

SENATORS TACKLE SPEAKER.

ALSO CRITICISE PRESIDENT FOR ACTION OF HOUSE.

Bailey intimates Roosevelt supports Cannon in preventing adjournment of extra session—Only routine business till Cuban bill is voted on.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—During the executive session of the Senate to-day there was a frank talk among the Senators on the attitude of Speaker Cannon and the House Representatives in refusing to consent to an adjournment of the extra session of Congress. The criticism of Speaker Cannon and even of the President was quite sharp, especially on the part of Democratic Senators. Among the speakers were Messrs. Cullom, Bailey, Bacon, Teller, Hale, Allison, Elkins, Cockrell and Carmack.

The debate was incidental to the question of new business pending disposition of the Cuban reciprocity bill, which is to be voted on Dec. 16. By unanimous consent debate on the Cuban bill is to begin on the first day of the regular session and continue until the 16th.

The tacit understanding was reached that no new business should be considered by the Senate until the Cuban bill is disposed of.

The allusion to the interference of the House in the plan of the Senate to adjourn brought a caustic speech from Mr. Bailey, who declared that an attempt was being made to rule the Senate from the room of the Speaker. He for one resented such interference, which he characterized as "childish."

Mr. Bailey intimated that the President was supporting Speaker Cannon in preventing adjournment of the extra session. Any attempt to adjourn the Senate within the proper exercise of its prerogatives presents an attack on one coordinate branch of the Government by two others, which is entirely unjustified. The Senate is an entirely deliberative body of Congress, and any attempt to bend it to the will of another body will be quickly resented, whether the attempt comes from the Speaker of the House or the President.

Mr. Bacon made a strong advocacy of the rights of the Senate, which he said had been infringed by the obstinacy and interference of the House. One of the Democratic Senators, in the course of his speech, made this declaration: "The President has declared that a vote must be taken on the 1st of January. I should have objected to that agreement and should have offered a substitute, providing that the Senate should not take a vote until after Jan. 1."

History of the Lease—Effort Being Made to Secure Laying of Pipe Line. WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—E. B. Vreeland, Representative from the Thirty-fourth Congressional District of New York, and J. S. Whipple, Secretary of the New York State Senate, whose names were mentioned in a despatch from Salamanca, published in THE SUN on Nov. 29, regarding a lease of oil lands in the Indian Territory, say that the statements in the despatch have no foundation in truth. A lease in the Osage Agency, they say, was obtained by a Mr. Foster in 1896 (not Mr. Fancher), the lease being approved by the Hon. Hoke Smith, then Secretary of the Interior, at the request of former Senator John B. Gordon of Georgia. Senator Fancher has an interest in that lease, they say, but they deny that either themselves or the Hon. Frank W. Higgins and the Hon. Fred N. Healy.

The owners of the original lease have made many subleases to men coming from New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, all of which have been legally approved, some by the present Secretary of the Interior. The lease is a well as an oil producing about 2,500 barrels of oil a day and a large amount of gas.

To get their oil to market so as to be able to dispose of it at a profit, the individual producers ask the Secretary of the Interior to authorize the laying of a pipe line to the Kansas border. At present they are compelled to pay a freight charge of 40 cents a barrel, which is prohibitive. In the effort to secure the pipe line, the producers are represented by the producers as attorney, which is the only interest he has in the matter. Without such a pipe line, he says, the lease, which was authorized by the Government under the lease of 1896 and the product are worthless.

'CADET' SYSTEM IN BROOKLYN?

'Looks Very Much Like It,' Said the Court, After Hearing Testimony.

Detective Michael Torney of the Brownsville station found two girls in a concert hall at Stone avenue and Pacific street, Brooklyn, on Monday night, whom he recognized as Georgina Brown, 18 years old, of 225 Anne street, Hoboken, and Anna Hartman, 20 years old, of 18 Jackson street, Jersey City, who had run away from home several weeks ago, and for whom an alarm had been sent out.

In the Gates avenue court yesterday morning the girls admitted their identity and told Magistrate Furlong a story of shame and degradation that aroused the indignation of the Court and caused him to issue orders for the arrest of a young man in the vicinity of where the arrest took place.

"This looks very much like a 'cadet' system in full operation right under our very nose," said the Court. "I was this case thoroughly investigated, and if these girls have told the truth some one will suffer for it."

In their story to the Magistrate the girls said they had been enticed away from home by a young man who had promised to give them a nice home and all the comforts of life. The young man was taken to the home of the young man, where she was introduced to his mother as a servant for the family. From there she was taken to a room on Fulton street, near Rockaway avenue, where she was expected to bring her earnings to her husband.

The other young woman was similarly provided for and under the care of the same man, only in a different part of the borough.

The girls were put in the care of Miss Roome, the probationary officer of the court, pending an investigation of their stories.

SANITY OF A. H. GREEN'S SLAYER. To Be Settled Without a Costly Lunacy Commission—Doctors See Him. Drs. Carlos F. MacDonald and Austin Flint had a session yesterday afternoon in District Attorney Jerome's office with Cornelius Williams, the negro who killed Andrew H. Green, to see if Williams is insane. A. H. Kaffenburgh, counsel for Williams, was present. The examination will be continued in a short time.

BANG GOES BROKE. Once Proprietor of the Sturtevant House—Later of the Collingwood. A petition in involuntary bankruptcy has been filed against William F. Bang, who was until recently proprietor of the Hotel Collingwood at West Thirtieth street. Mr. Bang was formerly for five years proprietor of the Sturtevant House at Broadway and Twenty-ninth street. On Oct. 1, 1902, he leased the hotel Collingwood at $50,000 a year from the Bradford Realty Company. On Nov. 14 last he gave a bill for $200 in outstanding accounts. The bill, for $10,000, Judge Holt of the United States District Court appointed John K. Creevey receiver of the assets, which are estimated at $20,000 in value.

RAISED STOCK CERTIFICATE Said to Have Been Offered as Collateral—Robert Campbell Arrested. A man who said that he was Robert Campbell of 124 West 117th street and that he had a business in West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, all of which have been legally approved, some by the present Secretary of the Interior. The lease is a well as an oil producing about 2,500 barrels of oil a day and a large amount of gas.

An Actual Fact.

THINK OF 50 BOOK CRITICS agreeing on any subject—that is, critics of the highest standing and reputation!

More than this number have written genial and enthusiastic reviews about THE WINGS OF THE MORNING. They all like its freshness and lack of tedious explanation. It has plot enough to make four ordinary books. It is "action" and "go" from start to finish in THE WINGS OF THE MORNING. E. J. CLODE, Publisher, New York.

MORGAN WILL FIGHT TO END.

HE NOW WANTS PACIFIC RAILROADS INVESTIGATED.

In a Canal Lobby Hunt—He Also Wants the Canal Commission's Expenses Inquired Into—He Says We Guaranteed to Columbia Ownership of the Isthmus. WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Senator Morgan says he will fight the ratification of the Panama Canal treaty with the Junta to the last ditch. He makes the unequivocal statement that the Government of the United States was bound by the treaty with New Granada, not only to guarantee the neutrality of transit across the Isthmus of Panama, but to guarantee the Columbia Manifold Company of Franklin, Pa., which has a contract with the Post Office Department, has given out a statement in which he takes exception to the Panama Canal Commission's report.

Mr. Morgan offered two resolutions in the Senate to-day regarding the Panama Canal. The first calls for an investigation of the Isthmian Canal Commission's expenses and the second directs the Secretary of State to investigate the report that transcontinental railroads are unlawfully attempting to prevent the construction of an Isthmian canal.

Mr. Morgan's first resolution embodies the final report of expenditures of the Isthmian Canal Commission as transmitted in a letter to the Secretary of State on Jan. 1, 1903, and also a plan of government of the proposed interoceanic canal as outlined in a report of the Panama Canal Commission to the Senate on Oct. 1, 1902.

Whereas it is asserted in public journals that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

THEY GET BACK AT BRISTOW.

ACCUSED EMPLOYEES MAKE COUNTER CHARGES.

Louis Would Like to Sue for Libel, Land-voigt Says Bristow's Son Has a Soft Job and Krompog Alleges That Bristow and Cochran Got Smuggled Cigars. WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Many of the persons charged, inferentially or otherwise, in the recent report of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, Bristow, with being implicated in the postal service scandals have entered emphatic denials against his statements and conclusions.

Perhaps the most interesting of these denials is that of Michael A. W. Louis, former superintendent of the supply division of the Post Office Department, who challenges Mr. Bristow to take the case against him into court and try to sustain them. Mr. Louis in his statement says: "Mr. Bristow has taken an unfair advantage, relying upon the immunity afforded him by his position. I, however, challenge him to make the statements contained in his report over his own signature, and have the same published, so that it will give me an opportunity to enter suit against him for libel, that the case can be properly heard and witnesses examined. I will in return for this guarantee not to accept any damages that a jury may award me, but will be satisfied to show that the charges against me are false and untrue."

Former Superintendent Landvoigt of the classification division, who was forced to resign from the postal service because of the charges against him, also challenges Mr. Bristow to take the case against him into court and try to sustain them. Mr. Landvoigt in his statement says: "I cannot quite understand the principle by which Mr. Bristow has taken advantage of my position, and I am sure that I am not the only one who has been treated in this manner."

Former Superintendent Louis N. Kempner of the Registry Division, who was summarily dismissed some time ago, one of the charges against him being that he drew $700 a year for sitting in the room of the assistant postmaster at Washington reading the newspaper, also challenges Mr. Bristow to take the case against him into court and try to sustain them. Mr. Kempner in his statement says: "I received cigars from Cuba without the payment of duty in true. In a period of nearly four years, since my return from Cuba, I received during the same period Mr. Bristow's report, which was a victory over me. I received cigars from Cuba without the payment of duty in the same manner as I did."

Whereas it is asserted in public journals that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

WM VOGEL & SON.

The Solving of a Clothing Problem.

In every walk of life, in every profession, in every business there are problems to be met with—and to be solved. One of the greatest problems that has always faced tailors and clothiers was the making of a perfect shoulder.—Thousands have gone down before it. Some clothiers and tailors have produced a broad shoulder by stuffing it with wadding, but which soon loses its shape. We have produced our famous "Concave" shoulder—the most perfect, the ideal shoulder—a shoulder which is broad and high and graceful and that will always retain its shape. And though the cost in time and tailoring is greater than in the making of the ordinary padded shoulder, every garment from the lowest to the highest priced in our stock is made with our "Concave" Shoulder and "Closefitting" Collar.

$15 Winter Suits & Overcoats.

In Overcoats you may choose from all of this season's newest models—medium length Overcoats, long, loose Overcoats, Chesterfields, &c.—at $15. Of Suits, there are any number of patterns in single and double breasted sack models in fancy tweeds, blue and black Thibets, light and dark toned Chevylons, new cassimere effects, worsteds in two-tone effects, either smooth or rough surface, at $15.

Other Suits and Overcoats with our famous "Concave" Shoulder and "Closefitting" Collar, from $12.50 to $50.

WM. VOGEL & SON, Broadway, Houston St.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTIONS.

Seven Cities Vote for Municipal Officers—No Changes of Consequence. Boston, Dec. 1.—Municipal elections were held in seven Massachusetts cities to-day. Only one change was made in the vote on the license question, that being in Fitchburg, which joined the license column. Mayor Charles H. Blood, the Independent Citizen candidate, was defeated for reelection by Henry O. Sawyer, who ran on the Temperance Citizens' ticket, but, strangely enough, the license voters were victorious by a narrow majority.

Charles H. Bryant of Quincy, Rep.; Henry C. Hallett of Northampton, Rep.; Harry D. Sloss of Pittsfield, Rep.; were elected as Mayors of the respective cities. In Pittsfield the Republicans made a clean sweep except in the school board. In Fitchburg Mayor Charles S. Ashley, the "berpental" candidate for Mayor, was easily re-elected, a youth of 22 who ran on nomination papers being his only opponent. Fitchburg, Marlboro, Bedford, Northampton and Pittsfield voted "yes" on the license question, but Quincy and Waltham refused to sanction the saloon.

CHURCH UNION ON DIVORCE.

Meeting Here in Favor of Maintaining Standards Better in Future. There was held in St. Bartholomew's parish house in this city, a few days ago, the first general meeting of representatives of Protestant bodies to take united action on the subject of divorce and remarriage. Bishop Doane of Albany presided. The Bishop read a letter from Archbishop Farley, who had been invited but said in response that the position of the Roman Catholic Church was so well known that he deemed it not worth while at this time to act with others. There were present: Baptist, Methodist, Episcopal, Lutheran Reformed and German Reformed delegates, all in response to invitations extended by the Rev. Dr. J. C. McEntee, Episcopal Church, but later by the union of Episcopal, Presbyterian and Methodist committees.

In San Francisco two years ago, after the fruitless debate on the canons on marriage and divorce, the Rev. Dr. David H. Green arose and asked if the general wreck something might not be saved. He moved the appointment of a commission to unite with representatives of other religious bodies to consider the subject, uniform laws on the subject. The commission was appointed, the rector of St. Bartholomew's being a member.

The decision arrived at was that Protestant bodies undertake to enforce the church's present laws. It was admitted that ministers do not always obey the rules of their respective communions. Argument was had as to how this could best be done. The only body whose delegates were not united with the Episcopal was the Presbyterian General Assembly, led in the discussion in favor of each body maintaining its own standards better in future.

The other question debated was that all ministers in each body should be held to the standards held by all other bodies. Under the rules proposed, all couples seeking marriage would be asked if application had been made to a minister of their own communion, or that they professed to belong to, to perform the marriage. If such application has been made and refused on legal grounds, the minister of the other communion would decline on the same ground. It was the sense of those present that at the next meeting in February they will be agreed to.

An invitation has been extended to Universalists, Disciples of Christ, Swedenborgian, Brethren and other bodies, and it is expected that at the next meeting all or nearly all will be represented.

THEY GET BACK AT BRISTOW.

ACCUSED EMPLOYEES MAKE COUNTER CHARGES.

Louis Would Like to Sue for Libel, Landvoigt Says Bristow's Son Has a Soft Job and Krompog Alleges That Bristow and Cochran Got Smuggled Cigars. WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Many of the persons charged, inferentially or otherwise, in the recent report of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, Bristow, with being implicated in the postal service scandals have entered emphatic denials against his statements and conclusions.

Perhaps the most interesting of these denials is that of Michael A. W. Louis, former superintendent of the supply division of the Post Office Department, who challenges Mr. Bristow to take the case against him into court and try to sustain them. Mr. Louis in his statement says: "Mr. Bristow has taken an unfair advantage, relying upon the immunity afforded him by his position. I, however, challenge him to make the statements contained in his report over his own signature, and have the same published, so that it will give me an opportunity to enter suit against him for libel, that the case can be properly heard and witnesses examined. I will in return for this guarantee not to accept any damages that a jury may award me, but will be satisfied to show that the charges against me are false and untrue."

Former Superintendent Landvoigt of the classification division, who was forced to resign from the postal service because of the charges against him, also challenges Mr. Bristow to take the case against him into court and try to sustain them. Mr. Landvoigt in his statement says: "I cannot quite understand the principle by which Mr. Bristow has taken advantage of my position, and I am sure that I am not the only one who has been treated in this manner."

Former Superintendent Louis N. Kempner of the Registry Division, who was summarily dismissed some time ago, one of the charges against him being that he drew $700 a year for sitting in the room of the assistant postmaster at Washington reading the newspaper, also challenges Mr. Bristow to take the case against him into court and try to sustain them. Mr. Kempner in his statement says: "I received cigars from Cuba without the payment of duty in true. In a period of nearly four years, since my return from Cuba, I received during the same period Mr. Bristow's report, which was a victory over me. I received cigars from Cuba without the payment of duty in the same manner as I did."

Whereas it is asserted in public journals that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

Whereas the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States, and that the Panama Canal Commission is exercising an undue influence in the great political parties of the United States.

KENNEDY'S STORE

12 CORTLAND ST. $6.00 Shoes (with trees), $3.49. In Calif. Patent Leather, high heels, button or lace. 8.00 Shoes 4.98 (bench made) 7.00 Shoes 3.98 Shoe Trees Free with every pair over 3.49.

Bargains in Warm Underwear.

Soft natural gray Wool Shirts and Drawers, 1.49 (worth 2.00). Blue ribbed Norfolk, New Brunswick, 89c. (worth 1.50). Heavy Cotton Shirts and Drawers, 49c. (worth 1.00). 35c. Black Cashmere Sox, 17. 1.50 Gloves (imported skins), 98c. 3.00 Holiday Hats 1.90.

New Flat Brims.

Care is given to every little detail and every hat guaranteed. 4.00 Hats, 2.75. They are the very best made. Why Pay More? Silk Hats, 3.90, 4.80, 5.80. 8.00 French Opera Hats, 4.80.

THE LAMP POST

A L M A N A C K

Dec. 2d

Dec. 2, 1805—Battle of Austerlitz. Austrians and Russians got it in the neck from the French. Dec. 2, 1903—No battle is needed to get our new French effects in neckwear—provided you come early. Regular $1.50 quality, $1.00. Everything comes out in the wash, but not always the same size. There's no "before and after" with our Dermophile Unshrinkable Wool Underwear, our Cartwright and Warner's, or our American Hosiery Co's. Never put off to-day what you'll want to put on to-morrow. Underwear offer to-day: a $2.00 Worsted garment, $1.50; a $1.50 Australian Lamb's Wool, $1.00. Don't lose your head. We've a hat to keep it in—$3.50. (See continued)

HACKETT, CARHART & CO

373 E. 10th St. (at corner Thirtieth Street) 132 East Chambers Street

It's a Simple Problem to Heat the rooms with Gas these cool Nights and Mornings.

It's a Simple Problem to Heat the rooms with Gas these cool Nights and Mornings. Purchases will be held for Christmas delivery if desired. At Retail Only. Lord & Taylor. Broadway and Twentieth St. and Fifth Ave.

BROOKLYN ADVERTISEMENTS.

Pianos

HAZELTON KRAKAUER ANDERSON

We are doing just the very thing you have so often dismissed from your mind, namely: "IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO BUY A PIANO FOR A CHRISTMAS PRESENT WITH THE SMALL AMOUNT OF MONEY THAT I HAVE."

YOU CAN.

Your ideal Christmas offer is so easy to meet that it is hardly noticeable when you remove it from your pocket book. Send for SANTA CLAUS letter and book No. 7 on "Charge Accounts and Payments." They will surprise you; so will the

Apollo

MASTER PIANO PLAYER.

Anderson & Co

370 FULTON STREET, New South St., Brooklyn. Open Saturday-Evensing.

Lea & Perrins' Sauce THE ORIGINAL WORCESTERSHIRE Add it to Soups, Fish, Roasts, Steaks, Salads, Rabbit, Game, Chops, Oyster Stews, Macaroni, Etc. JOHN DUNCAN'S SONS, AGENTS, NEW YORK

The Ambassadors Gift tops, $2 By HENRY JAMES AUTHOR OF "Daisy Miller," &c. The greatest work of one of the greatest novelists. All of Mr. James's marvelous power of character delineation finds play in this study of Americans abroad. An international novel of rare interest to every lover of good literature. Harper & Brothers Publishers, New York

HAZELTON KRAKAUER ANDERSON Pianos We are doing just the very thing you have so often dismissed from your mind, namely: "IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO BUY A PIANO FOR A CHRISTMAS PRESENT WITH THE SMALL AMOUNT OF MONEY THAT I HAVE." YOU CAN. Your ideal Christmas offer is so easy to meet that it is hardly noticeable when you remove it from your pocket book. Send for SANTA CLAUS letter and book No. 7 on "Charge Accounts and Payments." They will surprise you; so will the