

MOLINEUXES TO THE RESCUE.

GENERAL AND HIS SON, ROLAND, SAVE LIVES OF TWO MEN.

Descend into Gas Filled Cellar and Drag Unconscious Workmen from the Jaws of Death—Service Pipe Broke Off, Overcoming Them—Both Likely to Recover.

Gen. Edward L. Molineux and his son, Roland B. Molineux, faced death yesterday forenoon in order to save the lives of two men who were working about their factory, at Hamilton avenue and Smith street, Brooklyn. The two men whom Gen. Molineux and his son literally dragged from the jaws of death are John Gibbons, 49 years old, of 322 Fourth avenue, Brooklyn, and John Graham, 59 years old, of 372 sixth street, Brooklyn. They are employees of the Brooklyn Union Gas Light Company and had gone to the Devoe Paint Company's factory to discover the source of a bad gas leak.

Gen. Molineux is interested in the Devoe company and has his office in the building. Roland B. Molineux is employed there in the chemical laboratory in about the same capacity as he was employed in the Newark paint factory when he was arrested on the murder charge that kept him so long in the shadow of the electric chair. Both the Molineuxes were in the factory when the men from the gas company got there about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. All that was known about the place where the gas was escaping was that it was down some here close to the ground. The odor was particularly heavy in the cellar.

With Gibbons and Graham came also John Reddy of 140 Luquer street, and all three went into the basement cellar of the building. They found that the leak came from the service pipe leading in from the street main and started to remove a section of it and replace it with a new length. The pipe was old and disintegrating from rust and chemical action and it suddenly broke off short in their hands as they were bent down in close quarters. The instant it snapped there came a terrific rush of gas striking Graham and Gibbons full in the face. They fell as though struck down by a sledgehammer. Reddy, who was behind them, did not get the gas with so much force. He managed to tumble and crawl backward toward the door and to cry out feebly for help.

Gen. Molineux and his son were in the office and both rushed down the stairs to the cellar. It was so dark there they could see nothing. To strike a match would mean the blowing up of the building.

The Molineuxes first stumbled over Reddy and dragged him out into the air beyond the reach of the deadly gas. Then they went back for the others. The old soldier with his son close at his heels went groping and stumbling through the darkness until they reached the unconscious men. Here Roland Molineux's athletic training came into effective play. By his great strength he was able to bear the men bodily up to the office. Gen. Molineux assisting as best he could.

The office windows were thrown wide open and the men were still unconscious when ambulances from the St. Mary and Long Island hospitals arrived. Graham was taken to the Long Island Hospital and Gibbons to the Sperry Hospital. It was reported last evening that the men had a close call but would probably recover. Reddy was treated at the office and was able to walk home. Both Gen. and Roland Molineux suffered from the effect of the gas, but were able to remain at the factory. The gas company was notified and stopped the leak by shutting off the supply at the street main.

57 CLERK DENIES FORGERIES.

O'Donnell Held in $5,000 on E. H. Floyd-Jones's Complaint.

Frank O'Donnell, the 47-year-old factotum accused of forging the name of his employer, Edward H. Floyd-Jones, to checks for a large amount, was arraigned in the Tombs court yesterday morning. Assistant District Attorney Paul Krotel made a specific charge against the young man of forgery and larceny in the amount of $25,000. Justice Mayo fixed the bail at $5,000. An hour was given to secure a bondsman. None was found, and O'Donnell was sent to the Tombs to await his examination Wednesday.

His lawyer, James E. L. Daly of Brooklyn, ordered him not to talk while in court. He was very cool during the arraignment and did not appear to be much worried. He denied absolutely that he is guilty of robbing Mr. Floyd-Jones. "I never signed any checks," he said yesterday afternoon, "and there are no checks in the possession of Mr. Floyd-Jones with my name signed to them. I never signed any checks. It was not my business to do so."

"The $2,250 that I had when the detective arrested me at the Brighton Beach racetrack was part of money I had won on the races. I have made a lot of money since I began to make a book on the races. I started playing from the ground, but it didn't take me long to find the books and get the money. I took a hand in the game, and made money, too."

Mr. Floyd-Jones said last night that O'Donnell had got his affairs into such a tangle that it would take considerable time to straighten them out and discover just how much he had lost.

WOMAN CLERK SAYS MAN CLERK SLAPPED HER—HATPIN, SAYS HE.

Julia B. Well, 19 years old, appeared before Magistrate Mayo in the Tombs court yesterday to complain that Evan P. Bassett had been forcing his attentions on her in the office of the Electrical Exchange at 130 Liberty street.

Bassett and the girl are employed in the exchange. The girl said that she called up her fiancé and told him that Bassett had slapped her. The fiancé first threatened over the telephone to punch Bassett's head, and then took the girl to court where a summons for Bassett was produced.

In court Bassett declared that Miss Well had refused to call a number on the phone which he wanted, and that when he spoke sharply to her she made for a hatpin and dashed her head in a chair in self-defense.

The case was put over to Tuesday to enable Miss Well to bring witnesses into court.

WOMAN CLERK SAYS MAN CLERK SLAPPED HER—HATPIN, SAYS HE.

Eighteen-year-old James Kelly of 96 1/2 Sanford street, Brooklyn, was arraigned yesterday in the Lee avenue police court for distributing bogus transfer tickets of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company at Harrison avenue and Bartlett street. Officials of the railroad company complained to the police that bogus transfer tickets had been passed on conductors. Police-constable Farrington of the Clynner street station arrested Kelly at Yale street. In his possession was found a pad of bogus transfer tickets with additional printing of the date and the names of some of the holders of social clubs.

Kelly told Magistrate Higginbotham that the tickets were given to him by another man to distribute. He was paroled for a hearing.

IN SOCIETY.

There is much bustle and stir in town at the leading social centres for so early in the season. Most of the prominent matrons one reads of as being at this or the other country place are seen now and then at restaurants and theatres. Long Island has its attractions this week in the Horse Show at Mineola on Friday and Saturday, and Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay's charity fair on Saturday at Roslyn.

Mrs. William R. Travers returned from Newport to her Hempstead cottage last week. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, is due to arrive this week from Europe, and will go to her country home in Mount Kisco, N. Y., for the autumn. Mrs. Travers's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, are also about due to arrive here.

From the outlook, Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden may join the New York contingent who have summer establishments in Scotland. Their Newport place, Fairview, is likely to be sold to Mr. and Mrs. William B. Leeds, who rented it for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Burden bought it a dozen years ago from Lord F. Merton, and have done much to beautify it.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., were in Lenox last week for the horse show festivities. They will return to town within a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Orme Wilson and their sons, Orme Wilson Jr., Richard T. Wilson and Thornton Wilson, are due to arrive this week from Europe. They will go for a time to their Long Island residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Gurnee, Jr., will live in town when they return from their honeymoon jaunt. They had a pretty home wedding on Wednesday. The bride, who was Miss Rita Burgess, wore white chiffon and Irish lace. Miss Helen Burgess, her sister's maid of honor, was attired in pale blue silk trimmed with a profusion of lace.

Sir John and Lady Lister-Kaye, who have been here for some days at the Waldorf-Astoria, will sail next Wednesday for Europe. Sir John Peppys Lister-Kaye has been a great globetrotter for many years. He is the third baronet, and as there are no children of the baronet, the title will go to Cecil Edmund Lister-Kaye, whose wife is a sister of the Duke of Newcastle, now in this country. The Lister-Kayes before coming here passed a couple of weeks with Mrs. Yonkers, Lady Lister-Kaye's mother, in the Adirondacks.

The coming marriage of Miss Hattie Louise Barnes and Alfred Severin Bourne is of interest. Miss Barnes, who was one of last winter's debutantes, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Barnes. The coming of age of the prospective bridegroom was celebrated by Commodore Frederick G. Bourne of the New York Yacht Club at his home at Oakdale, L. I., last summer. There were luncheons, dinners and dances ashore and aboard.

Sir William B. Forwood, formerly Lord Mayor of Liverpool, who will arrive during the week on the Ivernia, at Boston, will be the guest when he comes here of Dr. Gerardus H. Wynkoop at 128 Madison avenue.

Mrs. W. Storrs Wells and her daughter, Miss Nathalie Wells, will sail for Europe on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Archer Harmon and Miss Harmon, who go abroad shortly, will be absent from Yale a few weeks. Mrs. R. Livingston Beckman and Bradish Johnson, who have been all the past week at St. Louis, are starting on a twelve months tour of the world. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Currier, now at St. Louis, will remain until October. They were visiting Mrs. Cumcock's parents, Col. and Mrs. Walter Cutting, recently at Lenox.

Mrs. Isaac Singer, who has been for some weeks at Lenox, has returned to her apartments at the Majestic. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Singer, who have been at Lenox since their marriage last year, will settle in New York later in the autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Iselin, Jr., who have just arrived from Europe, will be for some time at their country place at New Rochelle. Mrs. Albert Young, Louis G.

Young and Miss J. B. Arents will sail next Wednesday from Europe, for this side. Charles H. Steinway is due to arrive here next Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Edgar and Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lorillard Bonaparte, Jr., and James H. Bonaparte, of whom have Tuxedo cottages, are expected home from Europe within a fortnight. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt are not expected to reach here until October.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Pruyn are now at their cottage at Cedarhurst, L. I., or on when they come to town. They will locate in a house they have taken in East Thirty-eighth street, near Park avenue.

Cards will be sent out in a fortnight for the wedding of Miss Elsie Ogden Cryder and William Woodward, to take place on Saturday, Oct. 29, at Grace Church. The bride elect and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dunoon Cryder, are still at their cottage at Southampton, L. I. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lothrop Ames, who were married in the spring at Trinity Chapel and who have been yachting most of the summer, have paid them several visits. Just recently they have visited Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames at Pride's Crossing, Mass. Miss Elsie O. Cryder is the smallest of the triplet sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay are among those who contemplate remaining at their Long Island residence until the holidays. They are to live here at Mrs. Frederic Bronson's house, 174 Madison avenue, which they have taken for a year. Mrs. Bronson was here at an apartment hotel last winter and went in the spring to Japan, with her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Carpenter Oriscom, whose husband is Minister to Japan.

The first big fashionable charity bazaar and fête of the autumn will be held next Saturday at Harbor Hill, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay at Roslyn, L. I. Already a large sum of money has been secured by the advance sale of tickets. There will be fortune tellers, music and many amusements provided. The hours are fixed from 1 until 7. Mrs. Mackay will be aided by a neighborhood party, which will include Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. W. Butler Duncan, Jr., Mrs. Francis K. Bendleton, Mrs. William L. Swan and others. The money taken will go to the Nassau County Hospital.

Mrs. William P. Jaffray and her daughter, Miss Helen F. Jaffray, arrived from England last week and will pay a series of visits to relatives and friends while here. Since the marriage of Mrs. Jaffray's elder daughter to Capt. Jaffray of England she has made her home chiefly in Great Britain and passed much of her time with her old friend Mrs. Bradley Martin in Scotland. Mrs. Jaffray's son has renewed his attentions to Mrs. Graves and there is an impression that the couple are about to marry. Robert Graves, the divorced husband, married the wealthy Mrs. Plant last year. Mrs. Jaffray is a sister of Mrs. Edward Padelford, who lives in Washington.

Henry T. Sloane and his daughters, who are still at their country place at Dark Harbor, Mr. will go next Thursday to Tuxedo for a time before returning to town. Mr. Sloane will probably introduce his younger daughter, Miss Emily E. Sloane, this coming winter. Miss Jessie Sloane was presented at a dinner dance he gave at Sherry's a couple of seasons ago.

The marriage of Miss Anne Judkins Mason and Lieut. Keith Sumner Gregory, U. S. Infantry, will take place next Wednesday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lucy Ord Donaldson, Berkeley Heights Park, Bloomfield, N. J. The bridegroom is now stationed at Leavenworth, Kan.

One of this week's weddings will be that of Miss Katherine Elmendorf, daughter of Mrs. Walter Lester Carr, and Edward Kendall Rogers, to take place on Sept. 20 at noon, at the Church of the Atonement, Queen, L. I. Miss Caroline Rogers, sister of the bridegroom, will attend as maid of honor, and the Misses Julia Freeman, Rosalie Tene, Margaretta Wise and Esther Judson will be bridesmaids. Diana Elmendorf Richards will be the flower maiden, and the bride's little brothers, Elmendorf and Rowland Carr, pages. Rowe Tyson will assist as best man.

One of the week's notable weddings will be that of Miss Ruth Snyder, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Alexander Reilly of 1804 Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia, and niece of Charles Magnie Tower, Ambassador to St. Petersburg, with Count de Borchgrave d'Altena of Brussels, to take place next Thursday, Sept. 22, at St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. Count de Borchgrave d'Altena and his bride will sail for Europe very shortly after the nuptials.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lyman Hammond announced the engagement of their daughter Frederika Hammond to Roland Clough. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederik
