

LOSES HANDS BY USE OF X-RAY

DR. L. A. WEIGEL OF ROCHESTER A MARTYR TO SCIENCE.

He used the static machine, which produced burns that later developed into cancer—his right hand and part of his left hand had to be amputated.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 22.—The case of Dr. Louis A. Weigel, who recently submitted to an operation for the removal of his right hand and a part of his left hand, which had become affected through continued exposure to Roentgen rays, has attracted the attention of the medical profession throughout the country.

The physicians attending Dr. Weigel report that he is improving and that his hopes of his ultimate recovery, but they are unable to state definitely what will be the outcome, so incisions in its growth has the cancer which comes from X-ray burning proved to be. Dr. Weigel is affected in the same manner as Clarence E. Daley, Edison's chief assistant, who died early this month in East Orange, N. J.

Dr. Weigel took up the study of the X-ray several years ago, and until a year ago, when it became apparent that his hands were affected, he applied most of his time to the study of the science. Three months ago the little finger of the right hand was taken off and sent to Prof. Welch of Johns Hopkins University for examination and report as to the nature of the disease.

Dr. Weigel reported that the disease was cancer. This made it evident to the medical friends of Dr. Weigel that amputation would be necessary to save his life. Three months ago eminent surgeons and physicians of the State was called, and it was decided that it would be necessary to remove the right hand at the wrist and the greater part of the left hand.

Very different are the negroes who twice daily cross the Wall Street ferry from those seen elsewhere about the city. Those who live in Brooklyn and work along the water front as rowboats on the coast line piers are mostly from the South.

Those who visit the markets see from time to time hanging up in the butcher stalls an owl, a crow or a hawk. "They are brought in by the farmers," said a marketman.

One of the finest displays of autumn coloring in New York can be found in Central Park in places where the small but wide spreading European beeches have turned a rich yellow and orange.

Feeding the animals in Bronx Park is forbidden, but sometimes this rule is broken. "I want to give him a bit of banana," coaxed the boy of his father, as they stood in front of the polar bear's pen.

Becky, the Subway Tavern cat, broke all rules of the place last night and got drunk on the premises. The bartender mixed up a milk punch for a Bowersy customer who changed his mind and pushed the drink aside.

The resourceful campaign button man now turns out hatpins bearing pictures of the President and candidates.

LIVE TOPICS ABOUT TOWN

When the days are cool and clear the tubercular patients on North Brother Island wrap themselves in the blue blankets furnished by the city and sit in the open air for a sun bath.

Last week Health Commissioner Darlington conducted a party of twelve people to the island. In England they had seen pictures of the North American Indian.

A small restaurant near the Battery informs its patrons that "We keep open this place until at 9 o'clock, P. M., while a second place in the same establishment is open until 11 o'clock."

In Central Park yesterday a girl of four sat on a bench for a long time examining the legs of her kid doll. Then she pushed down her stockings and looked at her own chubby legs.

Those who visit the markets see from time to time hanging up in the butcher stalls an owl, a crow or a hawk. "They are brought in by the farmers," said a marketman.

One of the finest displays of autumn coloring in New York can be found in Central Park in places where the small but wide spreading European beeches have turned a rich yellow and orange.

Feeding the animals in Bronx Park is forbidden, but sometimes this rule is broken. "I want to give him a bit of banana," coaxed the boy of his father, as they stood in front of the polar bear's pen.

Becky, the Subway Tavern cat, broke all rules of the place last night and got drunk on the premises. The bartender mixed up a milk punch for a Bowersy customer who changed his mind and pushed the drink aside.

The resourceful campaign button man now turns out hatpins bearing pictures of the President and candidates.

A flock of wild ducks has been guests of the city on the lake in Van Cortlandt Park since early in August.

One of the curious features of New York restaurants is the evolution of the man who kept a good chop and oyster house into the proprietor of a poor French restaurant.

"I've observed several cases of men who made money at their oyster houses," said a man who knows the city.

The cornerstone of the new School of Mines Building presented to Columbia by Adolph Lewisohn will be laid this coming week.

Found in a Semi-conscious Condition on the Floor of a Vacant Home in Utica.

PRISON RECORD WON'T DOWN.

CRUEL BLOW TO MAN WHO HAS BEEN HONEST 30 YEARS.

Challenged When He Attempted to Register for Officers' Committee When He Was 18—Bad Friend's Revenge for Act of Honesty—Locked Up and His Job Lost.

After thirty-two years of effort to live down his record as a convict, when he thought every one had forgotten all about it James Maguire of 323 East Twenty-third street, hung his head before Magistrate Whitman in the Tombs police court yesterday and pleaded guilty to illegal registration.

"This man has no right to register," exclaimed a deputy. "He is an ex-convict." At the words Maguire turned white and tottered from the place.

"I know that he has led an honest life since then," testified Capt. Langan, "and that he has tried hard to live down his disgrace."

"That is true, your Honor," broke in Maguire with moist eyes and trembling voice. "I was 18 years old then. I am nearly 50 now. I thought every one had forgotten my early indiscretion, but it is pretty hard on a fellow who has tried to live honestly."

Maguire was held until next Tuesday for further examination, and as he was being led away to the Tombs he took a fearful parting from his wife.

At the meeting of the Bishop's council, composed of the irremovable rectors of the diocese, the names of three priests were selected as candidates for the high honor.

Bishop McQuaid is 81 years of age. He has been at the head of the Rochester diocese for thirty-six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Alexander are on their wedding journey and will visit the world's best and Southern resorts.

There will be a large attendance from town at the annual ball at Tuxedo next Friday night, which is a Halloween affair only in name.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. McAlpin, who are now at Ossining on the Hudson, will return to their apartment, 125 East Fifty-seventh street, after the wedding of Mrs. McAlpin's brother, Henry Townsend Martin.

The wedding of Miss Madeline Johnson and Eric Evans Mahan was celebrated yesterday afternoon in Grace Church.

Miss Eleanor E. Livingston and Edward Prescott Rowell of Boston were married Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Livingston.

Hackett, Larnan & Co. FOR MONDAY. Call special attention to their Women's Dept. on 2nd Floor, where they will place on sale many imported models, also copies of Berlin and Paris Wraps, Coats, Costumes and Fancy Waists.

Shirred Blouse Velvet Costume, large double puff sleeves, shirred at elbow, short peplum blouse back, vestee effect, of rich Persian trimming, coat lined with finest quality of white duchess satin, latest cut, full size plaited skirt. Value $95.00. 55" 55" 39" 25" 19.75 7.50

Complete lines of Fall and Winter Coats in all lengths, Fur Lined Cloth and Silk Coats, Fur Coats, Fur Neckwear and Muffs, Evening Wraps, Gowns and Dresses, Tailor Made Suits and Skirts, Shirt Waist Suits, Shirt Waists of Linen, Cotton, Silk Net and Lace, Neckwear, Veilings and Silk or Leather Belts.

B'way @ 13th St.

IN SOCIETY.

Columbia's festivities will attract many New Yorkers this week. From 3 until 6 o'clock on Friday the trustees will hold a reception. The students' dance that night in the gymnasium will be a big event and there is certain to be a great crowd of pretty girls at the Columbia-Yale game on Saturday.

Among others now at St. Louis for the exposition are Mr. and Mrs. John S. Huyler of 8 West Seventy-second street, who passed the summer at Mrs. Larchmont's place. Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Martin will stay at St. Louis for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilts have been entertaining the two French Princesses during the week at Beaulieu, the Waldorf Hotel at Newport. They are likely to give dinners for them here in Horse Show week when they may be settled in their recently purchased dwelling, 677 Fifth avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander are on their wedding journey and will visit the world's best and Southern resorts. On their return here they will locate in an apartment at 981 Madison avenue. Mr. Alexander is a son of Mrs. Archibald Alexander of New York.

There will be many New York guests at the wedding of James Nevett Steele, Jr., son of the Rev. Dr. J. B. Steele and Miss Elizabeth Arnold of London, to take place in Grace Church, Providence, R. I., on Thursday.

The first big wedding of the season at the Church of the Heavenly Rest will be that of Miss Grace Kimball Ballard and Philip Bernard Philipp on Wednesday afternoon.

One of the week's quiet weddings will be that of Miss Frances Crocker and Everett Verplanck, on Tuesday, at Brookside, the country place of Mrs. James McVicker at Dobbs Ferry.

Miss Elsie Postley, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Postley of 817

Arnold, Constable & Co. Announce a special showing of Velvets and Lyons Silks in new shades and weaves. New Laces, Coats and Wraps for Evening and Reception. Fine Furs, French Lingerie and High Class Imported Neckwear.

Dress Velvets, new weaves and fashionable shades. Chiffon Glace, Chiffon Imprime, Moire Chiffon, Panne Velours, Velours St. Hubert, Velveteens and Lyons all Silk Velvets.

Lyons Black Silks. "Sultana" Black Silks, a high grade; manufactured expressly for Arnold, Constable & Co. by C. J. Bonnet & Cie, Lyons. Prices ranging from $1.00 to $2.50 yard.

White Silks and Satins for Wedding Gowns. Novelties for Bridesmaids' Dresses. Brocaded Silks and Satins in small Dresden designs and shadow colorings a feature of the season.

New Laces, including Paris Model Sets. La Frileuse Eventail, Maresque, Rose Chantilly, Boule de Neige, Tourbillon and Baby Irish Crochet Laces in Sets. Spangled Lace and Mousseline Robes.

Rich Furs, Coats, Wraps, Stoles, Scarfs, Muffs. Fur lined Coats and Wraps in Cloth and Silk.

Coats and Wraps, De Rigueur Models in new long waist and high shoulder. White Coats and Wraps for Evening, Theatre and Reception in Cloths, Silks, Crepes and New Laces. Tailor made Suits, new imported models, and American conceptions, $25.00 to $300.00.

Lingerie and Corsets. Matched Sets of Fine Underwear, trimmed with Real and Loom Laces. Novelties in Night Dresses and Chemises, White Silk Petticoats. High grade Paris Corsets in new models. Ribbon and front Laced Corsets.

Neckwear. Novelties in Applique Laces, Berthes, Carrickmacross Collar and Cuff Sets, Feather Stoles, Boscs, Capes and Muffs to match. Baby Irish Lace Collars, Spangled and Jetted Lace Jackets, Yokes and Collars.

Arnold, Constable & Co. Oriental Rugs. Rare collection of old Silky Daghestan and Persian Pieces. An Unrivalled Stock of Modern Oriental Rugs. Indians—soft, light tone effects. Turkish—rich deep reds, greens and golds. Persians—well covered medium colorings.

Substantial Reduction in Prices on a lot of Oriental and Domestic Rugs in Room Sizes.

Rich Upholstery Fabrics for Hangings, Furniture and Wall Coverings.

Lace Curtains—exclusive designs in desirable makes. Special showing of Brussels Point and Double Net Curtains. High class imported Nottingham Curtains.

Window Shades made to order for any size window. Estimates and original designs for entire furnishing of Residences, Hotels, Clubs, Theatres.

Broadway @ 19th Street. REMEMBER There are poisonous mineral waters and soft drinks. DRINK ONLY NEW YORK BOTTLING CO.'S Ginger Ale and Other Beverages. (LUDIN, RANER, BOLEN & BYRNIE). ESTABLISHED OVER 40 YEARS. PUREST AND BEST.

A number of cards have been received for the wedding of Miss Pauline Astor and Capt. Spender Clay, to be celebrated on Saturday at St. Margaret's, Westminster, London.

It was announced yesterday that Abbot Low Dow, whose family has long been prominent in society on the Heights, Brooklyn, was engaged to Miss Carolina Sanford of Derby, Conn., and that their marriage would take place in the winter.

Miss Isabel Cameron, who with her elder sister, Miss Cameron, was a guest over from Europe in August of Eugene Higgins on his yacht Varuna, will sail for Europe next Saturday.

As the Bishop of Ripon and Mrs. Boyd Carpenter, who came over recently for a flying trip to the exposition, are still detained here by Mrs. Boyd's illness, the Bishop of London will officiate, aided by several clergymen. The two Misses Paul who will attend their cousin, are pretty Philadelphia girls. Miss Caroline Grayton is the daughter of Mrs. Haig and is known here. Miss Muriel White is practically English, as her parents, Mr. and Mrs. White, have lived in England so many years.

Miss Marion Haven has been selected by Miss Frances Crocker as a bridesmaid at her wedding with William Sloane, at St. Bartholomew's Church, on Nov. 22. Miss Haven has attended in this capacity a number of times. Miss Crocker's other attendants will be Misses Mary E. Hinchey, Evelyn Sloan, Emily Rogers, Amy Ellis and Marion Whitaker. Bishop Greer will officiate, and the reception after the ceremony will be given by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crocker at their home, 5 West Forty-ninth street.