WHEN WARE TROUBLE IN THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO!

Meagan Weed Prof. Starr is Trying Drives Men to Murder and Madness. Besides Producing Visions of Demons—Its Use Prohibited in Mexico—Many Victims.

ASHUN, Tex., March 18.—There will be some remarkable and exciting things done by Prof. Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago and the students of that institution if the published report is true that they have taken to smoking marihuana. It is stated that Prof. Starr dotes on the weed and recommends it as a substitute for tobacco. According to the published report he brought back great quantities of it from Mexico on his recent visit to that country and has invited the students to partake freely of it for scientific purposes.

Marihuana is one of the most dangerous drugs found in Mexico. The weed grows wild in many localities of the southern part of that country. Its wonderful powers as an intoxicant have long been known to the natives and many of the wild tribes have produced. So dangerous is marihuana that in the City of Mexico and other Mexican cities the Government keeps special inspectors constantly employed to see that the weed is not sold in the markets.

A few years ago it was found that many of the prisoners in the Federal prison in the City of Mexico were losing their minds. An investigation was started and the discovery was made that they were all addicted to the use of marihuana, which was smuggled in to them by the guards, who had been bribed for that purpose. Since then strict orders prohibiting the use of marihuana by prisoners have been enforced.

The poisonous weed also finds favor among the soldiers, who mix it with tobacco and smoke it. The sale of the weed to the soldiers is strictly prohibited, and severe punishment is provided for any one guilty of the offense.

The habitual user of marihuana finally loses his mind and becomes a raving maniac. There are scores and scores of such instances in Mexico. It is said that those who smoke marihuana frequently die suddenly.

The smoking of marihuana is a seductive habit. It grows upon a person more quickly and securely than the use of opium or cocaine.

Leaves of tobacco bear a close resemblance to leaves of the marihuana weed. The latter is smoked in cigarette form or in a pipe the same as tobacco.

The first effect of smoking marihuana is a slight headache. It comes after the first three or four draughts of smoke. A marked dizziness then sets in. Everything seems to move around the smoker. The next stage of the intoxication is full of terrors. Troops of ferocious wild animals appear before the vision of the smoker. Lions, tigers, panthers and other wild beasts occupy his vision.

The wild animals are then attacked by devils and monsters of unheard of shapes. The smoker becomes brave and possessed of superhuman strength. It is at this stage of the debauch that murders are committed by the smoker. Many marihuana crimes are committed in Mexico.

A short time ago a Mexican of the lower class living in the City of Mexico smoked a marihuana cigarette. He became wildly insane and attacked and killed a policeman and seriously wounded three other officers. It required the combined strength of six policemen to overpower the madman and take him to prison.

A few Americans in Mexico have experienced the effects of marihuana. A few years ago Henry Hommert, a former well known citizen of San Antonio, purchased a large estate in southern Mexico. He was addicted to the habit, which rendered him insane and finally resulted in his death.

In another instance the superintendent of a mine in Mexico, who was an American, became the object of hatred of one of the men in his employ. This Mexican mixed marihuana with the American's tobacco. The latter was made wildly insane from smoking the mixture and made a vicious attack upon a party of miners. He was shot and killed in the affray.

THE CAT IN THE TEAROOM.

A feminine touch at a Lanching Place for Women Shoppers.

A little tearoom on a quiet street just off the shopping district caters to the rich women who encounter an appetite in that region.

The interior is quiet and subdued. Maids are soft voiced and soft footed. Special attention is paid to the quality of the tea and to the cream. The young woman who serves as superintendent trails silken robes after her.

There is a table loaded with the latest magazines. A powder puff and a comb and sixteen varieties of pins repose in a little dressing room to one side.

But most feminine touch of all is a small gray cat that travels from guest to guest and demands attention. That she is petted by the guests is evident from her continual purring attitude.

She will eat only the choicest morsels, and when they do not suit her she opens her mouth silently at the injudicious bestowal of a morsel in a most absurd manner, as if she really wished to object but had hardly the strength to do it.

Frederick Loeser & Co.
In every detail the Leading Retail Establishment of Brooklyn.
The Palais du Costume—Free Exhibition in Recital Hall, Fourth Floor.

Brass and Iron Bedsteads.
The Annual Sale : : And the Greatest Sale
THIS OCCASION HAS IMITATORS, BUT NO SUBSTITUTE. It has come to be as impressive an event as the great February Sale of Furniture. It has come to be waited for, not only by home furnishers and those who have country houses, but by hotel men and large furnishers everywhere. It has each season presented larger and more extraordinary opportunities than the season preceding. It has offered only the BEST Bedsteads and Bedding, in the most desirable designs and in range enough to satisfy every taste and need.

To-morrow we present the greatest sale of this character which has ever been held in the country, we believe. Immense stocks have been gathered for it. The range of new and good designs now spread over the third floor is probably the largest shown in any one store in America. The Bedsteads are the product of the best makers in the country, and are absolutely perfect in every detail of their workmanship and finish. Through co-operation with these famous makers, through the unrivaled prestige and purchasing power of the Loeser Store, we are able to announce for to-morrow.
