

HERE'S THE COLLEGE WIDOWER

DOMICILED IN A GIRLS' COLLEGE AND ADEPT AT FOOTBALL.

College Boys Innumerable Make His Appearance at the Weber Music Hall...

"The College Widower," an effort to have fun at the expense of George Ade...

"The College Widower" does not pretend to be a travesty on the plot and dialogue of Mr. Ade's latest play...

The plot whirled up and down the campus of Backwater College, an institution for young women...

"But where will we get them?" asks President Witheredloom...

"Why, say," says Stubby, with visibly suppressed enthusiasm, "I know a pair of schoolmen down in the hotel who..."

If there was any more of that particular speech nobody in the audience heard it...

Bonnie Magin and May McKenzie had a go with eight ounce gloves which lacked nothing except a police raid to differentiate it from occasions which used to be legalized by the Horton law...

Tilly Butlin, left at Backwater by her mother, the Queen of the Hashouses, who has a chain of college boarding houses for Misses to call on...

There were surprises in the action. None of them was greater than that of the appearance of Miss Angeles as a prim and awkward postmistress of Squawstonville...

The greatest tumult and the shouting came when the six anemic Baptists of the Gingham team...

The action stopped altogether before the young men again their husbands...

There is a boarding house song by Miss Dressler and Joe Weber in the first part of the new sketch which will not render Mr. Edgar Smith, who built the thing, the least bit popular in the neighborhood...

Woman's Death in Montclair and Other Charges Laid to Him.

A man who calls himself Dr. Alexander and sometimes Dr. Adams was arrested here yesterday accused of performing, at 235 West Twenty-third street, New York, the criminal operation that caused the death of Mrs. M. J. ...

TO-DAY'S A FISH DAY. The Pope's Epiphany Dispensation Has Not Reached the United States.

CASSIUS M. REED INJURED. Once Part Owner of Hoffman House—Struck by Third Avenue Car.

Cassius M. Reed, 70 years old, once part owner of the Hoffman House, was struck by a southbound Third Avenue electric car yesterday afternoon at Thirty-fourth street...

KITTY CHEATHAM RECITES.

Coon Songs and Baby Songs, Assisted by Bishop and Nordica.

Assisted by David Bishop, Mme. Nordica and Arnold Dolmetsch, Miss Kitty Cheatham appeared at the Lyceum yesterday afternoon in a programme of songs and recitations...

For the difficult art of recitation, Miss Cheatham has scarcely a sufficient command of simple, vernacular elocution, but she has a sympathetic personality and a good stage presence...

"Miss Virginia" shows a young lady of the eighteenth century who escapes from an old man, to whom she has been unwittingly destined in marriage...

It is in the coon songs and the children's songs that Miss Cheatham is at her best, and here she is absolutely charming and delightful...

Mrs. Blauvelt was scheduled to appear but was prevented by a cold caught in the recent storm. Mme. Nordica obligingly came on from the audience to take her place and was enthusiastically welcomed.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Murray Hill Theatre to Reopen—Elfe Fay for the Hippodrome—Mme. Barsescu.

The Murray Hill Theatre, at Lexington avenue and Forty-second street, which has been closed all season, is to throw open its doors to-morrow night under the management of William T. Keogh...

The American Academy of Dramatic Arts will give its second performance of this season in the Criterion Theatre next Thursday afternoon, when "Miss Civilization," a one act play by Richard Harding Davis...

A professional matinee of "Common Sense" will be given at the Fourteenth Street Theatre on Friday, Jan. 13. It is to be a holiday reunion of the several Savage companies now playing here.

The Rhine daughters were Misses Alten, Ralph and Mulford. It can be said of them without reserve that they left the bottom of the Rhine covered with the ruins of some of the loveliest music ever conceived by man.

MEMORIALS TO THEO. THOMAS.

Today's Philharmonic and Sunday's Opera Concert Programmes Changed.

After the final rehearsal of the Philharmonic Orchestra, held yesterday afternoon in Carnegie Hall, it was decided to change the programme of the public rehearsal this afternoon and the concert to-morrow night to one in memory of Theodore Thomas...

The concert at the Metropolitan Opera House on Sunday night will also be made a memorial to Mr. Thomas. Max Bendix was the first violinist of the Thomas orchestra for years, and both Messrs. Franko and Brogner were for years associated with the conductor.

All the soloists on Sunday will sing music appropriate to the occasion. Mme. Sembrich will sing Mozart's "Re Pastore" and an aria from Brahms's "German Requiem," which she sang first under Mr. Thomas's direction at the Cincinnati Municipal Festival...

The orchestral numbers will include the Choral Funeral March, as orchestrated by Theodore Thomas, the trio from Tchaikovsky's symphony, Pathétique and the Funeral March from "Goetterdämmerung."

JADE CARVINGS AT AUCTION. First Day of the Sale of the Yamana Collection of Japanese Art.

The sale of the Yamana collection of Oriental art objects began yesterday afternoon at the American Art Galleries, with the jade ornamental carvings and vases, snuff bottles and cases of rock crystal and hard shell and paste.

On JANUARY 14th we publish Thomas Dixon, Jr.'s powerful novel, "The Clansman," the first big book of 1905. Also the first number of our new monthly, "The Garden Magazine," 10c, a copy $1.00 a year.

And Possibly There May Be No Concerts in the Hall This Year.

The trustees of Cooper Union have decided that dramatic performances requiring stage settings and costumes shall not be allowed there in future. This conclusion was reached when the People's Institute wished to use the auditorium again this year for its concerts and Shakespearean recitals.

Last year a concert license was issued to Cooper Union, but this year the trustees have come to the conclusion that as the building does not comply with the building regulations in regard to places where concerts and plays are given they were violating the law.

E. Fulton Cutting, secretary of the trustees, said: "Such things have been held in Cooper Union, but we have no license this year. I can't say whether concerts will be given or not."
