

ARMY TEAM BURIES THE NAVY

WEST POINT WINS FOOTBALL GAME, 10 TO 5.

Soldier Boys Have Heavier and Stronger Eleven and Overwhelm the Cadets From Annapolis on Franklin Field

Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—The Navy was buried by the Army on Franklin Field this afternoon in what is always the most picturesque football game of the season.

While the West Pointers showed superior football skill, greater weight and bulk and more experience, the Navy made such a plucky game fight that the middies, armed with megaphones, never ceased cheering and singing.

The Army team was an overwhelming favorite, so much so that there was little or nothing except on the proposition that the Navy would win.

And the sentimental part of the affair was one of its beautiful features. With the Army, on one side of the arena, the gray uniforms of the West Point cadets showed to an advantage with a forest of gray, yellow and black pennants twisting and fluttering constantly aloft.

CHEERS FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

From thousands of Army throats came rattling cheers and melodious songs to the accompaniment of the Army band, conspicuous in their bright uniforms.

Then across the gridiron was the Navy, all blue and gold, from venerable commanders of fleets, squadrons and battle-flags to the youthful cadets with square shoulders, spic and span uniforms and the glow of health and excitement on their faces.

From these young sailors, who many would have thought to meet in the deck under the Stars and Stripes, there came an incessant flow of songs which were so sweetly rendered that many an eye grew moist.

What kind of a surprise is this? They asked each other, for the Navy had outplayed the Army so far and the latter had put up a game that made its followers quake with it.

It was at this stage of the proceedings that West Point's superior strength was revealed. The Army's defense was broken through by the Navy's attack.

The Army rush line was very formidable in defense, and barring a few spasmodic gains by the Navy it was invulnerable from end to end.

With six substitutes on the team, the Navy eleven was comparatively fresh, though outplayed by the Army.

At the moment later the first half was over, and the teams retired to the dressing rooms and received words of wisdom from the coaches.

handed lost their all hats and canes, but otherwise all was serene and tranquil.

About 7,000 seats were sold by the University of Pennsylvania at $2.50 each, the proceeds to go to the Army and Navy homes, while the rest of the tickets were distributed free by the two academies.

The two bands were blaring away for all they were worth when the heavy eleven, headed by Capt. Soule and Head Coach Charley Gould of Yale, came onto the chalk lines.

Navy won the toss and selected the west goal, giving Army the kick off. It was 2:10 o'clock when Doe drove the yellow ball high into the air and down to Capt. Soule, who was quickly hurred on his back on Navy's 27-yard line.

After an exchange of punts, Prince ran the ball twenty-five yards, Navy's 20-yard line, from which point he soon plunged over the mark for the sixth touchdown.

It was all over but the shouting and the teams struggled on, both kickers sending the ball coming through their hands.

thrown on his 15-yard line, as Prince tried to punt, the ball was blocked and Soule fell on it.

The Navy coach yelled for a touchdown, but West Point defence was so impragable that Chambers fell back for a goal trial from placement on the 20-yard line.

STAMFORD FIDELITY, TITLE AND TRUST COMPANY TO REOPEN TO-MORROW.

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 28.—The directors of the Fidelity, Title and Trust Company issued a statement to-night to the effect that regular banking business will be resumed on Monday.

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 28.—The directors of the Fidelity, Title and Trust Company issued a statement to-night to the effect that regular banking business will be resumed on Monday.

The company has assets consisting of cash, loans, mortgages and discounts, bonds and stocks to the approved value of $219,977, against which there are liabilities of $106,949.

The company suspended all payments on July 17 last, two days after the publication of a report of the New Jersey Bank Commissioners mentioning the Fidelity Company as one of a chain of banks proposed by Leonard Imboden, and which, it was asserted, carried false credits.

The statement was made that the Fidelity Company had credited deposits to banks in Oklahoma and Texas which had no legal right to do business.

There was a run on the company following the publication of the report, the directors, with the concurrence of the Connecticut Bank Commissioners, applied to Judge Hall of the Superior Court for an injunction restraining the payment of depositors. The order was granted for ninety days and has been extended twice.

This is the only one of the Imboden banks to survive exposure.

ELEVATED CAR AFIRE. Fuse Blow Out and the Shower of Sparks Started a Little Blaze.

A fuse on one of the cars of a south-bound Sixth avenue elevated train blew out yesterday afternoon and set fire to the car just before the train reached the station at the battery and Fifty-third street.

The fire was quickly extinguished by the guards on the train, but passengers in the cars got scared and some of the women were badly scared.

The blowing out of the fuse was attended by two sharp reports, which were heard all over the elevated. A shower of sparks, which filled the air in the street below.

There were six cars in the train and they were filled with women. The third car was the one which was disabled, and it was well filled. When the fuse blew out the flames leaped toward the door.

The guards had presence of mind enough to keep the doors shut, and the excited ones finally quieted down.

When the fuse blew out the steel snow-guard was knocked from its place and came in contact with the third rail.

The sparks which were scattered about the car, and the woodwork soon began to blaze, but the trainmen easily beat out the flames with their water pails.

The train was run up a few feet to the station and the passengers left. The train was then switched to the express track and sent back to Harlem.

THE GREAT COAL SAVER

THE AËOLIPTYLE

THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL FREE

As important an invention for the purposes intended as the telephone.

Saves Coal

The Aëoliptyle saves from 15 to 25 per cent. in coal, will more than pay for itself this winter, and return 100 per cent. dividend annually.

Increases Heat

It consumes the coal gas, which is turned into heat, and thereby prevents all escape of gas into the house.

Even Temperature

The Aëoliptyle maintains an even temperature through the whole house, night and day. It is a warm house in the morning.

Reduces Labor

The furnace with an Aëoliptyle attached requires attention morning and night only. No opening and closing of doors during the day necessary.

No Cold Rooms

The Aëoliptyle attached to a furnace, hot water or steam heater will heat every part of the house, including the room which you have never been able to heat.

Coal at $5 per ton

If you should offer to sell you coal at $5.00 when you know that the selling price is $6.00 and up, you would receive your trade for nothing.

Soft Coal

We guarantee that soft coal can be burned as efficiently in hot water heaters, house furnaces, boilers as in the Aëoliptyle.

Owners of Large Buildings will find the Aëoliptyle COAL SAVER, will be able to keep an even temperature with a great saving in fuel. It can care for as many fires as three without it.

Tenants

Tenants can have the Aëoliptyle attached, save 15 per cent. in fuel, and take the Aëoliptyle with them on removal.

Application

The Aëoliptyle is applied at smoke collar of the furnace by three expert mechanics, thus giving the results we claim for it.

Cost of the Aëoliptyle

THE PRICE OF THIS AËOLIPTYLE VARIES according to the diameter of the smoke pipe. $18 for 7-inch to $40 for 12-inch. It is merely nominal, as the Aëoliptyle will last as long as a furnace.
