YALE CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

HONORS IN ACADEMIC AND SCIEN-TIFIC DEPARTMENTS.

Capt. Bowman of the Baseball Team First on the List of the Sheff Men-A Chinaman Receives Degree of D. C. L., Magna Cum Laude, in Law School.

NEW HAVEN, June 26 .- Great crowds of Yale friends arrived in town to-day for the class day exercises of the academic and scientific departments this afternoon. The Sheff men had their exercises for the first time on the court at the Sheff Vanderbilt Hall in Temple street. On the platform, where the band played Yale airs, were seated the class historians. As the name of each man of the class was announced by the historians he was raised to the shoulders of his nearest classmates and a cheer given him. The athletes of the class rereived evations as they were so raised.

During the literary part of the program the big class pipe was passed, all the seniors having a "pull," and then the clay pipes were used. When Capt. Bowman was asked to rise the class rose and the college vell, with the class numerals tacked on, was given. Bowman is the captain of the baseball team, a three times member of the Yale football eleven and chairman of the class day committee. He was the first on the list of the first historian.

There was an enthusiastic throng at the scademic class ceremonies on the old campus. The poem "The Pilotage" was by James G. Rogers of Denver and the oration by Arthur P. McKinstry of Werester, whose subject was "The Yale

Immediately after the class day exercises were concluded the class, headed by the land, marched to Chittenden Library, where the class ivy was planted and the ivy ode sung. The ivy was sprouted from a cutting taken at the home of Donald G. Mitchell (Ik Marvel) at Edgewood, Westville. Dr. Mitchell was graduated at Yale in 1811, of which class eight only survive. Following Yale custom this sprout will be allowed to grow for three years, and then members of the class will be allowed to take cuttings for their own homes. The ivy ode was written by Charles

It was expected that a Congregational clergyman would be selected.

DROOKLYN SHIPYARDS' STRIKE. Men in the Robbins and White Companies Quit-Demands for Higher Pay.

The boilermakers and shipbuilders employed by the John M. Robbins Dry Dock ompany at Erie Basin and by the Robert White Engineering Company at the foot of Columbia street, Brooklyn, went out on strike yesterday in sympathy with the strike of the holders-on, rivet heaters and apprentice shipfitters, who went on strike on Friday. The holders-on demand $2.50 a day instead of $2.35 and the others demand a uniform rate of $2.50 a day instead of from $1.70 to $2 a day.

The men say that there are 900 on strike in the Robbins yard and 300 are out in the White yard. The employers say that they have sufficient men employed to do the work required and that they will not accede to the demands.

President Dickey of the dry dock company made the following statement last evening:

"There are 250 of our men on strike now, but we are prepared for trouble and will fight the strike to the end. Whether the rest of the men will quit work or not we do not know. If they do there will be no money question does not out any ine money question does not out any loc with us in this fight. It is the question of discipline. We have treated our men fairly all along and have employed Knights of Labor in the various trades where Knights were represented. The fight is forced on us and we are ready for anything that may happen. We have taken measures for our protection and the carrying on of our business and for the protection of any new men we may employ."

ROYAL ARCANUM WRATH.

Cettle to Join With Other Manhattan Councils to Fight New Assessments. A regular meeting of Celtic Council of the Royal Arcanum was held last evening in the Grand Central Palace, Lexington avenue and Forty-third street. The regent of the council, Assemblyman Albert L. Wiegand, presided. Celtic Council is the second largest in New York, and among its prominent members are Commissioners Hayes and Oakley, Miles M. O'Brien and Judge Bischoff.

No time was wasted in getting at the question of insurance rates. The resolution which was finally adopted was presented by John F. Walsh. In seconding it James Godsell said that the present condition of the Royal Arcanum reminded him of the Irishman's five stages of life: Abraham's bosom, heaven, limbo, purgatory and hell.

"And after you are 65 years old in this council it's hell," concluded Mr. Godsell.

The resolution called for the appointment of a committee of five to meet with similar committees from the fifty-eight other councils in Manhattan and The Bronx and draw up a second details.

other councils in Manhattan and The Bronx and draw up a set of drastic resolutions to present to the Supreme Council.

"The feeling of this lodge is against the recent action of the Supreme Council," said Mr. Walsh after the meeting.

Mr. Godsell accused the Supreme Council of "incomparance dishapasty and intrigue of "incomparance dishapasty and intrigue. of "incompetency, dishonesty and intrigue with the old line insurance companies." Thursday night of this week was selected for the committees to meet at Terrace Garden.

DR. HASBROUCK MARRIED. Miss West, His Invalid Bride, Seated in an Easy Chair for the Ceremony. GREENWICH, Conn., June 26 .- Miss Edna Mame West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. West of Greenwich, and Dr. John Roswell Hasbrouck of Seventy-first street and Broadway, New York, were married at the bride's home this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by the Rev. Joseph H. Seldon, D. D., the bride being carried by her nurse brothers and the bridegroom from her invalid bed on the porch to the library and seated in an easy chair for the ceremony. She was attired in pure white and wore a diamond and sapphire bracelet, the bridegroom's gift. Two hours after the ceremony the bride was carried back to her bed.

On the 10th inst., while Miss West was out driving with her father, the horse being presented to her by her intended husband the animal began kicking and threw them out, and Miss West's left leg was broken at the ankle. Picking up the disabled leg with one hand, she hopped on the other foot to where her father was thrown, to see if he was injured, and found that he was not. It took several physicians to dress the injured limb. It is now healing, but it will be over a month before she can go out on crutches.

Dr. Hasbrouck did not wish to defer the ceremony, neither did the bride, so on the date set it occurred. Miss West has been date set it occurred. Miss West has been sleeping out of doors since the accident, taking the fresh air treatment again to hasten her return to health, and Dr. Hasbrouck will remain here with her until Thursday. Arrangements are being made to then take her by special car to stone Ridge, back of Kingston, N. Y., where the doctor has an estate.

MORGANS LEGALLY SEPARATED.

Edith Parsons Morgan Gets Control of Children, but Husband May Visit Them. WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 26 .- Justice Keogh to-day filed his final decree granting a separation to Mrs. Edith Parsons Morgan, daughter of John E. Parsons, president of the New York Bar Association, from her husband, David Percy Morgan, a rich New York clubman. The decree prohibits both Mr. and Mrs. Morgan from marrying again while either is alive. Mrs. Morgan gets absolute control of the four children, Helen, Edith, Percy and John E. Morgan. The decree does not say that Mr. Morgan shall contribute one cent toward the sup-shall contribute one cent toward the support of his wife or the education and maintenance of his children.

Justice Keegh decides that Mr. Morgan deserted his wife on May 29, 1904, and that was the time when he kidnapped three of his children and took them to his country seat in Ithan, Pa. It is reported that Mr. Morgan may appeal to the Appellate Division and that a long legal battle may be fought over the custody of the children, as well as over the legality of the separation well as over the legality of the separation decree.

Justice Keogh decrees that the father Justice Keogh decrees that the father shall be permitted to see the children at the home of the plaintiff or any other place within the State where they may be for the space of two hours in the morning or afternoon once every two weeks, the defendant to notify the plaintiff at least two days before the time when he expects to visit said children, provided however, that the plaintiff may take the children to some other place away from home without the State and not accessible to the defendant and keep them away for the period not exceeding in all four months in each year."

SHAKE-UP FOR ROCKAWAY COPS. New Captain in Charge-Secretary Howell

Meets Dempsey on a Bleyele. As the result of a visit which Commissioner McAdoo made to Rockaway Beach Saturday afternoon Capt. Lewis Kreascher was relieved of command of that precinct yesterday and Capt. Cullen of the Liberty avenue station was sent to take his place. avenue station was sent to take his place. The Commissioner said that the transfer was because of the conditions he found existing at Rockaway, although he didn't say what these were. Reports of gambling places opening up there have been current for some time.

On Sunday, Mr. Howell, the Commissioner's secretary, also took a trip to Rockaway in an automobile. The result was that Bicycle Policeman Dempsey of that precinct was summoned before the Commissioner

SAVED COUPLE IN STORM. Yacht Thetis Sends Her Launch Out

Rescue a Man and a Woman. The steam yacht Thetis, owned by Hiram W. Sibley of Rochester, while on her way from the Atlantic Yacht Club station to Ardsley, got caught in the squall off Yonkers yesterday afternoon. Those on board the yacht heard cries for help and off the starboard bow saw an upturned racing boat, on top of which was a woman. She was being held on the boat by a man, who was in the water.

The yacht's launch reached the man and the woman in time. They were taken aboard and soon recovered. The man said he was Frank Goodwin of Marble Hill and that the woman was a Miss Franz of this city. They were put ashore at Yonkers. W. Sibley of Rochester, while on her way

SHOT FROM SANDY HOOK Didn't Hit the Angler Yesterday; in Fact,

Never Does Hit Her.

The fishermen who were aboard the Angler outside Sandy Hook yesterday afternoon reported when they came back that while they were at anchor there came a bang from the Hook, followed instantly by a whizzing sound, and that about 400 feet astern of the Angler a projectile disappeared in the water. The shot came from the Government proving grounds. Up to date the marksmen there have never hit any boats. Every summer they miss 'em and cause some summer they finds on the sandy Hook proving ground placed the shot which the fishing steamer Angler reported as having come within 400 feet of her at a distance of 1850 feet. If there was a splash so near the vessel it must have been one of those biggest fish which get away. The officers at the proving ground are inclined to think that the story is to be classified with the fish stories which are daily brought to the city. Only a few shots from 3 inch guns were fired to-day, and each shot was calculated to drop at a safe distance from any vessel.

GRAFT CHARGES NOT SUSTAINED. Cases Against Town Officers in Rockland County . Are Dismissed.

NYACK, N. Y., June 26 .- The Rockland county court room was crowded to-day when the cases of town officials who were under indictment for presenting alleged false claims against the county and several of the towns came up. Counsel for the deof the towns came up. Counsel for the defendants moved to dismiss the indictments because he said there was no evidence against his clients.

District Attorney Lee said he had requested the Taxpayers' Association, through whose efforts the indictments had been found, to produce evidence upon which he could try the cases, but that association had failed to do so and he had not a scintilla of evidence with which to go to trial.

Judge Fallon granted the motions to dismiss the indictments and the accused officials were all discharged by the court. These officials are Justices of the Peace Berans and Brown of the town of Ramapo and De Noyelles of Clarkstown; Deputy Sheriffs NcNichol of Nyack, Snyder and Long of Clarkstown, and Van Buskirk of Spring Valley. Justice of the Peace Whyard, the only one of the indicted officials who has been tried, was acquitted by the jury last week.

OX TURNED INTO SANDWICHES. Said to Have Been Fattened on Roosevelt

Ranch-Father McGutre's Flock Enjoys It. Ten thousand sandwiches were made from the flesh of one huge ox roasted whole yesterday at Ulmer Park. Father William T. McGirr, the rector of St. Michael's Church South Brooklyn, assured all inquirers that he had good reason to believe that the ox was brought to its vast maturity on, President Roosevelt's former ranch at Medora, N. D. Whether the good father was right in this assumption or not, the sandwiches disappeared as fast as the boss cook and his five assistants could slice tidbits off the big carcass and 400 pretty girls in relays put them on vieces of bread and turn them put them on vieces of bread and turn them over to hungry customers.

The boss cook is an old hand at barbecue cooking. He has a huge turnspit erected on a framework of stout oak timbers and covered with a roof of galvanized iron plates, which looks like the canvas cover of an ancient prairie schooner. The fire below was reflected against the sides of the big ox as it turned on the spit and greatly hastened the cooking process. A hungry horde of youngsters clamored along the railing outside the cooking enclosure all through the process.

Some five thousand people, most of them under 14 years old, attended the picnic. There were all sorts of games, from fifty tree on the northeast corner of Liberty and Sheffield avenues, East New York, last night. The tree stood over the way from night. The tree stood over the way from a big brewery and when it toppled it fell across the Liberty avenue trolley wires, electric, telephone and the fire alarm wires of the district. The wires were broken, and the live electric ones kept curious persons from getting too close to the fallen tree. The Liberty avenue trolley cars were blocked for two hours, for it took that time to cut the tree up so that it could be removed. It did not take long to repair the broken wires.

New in the Wistaria Grove Show. Three new acts were added to the bill at the Wistaria Grove on top of the New York Theater last night. One of these, Dandee, a comedy juggler from the London Hippodrome, came as a surprise, as his engagement had not been announced. The other additions to the program were the Four Lukens and the Pantzer Trio.
