mrs. Vanderbilt and William C. Whitney, will resolve themselves into as smart dances as any of the winter. Saturday nights have been chosen by Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Paul Dana, Mrs. John E. Cowdin, David James King and Mr. Whitney, probably as to insure early hours and not to conflict with other fashionable dances. Tuesday evenings will be reserved for Dorothy Whitney, Beatrice Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fells Morgan; Suzanne Street, Rosalind Fish, Edith Green, Dorothy Kane, Sylvia Parsons, Janet Dana, Lydia Jones, Dorothy King, Ethel Sherman and Charlotte Warren are among the girls who will attend these dances.

Benole, Constable & Co. Lyons Fancy Silks.

Crêpes, Gazes and Grenadines. Silver and Gold Brocades, Damas Peinture, Karnak Ombré, Faconné Barre, Gold Tinsel Crêpe, Diaphane Broché, Crêpe Silencieux.

Satin Messaline.

A very desirable new soft weave, full assortment of colors, including the new champagne.

Velvets.

Broadway & 19th Street.

B. Altman & Co.

Will place on sale MONDAY and TUESDAY, September 28th and 29th,

4,000 Yds. of UPHOLSTERY FABRICS, consisting of Armures, Satin and Silk Damasks, Tapestries, etc., regular prices $2.25 to $7.50, at $1.48, $1.90, $2.45, $3.90 yard.

also

500 Pairs of EGYPTIAN LACE CURTAINS

with deep lace flounce, regular prices $7.00 to $8.50, at $3.90 and $4.70 per pair.

Eighteenth Street, Nineteenth Street, Sixth Avenue, New York.

GEN. IAN HAMILTON VISITS US.

HOLIDAY OF THE BRITISH QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL.

Tanned Man of 60—Going First to Canada to See the Men of the Royal Canadians Who Fought Under Him in Boer War—Next to West Point and Washington.

John A. Hoagland of 27 West Fifty-first street is one of the bachelors who prefers to go abroad rather than to Newport or Lenox. He does not lose much time getting about and is now doing the Continent for the twenty-fifth time. Mr. Hoagland has an income of $1,000,000, which came to him from his father, a flour merchant, and there is more to come. His sister, Miss Fanny Hoagland, who has the same income, is lingering in Paris, where she is having a fine trousseau made in anticipation of her wedding in the early winter with Edwin Drexel Godfrey.

The wedding of Miss Mabel Simmons and John P. Tilden will be one of the big affairs of December and will be celebrated in St. Thomas's Church. The Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, the rector, will perform the ceremony and there will be a reception afterward at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Simmons, 28 West Fifty-second street. The bridegroom-elect is a son of the late John P. Tilden of Brooklyn. A number of dinners will be given for the couple before their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Jules A. Montant of 86 West Forty-ninth street, who have been abroad all summer, will sail for this port on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, who went over late in August, are booked to sail on Friday. Mrs. William Pierson Hamilton, who went to England with her brother, J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., a few weeks ago, is expected home this week and will go directly to her Tuxedo cottage. Mrs. H. Holbrook Curtis and Cecily and Philip Tripp of Fall River, will assist as best man and ushers. There will be a bridal breakfast after dinner at the home of Senator and Mrs. Jones, 237 East Seventeenth street.

Mrs. Arthur Julian Moulton of 27 West Thirty-ninth street will give one of the coming out teas of late November for her second daughter, Miss Beezie R. Moulton. Miss Moulton will be the only one of the winter's debutantes already bespoken, her engagement to John H. Auerbach having been announced. Mr. Auerbach, who is a junior at Harvard, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Auerbach of 11 West Tenth street.

Miss Eleanor Fitzgerald and Harold Fitz Gerald will have a pretty wedding next Saturday at the country home of the bride's parents, Gen. and Mrs. Louis Fitz Gerald, at Garrison. The bridegroom-elect is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Fitz Gerald of Brookline, Mass., and is not related to his fiancée.

Chester Griswold has taken the house at 114 East Thirty-fourth street, which he will occupy with his bride after his honeymoon jaunt. His marriage to Miss Elizabeth H. Griswold of Troy is to take place on Oct. 14 at Williamstown, Mass. Mr. Griswold is a nephew of the late Harry Le Grand Cannon, whose widow is Mrs. Theodora Frelinghuysen. There will be a number of New York guests at the wedding, and Mrs. Cannon and Miss Dorothea Draper will be among the bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Z. Letter expect to spend several weeks here this fall before going to their big Washington home. It is rumored that they intend to entertain a series of house parties during the winter, composed for the most part of their New York friends. There is talk, too, of their giving a big ball during the holidays. The Letters have never given a ball in Washington since the much talked of function when they occupied the old Blaine house and a certain number of favored guests danced inside of a white ribbon stretched across the ballroom, while the others danced a German without ledger and without favors outside the pale.

The Letters have leased the George Vanderbilt place at Bar Harbor again for next summer. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt expect to be abroad.

John D. Crimmins, Jr., Engaged. Mr. and Mrs. Artemas H. Holmes of 453 Madison avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lillian Stokes Holmes, to John D. Crimmins, Jr.

B. Altman & Co.

LACE DRAPERIES, PORTIÈRES, AND DECORATIVE FABRICS.

Special facilities are provided for making to order Fine Lace Window Curtains.

Also Interior Hangings, Draperies, etc.

Estimates and sketches will be submitted on application for Private and Apartment Houses, Hotels, Clubs, etc.

Fabrics for Hangings and Furniture Coverings, Cretonnes, Portieres, Couch and Table Covers, Lace Bed Covers, Colored Madras, Egyptian Laces, Embroidered and Art Muslins; Lounging Cushions covered with Silk fabrics, Embroidery or Lace; Piano and Mantel Draperies; Gold Lacquered, Carved, Inlaid, Tapestry and Embroidered Screens.

ORIENTAL RUGS and CARPETS are now shown in new designs, suitable for Reception Rooms, Libraries and Dining Rooms. The designs have been produced with the object of replacing the Antique makes.

Estimates furnished for Hotels, Clubs, etc.

DOMESTIC RUGS in entirely new designs.

ORIENTAL CARPETS. A SELECT ASSORTMENT OF ORIENTAL CARPETS IN DESIRABLE SIZES ARE ON SALE AT PRICES MUCH BELOW THE USUAL VALUE.

GLOVES. Latest Autumn shipments are shown of WOMEN'S and MEN'S GLOVES of Glace and Suede Kid, Cape, Mocha, etc. Also a novelty in Women's Walking and Driving Gloves, the "VANDYCK GAUNTLET."

Special attention is invited to The MARVEX GLOVE in select coverings.

On MONDAY & TUESDAY, Sept. 28 & 29:

1,000 dozen Women's Real Kid Gloves, in Black, White and colors, $1.00 per pair. Regular price, $1.50, at

B. Altman & Co.

Announce their FIRST IMPORTATION OF NOVELTIES in

CLOAKS, FURS and AUTOMOBILE COATS.

NOTICE.

COMMENCING THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1st, AND UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE, AS HERETOFORE, STORE WILL BE OPEN UNTIL SIX P. M.

B. Altman & Co.

Eighteenth Street, Nineteenth Street, Sixth Avenue, New York.

PERSONALS.

EPILEPSY. The Bethesda Sanitarium, 90 St. Mark's av., Brooklyn, gives special and successful treatment to epileptics. Terms moderate.

DO you wish to correspond or marry? If so, address confidentially, NATIONAL ALLIANCE, 47 Houston St., Grand Rapids, Mich. Contains yourself, private list sent for 10 cents.

MORPHINE, OPIUM, LAUDANUM, COCAINE habit, myself cured. Will inform you of names, permanent home cure. Mrs. ELLIOTT, box 212, Chicago.

YOUR FORTUNE TOLD FROM CRABLE to grave, satisfaction guaranteed, send time and latitude. Prof. J. MYERS, 21, 64 N. Clark st., Chicago.

MARRIAGE BROKER. I will pay you when married, new book, send no money. For particulars address H. A. HORTON, Dept. 161, Teaneck, N.J., Mich.

FREE! FREE! Your fortune told my advice is good as gold. Send 10c for cards and three two-cent stamps. DR. BEST, 19, 196 Chicago

THE NATIONAL CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC. Founded by Mrs. Jennie M. Barber. Chartered in 1891 by special act of Congress.

ARTISTIC FACILITY. Paint, draw, write, sing, play. Leonora Lightburn, Eugene Hatfield, Jennie Berger, Leo Seaman, Henry J. Jones, Max Jackson, Andrea Holstrom and others. Admission free.

BANK DISBURSMENTS. Guaranteed method by note, installment, or cash. AGENT: J. H. BROWN, 375 Morris av., Brooklyn.

COUNTRY BOARD. POSTERDALL, Sullivan county, N. Y. Good accommodations for a few cents can be had at Wood Hill, 100 N. Clark st., Chicago.

Father Sheppard a Missioner. The Rev. John A. Sheppard, Vicar of St. Michael's Catholic Church in Ninth street, Jersey City, received from Bishop O'Connor yesterday a parcel brief conferring upon him the title of Missioner. He will be invested formally with the title in his own church on Oct. 13.

SOZODONT Tooth Powder

New Patent Top Can. Compare quantity and quality with others. Sozodont is economy.