

BRING OUT HUBBARD'S BODY.

IT IS DRAGGED 475 MILES ON A SLED THROUGH LABRADOR.

Explorer Starved to Death in the Interior—Two Companions, Who Were Rescued, Reach Coast With Body After a Trying Trip—Will Come on to New York.

St. John's, N. F., May 16.—The body of Leonidas Hubbard Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., leader of the Outing expedition to Labrador, who died there of starvation, has reached Wellsville, north of here, on the steamer Aurora. The coffin was dragged by his comrades and dog teams over 475 miles through the snow-crooked coast of Labrador, and then came over 400 miles of ocean to this port, to be sent to New York.

When they left here last July for Labrador, Hubbard and his two comrades, Dillon Wallace of New York and George Elson of Winnipeg, the latter a Cree guide, were confident of making an unequalled record in exploring interior Labrador, but they took too little food with them, and Hubbard starved to death before they could retrace their steps to the coast.

They started inland from a Hudson Bay post on Northwest River in July, but their supplies ran short. They killed a few deer and some birds, but gradually weakened, and after being in this condition two months Hubbard died on Oct. 18. The others barely escaped a similar fate, being rescued by some trappers whose camp Elson reached in time to tell them where he had left Wallace in a condition of collapse. They hurried to Wallace's aid and saved him, but when Hubbard was found he was dead.

The trappers brought the dead and living back to Northwest River, where Wallace's frozen feet were treated and where he and Elson remained from November until March, by which time they were thoroughly recuperated. They left Northwest River with a party of Hudson Bay couriers and men on their way out to the coast, bringing the body with them on a sled.

They worked down the coast to Battle Harbor, which they reached last Thursday. They had intended making their way to Quebec, which is almost 1,200 miles from their starting point, but as the sealing steamer Aurora, bound for St. John's, was lying in Cape Charles Harbor, only ten miles away, they communicated with her and she called for them. Their journey of 475 miles overland occupied ten weeks, and they overjoyed ten sleds and ninety-four dogs in hauling the coffin over the difficult stages of the journey. The trip was made across snowclad wastes swept by fierce blizzards and through the intense cold of the severest winter in fifty years. The journey, therefore, was terribly trying, and the party suffered severely, but hung to their task. Wallace and Elson are now in excellent health.

The Aurora will arrive here to-morrow.

GEN. WOOD TAKES THE FIELD.

Will Punish the Moros Who Ambushed American Troops.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Major-Gen. Leonard Wood has started out to punish the Mindanao Moros who ambushed American troops on May 6. This news came to the War Department to-day in the following telegram from Major-Gen. Wade, commanding the Division of the Philippines at Manila:

"Major-Gen. Leonard Wood, with 450 officers and men, is en route to recover the bodies of our killed. Two of the number who were previously reported killed have come in. It is learned that four more who were reported killed are alive. [The first reports said seventeen were killed.] There is no trouble outside of Datto Ali's band. Datto Ali is friendly to the United States. Everything is quiet in the Catabat Valley. The people are planting crops and are anxious to have Ali's band taken and are furnishing assistance freely and willingly. All's outfit is in the country east of Lake Liguasan, which is swampy and almost uninhabitable. Word from the expedition is not expected for several days. It will take the command six days to march to the place where the engagement of May 8 occurred."

TRIED TO BURN A CHURCH.

A Tramp Detected in Setting Fire to a Structure Burned Twice Before.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 16.—At an early hour this morning a plumber who was called to mend a bad leak in a pipe at the Lincoln, an apartment house, saw a light glimmering in the rear of the Elm Park Methodist Church, the finest place of worship in the city.

The plumber walked around the structure and was amazed to see a man engaged in kindling a fire against the side of the structure. The man made off with the plumber in close pursuit. The plumber got near enough to see that the man was a tramp, but could not catch him.

The previous afternoon a tramp called at the Lincoln and asked for something to eat, later inquiring if the church opposite had not been burned down twice. He is supposed to be the would-be incendiary.

The Elm Park church was twice burned by the watchman, who was detected and sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary.

CO-ED KIDNAPPERS UP.

Ten Nebraska University Girls Reported to the Chancellor for Discipline.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 16.—Ten co-eds at the State University, members of the junior class, have been notified to appear before the chancellor to-morrow and explain their unruly conduct of last week, when they drove up to Nebraska Hall in a hack and kidnaped the first two members of the freshman class who appeared. The freshmen girls fought against capture, but were hustled into a hack and taken to the residence of one of the kidnapers, where they were undressed so that they might not seek to escape. They managed, however, to find some old dresses and were rescued at the end of a ladder by some freshmen. It is expected that possibly three of the girls will be suspended. Mrs. Clapp, physics director, reported them to the chancellor, declaring that it was rowdiness, pure and simple, and the most disgraceful thing that ever occurred at the institution.

The girls insist that they have a right to be judged, in the exhibition of "esprit," by the same standard as the boys who carried on much worse and were even reprimanded. This is the first time any girl has been reported to Chancellor Andrews.

BETRIENDED BY ROOSEVELT.

Enlisted Sailor Allowed to Try for a Marine Corps Commission.

ANAPOLIS, Md., May 16.—Malte B. Bronstrom, a sailor now stationed on the Holland, aged 22, and rating as a second class electrician, is the first enlisted man of the line in the navy to have the privilege of taking an examination for a commission in the Marine Corps.

Bronstrom owes this in no small measure to the fact that his father, Paul Bronstrom, is a resident of Great Neck, L. I., and a neighbor of the President, who took a keen interest in the youth, whom he had known from childhood.

Young Bronstrom returned to-night from Washington, happy because he bore with him orders from the President to report for examination on June 15. The President also gave orders that he was to have a furlough until that time, or to be transferred to Washington, if he desired it. However, Bronstrom will remain in Annapolis and continue his studies at the preparatory school, where he has been enrolled for six months.

Bronstrom once tried for a West Point cadetship, but did not get his appointment. He made some good friends, however, among them Senators Depew and Platt, and William L. Swain of Oyster Bay. He enlisted in the navy, and six months ago, when he thought his chance had come after two years' service, he was disappointed. His name failed to appear on the list, although he had received assurances that it would be there. In Washington he was told that the law did not permit of his appointment, as appointments were limited to civilians and enlisted men in the Marine Corps, and he was neither.

This state of affairs was brought to the attention of the President, who issued orders that the youth should have his chance, and that if the law did not admit of an interpretation in accordance with it, then he should become a civilian by being discharged.

TO BURN UP OLD PIANOS.

Mammoth Bonfire of Squares Proposed on Atlantic City's Beach.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—Piano men are planning to get together all the old fashioned square pianos in the country that they can pile them up on the beach at Atlantic City next week and make a gigantic bonfire. If the scheme goes through it is to be the spectacular feature of the convention of the National Association of Piano Dealers and the National Association of Piano Manufacturers, which will then assemble at that place.

The idea of the bonfire originated with the Philadelphia delegates, and the matter has progressed to a point where a permit for the beach bonfire has been secured. All the delegates do not approve of the plan, but leading dealers said to-night that the scheme will go through.

The old fashioned square piano, it is explained, is the proverbial "bad penny" of the trade, which turns up whenever not wanted. For future comfort, the advocates of the fire say, they are willing to suffer the financial loss it will entail.

D. E. Wooley, a piano manufacturer here, said: "Old fashioned square pianos are now a drug on the market. The piano manufacturer owned twenty years ago. Families who have them prize them for their associations, but when they come to us for a modern piano and offer them to us as part of the dicker they get insulted at the price we offer for them. Then if we do take them they just lie around the store. So we're going to burn 'em up. They'll look pretty at night."

WALKS IN WITH SMALLPOX.

Circus Man Comes Here From Boston and Presents Himself as Believer.

An excited man walked into Bellevue Hospital last night with a swollen red face on his face, and dashing up to Chief Clerk Mertz said:

"Have I got it?"
"Got what?" asked Mertz.
"Smallpox," he answered.
The clerk edged away and found that the man was James Lisenbee, who until Sunday was a tent pole juggler with Forepaugh's circus.

Lisenbee said that the foreman handed him on Sunday morning and told him to get out of town quick. He caught the train that arrived here at 10 o'clock. He had a seat in the smoking car, and thought that some of the passengers eyed him suspiciously.

Dr. Holcomb thought the man had smallpox, and the patient was sent to the isolation ward. A Board of Health inspector said later that he was sure Lisenbee had the disease and the patient was sent to the Willard Parker Hospital.

MRS. ALVORD BACK IN MT. VERNON.

Friends of Defaulter Will Ask for a Pardon—Children Don't Know Where He Is.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., May 16.—Suffering from nervous prostration, Mrs. Cornelius J. Alvord, wife of the defaulting teller of the First National Bank of New York, who stole $200,000 and is now serving a three-year sentence in Sing Sing, after four years absence is back in her beautiful home on Summit avenue, Chester Hill, Mount Vernon. Mrs. Alvord is under the care of her old family physician.

It is said that the Alvords have considerable money left, and that a strenuous appeal will be made on the part of some of Mount Vernon's most influential people to Gov. Odell and President Roosevelt for a pardon. Strong hopes are entertained that the pardon will be granted, and that before long Alvord will be living in luxury in his old home on Chester Hill, as he did five years ago, when Mrs. Alvord was leader of the "Smart Set" and possessor of more jewels than any other society woman in town.

The family arrived in town yesterday. Their beautiful home had been prepared for them, and their arrival was kept so quiet that even their next door neighbor, George H. Primrose, the minstrel, did not know of it until to-day. The three Alvord children know nothing of their father's whereabouts. They are in charge of their old nurse, while Mrs. Alvord has only one maid. Her mother and brother are living with her.

Mrs. Alvord will remain quiet at present, but when she recovers she intends to try to outlive her husband's downfall among the people with whom she associated at the time of his arrest. Mrs. Alvord is a beautiful woman and still has many friends among Mount Vernon's foremost families. Considerable sympathy exists here for her and her children.

HILL HERE; HE SEES GROUT.

COMPTROLLER'S GOVERNORSHIP BEE BUZZES BRISKLY.

Something Like a Promise That He Will Have the Hill-McCarren Support If Parker Is Nominated—Another "If"—McCarren Might Lose Kings.

David B. Hill came down from Albany last night, and two or three hours after his arrival had had conferences with Senator McCarren, William F. Sheehan and Comptroller Grout. With these three he talked separately.

Friends of Mr. Grout and of Mr. McCarren said last night that Mr. Hill's hurried journey to the city could be explained by Mr. Grout's falling out with Tammany. It may be stated pretty positively that in the event of the nomination of Judge Parker at St. Louis Mr. Grout will be the nominee of the Hill-McCarren forces for Governor. That some kind of promise has been made to him that he will be the selection should Judge Parker be nominated is reasonably certain.

Mr. Murphy was not visible last night, but one of his close friends, who is Tammany district leader, said: "There will be no let-up in the fight on McCarren. Murphy is too much embittered against him to listen for a moment to any peace proposals. No matter how much Comptroller Grout may use the patronage of his office in the interest of McCarren the plan Murphy has mapped out to beat McCarren will be followed."

McCarren is already beaten and the Avoye primaries will show that he will be behind him very few of the district leaders of Kings. We know now that while McCarren may keep some of the leaders faithful to him personally by promising jobs to them should they lose those they now hold, they will be unable to deliver their districts at the primaries.

The Sun's informant said that unless Grout could get the support of the Kings county delegates to the State convention he could not get the nomination for Governor and that the fight Tammany would make at the primaries would not only be against McCarren, but would also be directed against Grout.

BUDD ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Hoboken Man Says He Can't Live Through Disgrace of Children's Charges.

John R. Budd, the Hoboken bachelor of fifty, whose arrest followed that of Charles Kinsey Cannon on Friday, when charges were made against them by little girls, tried to kill himself in his boarding house in Hoboken last night. His throat is so badly cut that the surgeons in St. Mary's Hospital say he has small chance of life.

When Cannon was arrested and the names of the children who said they had been mistreated in his office were ascertained by the police, it was soon learned that other men were suspected. The girls were questioned and charges were made against Budd also.

On Saturday Budd was arraigned before Recorder Stanton and committed to the county jail without bail. Yesterday afternoon Lawyer Samuel Beffon of Hoboken applied to Supreme Court Justice Dixon for Budd's release. Justice fixed bail at $5,000, which was furnished by Charles Shultz, president of the Hoboken Bank for Savings, Budd's brother-in-law.

Budd left the court room alone and went immediately to his boarding house at 210 Ninth street. His landlady says he went to bed at once. That was at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Last night at 11 o'clock, when a servant rapped upon his door, there was no reply. Shouting and pounding failed to bring results and the door was forced.

Budd was lying on his bed unconscious from loss of blood. A razor was upon the floor at his bedside. His throat was gashed in several places.

Dr. Bernard Clausen, who was called, saw that Budd was on the brink of the grave and notified the police. A patrol wagon rushed Budd to St. Mary's. On the way consciousness returned to him. After he had been treated in the hospital the surgeon told him he was in a bad way, but might pull through. Budd looked up and said:

"This is tough; downright tough. I want to die. I've simply got to die. I've been a good man, but I can't live through this disgrace."

Budd is a bookkeeper in his brother-in-law's building material store on the riverfront in Hoboken.

For the past few years Budd has been known as "Candy Johnny." It is said by Hoboken people who know him well that he was in the habit of going to concert halls, dances and the like with his pockets full of candy.

Charles Shultz, his brother-in-law, is one of the best known business men in Hoboken.

SPECIAL SESSION ON WATER.

City Considering Whether It Can Meet Odell's Conditions.

Just before Governor-Chairman Odell signed the bill prohibiting the city from obtaining additional water supplies from the streams of Dutchess county he told Corporation Counsel Delany that the reason for his action was that he wanted to protect the interests of the people who obtain their livelihood from the factories along the banks of the streams. He added that it means could be taken to preserve the interests of the people who are dependent on the factories, which, in turn, are dependent on the streams, he would call a special session of the Legislature to have the bill reconsidered. Mr. Delany said that the factories could be provided for by the building of "catch basins." The Governor-Chairman intimated that that plan would be agreeable to him.

When Mr. Delany reported this to the Mayor, yesterday, Mr. McClellan sent for Commissioner Oakley of the Water Supply Department. It was decided to call into conference Chief Engineer Birdall and Prof. Burr, the chairman of the special committee appointed by Mayor Low to recommend new sources of water supply. The meeting will be held at once, and if the building of catch basins is agreed to by Messrs. Burr and Birdall as being feasible the Governor-Chairman will be asked to call his special session.

Laid to Dead Motorman.

The coroner's jury decided yesterday that the smash-up on the Third avenue elevated on May 9 was due to carelessness on the part of Motorman W. D. Cornell, who was killed in the collision.

ILLINOIS DEADLOCK KEPT UP.

Five More Ballots Have Been Taken Without Result.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 16.—Leaders of the various Republican factions fighting for the nomination for Governor of Illinois were still unable to agree to-day. Five ballots were taken with no notable change in the line-up.

The twenty-ninth and final ballot resulted: Yates, 481; Lowden, 404; Deneen, 382; Hamlin, 115; Sherman, 56; Warner, 37; Pierce, 22. At the conclusion of this ballot adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, with no sign of a break in the deadlock.

With the deadlock unbroken, despite the many efforts of the opposition to capture their delegation, the supporters of Gov. Yates succeeded this afternoon in arousing the greatest enthusiasm that has been shown in the convention. After two hours had been spent in tireless balloting the Yates men started a demonstration for their candidate. Cheers for Yates rang out on every side, hands played banners, were waved in the air, processions marched up and down the aisles, songs were sung, hats thrown in the air and everything calculated to arouse enthusiasm was done.

For twenty minutes the Yates delegates had things all their own way. They drowned out the cheers of the supporters of other candidates and did everything that could be done to start a stampede for the error in the state, processions marched up and down the aisles, songs were sung, hats thrown in the air and everything calculated to arouse enthusiasm was done.

From the time the Yates demonstration ended until the convention adjourned the quiet which reigned during the greater part of the day's proceedings was maintained. The delegates sat in their chairs reading newspapers or keeping tab on the ballots. They seemed to realize that a long drawn out fight was in sight and they needed to save their lungs and their efforts until there was a break in the ranks of the delegates.

GOV. CUMMINS SHELVED.

Stand Pat Idea to Prevail in Iowa's Republican Convention.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 16.—Senator William B. Allison, Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and Congressman Heburn, Hill, Smith, Hedge, Conner, Haughen, Cousins and Lynch are at the Savoy Hotel to-night discussing the forthcoming Republican State convention with various party leaders.

J. W. Blythe of Burlington is the man in charge. Gov. Cummins is conspicuously absent. Nothing is heard but stand pat talk. It is the understanding that Senator Allison and Secretary Shaw have been apprised of the wishes of President Roosevelt in regard to the Iowa platform and that the resolutions will be written in accordance with them. Thus they will most likely afford a safe indication of what may be expected in the national platform.

It is settled that the recent Iowa platform, which were dictated by Gov. Cummins, will not be reaffirmed, but that the last national platform will be reaffirmed. Of the 1,302 delegates, 1,015 are against Cummins and tariff reform. The Governor's friends have let the contest go by default.

Secretary Shaw held an informal reception this evening. He denied the report that he is intending to resign from the Cabinet next March, after Roosevelt's inauguration. He says that he is undecided in this regard.

WISCONSIN REPUBLICANS.

Prospects of a Party Split and Two State Conventions in the Fall.

MADISON, Wis., May 16.—Two Republican State conventions in Wisconsin are not an improbability this fall. At the State convention to be held at Madison on Wednesday Gov. La Follette is expected, will unseat numerous delegates who are against his nomination, and the withdrawal of the delegates who oppose him and the nomination of a second State ticket now seem probable.

The caucus just closed have resulted in contests of over one hundred delegates. This is more than the balance of power. The State central committee will act as a committee on credentials and decide to-morrow night who shall sit in the convention.

La Follette controls the committee, and it is understood the plan is to seat all La Follette men. He will then issue tickets to his delegates, and will not even permit the contesting delegates to enter the hall. The delegates who are in the hall will control. La Follette's men and the police will control.

Senators Spooner and Quarles and Congressman Shultz are expected to be in Madison to-day and conferred with the party leaders and with Judge Emil Baensch and S. A. Cook, who are running against La Follette.

ADOPTS BRYAN'S NAME.

Japanese Baron Who Has Been Living With the Nebraska Goes Home.

DENVER, Col., May 16.—Being a diploma from the University of Nebraska, Baron Yashichiro Bryan Yanashita passed through here to-day for Japan. The Baron has been for seven years a student at the Nebraska State University and has lived with William J. Bryan, for whom he has great admiration. He is shown by adopting Bryan for his own middle name.

The Baron has graduated in sociology, history and jurisprudence. He said: "My home life with Mr. Bryan has been very pleasant, and it is with deep regret that I leave my friend."

Baron Yanashita is 26 years old. His English is without foreign accent.

DIED ON CHURCH STEPS.

Kneeling Congregation Surrounded Doyle While Extreme Unction Was Given.

John Doyle, a grocer of 467 West Twenty-sixth street, was taken ill in St. Columba Catholic Church last night while service was going on. He was carried out to the steps in front of the church as the priests thought the air might benefit him. There it was seen that he was dying and Father McDonnell administered extreme unction. The people were shown by the priests how to kneel and they knelt in prayer. An ambulance had been summoned and Dr. Erskine of the New York Hospital pronounced Doyle dead.

Brooklyn Negro Appointed Consul to Puerto Cabello, Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The President announced to-day the appointment of Jerome B. Peterson, a negro of Brooklyn, N. Y., to be Consul at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela. The appointment is one of the prerequisites of the New York Age. He is clerk of the vestry of St. Philip's Protestant Episcopal church, the oldest negro church of that denomination in the United States.

HEARST LOSS IN CALIFORNIA.

HE FAILS BY TWELVE VOTES TO CONTROL CONVENTION.

His Chief Instructer Says That If California Does Not Instruct for Him His Cause Is Lost at St. Louis—Firm Belief That His Opponents Will Stand as They Are.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., May 16.—The Democratic State convention met to-day and after a lively fight the anti-Hearst faction won out by electing Frank H. Gould temporary chairman. Though the vote was close, this is regarded as a defeat of Hearst in his effort to secure an instructed delegation.

The Hearst men nominated former Lieut.-Gov. Jetter for temporary chairman. The vote was: Gould, 387; Jetter, 345; Barney Murphy, chairman of the State central committee, put Hearst's prospects in a nutshell when he said:

"Our only fight here is to secure an instructed delegation for Hearst. If we cannot do that, we are lost. If Hearst cannot carry California, he is out of the fight for good and all."

"Parker has the delegation from New York instructed for him. That is well and good and as it should be. New York is Parker's State and he should have it behind him. California is Hearst's native State, and if a man's own State does not endorse him with what arguments can he go before the St. Louis convention asking for the votes of other States?"

Unless Hearst can secure twelve votes from the men who voted for Gould for temporary chairman he cannot hope to get an instructed delegation. The men who voted for Gould are conservative Democrats who hate Hearst and all that he represents, and it is not thought any of them can be made to change ground.

HEARST GIVES UP HOPE?

Despondency in His Chicago Headquarters—Jig May Be Up.

CHICAGO, May 16.—There is a belief not only in the city hall, but among some of the Hearst supporters, that William Randolph Hearst has given up the fight for the Presidency and is abandoning the situation in Illinois to the Harrison men.

While the local Hearst managers deny this, the feeling around the headquarters is anything but hopeful for a man who claims to have elected a majority of the Cook county delegates to the State convention.

So far as can be ascertained, the Hearst managers have been doing little for several days to offset the work of the Harrison forces to get control of enough delegates to control the State convention. The Harrison men are working like beavers, in this direction, and it is known that they have made inroads upon the Hearst lines.

Since Hearst lost the Indiana delegation his Illinois managers have weakened and he is said to have attended to the candidate himself. There is no activity around the Hearst headquarters, and the headquarters of the United Labor Hearst League at 165 Washington street have been closed.

HARMON FOR PRESIDENT.

Cincinnati Democrats Cheer the Name of the Former Attorney-General.

CINCINNATI, May 16.—The Regular Democrats met this afternoon in county convention and chose the following delegates to the national convention: Lewis G. Bernard, B. H. Campbell, Harlan Cleveland and John R. Bruce. Delegates at large were not chosen.

The "Independents," the faction headed by the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, who was Tom Johnson's candidate for Secretary of State two years ago and was his chief manager in this region when Johnson was Attorney-General, left the convention hall, asserting that fraud had been resorted to in defeating some of their candidates for delegates at the primaries. The seceders will hold a convention later.

Chairman Max May aroused great enthusiasm by declaring in his speech that Judson Harmon of this city, who was Attorney-General under Cleveland, would make an ideal candidate for the Presidency. Lewis G. Bernard, who practically ruled the convention, has been for years John R. McLean's recognized lieutenant here.

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS TO INSTRUCT FOR WALL.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 16.—The Democratic State convention to-morrow will elect delegates to the St. Louis convention who will vote as a unit for Edward C. Wall of Milwaukee for candidate for President of the United States. Hearst's supporters have made vain efforts to capture the convention, but the Wall men will have at least two-thirds of the votes.

Little Show for Hearst in Montana.

BUTTE, Mont., May 16.—The Democratic State convention to select six delegates to the national convention will be held at Great Falls to-morrow. Only three counties have instructed for Hearst. It is expected that the Hearst men will make a strong fight. Hearst has only 35 instructed delegates out of 339.

Anti-Hearst Convention in Indian Territory.

PAYOR CREEK, I. T., May 16.—A delegate convention of the Democratic party of this territory recording district, was held in the court house to-day. It elected nine delegates to the Territorial convention at Durant. No resolutions of indorsement were passed, but the sentiment of the convention was strongly anti-Hearst.

FOR DECORATION DAY.

Federal Troops That Will Take Part in the Parades in This City and Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Orders have been issued by Gen. Corbin, commanding the Department of the East, for eight companies of Coast Artillery, together with band and hospital corps, to take part in the Decoration Day parade in New York. One company will go from Fort Slocum, two companies from Fort Schuyler and the Eighth Infantry Band from Fort Jay and the hospital corps from Fort Totten. They will be under command of Col. A. H. Merrill, Artillery Corps.

For the Brooklyn parade four companies of artillery have been ordered from Fort Wadsworth and four from Fort Hamilton and the Fifth Artillery Band from the latter post will furnish music. These companies will be under command of Capt. C. U. Greenough, Artillery Corps.

THE MAGNIFICENT NEW STEAMER.

"C. W. Morse" of the Peoples Line will commence five star trips on May 23. 22 staterooms, thoroughly ventilated, outside facilities and general equipment are unequalled.—Ad.

300 RUSSIANS TRAPPED.

Japanese Have Them Surrounded in a Valley in Northern Corea.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. From THE SUN DESPATCH at Seoul.

SEOUL, May 16.—A force of Japanese have trapped 300 Russians in a valley northeast of Anju.

The Japanese are making no attempt to force them to fight, expecting to compel them to surrender through starvation.

WOLF ATTACKS ITS KEEPER.

Long and Bloody Battle Witnessed by a Crowd at the Washington Zoo.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—In the presence of a big crowd of Sunday visitors at the Zoological Park yesterday a prairie wolf and a keeper fought a long and vicious battle. The beast lacerated the man's arms and hands in an effort to reach his throat, and was beaten off just in time to save his victim's life.

Women screamed and fainted, and the enraged wolf threw the keeper to the ground and stood over him, snarling and tearing at the man's flesh with his pointed fangs. The wolf has been known to the zoo officials for a long time as having all of the treachery and none of the cowardice of his tribe.

SENATOR FRAWLEY'S CIGARETTE.

Causes a Mill Alarm at Fire Headquarters—Glass of Water Put to It Out.

Senator Frawley called at Fire Headquarters yesterday, smoking a cigarette, and as a result of his visit a still alarm was sent out from the Commissioner's office to the big room where the clerks work.

When the Senator went into the Commissioner's office he threw the lit cigarette behind the radiator in the adjoining room. Soon smoke was seen coming from under the radiator, and it was thought that a small fire had started.

One of the messengers responded to the alarm with a glass of water and soaked the cigarette.

WOMAN GETS FIRE LINES BADGE.

Commissioner Hayes Recognizes Mrs. Plant-Greaves' Services to Firemen.

Fire Commissioner Hayes went
