

PACKERS READY FOR FIGHT.

HAVE SEVERAL WAYS TO ATTACK THE INDICTMENTS.

Application of a writ of Injunction restraining the Government from prosecuting likely to come first—Meat Men May Ask for Habeas Corpus Writs.

CHICAGO, July 3.—The indicted packers are rapidly getting their defense into concrete form. Their general counsel, John S. Miller, will be surrounded by an array of legal talent such as has perhaps never before been assembled in any case in the courts of the United States. The most resourceful practitioners at law will defend the packers against the indictments voted Saturday by the Federal Grand Jury. A very much amended bill will be fought over, and the plans under consideration contemplate a half dozen or more different methods of procedure to set up the contention of the packers that the Government's position in the matter is untenable.

It was expected that the packers, through Attorney Miller, would apply to-day before Judge Grosscup for a writ of injunction restraining the Government from prosecuting them under the indictments, but because of the fact that District Attorney Morrison was indisposed the matter was postponed until a time to be decided upon later between counsel for the packers and the Government attorneys.

Meanwhile another plan, it is said, has been evolved by the associate counsel for the packers. This plan is to have the packers surrender to the Federal authorities at noon on Wednesday, and instead of going to jail, to ask for a writ of habeas corpus either before Judge Grosscup or in Washington, before the United States Supreme Court, on the ground that the packers are in custody and are illegally detained and deprived of their liberty.

This action, if taken, would precede the application for a writ of injunction, which would be deferred pending the outcome of the first action. The contention which the packers' counsel would probably set up in their argument for a writ of injunction.

It is said that the defendants cannot be held accountable for the same of the packers will discuss the proposition, it is said that the plan has been admitted to all the principal heads of the packing concerns named in the indictment and has met their favor.

If the writ is denied then the intention is to proceed by applying for an injunction and making a direct attack on the indictment.

Another method of attack suggested by the attorneys is a motion to quash the indictments on the contention that the Federal Grand Jury was illegally empaneled. The dissolution of the Grand Jury, it may also be asked for. Mr. Miller declares he has been informed that the Grand Jury inquiry was projected by the Government attorneys as a means of obtaining evidence upon which to prosecute the packers for violation of the injunction.

This he declares is an irregular proceeding, and entitles the packers to redress. District Attorney Morrison takes the position that the Grand Jury investigated the violations of the injunction in law without reference to the injunction.

Assistant Attorney-General Pagan takes the same view. He declares the Government will be prepared for any move the packers' counsel may make.

CLEVER BOY SWIMMER DROWNED.

The Only Son of a Widow, Who Was Used to Scaring His Companions. Swimming in Old Mill creek, Jamaica Bay, yesterday afternoon, Willie Dietrich, only son of a widow who lives at 3409 Atlantic avenue, East New York, went out further from shore than the other boys. He was the most expert swimmer of his age in that section, and the boys thought nothing of it when he disappeared under water for a minute or so. He was used to trying to scare them.

When he had come to the surface and called faintly for help, the boys got George Tachman, 17, and Samuel Groff, 19, to the surface in fifteen minutes, too late to save life.

The child's parents saw the accident, and the father ran out and picked the little girl up, assisted by the driver of the machine.

The child was covered with bruises. She was taken home and attended by Dr. John Byrne of 345 West Fifty-first street. The driver told the father that he was the owner of the machine and that his name was W. Franks. He wrote out on a card the number, 9015 V. That is the number of one of Charles G. Gates' machines.

RICH MAN HELD FOR ARSON.

SAYS HE FIRED THE SHIRMER MILL BY ACCIDENT.

Priestley, Who is a Retired Manufacturer, Gave a False Name When Arrested—He Was Badly Scorching by the Flames—Excuse for Entering Mill.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—John W. Priestley, a retired textile manufacturer of Philadelphia, was committed to prison in Camden today. It is charged that Priestley set fire to the wool spinning mill of George Shimer & Son, in Fifth street, Camden, on Saturday last, causing a loss of $50,000.

When arraigned before Recorder Stackhouse this morning Priestley admitted that he set fire to the place, but said it was an accident. He went to light a cigar, he asserted, and when he threw the match away it fell among a lot of burlap. Before he had time to make a move the whole place was ablaze.

The accused man was arrested shortly after the flames were discovered, as he was running away from the mill. Since that time he has been in the Camden jail under an assumed name. He gave the name of John Williams, and refused to tell anything about himself.

To-day he weakened, and told the police his right name. In getting out of the burning building Priestley had a narrow escape from death, as he was quickly hemmed in by the flames, and got a terrible scorching. His mustache and the top of his head were burned.

Priestley told the Recorder to-day that he had gone to the mill for the purpose of getting a price on the machinery, as he was in the market for machinery of the description lying idle on account of the closing of the mill.

WANT TO GO BACK TO WORK.

Striking Teamsters of Chicago Angry at Shea, Their Indicted Leader.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Wholesale dissatisfaction is in the ranks of the striking teamsters, and the first great break came to-day when the lumber drivers at their meeting in Horan's Hall appointed a committee of ten to wait upon Edward Hines and tell him they are ready to come back on any terms so long as they are permitted to wear their buttons.

Shea was roundly berated for treason and for placing the teamsters in a false light before the public and their employers. The lumber drivers waited hours for Shea to appear, and many threats were heard when hour after hour passed and he didn't come.

The drivers are in an ugly mood and ready to accept any terms of settlement they can get. The committee named could not see Mr. Hines to-day, as he is out of the city.

The importance of the move lies in the fact that many other unions are waiting for an opportunity to break away from the control of Shea.

DR. LORENZ TAKEN TO PRISON.

He Was Convicted With Machea and the Groves of Postal Frauds. WASHINGTON, July 3.—Dr. George E. Lorenz, former postmaster at Toledo, Ohio, who was convicted of complicity in the postal frauds, was taken to the penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., this evening, in company with a large crowd of white and negro convicts, to serve his sentence.

Lorenz was tried with August W. Machea and Diller and Samuel Groff. Lorenz was sentenced to two years imprisonment and to pay a fine of $10,000.

The others are now in prison, but the execution of Lorenz's sentence was deferred on account of his illness and to enable him to turn State's evidence in the recent trial of Lorenz and Groff. Lorenz pleaded guilty and Crawford obtained a suspended sentence. Lorenz's public speeches are disregarded in spite of Lorenz's testimony.

HOOG FOR THE CABINET?

His Friends in Texas Have Been Coaxing the President to Take Him. AUSTIN, Tex., July 3.—The report was current in State official circles here to-day that Ex-Gov. J. S. Hoog had been sounded by President Roosevelt as to whether he would accept a Cabinet position.

Hoog is not in town and in the absence of confirmation the report receives little credit. It is believed to have grown out of the fact that friends of Hoog throughout the State have sent petitions and telegrams to President Roosevelt asking that the Texan be appointed to a position in the Cabinet. This was done without the knowledge of Hoog. The ex-Governor has displayed his warm sympathy with the Roosevelt Administration on a number of public occasions, and in his public speeches he has been strongly eulogistic of the President.

Fairman was burned about the face and arms, but less seriously. No damage was done to the building.

TO THE HONOR OF PAUL JONES.

PLANS FOR EMBARKING BODY AT CHERBOURG COMPLETED.

Salutes Will Be Fired From the French and American Flagships as the Transfer Is Made—Rear Admiral Sigbee and Mr. Loomis to See President Loubet To-day.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. Paris, July 3.—In preparation for the transfer of the remains of John Paul Jones to the custody of the American Government, Francis B. Loomis, the special ambassador, and Rear Admiral Sigbee, commander of the squadron which will convey the remains to the United States, called upon Prime Minister Rouvier and M. Thomson, Minister of Marine, to-day. Admiral Sigbee was in full uniform.

Chief Day returned to Cherbourg at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, when the body will be formally transferred to the flagship Brooklyn for conveyance to Annapolis. The coffin will be placed on a French torpedo boat. As soon as this boat leaves the wharf the French flag will begin firing a salute of thirteen minute guns—the number due to Paul Jones's rank as a rear admiral in the Russian navy. When the boat bearing the body is immediately alongside, the Brooklyn will begin firing a similar salute.

A picturesque feature of the ceremony will be a swarm of boats from the French and American men-of-war following the boat bearing the body, the French on one side of the line and the Americans on the other.

Gen. Porter, who has remained in Europe for two months at great personal inconvenience while acting as guardian of the remains, will sail for New York on the Deutschland as soon as he has committed his charge to the safe keeping of the American colors. In Paris expressions of unbounded satisfaction because the State Department conferred ambassadorial rank on Gen. Porter to enable him fittingly to perform his function.

CALL PALMA DICTATOR.

Cuban Liberals Recent His Action Putting Old Budget into Effect.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, July 3.—The House of Representatives to-day, by a vote of 39 to 1, passed the Senate bill putting into effect last year's budget. The Liberals took occasion to attack President Palma, saying his decree putting the old budget in force was against the constitution, as only Congress had power to enforce a budget.

Senor Villuendas said that the same Cubans who had known how to resist the Spanish Viceroy would know how to resist President Palma's recent decree establishing a dictatorship. One Liberal, while voting for the bill, said he did so to reestablish the reign of law; otherwise President Palma would soon issue another decree enforcing a new budget.

The Moderates defended the President. They said that Congress violated the constitution in not having voted the budget and June 30. Therefore Senor Palma was quite justified in putting things in order by enforcing the old budget until a new one should be passed by Congress.

Gilman, the wealthy tea merchant, was the scene last night of a prizefight between Jeff Doherty, a New Haven lightweight, and David Bralley, a local welterweight. It was witnessed by about two hundred sports, who had free run of the mansion, which is still in charge of the caretaker.

They became incensed to-day upon learning of the invasion of their precincts by the sporting fraternity and complained to the police. The principals in the bout and the referee have been arrested.

DEEDS OF BOLD JOE SAB.

Abducted Mrs. Wehby in Scranton and Took Her to Indian Territory. SCRANTON, Pa., July 3.—Chief of Police Louis Day returned to Scranton this morning, after astounding experiences in Muskogee, I. T., where he went to secure the return of Joe Sab, who is wanted on the charges of abduction and larceny.

Sab is an Arablan, and was a well known business man of this region. About three weeks ago he disappeared with Negebo Wehby, the beautiful seventeen-year-old wife of a local merchant, Joe Sab. When she disappeared the woman had in her possession $1,000 in cash and $1,700 worth of jewelry belonging to her husband. Eight days ago Sab and Mrs. Wehby were located at Muskogee, I. T. The woman came back here with Day.

She said Sab had induced her to get on a train, telling her that her husband awaited her in a Western city. Arriving in Indian Territory, Sab told the woman her marriage to Wehby in Arabia was not binding in America, and proposed a marriage ceremony, and they lived as man and wife. Sab took her money and the jewels.

Chief Day returned to Scranton. Sab first offered $1,500 to have the case withdrawn. When this was refused he secured his release on $1,000 bail. A Federal Judge pronounced Chief Day's extradition papers defective, and friends of Sab swore out a warrant for Mrs. Wehby on a charge of bigamy. Wehby's arrest was averted with difficulty, and Chief Day returned. The stolen jewelry was recovered. It is not likely that Sab will ever be brought back here for punishment, owing to the cost of the legal fight and extradition will involve.

WHOLE DAMM FAMILY IN COURT.

Evidence Shows That Harmony Had Fled the Imprecated Household. The troubles of the whole Damm family were aired yesterday morning in the Harlem police court before Magistrate Whitman. The wife and family in this instance consisted of Henry D., a man of 60, and Marie, his wife, 55 years old. The pair live at 61 East 106th street. That there was not much peace in the whole Damm family was shown by the testimony given before the Magistrate. Mrs. Damm told the Magistrate that when on last Wednesday she went before Magistrate Whitman and got a summons against Henry. As a result of this summons Mr. Damm was in court yesterday morning.

The popular idea of harmony in the Damm family was dispelled, for Mr. D. looked very angry, and he was determined. Henry's black and blue arm was exposed to the Court, as was also the black brow of Marie.

Magistrate Whitman was unable to settle the matter, and sent the whole family to the probation officers.

SLEW THE WRONG BROTHER.

Italian Misses Man Who Killed His Sister Murderer Pursued Into Woods. TRUCKEE, N. Y., July 3.—Georgianna Veolia is one of the prettiest Italian girls in Mount Vernon. Up to a year ago she kept company with John Guzzitto and expected to marry him. But John changed his mind and married Georgianna's cousin. It is said that threats were made against his life. About two months ago Georgianna's brother, Philip, came from Italy to Mount Vernon.

While Philip and Giuseppe Guzzitto were at work in their shop in Main street, shortly after 10 o'clock to-night, Philip Veolia was in the street near his home. He was walking home, but he was pointed blank at John Guzzitto's head, and missing him, shot his brother. The bullet entered the back of the skull, and death was instantaneous.

Running out of the shop, Veolia started down the road toward Mount Vernon, followed by a mob, which he held at bay with his pistol. Veolia lost the crowd in the woods. Chief of Police Simpkins and Constable Dirger led a posse in search of the murderer, but up to midnight they had been unable to find him.

CHICAGO'S DAILY SCANDAL.

Gregsten Says a Bribe of $20,000 Was Demanded of Him. CHICAGO, July 3.—Charges of efforts to obtain a bribe in connection with the purchase of the site of the proposed new State street police station three months ago have been made in the form of an affidavit by Samuel Gregsten, an owner of Chicago real estate.

The charges involve the finance committee of the City Council, which went out of office last April; two real estate operators and former City Clerk Loefler. Alderman Frank I. Bennett was chairman of the finance committee of the last City Council and president of the same position in the present Council.

Gregsten's specific charges are: First, that an attempt was made to force him to accept a bribe of $20,000 for a piece of land at a price nearly twice its actual value; second, that when he refused that proposition a demand was made that he pay a bribe of $20,000, and accompanying this barefaced proposal was a threat that unless he paid the money he couldn't sell the land to the city.
