

BOB BAKER FINDS A BASTILE.

ROOSEVELT KEEPS IT AT WASHINGTON—NASH WAS IN IT.

Newspapers suppressed the President's Order "Take Him Away, He's Crazy," When "Nash" Suggested Removing P. M. G.—Any Missing Single Taxer?

Congressman Robert Baker, the author of the bill, delivered the last speech at the Manhattan Single Tax Club dinner at the Marlborough Hotel last night. Mr. Baker made charges against President Roosevelt which may or may not cause a great disturbance in Washington, but which certainly caused great excitement at the banquet.

It was in substance nothing less than that Mr. Roosevelt had taken to "removing" opponents of his policies and Administration by railroading them into Government insane asylums. The connection between Mr. Baker's earlier remarks and his letter was so vague that it must be conveyed in his own language to explain it fully, as follows:

"What is this extravagance, this pomp and display at the White House, but the determination of its pyrotechnic, accidental occupant to outshine even the fools who out of the millions stolen from the people through exclusive franchises give 'house-back' lunches and turn their balloons temporarily into barns because they cannot think of any greater folly?"

"That this is no wild and foolish dream of recent occurrence at the White House proves. Already great strides toward absolutism have been made. Ten days ago, or to be exact, on March 26, a resident of Washington, a man who was employed by Hanna both in 1892 and in 1893 to help save the country who has been a confederator with the Post Office Department and who claims to have aided in the exposures which have developed so much rottenness there, who has been prominent in citizens' movements in Washington in opposition to railroad 'grab' legislation and who was particularly incensed at the idea of a highly respected gentleman named Baker, being selected chairman of the Republican Congressional committee, called at the White House to present a petition on the subject to the President.

"After waiting about an hour he was asked to return the next week. Being desirous that the matter should be given early attention, and fearing that delay might defeat his object, he wrote a brief note explaining the need of immediate consideration of the matter, and sent it with the paper which he had brought with him.

"What was the result, do you suppose? Why the paper was issued in that a man who he sent out orders to arrest the man—'he's crazy'!"

"The significant feature about the matter is, however, that the paper was not only locked up for seven hours—from 11 to 8 P. M.—during which time two physicians examined him as to the alleged insanity, but declared him to be sane, not only one line has yet appeared in any of the three Washington papers on the subject, the reason assigned being that the reporter being that it would 'hurt the President'."

"It was only as a result of the strenuous efforts of his relatives—prominent business men in the city—that this man, Andrew Nash, was released.

"Baker read a letter which stated that Mr. Nash has a mental and moral condition responsible family and was himself a responsible person. The letter went on to say: 'This incident gives a better insight into the deeper character of the man than Roosevelt than the fine incident of the Panama affair.' Mr. Baker went on to say: 'It has come to me as a nice man and the country (for this man is a Republican) must not dare suggest that corruption exists in the Government. I am intimate that the head of that Department cannot be trusted to uncover fraud there, but is more disposed to suppress all knowledge of it, and to keep the public in the dark which exists even in most monarchial countries—the right of petition—without being arrested and examined by a jury. By such a man, the tremendous power of the Presidential office is used to prevent any knowledge of the man being gained by the people.'

"It would be interesting to learn whether any one else, who has the obsolete idea that dishonesty should be punished and fraud discouraged, has ever been dropped out of sight in Washington recently, and I should certainly advise the friends of any who may have disappeared to start looking for them in the city, where they have been 'railroaded' to prison as Nash was, without any mention of the matter getting into the newspapers.

"Of course, this is not Siberia nor Turkey, and therefore such things cannot be. It is only a wicked Democrat like myself who could for the moment forget that in the United States of America, nominally a republic, and under a Republican Administration, proceedings of this kind which are secretly consigning our enemies to the dungeons of the Bastille."

"William Lloyd, who was the first speaker, said that both of the established political parties, through Secretary Taft and Thomas C. Platt, as spokesmen, had decided that the Declaration of Independence was a lack number. Both parties, he said, had united to exalt Jefferson, the slaveholder, and to repudiate the Declaration, in whose honor the banquet was held.

"He said that the world would have received with awe a Declaration of Independence which said: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men, having inalienable rights, are created equal, and endowed with certain equal and inalienable rights.' Mr. Garrison denied the right of either the Democrats or the Republicans to the suffrages of free Americans.

John Z. White of Chicago and Frank Stephens also spoke. No ambulances were called.

FIVE TO ONE AGAINST HEARST.

Essex Co., N. J., Democratic Primaries Defeat His Adherents.

NEWARK, April 6.—The Democratic primaries in Essex county resulted in a defeat of the Hearst adherents by at least five to one and in Newark the proportion was much higher. The organization had a number of districts solid, and no single district gave a solid vote for Hearst. There was some disorder in one or two districts in the city but nobody was hurt. Generally the primaries were quietly conducted. In Free, Hill and East districts the campaign managers to get a majority in his own ward.

Wisconsin Convention on May 18.

MADISON, Wis., April 6.—The Republican State central committee to-day decided to hold the State convention here on May 18.

Rensselaer County Sends Roosevelt Delegates.

TROY, April 6.—The Second and Third district Republican conventions in Rensselaer county were held to-day. Each chose delegates to the State convention. Of the Third district, former Gov. Frank S. Black and Sen. Senator William B. Barnes head the delegates, while State Representative Charles S. Francis and Judge Abner H. Jones head the delegates from the Second district. Both conventions adopted resolutions honoring the administration of President Roosevelt and Gov. Odell.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.

Hearst Wins in Second Chautauque District—More Parker Delegates.

JANESVILLE, April 6.—The Democratic convention for the Second Chautauque district was held at Mayville this afternoon, and because of the rivalry of candidates for State committee little attention was paid to the Parker-Hearst contest in the county, although State delegates elected were unhampered by any instructions.

The Chautauque county candidates for State committee are James A. Hughes of Falconer, who is in the First Assembly district, and George Bennett of Ripley, who is in the Second district. Mr. Hughes is a pronounced Hill-Parker man. Mr. Bennett is unclassified. The Hughes forces were headed by Daniel F. Fosney of Bankers, who is a supporter of Parker, but who is suspected of a secret intimacy with Hearst.

The Bennett forces were headed by an aggregation of individuals who frankly oppose any instructions for Parker and who make no secret of their opposition to Hill. Tassie was joined as soon as the convention was called to order and a free for all fight was averted by the timely withdrawal of the Hughes faction. After this withdrawal the convention was organized, and a count disclosed the fact that 53 of the 70 delegates in the convention were opposed to Parker.

These State delegates were elected: H. J. Avery and James O. Bennett of Hanover; T. J. Jones of Mayville; J. W. Sherman of Dunkirk; L. H. Elliott of Mayville and W. B. Whitney of Sherman.

The delegation was unimpaired, but the Parker forces were not. It was a Hearst delegation. Mr. Avery, who retains a residence in Chautauque county for voting purposes, is in reality a Parker man. Mr. Jones, who is a Buffalo Equiner, which opposes Parker. Messrs. Elliott, Cummings and Bennett are Hearst men, and will support the Hearst delegation. The Hughes faction authorized Mr. Hughes to name a set of State delegates, and in all probability he will do so. The Democratic contesting delegation to the State convention.

UTICA, April 6.—The endorsement of Judge Parker's candidacy for President by the district Democratic convention of Onondaga county was completed to-day when the Second district Democrats elected delegates to the State convention, and authorized a resolution instructing the delegates for Parker. The following were chosen to represent the district at the Albany convention: R. Wilson, Robert Sangerfield and M. F. Jordan of New Hartford; A. E. Dorn of Vernon.

SYRACUSE, April 6.—The Democratic convention of the Third district assembly districts were held to-day. In the Third the reorganizers received 144 votes to 10 for the organization. Almon W. Baker, William B. Kirk are the anti-organization delegates. Parker was endorsed for President and McCallan for Governor. The organization threatens to send a contesting delegation to the State convention. John J. Cummins's opposition to Kirk resulted in the former being dropped out of the State delegation by Mr. Dunfee. The organization claims that Tammany influence resulted in the dropping of Kirk. In the Fourth district these organization men were named: William F. Kafferty, P. J. McCallan and William H. Kelley.

TIP FROM MR. DEVERY.

As to Where McAdoo Can Find a Good Deputy—He Finds Politics Slow.

The Hon. William Stephen Devery held court all day yesterday at the camp. His conversation was winding five weeks ago at Atlantic City, was fittingly celebrated with fireworks on Tuesday night. Mr. Devery described himself as "feeling" as fit as a fiddle.

"I'm kinder out of touch on the political game," said he, "but I don't mind passing out a few remarks for the benefit of my friends. Personally, I ain't takin' much interest in the political game. I've had mine and I think it's slow. Maybe as the hot weather comes on I may start things goin' in this district, but I ain't made up my mind yet. I'm no dead end, and if I decide later on to jump in the game again I'm a goin' to know it. Just now I'm still and distant, but my ears close to the ground. Maybe I'll hear Mr. McAdoo callin' me to help him keep the lid on. I ain't blowin' my own horn, but I know where he kin lay his hands on a good deputy. I'm too modest to mention his name."

Most of Mr. Devery's remarks had reference to Presidential candidates. He expressed the opinion that Mr. Cleveland is in the tall grass; that the worst thing about Judge Parker was that he is "ried up to that Wolf's Roost hill. The candidate for the Governor, Mr. McCallan, he said that "all this talk 'bout things bein' shut up tight is rot, and that 'bout half an hour ago I was askin' 'bout what kind of a gent Mr. Murphy was."

"Taint any of my business, though," he concluded. "I'm a very busy man lookin' after me real estate."

TRAMPLED BY WOMAN MANIAC.

Mrs. Libbie Orchard of the Brooklyn Rescue Home Seriously Injured.

Mrs. Libbie Orchard, who conducts the Brooklyn Rescue Home at 1009 Hancock street, was badly injured by a woman maniac who was trampled by Beatrice Pomeroy, 23 years old, of 106 East 121st street, Manhattan, yesterday afternoon, while she was taking the young woman to the hospital.

On the way down the home in the morning the Pomeroy woman talked incoherently. At the entrance to the office of the Charities Department she attempted to force her way into the office. She turned on her, threw her to the ground and jumped on her. When her right arm was broken, and she was injured internally. She was taken to the Kings County Hospital.

The Weather.

The depression from the Mississippi valley moved northeast yesterday into the Lake region, carrying a rain belt with it, which swept all the way from the Mississippi River and the Allegheny Mountains and threatening weather reached the Middle Atlantic States in the afternoon. The high pressure area is moving off east and east.

There was a second storm forming over Montana and Wyoming, but it was without defined action. Fair weather prevailed in nearly all the States west of the Mississippi. The temperature was higher in most districts in the Middle Atlantic States. It was slightly warmer in the morning and slightly cooler in the afternoon.

In this city the day was fair and warmer in the morning, cloudy and cooler in the afternoon; winds from northeast; average humidity, 46 per cent; barometer, corrected to sea level, at 8 A. M., 30.13; 3 P. M., 30.12; 8 P. M., 30.11.

The temperature yesterday as recorded by the official thermometer is shown in the annexed table.

WASHINGTON FORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.

For eastern New York, showers to-day; partly cloudy to-morrow; light to fresh southeast winds, becoming variable.

For New England, showers to-day; partly cloudy to-morrow; light to fresh east winds, becoming variable.

For the District of Columbia and Maryland, showers this morning followed by partly cloudy weather; partly cloudy to-morrow; variable winds.

For western New York, showers to-day; partly cloudy to-morrow; variable winds.

EXPECT ARREST IN PAGE CASE

DETECTIVES THINK THEY KNOW A MOTIVE FOR THE MURDER.

A Driver and a Conductor Saw the Dead Girl's Father Standing at the Gate After Her Death—The Former Says He Trained Two Men—One Returned.

BOSTON, April 6.—The Page murder mystery is still unsolved. The greatest difficulty of the detectives is to establish a motive for the crime, but they have a clue now that looks as if it might result in an arrest. Gen. J. H. Whitney, who is in charge of the State sleuths, was said to have paid a mysterious visit to Weston to-night, but up to a late hour the reporters had been unable to find him.

This afternoon the authorities interviewed some people in Weston and its immediate vicinity, with the hope that perhaps something might be learned that would put the officers on the track of the murderer. The theory that a woman is guilty has not been accepted by the police. Neither do they go so far as to say that a woman could not have committed the deed.

Mrs. William Jones, who was formerly employed by the Pages, has been located in an asylum near Halifax. Joseph Gallant, driver of a team that passed the Page house shortly after 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, says the elder Page rushed out in a state of excitement and asked him if he had seen two men who just passed down the road. Gallant asked: "Just then I saw Gallant. I caught sight of two men on the road about fifty yards from the house. I asked Mr. Page if those were the two men who had murdered Mr. Page and called to them. They stopped. Gallant started his team and Mr. Page walked alongside. Gallant asked Mr. Page again what was the matter, but Mr. Page made no reply.

When they came up to the men Mr. Page spoke to them. One immediately returned with Mr. Page to the house, and the other kept on toward Carter Corner. William C. Lowe, a conductor on the Boston and Albany Railroad, was speeding his horse along South avenue, on Thursday afternoon, about 3:15 o'clock. Just before he reached the Page house he noticed a man and a woman at the gate and looking about excitedly.

"Mr. Page was shading his eyes with his hand and looking up and down the road," said Mr. Lowe to-day.

"When I came along he hailed me and asked if I would go to the home of Mrs. Bennett and notify her that there was trouble at his house. I drove to Mrs. Bennett's and sent her to the scene. At that time Mr. Page made a statement to me. He said that there was somebody seriously ill in his house."

CHIEF CROKER RUMPS HIS HEAD.

And Then Sees Fireboat McClellan Heaten Because of High Water Pressure.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Chief Edward F. Croker of the New York Fire Department had his head banged here to-day while watching the test of Philadelphia's new high pressure fire main service. Chief Croker witnessed the demonstration in which the pumps threw a stream of water 200 feet high from a fire hose in the Delaware River from the deck of the New York fireboat George B. McClellan, at the New York Shipbuilding Company's yard at Camden.

As he was walking along the deck of the McClellan, Chief Croker struck his head violently against an iron beam. He was assisted for a minute, and his head was anxious to send for a physician. The Chief replaced his hat, however, after a deep cut had been bandaged, and declined surgical assistance.

A feature of the demonstration was the contest between the Philadelphia fireboat McClellan and the McClellan on its trial trip this morning made an average speed of 12 knots. She will be taken to New York next week. The McClellan is a 150-foot-long, 100-foot-wide auxiliary hose on the upper deck. The engine of the boat succeeded in maintaining a pressure of 150 pounds per square inch, and the engine forced a horizontal stream more than three hundred feet long.

At the conclusion of the New York boat's performance the local fireboat Stuart tried to exceed the McClellan's feat. The Stuart was compelled to use a hose with a wider nozzle than that on the McClellan, and for this reason that boat claimed supremacy, as she succeeded in reaching the McClellan's mark.

"I am entirely satisfied with the test," said Chief Croker. "High pressure is the only thing, and we have got to have it in New York."

ELKIN FOR SUPREME COURT.

Quay Shifts Him Off the Road to the Governor's Chair.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 6.—Former Attorney-General John P. Elkin of Indiana county was nominated by acclamation for the Supreme Court to-day by the Republican convention at the same place where, two years ago, he was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination at the orders of the same party. The same Mr. Elkin, who no doubt laughed over the consternation caused by the declination of the nomination by Gov. Pennypacker, planned the move which resulted to-day in sweeping aside John P. Elkin for the path to the Governor's chair, where his friends swore to place him in 1906.

Gov. Pennypacker was made the head of the delegation to the national convention. The other delegates at large elected by the convention to-day were: James Elverston, Sr., Philadelphia; Francis L. Robbins, Pittsburg; O. D. Bleakley, Franklin. Alternates—O. F. Hershman, Allegheny; E. H. Thomas, Lehigh; Jesse Sherman, Blair; R. B. Dick, Crawford; E. J. Dierker, Donegalsburg; Robert Pittman, Pittsburg; Major Levi G. McCaulley of Chester.

Senator Penrose was reelected chairman of the Republican State committee by acclamation.

PLATT SEES THE PRESIDENT.

Says Elihu Root Will Be Temporary Chairman of Chicago Convention.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Platt went to the White House this morning and had a talk with the President about political affairs in New York. The Senator said that he had no doubt that Elihu Root would be elected for the important place of temporary chairman of the Republican national convention, and that he would make an address which would sound the keynote of the Republican campaign. Senator Platt expects that an arrangement will be made by which Mr. Root will be elected as one of the district delegates to the Empire State to the national convention. Senator Dewey, who called on the President this morning, said that he was for Mr. Root for chairman of the convention, and he believed that he would be chosen.

Henry G. Dawes Nominated for Congress.

MARIETTA, Ohio, April 6.—The Republicans of the Fifteenth district to-day nominated Henry G. Dawes of Washington county for Congress. Auditor of State Guilbert and James Joyce were chosen delegates to the national convention and N. K. Brown Presidential elector.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOBY.

The directors of the Pope Manufacturing Company have elected Arthur W. Pope of Boston to the board to take the place of Samuel C. Winslow of Worcester.

CANDIDATES FOR A $5,000 JOB.

Whoever Gets It, the Relations of Woodruff and Dady Will Not Change.

The Republican executive committee in Brooklyn will meet to-day to consider the claims of the various candidates for the office of Commissioner of Records, to run for five years, with a yearly salary of $5,000, and the disposal of patronage to no less than seventy-five faithful party workers. Timothy L. Woodruff, the county clerk, and George W. Dady, the county clerk, will be present at the conference, and one or both of them undoubtedly will shape whatever decision is reached.

There are nearly a dozen candidates for the job, the two most conspicuous being F. J. H. Kracke and John K. Neal, leaders in the Eighteenth district. While there is nothing in the nature of a factional squabble between Mr. Woodruff and Col. Dady on the question of filling this office, there is a marked difference of opinion between them in reference to the candidacy of Kracke and Neal.

While Mr. Woodruff admits that either candidate would manage the office in a businesslike manner, he leans toward Kracke on the ground that his appointment would be the wisest from a party standpoint, on an identical basis. The same ground is taken by Col. Dady in favor of Neal. It is surmised, in some quarters, that in the interest of the continuance of the remarkable harmony existing between the publican Commissioner of Records and the Republican executive committee, both Kracke and Neal will be withdrawn from the race and one of the minor candidates will be selected. Mr. Dady, however, is not so sure, and he is not so sure that he should resign his present office so as to make way for the appointment of Dady as his successor and his own appointment as a delegate to the national convention. Fuller and Dady have not been on very friendly terms since Mayor Loo turned the latter down for reappointment as Commissioner of Records and named Fuller in his place; but some of his friends last night that he might possibly be inclined to look favorably on the proposal.

It is scarcely reasonable, however, to suppose that the dozen or more candidates for the Commissioner of Records will be fairly and evenly divided. The Republican arrangement. In accordance with the provisions of the law passed last year, the two best candidates, Kracke and Neal, are clothed with the power of appointment, which is to be made to-morrow. Both are probably to be present at the conference of the Republican State committee.

BENTON TO BE ONE OF BIG FOUR.

Returns in Massachusetts Indicate He Will Be a Delegate at Large.

BOSTON, April 6.—Returns from the Republican caucuses held throughout the State last night indicate a sweeping victory for Col. Everett C. Benton of Belmont in his contest with Eugene H. Foss for a place with the "Big Four" delegates at large to the national convention.

By common consent it has been agreed that Senator Lowell, ex-Gov. Crane and ex-Gov. Lodge should be three of the four. For the fourth place Senator Lodge and the State organization favored Col. Benton. Col. Benton defeated Mr. Foss in Boston, where the principal contest was and which was believed to be the latter's stronghold. The champion of the two wards, in which there were contesting delegates.

Hudson County, N. J., Democrats for Parker.

Democratic primaries were held in Hudson county, N. J., last night. The election of Senator Lowell to the State convention at Trenton on April 14. The regulars had no opposition. Robert Davis, leader of the county organization, is in favor of the nomination of Judge Parker for Governor and the election of Mr. McCallan to the national convention as a delegate at large.

PARKER HILL'S MAN, SAYS BRYAN.

And Hill Stands for Everything But That Cleveland Stands For.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 6.—Mr. Bryan says in the Commoner that Parker is not available as a candidate and that the fact that he is a Hill man is sufficient to raise a suspicion in regard to his position on public opinion. "It would mean that those who attempted to reach the White House if Parker were elected would have to stand by a small party thing that had Cleveland stands for and lacks the brutal frankness that gave Cleveland his name. Mr. Hill stands for everything but that Cleveland stands for."

HEARST ROOM COLLAPSING.

Kansas Politicians Not So Confident as They Were Two Weeks Ago.

WICHITA, Kan., April 6.—The Hearst boom is not so brisk as it was and the Democratic politicians gathering here for the State convention to-morrow are beginning to hedge in their judgment of what will be the result. The same Mr. Hearst, who no doubt laughed over the consternation caused by the declination of the nomination by Gov. Pennypacker, planned the move which resulted to-day in sweeping aside John P. Elkin for the path to the Governor's chair, where his friends swore to place him in 1906.

ODELL PRAISE RUSHED ALONG.

Opposition to Indorsing Him Squelched in a Later Convention.

WATERBURY, N. Y., April 6.—At the two Republican Assembly district conventions held here to-day the administrations of Roosevelt and Odell were indorsed. William Hilliker, a delegate, moved that reference to the indorsement of Odell's administration be eliminated, but before the resolution was seconded the original resolution was rushed through. Delegates elected to the State convention are favorable to the nomination of Senator Brown as delegate to the national convention. Both conventions adopted resolutions against the Judges' pension bill.

Congressman Dwight Renominated.

BINGHAMTON, April 6.—The Republican convention for the Thirtieth Congress district renominated to-day John W. Dwight of Dryden, Tompkins county, for Congress. Mr. Dwight and Col. George W. Dunn were elected delegates to the national convention with instructions to support Dwight for President and Roosevelt for Vice-President.

Third Long Island District Delegates.

MINGOLA, L. I., April 6.—The convention of the Third Assembly district Republicans to-day elected the following delegates to the national convention: The Hon. W. D. Doughty, Smith Co.; George Sprague, H. G. Steenbuck, T. J. Ellison, Dr. F. A. Wright, the Hon. W. C. Cocks and R. U. Clark.

Children's Underwear and Hosiery.

For Spring and Summer Wear. An infinitely larger assortment of desirable styles, weights and sizes than can be found elsewhere. Carefully selected quality, the best that Europe or America can supply.

- Underwear. Combination Suits. Silk and Wool Underwear. Ribbed Underwear. Gauze, Gossamer and Super-weights, in Merino, White and Natural Wool. Hosiery. Sox, 3-4 and Long Hose, Black, White and Colors. Cotton, Lisle Thread, Silk and Light Weight Wool. 60-62 West 23d Street.

B. Altman & Co.

Have received additional shipments of Black Silks, consisting of Imported Chiffon Taffetas and Safin Messalines, the new silk materials for gowns, also Black Japanese Silks in complete range of qualities (proof against perspiration and water). Eighteenth St., Nineteenth St., Sixth Avenue, New York.

STATION IN A SKYSCRAPER.

ELEVATED TO SHARE NEW TALL BUILDING IN RECTOR STREET.

The United States Express Company has bought the block front on the north side of Rector street, between Trinity place and Greenwich street, with a view to erecting on it a fifteen or twenty story building. The block front of the building will be reserved for the use of the company. The rest has been leased to the Manhattan Railway Company, whose Ninth avenue station will be removed and replaced by another inside the new building.

Telephone Service at business or at home.

Promotes Comfort. Ask for rates.

New York Telephone Company 15 DeWey Street.

SUSAN TRAIN GULAGER DEAD.

Daughter and Greatest Admirer of the Late Citizen George Francis Train.

Susan M. Train Gulager, a daughter of the late George Francis Train, died on Tuesday night at the home of a friend in this city. Her body was taken to her home at Home Park, in New Rochelle. Mrs. Gulager's two brothers, George Francis Train, Jr., who is in California, and Charles M. Train, who is in Michigan, were notified of her death. It is not expected that they will be here in time to attend the funeral, which will be held in New Rochelle on Friday.

Mrs. Gulager was 40 years old. She was born in New York. Her husband was Philip Dunbar Gulager, who was employed in the Sub-Treasury in this city up to the time of his death, five years ago.

Mrs. Gulager's home was in Stamford, Conn., up to a year ago, when she moved to New Rochelle. It was in her Stamford home that George Francis Train had smallpox. Mrs. Gulager was a devoted wife and mother. She had a number of scrapbooks with clippings of newspaper accounts of her father's career.

LEFT AUTO TO HELP SUICIDE.

Young Man Takes Poison in Front of the Old Broadway Tabernacle.

A young man about 16 years old committed suicide last night by drinking carbolic acid in front of the old Broadway Tabernacle building at Broadway and Thirty-fourth street. The building is being torn down, and the young man walked up and down for some time on the temporary sidewalk in front of it before taking the poison.

Obituary Notes.

Judge Richard A. Wheeler died in Stonington, Conn., yesterday, aged 87. He had been Judge of Probate for twenty-seven years, and was a member of the Connecticut Bar. Justice of the Peace forty years, notary public fifty-five years, and was a member of the Connecticut Bar for sixty-eight years. He drew 625 wills and never was one broken. He was a member of the Connecticut Bar, the first families of Connecticut, New York and Rhode Island, and was a member of the Connecticut Bar for twenty years. He was frequently consulted by people from all over the State for his genealogical and historical records. He was a member of historical societies in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island. He was president of the Stonington Savings Bank.

William H. Conroy, Editor of the Evening Bulletin of Honolulu and Secretary of the Republican Territorial central committee, died of heart disease in that city on March 31. His father, John Harvey Conroy, was related to the family from which Conroy Island took its name. He had a rare command of the Hawaiian language and had made a collection of Hawaiian myths and folk lore, which he was arranging for publication. One of his sisters married Hubert Voss, the Dutch painter.

Stone Thomas Higgins, a retired building contractor and a prominent member of the Clatsop and the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood, died on Tuesday, in his sixty-seventh year, at his home in Clatsop, Ore. He was 16 years old and had been in the life insurance business nearly all his life.

Robert Walden, who had been in the dry goods commission business at 5 Walker street for forty years, died on Monday in his eighty-third year at his home in Clatsop, Ore. He was 16 years old and had been in the life insurance business nearly all his life.

Dr. Crawford K. Fritts, the leading physician of Hudson, N. Y., died yesterday. He had an attack of neuralgia of the head on Saturday, and despite heroic methods pursued by his attending physicians, he failed to recover. He was in his fifty-fourth year.

Schooner Kailua a Wreck.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The schooner Kailua, owned by Hindes & Co. of Clatsop, Ore., was wrecked off Vancouver Island. There are no signs of survivors. The Kailua was one of the best of the big four-masted sailing ships on the coast. She was commanded by Capt. J. C. Lass.

Oxfords for Men.

New Spring & Summer Models, Three-Fifty.

In curves, grace has its source. Every curve of the ankle a Saks Oxford follows faithfully and gracefully. Even long and strenuous service cannot divorce them. We have nine distinctive models of low cut shoes for men at three-fifty, every one of which is fashioned, for the greater part, by hand. The lasts: Pota, Straight or London toe. The leathers: patent colt, wax-calf, Russia calf or velour calf. The styles: lace or blucher. The cost: three-fifty, and well worth it.

Saks & Company

Broadway, 33d to 34th Street.

Kennedy

12 Cortlandt St.

The Very Best Material Combined with style in Derbys and stunning Sait Hats.

At 1.90 and 2.75. Others do not produce at Three, Four or Five Dollars. $6.00 Low Shoes, $3.49. Fitted with $1.50 maple wood extension trees free. Russel, Black and Shiny Leather, New Flat Lasts, Military Heels, Dipped Toes. Bench Made Wing Tips, 5.98.

SUES MRS. JACK GARDNER.

Dispute About