

POLICE STUDY THE SUBWAY.

PLANNING TO GUARD IT ON OPENING DAY AND AFTER.

500 Cops for City Hall Station Next Friday—McAdoo and Inspectors Go Over Line—Rent Agreement—City to Return $2,000,000 of Bonds to McAdoo.

A police party was taken on a trip through the subway yesterday by Vice-President E. P. Bryan and General Manager Frank Hedley. They went from City Hall to 137th street and back. The party consisted of Commissioner Lindsley, Deputy Commissioner Underley, Chief Inspector Cortright, Borough Inspector Brooks and Inspectors Schmittberger, Titus, Smith, Walsh and McLaughlin. City Magistrate Barlow happened into the station just before the party started and was invited to join it.

The aim of the trip was to inspect the principal stations and gain some idea as to the best way of policing them. The party left the City Hall station at 1:30 in one of the new steel cars. Stops were made at Fourteenth, Forty-second, Seventy-second and Ninety-sixth streets. The Commissioner examined each station and expressed great satisfaction at the equipment and construction. At Forty-second street Mr. Bryan explained the operation of the trap device by which a train is automatically stopped if it runs by the two red lights. After leaving the Forty-second street station the Commissioner and his inspectors crowded into the forepart of the car to see what happened when the motorman removed his hand from the controller. The car came to such a sudden stop that they were obliged to brace themselves to avoid going through the front door.

"That is what would happen if the motorman should suddenly drop dead, or if for any reason he should be unable to stay at his post," said Manager Hedley. The Commissioner was pleased with the appearance of the station at Seventy-second street, which has been criticised, but he said that the facilities for passengers getting to and from the station on the street were bad.

"These Broadway trolley tracks will have to be removed from the center of the street," he said, "and we'll have to have two policemen permanently stationed here anyway," said Mr. McAdoo. The Commissioner said that for two or three days it would probably be necessary to have a number of policemen at each station to handle the crowds that will try to get transportation. He said he would probably have 600 at the City Hall on Friday. After that probably two stationed at the street entrance.

Mr. Bryan said that he could not say whether or not the company will police the stations with its own men. "Mr. McAdoo will help us out at first," he said, "and then we can tell better what is needed."

Five Commissioner Hayes, Deputy Commissioner Churchill and Chief Croker will make a tour of inspection of the subway this afternoon, to pass on the safeguards against possible accidents which have been invited by Manager Hedley to make the trip on a train which will leave the City Hall station at 2 o'clock.

RENTABLE ARRANGED. Counsel for John B. McDonald reported to the Rapid Transit Commission yesterday that no provisions had been made for the payment of rent for the subway until the entire system was completed. As the West Side line to 145th street and Broadway will go into operation next Thursday and the East Side line to 145th street and Lenox avenue a few weeks later, the communication suggested that the rental charge be based on the number of feet of track actually operated. The suggestion was adopted, and the counsel of the commission was directed to figure the amount to be paid.

Mr. Boardman and Mr. Rives handed in a long opinion on the request of John B. McDonald for $2,000,000 return of the bonds he had deposited with the city for the construction and the equipment of the subway. The opinion recited that 85 per cent. of the construction work had been done, that half the rolling stock had been ordered, and that 80 per cent. of the equipment had been paid for. It was informed that it was in his discretion to return the bonds if so inclined.

It was voted to return the bonds if the Controller approved. He said that he would be guided in the matter by the opinion of the Corporation Counsel. If this $2,000,000 is returned the city will still have $6,000,000 of bonds on the original system in Manhattan and The Bronx.

MRS. BROOKS'S LITTLE WARDS.

Newark Health Officer Says the Colored Woman Must Give Them Up.

Health Officer Chandler and Inspector Bridgman of the Newark Board of Health paid a visit yesterday to the "Brooks Hospital and Orphan Asylum," conducted by Mrs. Mary J. Brooks, widow of a colored street preacher, who started the enterprise about a year ago in a narrow three story dwelling in Arlington street, Newark. He died shortly afterward. After examining the place carefully Mr. Chandler ordered it closed and told Mrs. Brooks that the children she was caring for must be sent back to their parents so far as possible and that others who had been abandoned must be sent to the City Almshouse. Attention was called to the place by the deaths of eight infants within two weeks. The prosecutor's decision notified Mrs. Brooks two months ago, but after an investigation found nothing criminal.

Mr. Chandler said the place was dirty and ill smelling and that the children were sleeping on the floor and in beds covered with rags. Most of the deaths were attributed to malnutrition or infantile diseases.

Mrs. Brooks said that she was doing charitable work, that she had no money, and that she had left her children with her and made no payment they generally abandoned them to her care and she leave them the best she could.

When asked for the names of the children and their parents she produced some fragmentary scraps of paper from an old teapot and others from a vase. Mr. Chandler pretended to read names from the scraps and she answered the roll of notorious names and said they were the children who had left children with her. She said that eight more children were expected last night from Red Bank and Mr. Chandler said they must be sent back at once.

Mrs. Brooks had in her charge a bright looking white child, six weeks old, who she said had been thrust upon her on Tuesday. She said that a woman brought it in and left it, going away without giving her name. She said she had been with thirteen children in the establishment altogether and most of them were very young, but there was a boy of 17. People agreed to pay her $1.25 a day for board, but few of them ever paid after the first week.

BLACK HAND NOTE FOR GIRL. She Thinks It a Bad Joke and Wants to Know Who Sent It.

Elizabeth Walsh, 16 years old, a pretty black eyed girl, went to the West Forty-seventh street station last night with a "Black Hand" letter she had received. It was made up of news cuttings from newspapers and pasted on a piece of writing paper. It read:

"Dear Miss: Beware! The Black Hand is following you. I suppose it's a joke," she said to Sergt. Fahve. "I don't think it's a good one."

Miss Walsh said she knew of no reason why any one should send her such a letter. The sergeant asked her if there were any one she was jealous of her and, while she would not admit it, the police thought that might be the explanation. A detective was put on the case and Miss Walsh said she would do a little sleuthing on her own account.

COLONIZED IN CANADA.

Employment Agent in Michigan Confesses to Frauds in an Election.

SANILE ST. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 20.—P. J. Galvin, an employment agent in the Michigan "Soo," who was charged with complicity in election frauds at the recent election of the Ontario Legislature, has made a confession implicating, among others, a member of the Liberal cabinet. The confession was read in court, described in detail the trip of the steamer Minnie M., carrying a load of Americans to Michipicoten, where the entire number were voted in two different polling places, impersonating citizens who were on the registration rolls, but who were absent from the district.

Galvin also alleges that a representative of the Liberal party called upon him in reference to a letter written by himself to a member of the Cabinet, demanding that the Liberals get him out of the trouble into which the investigation of Smith's election had plunged him, and that this individual assured him that the Liberal party would pay the fine imposed upon him by the Canadian court which is investigating the election frauds.

This, he says, the Liberals have failed to do, and his confession followed as a result of this failure.

MCKINLEY MAUSOLEUM PLANS. Harold Van Buren McGonigle Wins in Architects' Competition—Walks to Begin Soon.

The National McKinley Memorial Association selected Harold Van Buren McGonigle yesterday to be the architect of the mausoleum to be erected at Canton, Ohio, in memory of the dead President. Mr. McGonigle's plans were chosen in preference to those of nine other architects and firms in this and other cities.

The sub-committee which passed on the plans yesterday in the office of Mr. E. W. Bloomington was made up of Gov. Franklin Murphy, New Jersey, chairman; Cornelius N. Bliss, William McConway of Pittsburg, Judge W. A. Lynch of Canton, Ohio, and E. W. Bloomington. Among the architects who took part in the competition were A. Randolph Rose, Cass Gilbert, Carrère & Hastings, A. W. Brunner of this city, Guy Lowell of Boston, and Wyatt & Nolting.

The competition which closed yesterday was the second opened to architects by the sub-committee. A previous competition was offered last winter, but the plans presented were not considered up to the proper standard and all were rejected. A second contest was held in April, but was closed last summer. Several of the architects who took part in the first were invited to submit new plans. Mr. McGonigle was among the winners.

The mausoleum will cost between $400,000 and $500,000. Work will be begun as soon as possible. Mr. Bloomington said last night.

Architect McGonigle is about thirty-five years old. His plans were sought for a monument to be erected in this city in memory of the Maine victims. The site for the Maine victims monument has been chosen by McGonigle was the winner in the contest for the Beach travelling scholarship. His plan cost $100,000.

The sub-committee of the National McKinley Memorial Association was assisted in its selection of plans by an advisory committee composed of the Mayor of this city, George A. Peabody of Boston, and Daniel C. French of this city.

TWO KILLED THREE INJURED. By the Breaking of a Derrick Chain a Heavy Stone Crashes Through a Building.

BUFFALO, Oct. 20.—Two men were killed and three injured at the plant of the Larkin Soap Company on Seneca street this morning by the breaking of a derrick chain.

The dead men were: John Striegler of 226 Peach street and Charles Ork of 134 St. James place, both of this city.

The injured men are: Paul Nieman, 19 years old, of Chicago, and Albert E. Thompson and Thomas Hayes of Buffalo. Hayes and Thompson were not seriously injured.

The five men were at work on the second floor of the new office building that is being erected by the soap company. A stone of many tons weight was being hoisted and had been swung over the floor when one of the derrick chains suddenly broke and the stone, falling through the floor, which with the five men who had been standing on it, fell to the basement.

Striegler's head was smashed by a pulp and Ork's chest was crushed in. The flooring fell on the men.

IN SIGHT OF $300,000 GIFT. Teachers' College Has Raised $180,000 to Win It From John D. Rockefeller.

In the last year $180,000 has been pledged to Teachers' College, according to the report of James Earl Russell, dean of the college, issued yesterday. Of this sum $60,000 has been devoted to the floating debt of the college and $100,000 to endowment.

By the terms of a promise from John D. Rockefeller, made to the college a year ago, as soon as the college has raised enough money to pay off its indebtedness Mr. Rockefeller will give $250,000 to the college. Further, he has promised $100,000 if other friends of the university will raise an equal sum.

Dean Russell said yesterday: "The collection of an additional $110,000 will clear off the college debt of $100,000 and bring Mr. Rockefeller's gift of $250,000, along with an additional gift of $100,000 from him, paralleling an equal amount promised for endowment by other donors. That is, the college will have in possession of $460,000 immediately into possession of the college."

BOGUS CHECKS IN HIS POCKET. Pool Champion Brummy Held in St. Louis for Attempted Fraud.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—Benjamin H. Brummy, pool champion of the South, played in the world's champion pool tournament yesterday while four detectives sat among the spectators watching the game. At the conclusion of the match he was arrested for attempting to pass a bogus check for $530 on the Bank of Commerce on Tuesday afternoon.

When taken to the station and searched Brummy's pockets were found to contain checks of the Commonwealth Trust Company issued for the sum of $530, along with a check of the Western Telephone Company. Thirty of these were filled out, some for as high as $300, aggregating $3,000. One of the checks signed had passed through the bank and was stamped paid. A week ago Brummy defeated De Oro, world's champion pool player. His home is in Marietta.

GRADUATES' CLUB. A New Organization of College Men Entertains Columbia's President.

The Graduates' Club of New York, a new organization somewhat on the lines of the University Club, gave a reception last night to President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University at the Manhattan Hotel. About 100 members were present. Capt. Nathan Appleton presided.

Dr. Butler made a speech, his theme being the necessity for college men to foster and keep alive the habit of reflecting. The Graduates' Club was started in this city last February. Its chief purposes are to foster a feeling of fellowship and to admit to it, the police thought that might be the explanation. A detective was put on the case and Miss Walsh said she would do a little sleuthing on her own account.

OTHERS DO IT

WHY DON'T YOU? So many men wear toupes nowadays that you can't tell them from those without realizing it.

SIMONSON'S STANLEY BARBERS to cover partial or entire baldness are so well known that you can't tell them from those without realizing it.

Free Demonstration strictly private.

A. Simonson. 933 BROADWAY, 214-224 Streets.

PAY $1 A WEEK FOR ESCORTS.

QUEER REVELATION OF STREET LIFE AT POLICE TRIAL.

Woman Who Says It's Too Late to Be Good Charges Cop With Making False Affidavit—Raines Law Has Punitive—New Discovery Passed On to McAdoo.

The professional escort for street women who want to go into a saloon or Raines law hotel was held up to the light yesterday in the police trials before Deputy Police Commissioner Lindsley. Later he was brought to the attention of Police Commissioner McAdoo, who said that it was all new to him, but that he would look the subject up and do something about it.

Police John E. Gilmartin of the East Fifteenth street station was on trial yesterday with making a false affidavit in a police court. He had arrested ten women and when he got to the police court charged in his affidavit that they had been "loitering and soliciting on the street." One of the women said that the affidavit was untrue, and the charges resulted. Capt. McDermott was the nominal complainant, but Bertha King, the woman who objected to the charge against her in the police court, was the real complainant. Gilmartin explained that the affidavit in court was the fault of the court clerk.

"I was loitering, but not soliciting," said the woman, who also said before Mr. Lindsley as a witness, "I admit that I am not good. I can't be good—it's too late."

On the night that ten of us were arrested I wanted to go to Sing Sing, on East Fourteenth street. You have to have an escort to go in there. I didn't have one. I went to a nearby hotel and hired a professional escort.

"What do you mean by that?" inquired Mr. Lindsley. "That is a new one on me."

"Why," replied the witness, "I did not go to some of the places without a male escort. There are a number of men who make a business of acting as escorts. They take a girl to the place and then they leave. They go back to their stand to get another girl."

"That's awful," commented the Deputy Commissioner. "Well, continued the girl, 'the night I was arrested my escort and I were stepped to the door to wait for a girl friend with whom I had an appointment. While I was waiting about fifteen minutes I may have been loitering, but I was not soliciting."

"I think that you may be a good policeman," said the Commissioner to Gilmartin, "but I think that you make a mistake in arresting women who really need protection."

No decision was rendered in the case. Mr. Lindsley said that he wanted to lay the whole matter before the Police Commissioner.

BOSTON SPORTSMAN RESCUED. Found Unconscious in the North Woods, Where He Had Wandered Four Days.

UTICA, Oct. 20.—A party of Uticans returned to this city today from a deer hunting expedition in the vicinity of Beaver River, in the Adirondacks, and brought a story of rescuing a Boston sportsman from death. While out in search of deer yesterday morning, N. J. Smith of Lowellville, one of the party in camp with the Uticans, discovered a man neatly dressed lying in some brush a few feet off the trail, apparently asleep, and with a rifle at his side.

Smith called the attention of his companions to the man and the latter, who awoke him, but was surprised when he did not respond at once.

The man was unconscious, and it was some time before he was revived sufficiently to tell them his name. He said he was Charles Castlin of Boston, and was stopping at a camp in the vicinity of Beaver River. The party took him to their camp, where he received food. He said he had been away from the camp since Saturday last, and after wandering about aimlessly for four days and nights in search of a trail that would lead him to his camp he had given up and had decided to die. He had been without food since leaving camp and was in a very weak condition when found.

His companions had secured the wilderness for miles around in an effort to locate him, but failed to find even a footprint, and had given him up as dead.

WET IN PENNSYLVANIA TUNNEL. Blasts Weaken a Sewer Above and Interrupt Tunnel Work.

The seepage from an old sewer running between Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets, second of workmen out of the new Pennsylvania tunnel, was interrupted yesterday morning, and caused a bad sag in the earth under one of the Pennsylvania tracks.

When the new tunnel reached Eleventh avenue the walls were kept continually wet by moisture from this sewer, which leaks badly.

Yesterday morning a series of blasts seemed to weaken the old trap, for water began to run through all the rock crevasses. The workmen got out, fearing a deluge, but the rise was slow. A pump was put into operation, and the water was kept down to a shallow level.

The cave-in of the sewer caused the ground to sag just above over an area perhaps 20 feet long and 10 feet wide. It happened to be directly under a Pennsylvania sidetrack. It put the track out of commission for the day.

The road was repaired yesterday and the sewer stopped tight enough so that work could go on in the tunnel.

Horse Throws Women Into Buses. A woman who said she was Mrs. Flora Blundy, 22 years old, of 387 Central Park West was driving along the West Drive in Central Park yesterday when her spirited horse took fright at an approaching automobile. It jumped into the bushes at Ninety-seventh street and Mrs. Blundy and another woman in the trap were thrown out. Mrs. Blundy was badly hurt about the head, but was able to go home in a cab.

Wife Drowned; Husband Near It. Kate Lawson, 30 years old, wife of Theron Lawson, captain of the canal boat "Lucy," which is moored in the East River at the foot of Ninety-fourth street, fell overboard last night and was drowned. Her husband, who was in the cabin, heard the splash and jumped for her. He is a poor swimmer and could do nothing in the strong current. Two young men on a pier near by heard his cries and rescued him.

French Lingerie Waists

Registered Trade Mark

All of these imported Paris Waists are entirely hand-made of fine sheer Linen Lawn and exquisitely trimmed with hand embroidery, fagoting and lace.

The prices range from $20.00 to $75.00 each. They are undoubtedly the daintiest and most beautiful Waists which we have ever displayed.

In this Department we also have a very extensive line of Flannel Waists, at prices ranging from $5.00 to $8.50, as well as Peau de Cygne, Taffeta and Rajah Silk Waists, at $12.00 to $16.00.

James McCutcheon & Co. 14 West 23d Street.

James McCreery & Co. Men's Gloves. 100 dozen pairs,—heavy Cape Skin Gloves. Broad cut, Out-seam sewn. A American Manufacture. Tans and browns. $1.00 per pair.

A complete Stock of Fowner's, Dent's, Fiske, Clark and Flagg's and Thomas' Gloves,—for Street or evening dress. Wool and Fur lined Gloves for driving or Automobiling. Twenty-third Street.

BOUGHT STAMPS BELOW PAR. Dealer With a Little Store Arrested on Story Told by Office Boy.

Joseph C. Beniquez, a stamp broker with very small store at 21 Ann street, was arraigned before Magistrate Whitman, in the Tombs police court yesterday, accused of buying stolen postage stamps from office boys. Assistant District Attorney Krotel said that the prisoner had grown wealthy by buying stamps at less than their face value.

John Tracy, an office boy employed by William G. Perfect, a publisher of 150 Nassau street, was accused by his employer of taking $3 worth of two-cent stamps. It is alleged that the stamps were found in his pocket. Tracy then confessed, the police say, that he had stolen over $100 worth of stamps from the firm and had sold them for 24 cents. This boy also was arrested. He said he was Benjamin Solomon of 83 Powell street, who had sold stamps for 24 cents. Beniquez, who is an old, baldheaded and deformed man, said he wanted time to get a lawyer, so he was held in $1,000 bail for examination to-morrow. The two boys were sent to the Children's society.

ARRESTED IN A SYNAGOGUE. Miss Friedman Says Her Finance Borrowed $100 From Her and Disappeared.

Julia Friedman, the nineteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Esther Friedman of 450 West 152d street, became acquainted last April with Henry Goldman, a salesman, 22 years old, who lived in Poughkeepsie. They became engaged and Goldman told her that he would marry her in four weeks. Miss Friedman made all preparations for the event, but a few days before the time set for the wedding, she declares, Goldman disappeared. She said she obtained a warrant in the Yorkville police court for his arrest on the charge of grand larceny, but he could not be found.

Miss Friedman learned yesterday that Goldman was in Williamsburg and that he attended a synagogue at Moore and Humboldt streets. She went there a divorcee services were in progress and saw Goldman in a front pew praying. She got a policeman, who accompanied her into the synagogue and placed the young man under arrest.

Goldman was taken to the Stage street police station, where he was held until a cop from the Yorkville police court came and got him.

CHARGES DIVORCE PLOT. Report of Egg Chandler, Who Says He Was Hired to Compromise Mrs. Herman.

Jacob Herman, a violin maker and music teacher at 50 Clinton street, has begun an action for a divorce from his wife Fannie, whom he married nine years ago. He accuses her of adultery with several men. In reply to these charges Mrs. Herman has filed an affidavit to the effect that her husband had conspired with a divorcee to have her so that he might get a divorce. She attaches an affidavit by Jacob Grosfeld, a youthful egg Chandler, who avers that in August last an offer was made to him of $25 and $1 a day for expenses if he would make love to Mrs. Herman and get evidence on which the violin maker could procure a divorce. Grosfeld found Mrs. Herman vulnerable from a moral standpoint, and he so reported to the violinist, much to the disgust of the latter, as he alleges. The Hermans have two children. Justice Amund reserved decision yesterday on Mrs. Herman's application for alimony.

PROOFS THAT PROVE

"REGAL—the Shoe that Proves," is a claim based on undeniable facts.

The "Window of the Sole" proves in every Regal shoe genuine Oak Tanned soles—flexible, light, durable—tanned in our Regal tanneries by old-fashioned, slow processes.

The Buzz Saw proves honest Regal workmanship throughout—every detail, hidden or otherwise, of a standard to match the excellence of our famous King Calf uppers—the toughest, most pliable leather ever put into a shoe.

Regal excellence in these hidden qualities insures perfect shape retention and that lasting $10 custom look, which marks Regals to the very end of their long, satisfactory wear.

Of all shoes which have left our factory none has proved Regal excellence in style, material and workmanship more conclusively than

"The Peg"

Just the shoe for young men who want advance style. Careful designing has removed any tendency to cramp the foot, and yet has maintained that narrow toe with "slope" effect which, with the button style, makes a model approved by the most discriminating dressers. Like all the other Regal styles, made in a quarter size, insuring perfect fit.

75 New Fall Styles Each in 285 fittings on sale in Regal Stores. Always $3.50

Send for Style Book. Mail Orders promptly filled. Sold direct from tannery to consumer. The largest retail shoe business in the world. 60 stores in principal cities from London to San Francisco.

REGAL THE SHOE THAT PROVES GREATER NEW YORK MEN'S STORES

GREATER NEW YORK WOMEN'S STORES

When we make an overcoat we "train" it to be permanently "right." You will never find it slipping away from the shoulder or bulging at the lapel or with the overcoat collar below the other one. It took 20 years to learn how to make them so well. We want just $25, for an overcoat made of Kersey or Box cloth with all silk linings. Send for samples, fashion cards and measuring outfit.

ARNHEIM Broadway & 9th St.

YOUNG Men's Double-breasted Suits have the call this season. Ultra in cut, but not extreme. In handsome mixtures, chevots, worsteds and homespuns, including the new browns, and plain black and blue. $10 to $25.

Hackett, Carhart & Co. Three BROADWAY Stores. Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers.

DEATH OF W. L. JENKINS. Seized With Vertigo on Staircase of N. Y. Athletic Club and Hurt His Head.

William L. Jenkins, a retired broker and son of the late William L. Jenkins, Sr., former president of the Bank of North America, had an attack of vertigo in the New York Athletic Club on Tuesday afternoon, and fell, striking his head against the stone floor. He died in the club on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Jenkins had been a sufferer from Bright's disease and other ailments, and the physicians believe that these, and not the fall, are the direct cause of death, but to avoid any misunderstanding the Coroner's office was notified of the case yesterday.

Mr. Jenkins retired from business with a comfortable fortune about eight years ago and a few years later gave up his residence here and went to live in what had been his country place in Maine. He came to this city a few days ago when his son-in-law, Thomas Dennis, Jr., of 32 East Sixty-second street, was operated upon for appendicitis. He was stopping at his daughter's house. Tuesday afternoon he spent in the New York Athletic Club and as he was descending the stairs to the ground floor he suddenly put his hands in his head and fell a short distance to the landing.

Dr. Hamilton Burch, a member of the club, who was in the building, was called. He found Mr. Jenkins unconscious. He soon revived however, and was put to bed in the clubhouse. An examination failed to disclose that he had sustained more serious injury than a large bump on his forehead. He appeared to be improving until Wednesday. The body was removed to his daughter's home yesterday.

Mr. Jenkins was 65 years old. He leaves a widow.

$20,000 Pheasant Aviary for the City Zoo. Plans were filed with the Building Bureau in The Bronx yesterday for a new aviary for the pheasants in the zoological park. The building will be of ornamental brick, with a frontage of 224 feet and a depth of 38 feet, with a peaked roof, and will be erected on the park east of the Southern Boulevard. Its cost is estimated at $20,000.

More Sack Suits

With Style and Character

CLOTHING manufacturers are beginning to stay awake nights wondering when the demand for brown fabrics will cease. Both plain brown and fancy mixed browns strike the public fancy, and the demand is most extraordinary.

Fortunately we are abundantly provided with such a stock, that would be hard to find the equal of elsewhere.

These favorite fabrics are shown in stylish double and single-breasted Sack Suits at $15 to $25.

Brown Sack Suits for young men of fifteen to twenty years, with double-breasted coats, at $12 and $15.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

New Derby Hats At $2. Worth $3.

THIS is a collection of about five hundred Men's Black Derby Hats, in the New Fall shapes, especially made for us to sell at this special price.

The shapes include styles for young men, as well as those more conservative. The felts are of excellent quality, handsomely finished; brims are all hand-curved. The hats are trimmed with good silk braid and binding, of the full quality that comes in the regular $3 hats. The sweat-bands are of imported leather. No point of the hats is slighted in any way.

They are full $3 quality in the very best of the season's shapes. To-day you can save $1 on your purchase, and you can find no better $3 hats anywhere.

Price $2 each. Men's Hat Store, second floor, Ninth street.

White Madras Shirts at One Dollar

A GREAT many men wear soft white shirts all the year round, and these told of are a particularly good sort for the purpose.

They are made of excellent Manchester madras with fine raised stripes; a cloth of quality and character rarely found in shirts sold for less than $2.

These shirts are well made in the regular negligee style, cut from good patterns and nicely laundered. Detachable cuffs. Sizes 14 to 17-inch.

Just about six hundred in the collection at $1 each. Broadway and Ninth.

Men's Mackintoshes

IT'S going to rain! Not such news in that remark, but a fact that every man knows at this season of the year; and we are apt to have a lot of rain, that the ordinary raincoat will not protect a man from. He is likely to be caught out in a thoroughgoing storm, and nothing but a mackintosh will keep him dry.

We have an excellent variety for a man to choose from, that are light in weight and well ventilated; well-made, every seam sewed and cemented. As absolutely water proof as if you were indoors.

We guarantee every garment. Wanamaker Mackintoshes are generously made as to dimensions; and are a little more stylishly made than the ordinary mackintosh.

Made of plain black or navy blue serge or tan mixtures at $5.

Of plain black or navy blue chevot, at $7.50.

Of plain black or navy blue serge and tan mixed cloth, at $10. Broadway and Ninth street.

JOHN WANAMAKER

11th Ave., 4th Ave., 9th and 10th sts.