TIFFT TO HEAD THE SCHOOLS.

REFLECTED PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Going After More Money for the System and Starts an Inquiry About Those 70,000 Breakfastless Children—Only 300 Have Taken Free Meals So Far.

REJECTED PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Henry N. Tift was reelected president of the Board of Education at the annual meeting yesterday and John C. Kelley of Brooklyn was elected vice-president.

"I want to call attention to the unwarranted emotional outburst in regard to the 70,000 breakfastless children in the schools," continued Mr. Tift. "I know there is destitution in the city, but I do not believe there is any great number of children who go to the schools without breakfast and an officer of a prominent charitable society told me that we should not start a crusade of forcing charity food on public school children."

"Why should the schools be closed for this particular evangelical association?" asked Gen. Wingate. "The Jews, the Unitarians and the agnostics in our schools cannot have a holiday for the purpose of having a parade. Why should the children of other denominations be deprived of a day's schooling for the sake of others. It's a bad precedent."

The board denied the request; also declined to grant a year's absence to Assemblyman Gustave Hartman, who is a teacher in the Public School 138, Manhattan. It was said that he had been absent for much of the time since the Legislature met, and if he did not appear in school pretty soon charges would be made against him. Since going to Albany he has introduced bills granting more money to the Board of Education.
