

expressed firm confidence in the endurance of the defuncting peninsula. The soldiers and sailors on parade answered him with cheers.

Gen. Stoenel issued the following order of the day yesterday: "The enemy crossed the Yalu on April 30 and May 1 in great force. Our troops fell back to positions which had been previously selected. Yesterday the enemy effected an important landing south of Pitsewo, near Kinchau Bay. Now our work will begin. Naturally the enemy will endeavor to destroy our communications and drive our troops back upon Port Arthur and besiege the fortress, Russia's bulwark in the Far East. We will defend it until the arrival of the troops that are coming to relieve us."

DALNY REPORTED TAKEN.

Japanese Troops Said to Have Occupied the Russian Port. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. SHANGHAI, May 7.—It is reported that the Japanese captured Tallenwan yesterday. Tallenwan, which the Russians call Dalny, is on the eastern shore of the Liaotung Peninsula, just above Port Arthur. The ambition of the Russians has been to make it a great commercial center. To that end they spent over $20,000,000 in building docks and warehouses there. The bay is deep and well protected from storms.

REJOICING IN TOKIO.

Cutting Off of Port Arthur Arouses Great Enthusiasm. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. TOKYO, May 7.—It is semi-officially reported that the Japanese army has destroyed the railway on the Liaotung peninsula between Port Arthur and Tashikuan. Great enthusiasm prevails over the landing of the Japanese troops. The usual lantern processions were not held, because they have been forbidden in Tokio, though they are allowed in the provinces. The press insists that a Japanese victory, no matter how extensive, will mean only the integrity of China and the "open door."

The report that J. W. Davidson, appointed United States Consul at Antung, will proceed to his post tomorrow, provided that existing conditions are understood. Because all Manchuria is a battlefield, Japan must insist on belligerent rights, placing the Yalu and Liao districts alike under military government as soon as occupied. The Yalu River region and Japanese and Chinese waters will be opened to commerce, with the result of increasing Japan's prestige.

It is reported that three Russian transports, the largest of them a vessel of 3,000 tons, were captured last Sunday at the mouth of the Yalu.

JAPANESE IN SEOUL CELEBRATE.

Ceremonies Take Part in the Festivities, but No Foreigners Attend. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. SEOUL, May 7.—The celebration of the Japanese victory at Kiiuhngchun was begun to-day by prayers and a salute to the monument to the heroes of Japanese and Korean wars. Luncheon was served in the beautiful gardens of the old palace. The Korean civil and military officials obediently cooperated in all the proceedings, but no foreigners were in attendance, as the committee of arrangements reconsidered its intention to invite the members of the foreign legations.

RUSSIAN TROOPS CHEERFUL.

Those Going to the Front Ask How to Order Tea When They Reach Japan. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. SINGAPORE, May 7.—The troops going to the front are in excellent spirits. They ask the officers when they are likely to reach Japan, and want to know the Japanese ways for tea, tobacco, etc. Some of them have been traveling on trains for forty days, but all are cheery.

No newspaper correspondents are allowed to go to Liaoyang, where the foreign military attachés still continue to reside. Victor Alexieff has arrived from Port Arthur.

BOMB IN THE CZAR'S ROOMS.

Vienna Hears of a Chapter of Plots and Disorder in Russia. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. VIENNA, May 7.—Alarming rumors regarding the internal condition of Russia are current here. A conspiracy is said to have been discovered in Russian Poland, with the result that eighteen of the ring-leaders were shot. sanguinary collisions between the people and the police have taken place in Finland, and an infernal machine is said to have been found in the Winter Palace in one of the Czar's living rooms.

St. Petersburg, May 7.—The Viedomosti says that the garrison of Cronstadt was recently summoned to extinguish a fire of wood and shavings in the fortress, which was blazing near here pyroxyline and shells were stored. It was afterward discovered that the shavings had been soaked with petroleum.

ANOTHER FORCE LANDED?

Paris Hears of a Movement Against the Russian Right Flank. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PARIS, May 7.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says it is believed at military headquarters there that the Japanese force which landed at Pitsewo numbered at least 40,000 men.

Three columns envelope Gen. Kourapatkin. The road to Mukden is the only one open. Gen. Kuroki is on Kourapatkin's left, with 50,000 men. His right flank is a Japanese army of the same strength, occupying the road to Port Arthur.

His right flank is threatened by the landing of a large force at or near Inkow, the debarkation of which has not yet been officially announced.

CHLOROFORM FOR WORSHIPERS

Somebody Threw Half a Gallon into a Holiness Meeting—Church Stoned. INDIANAPOLIS, May 7.—While the Christian Holiness congregation was in the midst of its worship at Wabash last night and the church was crowded with people, some one threw half a gallon of chloroform into the middle aisle of the church. In an instant the room was filled with the fumes of the drug.

The breaking of the bottle on the floor caused but a momentary cessation of the shouting. It was resumed and more than a dozen persons were on the floor taking part in the peculiar services. In a few minutes several were overcome by the fumes of the drug and presently its dangerous nature was realized.

Those who were not seriously affected began to drag others out of the house and went to the doors and windows, where they revived slowly under the influence of fresh air.

The services were then resumed and immediately a shower of stones fell on the building. The windows were broken with sticks and stones and several members of the congregation were hit, but no one was seriously injured.

It is charged that the attack was incited by the pastor and several members of the church who are disturbed by the services, which frequently last till after midnight.

ALDRICH FOR CASH-GATHERER

ITS GOING TO BE A HARD YEA TO RAISE CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

Whoever Is Treasurer of the Republican National Committee the Rhode Island Senator Will Be the Financial Main-spring—Try It, "The House in Danger."

The Republican conferences in the White House in the last ten days have not been given over entirely to the selection of a candidate for Vice-President or a chairman of the Republican national committee. A treasurer of the national committee must be found to succeed Cornelius N. Bliss if Mr. Bliss becomes chairman, of which there is now no serious doubt. Mr. Bliss has been treasurer of the committee since 1892, and until Mr. Hanna became chairman most of the work of collecting campaign subscriptions fell upon Mr. Bliss. With the advent of Mr. Hanna, the labors of Mr. Bliss were made very much lighter, and as a matter of fact Mr. Hanna was not only the chairman to conduct the contest of 1896 and 1900, but he was the man who gathered the campaign funds. Mr. Hanna often said that he found that part of his labors decidedly ungenial, as frequently he was subjected to humiliating ordeals by Republicans whose wealth was the direct result of the Republican party's policies.

From statements made last night by Republicans who attended the White House United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island has been selected to undertake to see to it that the Republican committee has the necessary funds with which to conduct the approaching battle. While Senator Aldrich may not be made treasurer of the National committee, there is no doubt of the accuracy of the statement that he is the man who is to provide the spoils.

United States Senator Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana said again at the Waldorf-Astoria that he had nothing to say concerning his alleged candidacy for the vice-presidential nomination, but he talked with a number of friends. BRYAN EXPLODES AGAIN.

Writes a Letter to Judge McCabe striking at Judge Parker.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 7.—In a letter to Judge James McCabe, a former member of the Indiana supreme court, which was evidently written to be given to the public and on the eve of the Democratic convention, William Jennings Bryan takes strong ground against the nomination of Judge Parker.

He refers to the Indiana Democrats as having been true to the party in 1896, but says he fears some of them have been trapped by the reorganizers. In respect to Judge Parker, he says, after referring to his continued silence:

"It is impossible to conceive of a Democratic campaign fought on a meaningless platform and under the leadership of a muzzled candidate. The excuse that his judicial position makes it improper for him to discuss public questions is a pitiful and contemptible pretense."

Other judges have not been hampered by judicial ethics, and, besides, he can resign any day and thus free himself from the imaginary restraints of his office. If a Democratic nomination is worth having, it is certainly worth resigning a Judgeship to secure it.

But the Judge's attack of lockjaw does not save him. You have doubtless heard of the simoleon who, when leaving home, was told by his mother that if he would not say anything he could conceal from others the fact that he was foolish. The boy came back and told his mother that he had been found out.

And so with Judge Parker, the people have found him out, even though he has refused to give his opinion upon public questions. A Democratic nomination is worth having, it is certainly worth resigning a Judgeship to secure it.
