

INDIANA WORRIES ROOSEVELT

ALARMED BY THE REPUBLICAN OPPOSITION TO HIM THERE.

Strong Efforts to Secure Senator Fairbanks as an Ally—Effect of Senator Hanna's Illness on Those Who Want Him as Their Candidate for President.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 7.—The feeling of depression which has been more or less in evidence among those Republicans in Indiana who believe that to nominate President Roosevelt in June would be to invite unnecessary danger of defeat in November has been greatly intensified by the illness of Senator Hanna.

It is believed that Mr. Fairbanks's political confidence here will know his mind on the subject within the next week or ten days. The prediction among those well informed is that the Senator will give way to the pressure that will come after a call for the State convention will be issued and that that will mean a Roosevelt delegation with over 75 per cent. of the Republicans in the State favoring some other candidate than Roosevelt and with quite an equal preponderance of the organization officers and members in the same frame of mind.

There is no attempt on the part of either the President or the committee to say those who have seen and talked with both in Washington, to conceal the particular uneasiness which is disturbing each of them.

As to the election campaign in the President's behalf that is going on, the like of it was never seen in the White House before. It is devoutly hoped never will be again. It has left me firmly convinced of one thing, and that is that we should have a constitutional amendment to the effect that no man shall be eligible for President of the United States who has come into office through the death or incapacity of a predecessor in it.

SEVEN KILLED AND WOUNDED.

CLASH BETWEEN UNION MINERS AND COAL GUARDS.

The Guards Were Escorting Non-Union Men to the Mines in Tennessee, When the Union Men Closed In on Them—The Guards Fired With Fatal Effect.

NOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 7.—Four men are dead and three are wounded as the result of a clash this morning between union miners at Coal Creek and guards employed by the Coal Creek Coal Company to escort the non-union men in its employ to and from the mines and from the trains and keep union men from attempting to "unionize" them.

The clash occurred shortly after the arrival of the train which reaches Coal Creek from this city at 9:20 o'clock. The train had aboard a gang of miners from Greeneville, Tenn., going to Coal Creek, where employment had been given them by the Coal Creek Coal Company.

The union men closed in on the officers and the new men and offered force in their efforts to get the new men away from the guards. Reeder and Burton, two of the guards, opened fire and three men fell dead and as many more were wounded. The dead are Monroe Black and William W. Taylor, union miners, and Jake Sharp, railroad section hand.

The wounded are A. R. Wats, merchant, shot through jaw; Mox Cox, union miner, shot through arm; Jeff Hoskins, locomotive engineer, slight flesh wound.

REYES PRESIDENT-ELECT.

Colombia's New-Chosen Executive Still Sojourning Here.

Gen. Rafael Reyes, Colombia's Envoy Extraordinary, appeared neither surprised nor elated yesterday over the cable advice received in Washington that he had been elected President of Colombia. He would not discuss his plans, as he has not yet been officially informed.

Probably no man has served longer and with greater distinction in the military, political and diplomatic life of his country. And he is today regarded as the only man by the Colombian people who can successfully settle their difficulty with Panama and reform the internal politics of the country.

Gen. Reyes is about 60 years old. He has been equally prominent and successful in diplomacy, politics and warfare. He is a man of commanding physique and a recognized leader of his people.

On more than one occasion has Gen. Reyes distinguished himself on the field of battle, and as Minister to France he was twice elected to the Senate of the Republic.

He was elected President of the Republic in 1899, and he has since that time been Colombia's representative at the Pan-American Congress in the city of Mexico.

PICKED TAMMANY DELEGATES

ITS PROPOSED TO SEND EMINENT CITIZENS TO ST. LOUIS.

Congressmen, Generally, and District Leaders Told That They Must Step Aside—Ideas to Impress the Convention With the Solidity of the Delegates.

Although the Democratic primaries for electing delegates who will name the men to go as delegates to the Democratic national committee are to be held next month very little talk is being heard in the districts as to the men who will probably be chosen.

There are twenty-two delegates, with twenty two alternates, who will be named at the convention in the eleven Congress districts in this county. Heretofore the names of a lot of the delegates have been pretty well known by this time in the different districts, but this year, as some Tammany politicians said yesterday, things are going to be different.

It was said by Mr. Murphy's idea to have a very select delegation. Mr. Murphy conceived such an idea two years ago when he had a lot of men like August Belmont, John G. Carlisle and Daniel S. Lamont named as delegates to the State convention.

HELD FOR SOLDIER'S DEATH.

Two Women, Over Whom He Had Quarrelled, and Five Men Locked Up.

Six persons who are supposed to know more than they will tell of the death of John Barrett, an artilleryman from Governors Island, were brought before Magistrate Pool in the Tombs police court yesterday and held until today under $1,000 bonds each.

Barrett, with six other soldiers, attended a dance in the rear of the saloon at 15 Washington street and quarrelled with some men about two Austrian girls. Soon after he was found dead in the hallway of a Washington street with a fractured skull and several knife wounds about the face and head.

Bernard Zlobeki, the proprietor of the saloon, tried to make it appear that the soldier had been attacked outside his place, but the detectives thought he was lying and took him into custody, along with the women over whom the row had started.

The police last night made a seventh arrest in the case, locking up Patrick Clarke of 120 Park street as a suspicious person.

A TWO-COP MISADVENTURE.

In Plain Clothes Both Came to Grief Over an Eighth Avenue.

Policeman Joseph E. Flynn, who used to belong to the West Thirty-seventh street station, but was sent out on missions in plain clothes long ago, came over to Manhattan last night to revive old memories. He carried his gun with him.

While he was standing on the corner of Thirty-seventh street and Eighth avenue, drinking in the old familiar smells, a fellow negro crossed his line of vision, followed by a negro woman. They were going too fast for any good purpose, Flynn thought, and on general principles, backed them up.
