

WELCOME TO THE FILIPINOS.

SECRETARY TAFT GIVES THEM A RECEPTION IN HIS OFFICE.

He Assures Them That the Policy of the Philippines for Filipinos Will Be a Friendly One—Luncheon and Reception in Their Honor at the White House.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Honorary Board of Filipino Commissioners were formally received by Secretary Taft in the office of the Secretary of War this morning. Secretary Taft welcomed the visitors in a short speech in which he reviewed the assurances given the Filipinos in Manila that the United States intended to return to the Philippines next summer in order to make an inspection tour. His visit, he said, would be for the purpose of ascertaining the President's representative, if conditions were such as to grant the suffrage authorized by Congress.

When he remarked "It is not far from Malacan to Washington and not far from Washington to Malacan," there was a vigorous outbreak of applause. Malacan is the palace of the Governor of the Philippines in Manila.

The incident was so impressive that during the remarks of Secretary Taft tears were seen to stream down the cheeks of a number of the older Filipinos, and when Dr. Pardo de Tavera, a member of the Civil Government Commission, spoke on behalf of the visitors and said, "Long live Taft!" the visitors cheered.

Secretary Taft's speech was in part as follows: "I do not need to assure you that there is no business that comes over this desk that is treated with such affectionate interest as that pertaining to the Philippines. This is the desk where my predecessor, that great statesman, Mr. Root, an earnest friend of the Philippines, and the policy which was adopted by Mr. McKinley and followed with enthusiasm by Mr. Roosevelt, and I am sure that you all feel that there is nothing more important in the world than to preserve the peace of the Philippines, and to do everything possible to bring about the happiness of the people of these islands. It is not far from Malacan here and it is not far from here to Malacan (Applause)."

Of course I do not know how the election is coming out, but I am sure that the result in the election of President Roosevelt, I have promised myself, subject to the majority vote of the people, to make a tour of inspection in the islands. It is very necessary for the Secretary of War to make a tour of inspection in the islands.

You will remember that in the law which provides for the election of a popular assembly in the Philippines, it is left to the President to say when the condition of the islands is such as to warrant the holding of an assembly, and of course, it is necessary for my representative, the Secretary of War, to go there to see the conditions as they ought to be.

The legislation which is needed is still unpassed, but we are pressing for its passage and we shall not be satisfied, as long as the majority vote of the people is not secured, as it is, until we obtain the legislation which you and I know is necessary for the full development of the Philippines.

I have every confidence that the bill which has passed the House and is pending in the Senate will pass the Senate in a modified form, and when it does pass, American capital will be ready to take up the construction of railroads and such other works as are necessary to make the islands prosperous what they ought to be.

And now, gentlemen, I give you welcome. I promise not to burden you with another speech as long as I have you in my office here may be productive of nothing but pleasure in your recollections. You will be entering into the office of the Secretary of War this afternoon and I know you will find from him that there is nothing but sympathy and more zeal and interest and sympathy than that of the Philippines for the Filipinos.

In responding Dr. de Tavera said in part: "No one better than yourself can understand fully the feelings which are entertained by the whole people of the Philippines and by a great majority of the ignorant classes toward the United States which have resulted from the United States and toward you personally."

The evening before we left the Philippine Islands there was a very large attended meeting held in Manila. The predominant sentiment in that meeting was the desire for Union, and also some of the intransigent or uncompromising part of the people, and myself thought that there might be some manifestation against our coming. But I listened to that, and I know that they were there for the purpose of praising you for having selected a commission of Filipinos to come to the United States to see the people of the United States and to see the government that they were confident that as the time when the Philippine Assembly could be elected, it would be very fully convinced that when you make your promised visit you will realize that the time will be ripe for the establishment of a Republic, and personally every member of the commission desires that you, Mr. Secretary, for having made it possible for us to visit the United States, and the Philippine Government for having furnished us with the means to visit this land, and to see what American sentiment has wrought here.

And now, I bid you adieu with the formalities of the occasion, but we cannot refrain from saying, "Long live Taft!"

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt gave luncheon this afternoon to the Honorary Board of Filipino Commissioners. The luncheon was followed by a reception to which several hundred persons were present, and the official and social life of Washington, were invited.

Movements of Naval Vessels. "WASHINGTON, June 10.—The gunboat Annapolis has arrived at Yokohama, the gunboat Eagle at Boston, the collier Ajax at Cavite, and the collier Leonidas at Iloilo, Iloilo. The gunboat Scorpion and the tug Sabago have sailed from Pensacola for Guantanamo, and the destroyer Lawrence from Key West for Charleston.

The former Spanish gunboat Isla de Cuba, which was sunk in Manila Bay by Admiral Dewey's guns and afterward raised and repaired, was placed out of commission yesterday at the navy yard at Portsmouth, N. H. She came recently to the United States.

Centenarian Sentenced for Stealing Bicycle. "WASHINGTON, June 10.—Alfred Bennett, who claims to be 104 years old, and looks it, was sentenced in the police court to-day to six months in jail for stealing a $25 bicycle. He had just finished a sentence of sixty days for stealing a baby carriage.

TO SEARCH FOR THE CONEMAGH.

Navy Department Sends the Cruiser Tacoma to Look for the Missing Steamer.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Navy Department has directed Commander R. F. Nicholson of the cruiser Tacoma, now at San Francisco, to make a search for the International Maritime Company's freight steamer Conemagh, which left a Chilean steamer in February and has never been heard from. This action was taken in the event of the New York Maritime Exchange.

Some weeks ago the exchange asked the Department to send a vessel to seek the Conemagh, and was informed that there is no ship available for the purpose. This brought from A. H. Smith, secretary of the exchange, a strenuous protest, and he spoke of the Tacoma's recent search for an "obscure, if not unknown, island, in the bare hope that some survivor of the Conemagh might be found."

In his letter acceding to Mr. Smith's request Secretary Moody says that he has directed that the Tacoma, which is in dry dock at Mare Island, Cal., shall, after the completion of the trial trip, go to Coronado where the Conemagh was last reported, and follow her probable route to St. Lucia, which was to have been her next port of call. The Secretary says that there are certain reasons, not necessary to state, that make it possible in this instance to send the Tacoma to look for the Conemagh, which would not exist in ordinary cases, and which serve to prevent these orders becoming what might be an embarrassing precedent.

The Secretary expresses his surprise that "the company to which the Conemagh belongs has not taken any steps to search for and relay the missing steamer." In answer to the criticisms of Superintendent Smith's letters, the Secretary writes that the search of the Pacific was "inspired by the hope that any survivors of the United States warship Levant would be found," but because of a claim that an "uncharted island existed in a certain part of the Pacific, and that it was the duty of the Government to ascertain what this was the fact."

The Secretary says that the Conemagh belongs to a foreign port to aid an imperiled citizen stands on entirely different grounds from the despatch of a vessel to find a missing merchantman.

MOONEY SYSTEM FOR PANAMA.

Conference to Adopt a Common Currency for That Country and the Canal Zone.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The effort to adopt a satisfactory interchangeable currency scheme for the Republic of Panama and the canal zone was begun in earnest to-day at a brief conference in the office of the Secretary of War, at which were present the representatives of the Panama Canal Commission; John Barrett, United States Minister to Panama; and the representatives of the Panama Government and the United States Government in harmony to give an unflinching system to Panama and the canal zone.

It was developed that this Government was willing to accept a satisfactory currency arrangement for the Republic of Panama and the canal zone. The central idea of the basis for such an arrangement, as brought out at the conference, was the adoption of a standard gold dollar, the Panama Government to issue gold coins, protected from the dangers of fluctuation in price of silver by a substantial gold reserve.

There was no objection on the part of the Panama representatives to placing their country on a gold basis. The agreement against to-morrow, and it is expected that by to-morrow night a tentative arrangement will be resolved upon for a common currency plan, to come into effect when the Panama Government upon his arrival on the Isthmus. In the mean time the Panama Congress will be expected to vote upon the Congress for adjusting the currency problem.

SHARP WATCH ON IMMIGRANTS.

The Authorities Determined to Keep Out the Undesirable.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The immigration authorities are determined to strictly enforce the law against the admission into this country of undesirable immigrants. Immigration Commissioner Sargent is keeping close touch with the officials in New York and he said this afternoon that he would never permit to prevent the admission of immigrants who in any way come within the prohibition of the law.

He received a telephone message this afternoon from Ellis Island, saying that since the inauguration of the cut rates for steamship companies, within the last few days the number of undesirable immigrants has been greatly increasing. He was officially informed that there has been a large increase in the number of immigrants with low rates for steamer passengers, and this will, in his opinion, require the utmost vigilance on the part of the inspectors to keep out an improper class of immigrants.

Ellis Island has reported that of 1,200 brought on the Kronland over 600 have been held up for special inspection. About the same figures apply to those arriving on the Potomac.

IN HER TERROR LET BABY FALL.

MOTHER AND CHILD CUT OFF IN TENEMENT FIRE.

Men on Scaling Ladders Near at Hand and Net Was Being Spun, but Mrs. Apfel's Panic Overcame Her—Gas Stove, Left Unattended, Caused the Fatal Blaze.

A four-month-old baby was killed in a fire in the six-story tenement at 150 West 125th street yesterday morning. The mother of the baby let it fall or threw it to the street just as the firemen were spreading a life net and coming to her assistance on scaling ladders.

The fire was in the apartments of Maurice Levinson on the third floor. Lessor Apfel, who was being tried for the death of her baby lived on the same floor. Apfel left his wife in bed with the baby yesterday morning and went to the theatre. Mrs. Levinson, whose husband had gone to work, went out to do some shopping, leaving a gas stove burning with something cooking on it. A man who boards with the Levinsons came to the house and found the door had been opened by the fire.

The boarder ran to the street, leaving the door open and a tongue of flame licked up the hall, preventing those on the upper floors from getting out that way. The Apfel rooms were across from the Levinson baby lived on the same floor. Apfel left his wife in bed with the baby yesterday morning and went to the theatre. Mrs. Levinson, whose husband had gone to work, went out to do some shopping, leaving a gas stove burning with something cooking on it.

A couple of firemen got out the life net and at the same time the 85-foot ladder was being raised. While this was going on Mrs. Apfel either jumped or threw the baby, but Jackson simply laughed and threw the baby, the firemen weren't sure which. Capt. Hawkins tried to catch the baby, but missed it. The baby was killed instantly.

Meantime Clifford was struggling with Mrs. Apfel. When he got to the window she was about to jump. He seized her and was trying to force her back into the room, when she was joined by Hublitz, and the two had trouble in holding her. In a moment the 85-foot ladder was raised and she was carried to the street.

There was a good sized panic on the upper floors of the building. Many families lived in the house and most of them crowded to the fire escapes. The firemen and police were kept busy getting them to the street. The fire was extinguished before it had spread beyond the third floor hall.

JOE WALCOTT KNOCKED OUT. Colored Champion Goes Down Before Young Peter Jackson.

BALTIMORE, June 10.—Joe Walcott, the welterweight champion, was knocked out to-night in the fourth round of what was to be a ten-round contest before the Curtis A. C. by Young Peter Jackson.

The blow that did the business was a terrific right hand smash to the pit of the stomach. Walcott asserted that he was hit below the belt, but his protest of foul was not allowed by the referee.

From the start it could be seen that Jackson did not intend to play for his adversary's head, but would depend on body blows to knock out his opponent.

After a little over two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Walcott was hit by a blow to the stomach. Walcott went sprawling on the floor, his arms hanging outside the ropes. Jackson stepped over him and acted simply as a pilot to tell him the route to follow. Another effort will be made by Mr. Widgway when the weather is more settled.
