

WESTCHESTER ROAD GETS IT. GRANT VOTED, 62 TO 8—GRANT TO PORT CHESTER PROMISED, TOO.

Westchester Company Announces That It Will Bid for East Side Rapid Transit Tunnel and Will Have 15,000 Men at Work When Right of Way is Obtained.

The Aldermen granted yesterday, by a vote of 62 to 8, the application of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railway company for permission to cross the streets of The Bronx. In the discussion the leaders of the Tammany majority promised that the Committee on Railroads would report favorably the Port Chester company's application and that that also would be passed, and then the litigation is expected to begin.

When the report of the committee was read yesterday recommending the granting of the Westchester's company application, Alderman Goodman said that the residents of The Bronx were almost a unit in demanding that the grant should be given to the Port Chester company. He also raised the question as to the validity of the Westchester's charter. He read an opinion rendered by Judge Parker in the Court of Appeals to the effect that the Westchester company was no longer a legal corporation.

Therefore, Mr. Goodman said, the company had no right to the franchise. It was after Mr. Goodman had spoken that Alderman McCall, the Tammany leader of the board, made it known that the committee had decided to report favorably on the Port Chester application at the next meeting. He explained that there was room in The Bronx for both companies and tacitly promised that the Port Chester franchise would be granted if the application of the Westchester company went through.

At previous votes taken on the matter the Tammany Aldermen from The Bronx, with the exception of Borough President Haffen and Alderman Gass, have voted against the proposal to give the grant to the Westchester company. Yesterday Aldermen Morris, Harrison, Egger, Arthur H. Murphy, Dougherty and Shiel, all Tammany members, said, one after another, that after the assurance they had heard that the Port Chester franchise would be granted they would no longer oppose the Westchester application. Mr. Shiel was so enthusiastic in his support of the committee that he refused even to name the leaders of the civic organizations in The Bronx who have favored the Port Chester company.

"I will not mention," he exclaimed, "the names of these citizens, but I will mention in so honest a body of citizens as the Board of Aldermen of this city." Alderman Goodman insisted that the representatives of the Bronx should not be voicing the opinions of their constituents. "It is impossible to believe," he said, "that the people up there want a railroad which will stop in the middle of the street. The Port Chester company would build down to the Harlem River."

Alderman Downing (Rep. Brooklyn), spoke in favor of the grant, and was followed down Alderman Meyers remarked that he had no doubt that the franchise would pass since it was supported by Tammany Democrats, McGowan Democrats and Sullivan Republicans.

Springing to his feet, Mr. Downing declared that he had been insulted by being called a Sullivan Republican. "I did not mention the name of any gentleman," said Mr. Downing, "but if the shoe fits, the gentleman can wear it." "It would be peculiar if the shoe passed," interposed Little Tim Sullivan, "without Mr. Downing getting up a row with me. When I promised Mr. Downing last January to keep his nose in his job, I referred to Tax Commissioner Strasburger, the leader of Mr. Downing's district. Mr. Downing promised to be good, and you all know how he has misbehaved. There are a lot of good Republicans in this board and I would go a long way to help them, but Mr. Downing was not thought a good enough Republican by the last administration to get the job of Police Magistrate that was a candidate for."

Then Alderman Downing spoke again. "I defy this man," he shouted, pointing to Mr. Downing. "I am not voting contrary to the wishes of my constituents. I will not allow him or any other man to apply such an epithet to me as Sullivan (loud laughter). I mean by that that while it is no disgrace to use the name of Sullivan and while I value Mr. Sullivan's friendship, Mr. Downing used the name of Sullivan to throw discredit on me. I am a Republican and not a mugwump, and I denounce this man, and if he does not withdraw or apologize I will move a vote of censure."

ANOTHER DELANEY SHOT DEAD. Fifth of a New Orleans Family to Be Killed—All Had Been in Row.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Charles Delaney was killed by Frank Taney in a barroom fight last night. Taney said that he acted in self-defense, and Delaney, who lived several hours, refused to make any charge against his murderer.

Delaney is the fifth of his family to meet a violent death, and in every case the slayer has been acquitted. The father, Daniel Delaney, a horseowner, had the reputation of being the strongest mule in New Orleans and could knock a mule down with a blow of the fist. He became engaged in a fistfight with a man named Graham, who knocked him down. His head struck a stone and his skull was fractured.

The eldest son, John, was killed by being struck on the head with a club. Daniel Delaney, Jr., was stabbed to death by Col. Gibson, a watchman at the Pelican Mill. Gibson was arrested, but acquitted on the ground of self-defense.

William Delaney, commonly known as "Crooked Neck Bill," was the worst of the family, having committed murder and served a term in the penitentiary for shooting George Monahan. He was shot to death by Peter Johns, a barkeeper, who was acquitted on the ground of self-defense.

Charles Delaney, who was the youngest son, skipped to South Africa after the death of his father. He served throughout the war in a British regiment and returned to America after he had got in trouble over killing a comrade.

Burnett Y. Tiffany, who is 43 years old, married against his father's wishes, and his father made a will in 1887 leaving but $3,000 a year to Burnett, the rest going to the other children. He vested power, however, in the executors to increase Burnett's yearly allowance at their discretion, provided they were satisfied that he had reformed.

Young Tiffany married again shortly after his father's death, his first wife having obtained a divorce, and on his representations concerning his personal needs and his good conduct, the executors, Louis C. Tiffany, Charles T. Cook, Charles E. Miller and Alfred Mitchell, decided to allow him $10,000 a year.

When the time came for the executors to have their accounts passed concerning their management of the estate of the late Burnett Y. Tiffany asked the court to direct that his income be increased to $50,000 a year. He averred that he had refrained for several years from intoxicating liquors and lived in a manner that his father would have approved.

Mr. Lawrence in his report declares that he has no doubt that any reasonable man would have acted generously toward him in increasing his income as they have. He finds that $15,000 a year is an ample income under the conditions and that there has been no violation either of discretion or confidence on the part of the executors in living up to the terms of the will, which declared that the surplus income from Burnett's share should go to his brothers and sisters.

Le Concours d'Economies

(The Contest of Economies)

An International Money-Saving Competition

A dozen foreign countries have exhibits in the great under-price competition which the WANAMAKER Store presents today. Japan, China, Persia and Mexico compete with the nations of Europe for the favor of the thrifty—and there are special offerings presented by Uncle Sam as well.

Each exhibit is decorated with the flags and colors of the nation that produced it. And attractive as is the merchandise offered, the prices today are the lowest that you have seen in many a day on merchandise of equal character. You'll enjoy the breezy interest of the store today as much as you will appreciate the economies that may be profited by.

Suggestions of the merchandise offered are given below:

FAVORS NEW SPRINKLING LAW

WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH DR. WOODBURY, MAYOR SAYS. Vetoes the Fireproof Wood Ordinance—Aldermen Grant Board of Education Requests for Money—Frown on Commissioners McAdoo and Woodbury.

Mayor McClellan sent a message yesterday to the Aldermen approving the street sprinkling ordinance. He explained that misapprehension had existed as to the scope of the measure, but that he had ascertained that it would in no way interfere with the powers of the Street Cleaning Department to flush the streets.

The Mayor vetoed the ordinance providing for the use of fireproof wood in buildings over a certain height. In his memorandum the Mayor wrote: "I am advised by a great many different builders that the ability to furnish sufficient fireproof wood is so slight that the building operations of the whole city could be very much embarrassed, if not absolutely held up, by a few fireproofing firms that have a monopoly of the patents."

At the request of the Mayor, the Aldermen passed a resolution dealing with him in a petition to the State Railroad Commission to do away with the grade crossing in Van Cortlandt Park.

Another message of the Mayor asked the Aldermen to approve the appropriations made by the Board of Estimate for the Board of Education, which included $5,000,000 for improving sites now owned by the board; $249,000 for improving the lighting facilities of schools and $310,000 for the maintenance and equipment of recreation centers and vacation schools.

The Aldermen acted favorably on the request. The Aldermen's request that the Mayor veto the ordinance to call a special session of the Legislature to repeal the act preventing the city from tapping the streams of Dutchess county for additional water supplies was refused. The Mayor added: "It is my intention to inaugurate proceedings before the next Legislature with a view to securing for the city the return of the right to a full use of the waters of Dutchess county and immediately thereafter to take up the suggestion of the Burr commission."

An application by Police Commissioner McAdoo for $65,000 to enable him to accept the lowest bid for the new police headquarters, was rejected. The appropriation was $75,000, but the lowest bid was $114,000. Unless Mr. McAdoo can get a lower bid he will be compelled to have new plans drawn. Another application for $180,000 to permit the Commissioner to appoint 400 additional patrolmen was referred to the Police Committee.

Mr. McAdoo has always discouraged the visits to Mercury Street of district leaders looking for favors, and the curt treatment of his requests was also extended to Street Cleaning Commissioner Woodbury. An application for $249,000 to improve the lighting facilities of schools and a share of the profits made by Hillands in buying Carnegie Steel stock and disposing of it to the promoter of the United States Steel Corporation.

Van Tine, in his complaint in the action, said that he knew certain Pittsburgh parties who held large blocks of Carnegie shares and that he made a deal with the defendant by which Van Tine was to get options on this stock and Hillands was to dispose of it in New York, the two to divide profits. All this was done, but Van Tine says, Hillands never divided, so the suit was brought for an accounting of the $400,189 and "other large sums" which the plaintiff says Hillands received. In all 4,475 shares were handled.

APPRAISAL OF SLOCUM HULK.

Ordered in Proceeding to Limit Owner's Liability for Damages. On the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company's petition for decree limiting its liabilities for loss and injury in the Slocum disaster to the value of its interest in the hulk, Judge Thomas in the United States District Court appointed Howard J. Vail, John E. Hoffmire and Frederick C. Long appraisers of the hulk. When ascertained the value of the owner's interest in the Slocum is to be "paid into the Registry of this court by petitioner to abide the event of this proceeding."
