

Some otherwise

shrewd and far-sighted manufacturers hold a rate card so near the eye that an agate-line rate of six dollars eclipses and blots out future profits of millions of dollars.

This is out way of saying that advertising should be judged only by its results, and not by its initial expense.

Advertising is dear or cheap in proportion as it pays. Nevertheless it is nearly always the so-called expensive advertising which pays best.

It is not our object to sell advertising space, or to exploit a medium, so much as it is to interest the manufacturer of a staple product in the possibility of increasing the demand for that product in homes where it is now practically unknown.

A million homes, no matter how selected, are too important a proposition for any manufacturer to ignore. A million homes selected by the standard established in THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL are especially desirable to every manufacturer.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY PHILADELPHIA

Man would do what I did and then read the San Francisco paper, was not a fit man to belong to such an august body.

Mr. Rand read the letters carefully and made no objection to their admission as evidence. In a city without further examination of Millin, Assistant District Attorney Garvan called to the stand Detective Matthew McDonnell of Washington.

Two other witnesses yesterday were Elizabeth Corrihan, a clerk at the Hotel Imperial, and Bessie Dunleavy, the head chambermaid of the same hotel.

Anna Gertrude Radecke, a tall, good looking, blue-eyed German girl, who arrived in this country on Wednesday in the second cabin of the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, was very happy yesterday noon, when she left this city for Cleveland, where she will stay at the man to whom she expected to be married when she left the Fatherland.

German Girl Breaks Away From Ellis Island and Starts West to See Dr. Bean.

The girl said that she had met Dr. Bean, a man of 30 years, in Berlin six months ago; that she loved the doctor and the doctor, she believed, loved her, and that they were betrothed within three weeks after meeting.

It was shown that only three delegates to the general committee had voted for him as executive member, while the other six had selected Henry F. Cochrane as the executive member.

DEAR NAN—Received yours last night after coming in from races. Glad to get it, also to see you are enjoying yourself.

DEAR NAN—Did not get home from New Rochelle last night, but I went round to Imperia and found your telegram awaiting; answered right away. I know the old joy of two brothers and one sister coming to see an excuse to get here quicker than usual.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

Gifts that will wreath any man's face with real smiles. Suit cases. Housecoats and dressing gowns. Scarfs and mufflers. Travelling bags. Silk umbrellas. Silk boxes. Bath robes. Gloves. Opera hats.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY, 235 Broadway, cor. Warren, opposite City Hall.

ENAMELED STEEL COOKING UTENSILS

Guaranteed to be absolutely free from poisonous composition, safe to use, and will last for years.

LEWIS & CONGER, 130 and 132 West 42d Street, and 132 West Forty-first St., New York.

ART SALES AND EXHIBITIONS.

THE ANDESON AUCTION CO., Successors to Bangs & Co., 6 W. 29th St., New York.

Sale on Monday and Tuesday Evenings, Dec. 19 and 20, at 7:30.

Emgravings, Etchings, Color Prints, Original Drawings, taken from the Collections of G. B. Morse, Auctioneer.

With some additions from other sources.

To Ohio couldn't be learned definitely. A. J. O'Brien, a clerk at the Hotel Imperial, said that Dr. Bean at first stated that he had agreed to marry the girl and later stated that his father's will prevented the marriage.

The new Cabinet will be short lived. The situation is unsettled, but rumors of a conflict between King Alfonso and the politicians are discredited.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. MADRID, Dec. 16.—Mr. Minister of War Gen. Azoragga has formed a new Cabinet to replace the Maura Ministry, which resigned on Wednesday.

Meriden Holiday Silverware. Store, full of rich and beautiful gifts, open evenings until Christmas.

Meriden Co. Silverware. International Silver Co. Inc., 218 Fifth Avenue.

MARRIED.

LOCKE-SCARTH.—On Wednesday, Oct. 12, 1904, at St. Charles's Chapel of Trinity Church, New York, by the Rev. Thomas H. Hill, M. A., Mary Constance, youngest daughter of the late James L. Scarth of Toronto, Canada, to Charles Frederick Arthurton Locke, M. B. of New York, formerly of Hamilton, Canada, son of the late Dr. Charles F. A. Locke of Hamilton, Canada.

DIED.

CONVERSE.—At his residence, 261 Madison av., on Thursday, Dec. 15, at 10 A. M., Mrs. Margaret Converse, in the 72d year of her age. Funeral services at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth av. and 45th st., at 10 A. M., Friday, Dec. 17, 1904.

FOX.—Dec. 15, 1904, at Buffalo, N. Y., Alfred Fox, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, and New York city. Interment at Cleveland, Ohio.

KNOEDLER.—In Paris on Dec. 15, in the 73d year of her age, Leonie Lebraucourt, widow of Michael Knuedler. Requiem mass at St. Vincent de Paul's Church, West 23d st., at 8 A. M., Monday, Dec. 19.

O'CONNOR.—On Thursday, Dec. 15, 1904, George W. O'Connor, in the 64th year of his age. Funeral services in the Chapel of Christ's Mission, 142 West 21st st., at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, Dec. 18.

CENTIMETER.

Great Findings. Cemetery, 225 acres of beautiful country. Price 48 W. 4th St., N. Y.

MUSICAL NOTICES.

A VIGOROUS GROWTH and the original color given to the hair by PARKER'S HAIR REGULATOR. PARKER'S GINGER TONIC the best cough cure.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.

FIFTH AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. Minister, REV. J. ROSS STEVENSON, D. D.

REV. GEORGE H. TRULL, Assistant Minister. Dr. Stevenson's morning lecture at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. All the morning services the pastor, Rev. George Alexander, D. D., will preach.

Young Men's Bible Class meets at 8:45 A. M., Wednesday evenings, 50 West 42d Street, at 8:15. Strangers are cordially invited.

UNIVERSITY PLACE PRESBYTERIAN Church, cor. 11th and 12th Sts. Public worship to-morrow at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. All the morning services the pastor, Rev. George Alexander, D. D., will preach.

CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH (Episcopal), 34th St., Cor. Park Av.—Services 11 A. M., Dr. Savage will preach at 11 A. M., Monday, Dec. 19. Sunday school 10 o'clock. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock.

TEMPLE SQUARE, 8th St., 8th St. Sunday 11:15 A. M., Joseph Silverman, the Centennial service of Benjamin Disraeli, the 100th anniversary of his birth. All welcome.

CASE AGAINST NAN ALL IN.

PROSECUTION QUITS AND THE DEFENSE IS TO BEGIN.

Dismissal Refused by Justice Davis on All the Grounds Submitted—Her Love Letters to Young Put in Evidence—Possibility She May Not Testify.

The prosecution yesterday closed its case against Nan Patterson, charged with having murdered Bookmaker Charles Young in a cab on June 4 last, and Justice Davis, at the request of Mr. Levy, then adjourned court till Monday morning.

Justice Davis denied all of Mr. Unger's motions to strike out certain testimony and direct the jury to acquit. Apparently Mr. Levy and his associates have been unable to agree as to whether or not they will put in a defense, although they have had time to think it over.

Mr. Levy surprised Justice Davis by asking for an adjournment at 3 o'clock, two hours before the regular time. He said that physically and mentally he was in no shape to make an opening.

Mr. Unger promised that if a defense was made there would be no opening; and the two hours which naturally would have been consumed yesterday afternoon, had he used them in making an opening, would not be wasted.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Levy and his associate counsel have not made up their minds whether they will make a defense. If a defense is made it is admitted that the District Attorney has to go on the stand. She wants to do so and when she came to court yesterday morning she expected that she would be called to tell what happened in the cab on the day Charles Young was killed.

When Mr. Hand announced that the prosecution had closed its case Mr. Unger immediately began an extended argument. His first motion was to exclude the pictures of J. Morgan Smith and his wife, Nan's sister.

Mr. Unger said that the pictures had not been connected sufficiently with the defendant to allow their admission as evidence. Mr. Unger was interrupted by Mr. Rand, who said that Mr. Unger's argument was against the weight of the pictures as evidence. Then Mr. Unger charged that the District Attorney had not subpoenaed certain witnesses who could have given valuable evidence.

Mr. Rand replied that he had summoned every witness within the jurisdiction of the court, and in addition had given the names of every witness he had to the counsel for the defense. Mr. Rand characterized Mr. Unger's statement as an outrage.

Mr. Unger asked that the court direct the jury to acquit the ground that the evidence was insufficient. There was nothing in the records, he said, to show that Nan knew anything about the letter written by Mrs. Julia Smith to Young and opened by Mrs. Young. He said that the prosecution had a motive for Nan killing Young.

Mr. Unger submitted that the prosecution had not brought out sufficient facts to justify the submission of the case to the jury. When he had closed his argument, Justice Davis hesitated for a moment and said: "Go to the jury."

Letters written by Young to Nan were put in evidence yesterday by the defense. Mr. Rand, Mr. Levy and Mr. Unger were asked, when court opened yesterday morning, that John D. Millin, Young's racing partner, be recalled to the stand. Mr. Unger refused to do so, saying that he had no objection to his name being recalled, but that he had no objection to his name being recalled.

DEAR NAN—Received yours last night after coming in from races. Glad to get it, also to see you are enjoying yourself. I saw almost everybody at the races yesterday. I was glad to see you and to see you were all over you. You and he certainly did get yourself a rep over me. Got the enclosed with my sock from Layman. You will find it a good one. I will be glad to have it. Princess doing fine, won 100 at the races, not so bad for a greenhorn. Suppose you will call on me when you are in New York and where are you going? Love and kisses.

DEAR NAN—Did not get home from New Rochelle last night, but I went round to Imperia and found your telegram awaiting; answered right away. I know the old joy of two brothers and one sister coming to see an excuse to get here quicker than usual. Of course, you might as well be here as anywhere else if you will not expect too much of me. As I told you, I keep to myself the summer, but I don't get too far from you. I will be glad to have you go to the races. I never get back until 6:30 P. M.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

DEAR NAN—I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me. I would not understand you if you were writing to me.

Thoughtfulness is the most appreciated trait in either man or woman.

In selecting Christmas gifts show thoughtfulness by selecting something useful.

KNOX HAT

Stores are full of handsome desirable articles. Martin's London umbrellas and canes, Scotch rugs, Dent's gloves, hat boxes all sizes, furs, etc. You can spend as little as you may wish, yet the gift would be appreciated for its usefulness.

Agencies in all the principal cities in the world.

How can you deny it? It is hardly arguable, the opinion is that such a proposition, as Mr. Joseph Silverman followed Judge Gray with a speech of considerable length.

If we are ready to concede that other nations of the world have the right, have liberties, have honor, which is our duty to safeguard as much as those of our own country, then we are ready to find that the world will give us the peace that we desire.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

MAYOR LEADS PEACE MEETING.

VOICE FROM AUDIENCE HALTS ARCHBISHOP IRELAND.

Little Hitch in Crowded Gathering at Carnegie Hall to Urge the Ratification of the Arbitration Treaties—Letters of Archbishop and Carnegie.

A meeting was held in Carnegie Hall last night under the direction of the executive committee of the American Conciliation International Arbitration, to urge the ratification of the arbitration treaties recently negotiated between the United States and other Powers and now pending before the United States Senate.

There was a large audience present and every argument advanced against war as a method of settling differences between nations was greeted with applause.

Andrew Carnegie, who was to have called the meeting to order, was not able to be present, and John Crosby Brown took his place. Mayor McCellan presided, and with him on the stage were many well known citizens. An old lady in Quaker garb was conspicuous in the crowd.

The principle of international arbitration is not a new one in this country, for to the eternal glory of the United States be it said that during 107 years we took part in forty-seven arbitrations, and during that time we were a party to more than half of the arbitrations that have taken place in the world.

It is generally conceded that there are some matters which arbitration cannot reach, nor do the treaties which have been negotiated, and so about to be negotiated, undertake to touch the right of self-defense.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

We are here to-night not only to urge prompt consideration of the treaties, but we are here respectfully to ask the Senate to send to the President the ratification of the treaties, and to urge the President to ratify them.

Solid Silver

EXCLUSIVELY. WHITING MFG. CO. Silversmiths.

BROADWAY & 16TH ST. New York.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

MOVE FOR CITY LIGHT PLANT. CORPORATION COUNSEL CALLED ON FOR AN OPINION.

City Club Also Tackles the Problem—C. G. Monroe Urges a Municipal Electric Works—Would Also Acquire the Conductors—One Gas Company Supporter.

At the instance of Mayor McCellan the Board of Estimate asked Corporation Counsel Delany yesterday for an opinion as to the power of the city to construct a municipal lighting plant. Some of the heads of the administration have held that special legislation is necessary, while others, who have studied the Charter, hold that the city already has all the power it needs to light its own streets and buildings.

To reach a conclusion as to what are the city's powers Mayor McCellan at the meeting of the board yesterday offered this resolution: Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to furnish to this board as promptly as possible his opinion whether there is power in this city under its present Charter to construct and maintain and to furnish electric light to the public buildings and streets of the city.

There was no discussion on the resolution and it was adopted unanimously. Col. Robert Grier Monroe, who was