THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS. Forty-eight American Beneficiaries Due at Oxford This Fall.

Beneficiaries under the Rhodes scholarships are about to start for Oxford. There was an effort among some of these young men to arrange that the whole forty-eight American beneficiaries should go over in a body on the same ship.

Some go also with a determination to see something of the social life of the university, and hold that Cecil Rhodes desired that the American, Colonial and German beneficiaries of the scholarships should live not clannishly, but as nearly as may be in full social fellowship with the British members of the university.

SLOVAKS TO GREET APPONY. Hope That He May Let Try to Give Their Countrymen Better Treatment.

The Slovak societies of this city are arranging for a reception to Count Appony, chairman of the Hungarian delegation to the Interparliamentary Congress at St. Louis, despite the fact that the Slovaks, although hailing from Hungary, are bitter enemies of the Magyar, and, at the time of the presentation of the Hungarian flag by a society in Budapest to the Hungarians of the United States a year ago, denounced the Magyar Government to originate American citizens of Hungarian origin from their allegiance to the land of their adoption in the new world.

INDIANA COLD TO PARKER. DEMOCRATIC APATHY ALARMS THE PARTY LEADERS.

That is why Chairman Taggart Has Been Summoned—Hope in Bryan Likely to Be Disappointed—Indiana Looked Upon as Sure for the Republicans.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 15.—Notice that National Chairman Taggart is coming to Indiana to look over the political situation has been followed by information to the effect that he has been summoned here by Chairman O'Brien and that a necessity exists for hard work in certain localities or Indiana will be lost to the Democrats.

Outside of the dissatisfaction with the nomination of Judge Parker and the general trend of the workmen, especially in the protected industries, toward the Republicans, the indications all point to Indiana's being a Republican State at the coming election. Indeed, the tendency toward that party has been growing ever since the counties of the natural gas belt became manufacturing centres, and the Republican leaders now regard the State as standing in the Republican column quite as certainly as Ohio and Illinois.

There are indications that the coming of Bryan is to be attended with disappointment to the party managers. They have gone on the theory that the gold men will all be in line and that the only trouble will be in lining up the old free silver vote for a man who has made a good platform for himself in the absence of one made for him by his party, and Bryan is expected to assist in this work.

Madison county, as an example, was generally Democratic prior to 1886, and the party could always depend upon it for a majority of from 500 to 700 in a Presidential year. New industries came with the discovery of natural gas, and to-day it is 1,500 Republican, a change of 2,000 votes.

"DO GET A DIVORCE, DELLA." THAT IS WHAT MR. FAITH SAID TO MRS. FAITH AT BREAKFAST.

And It Surprised Mrs. Faith Greatly, as Her Married Life Had Been Ideal—But It Was the Beginning of a Queer Divorce Suit in Iowa—She Is an Actress.

DES MOINES, Sept. 17.—If you were an actress, and had a husband with whom you had been living happily and lovingly and contentedly since your marriage a few years ago, wouldn't it rather surprise you to hear him say at breakfast, one morning: "Don't you think it would be a good idea, Della, for you to get a divorce?"

That was what happened to Della Pringle. Her husband, George N. Faith, meant just what he said. Soon after making the request he went in their private car to attend the San Francisco Odd Fellows' meeting. He has not come back, and the neighbors are trying to console his wife at her old home in Knoxville.

Ten years ago Della Pringle was just an ordinary country girl. She wanted to work and earn money. Her father told her to get ahead, and she got a job at waiting on the table and washing dishes in a hotel at Knoxville, Ia., which is near her home.

She was then over 20. Also she was tall and angular and a rather unattractive blonde. Nobody thought she would ever amount to anything unless she blossomed into a boarding house keeper, for she was thirty then.

It was about that time that Della saw her first theatrical troupe. She wanted to be an actress from that day on, and went to Chicago with what little money she had, in order to demonstrate her abilities. She prospered from the first. She got a minor position in a travelling troupe, but she wasn't satisfied. She had business instincts above the average, and she decided to star herself.

She organized a theatrical troupe of her own. She had saved her money and had enough for a start. The Della Pringle Opera Company soon became the best known in Iowa. Miss Pringle played only in the smaller towns, and she prospered. George N. Faith was chosen as her business manager, and she liked him so well that she speedily accepted his offer of marriage. It was a love match, pure and simple. Together they continued to make money.
